MEMORANDUM FOR Andy ANDY CARDFrom: Matthew D. Smith MDS

Subject: OPIC request for staffer on Presidential delegation

Howard Hills of Fred Zeder's office called this afternoon. Zeder would like to bring Bob O'Sullivan, his associate general counsel, on the Presidential delegation to Vanuatu (which is leaving Wednesday morning). Hills argues that the embassy is not well versed in OPIC matters; that there may be significant bilateral issues to discuss with the government of Vanuatu; that other Pacific rim nations may be present. Hills made it clear Zeder would go whether or not he could take O'Sullivan.

Please call me about this when you have a minute.
Naturally I told Hills this was a decision you had to make!

This is a bad precedent.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

From: Chase Untermeyer

Subj: Delegations

The Vice President may attend the inauguration in Colombia on 7 August, although security concerns may rule otherwise.

The inauguration in Peru will be 28 July, and Bernie Aronson at State strongly believes the US should be represented at a high level. Neil Bush would like to make this trip (and then continue on to Argentina on business), and Bernie would also like to be on the delegation. Given the Sendero Luminoso problem, we might not be able to recruit delegates as easily as for other trips, but we could try for a couple of members of Congress and other citizens. The main question is: Should Neil be head of delegation?

Finally, there will be an inauguration in the Dominican Republic on 16 August. Freed of security problems, we could send a more standard delegation. How about Nancy Ellis at its head?

Subj: Delegation to the Dominican Republic Inaugural

Nancy Ellis will be happy to go to Santo Domingo (and thereafter to Maine) for the presidential inauguration on 16 August.

For head of delegation (who gets to take along a spouse/companion), State recommends a Cabinet officer. The following have not yet headed a delegation:

Elizabeth Dole
Manuel Lujan
Clayton Yeutter

As for the three other members of the delegation, here is a list of possibles:

Doña Julita Rivera de Vincenty
Don & Adele Hall
Happy Rockefeller
Thadd Garrett
Roy Pfautch
Ninfa Laurenzo
Craig Fuller
Jack Webb

Please let me know what you think, and we'll start inviting people. Gracias!

MEMORANDUM FOR ANDY CARD

From: Matthew D. Smith WDS
Subject: Mrs. Bush's Trip to Costa Rica

Chase told me Mrs. Bush would be going to Costa Rica for the Presidential Inauguration 8 May. I believe this is Mrs. Bush's first trip of this nature in this administration. I assume my office will not be involved in any way; that the trip will be organized, coordinated and executed directly by the White House. If this is a misunderstanding on my part please let me know. As always we stand ready to help in any way we can.

Subject: Costa Rican Presidential Inauguration

Attached please find an invitation from the Minister of Foreign Relations and Worship of Costa Rica, addressed to Secretary Baker, inviting the U.S. to send a delegation (size of party enumerated in letter) to the inauguration on 8 May. I have not discussed this with the Secretary yet. I wonder if either the President or the Vice President might elect to go?

Republic of Costa Rica
Ministry of Foreign Relations and Worship

San José, Costa Rica, February 27, 1990

Mr. Secretary:

I have the honor to inform Your Excellency that the presidential inauguration ceremonies will be held on May 8, 1990, with special missions from friendly countries in attendance, as is customary.

Therefore, I am pleased to extend, through Your Excellency, the cordial invitation of my Government for your friendly country to be represented at these events, which are so meaningful in our democratic way of life.

The rules that will govern precedence at the above-mentioned ceremonies are enclosed.

His Excellency
James A. Baker III,
Secretary of State,
United States of America.

The delegations should not exceed five persons with their respective spouses, bearing in mind that in the absence of a spouse another official cannot be substituted. The Government of Costa Rica will cover food and lodging costs for Chiefs of State and for one other member of the delegation, with their respective spouses, and only for heads of delegation and their respective spouses in instances where the mission is not headed by a Chief of State.

Further details on the ceremonies taking place will be provided at a later date.

I should be grateful if my Ministry could be notified of the membership of the delegation attending the inauguration before April 15.

I have the honor to renew to Your Excellency the assurances of my highest consideration.

The precedence of special missions shall be governed by the following order:

- I. Missions headed by a Chief of State
- II. Missions headed by a Head of Government
- III. Missions headed by a head of other supreme branch of government, namely:
 - a. The Legislative
 - b. The Judiciary
 - c. The President of the Supreme Electoral Tribunal
- IV. Missions headed by a Vice Chief of State
- V. Missions headed by an heir-apparent
- VI. Missions headed by a Deputy Head of Government
- VII. Missions headed by a personal representative of a Chief of State
- VIII. Missions headed by a Minister or Secretary of Foreign Affairs.
- IX. Missions headed by a Minister of State or State Secretary
- X. Missions headed by an Ambassador Extraordinary on special mission

- XI. The special mission of the Holy See has precedence over all the missions, with the exception of those headed by a Chief of State or Head of Government or by a head of a supreme branch of government.

The precedence of each of the special missions shall be determined, in instances of equal conditions and categories, by the date and time when the Ministry of Foreign Relations receives official notification in writing from the Governments.

Note: Notification can also be sent via telefax to the following numbers:

Señor Ministro:

Tengo el honor de dirigirme a Vuestra Excelencia, para hacer de su conocimiento que el próximo 8 de mayo del año en curso, se efectuarán las ceremonias inherentes a la transmisión del Mando Presidencial, como es costumbre, con la honrosa presencia de Misiones Especiales de los países amigos.

En consecuencia, me complace extender, a través de Vuestra Excelencia, la cordial invitación de mi Gobierno para que ese país amigo se haga representar, en estos actos tan relevantes en nuestra vida democrática.

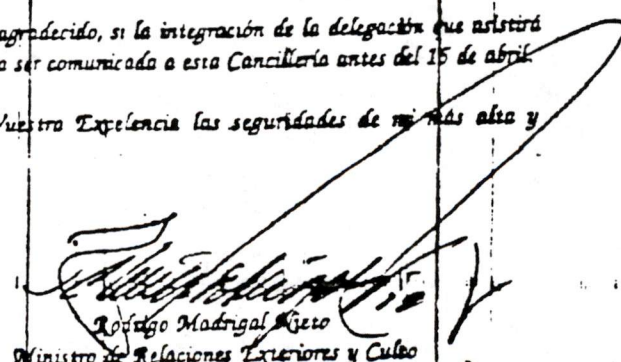

Adjunto se remiten las normas que regirán la precedencia en las ceremonias mencionadas.

Las Delegaciones no deberán exceder el número de 5 personas con sus respectivas señoras, tomando en cuenta que la no asistencia del cónyuge no podrá sustituirse por otro funcionario. El Gobierno de la República cubrirá los gastos de alojamiento y alimentación para los Excelentísimos Señores Jefes de Estado y otro miembro de la delegación con sus respectivas esposas y únicamente a los Excmos. Señores Jefes de Delegación con sus señoras esposas, en los casos en que la Misión no se encuentre presidida por un Jefe de Estado.

Posteriormente se suministrarán más detalles sobre las ceremonias que se realizarán.

Estaré muy agradecido, si la integración de la delegación que asistirá al Traspaso de Poder pudiera ser comunicada a esta Cancillería antes del 15 de abril.

Reitero a Vuestra Excelencia las seguridades de mi más alta y distinguida consideración.

From: Chase Untermeyer

Subj: Delegations

* VANUATU (30 July): When we discussed this last week, you proposed DepSecDef Don Atwood or, failing that, SecNav Larry Garrett. But State recommends against anyone from DOD going to Vanuatu just yet; though the Vanuatians are swinging away from a flirtation with the Soviets, State thinks a defense flavor to our delegation might be a bit much at this stage.

So we need another delegation head. The following Cabinet members have not led one yet: Nick Brady (who declined Australia as too long a trip), Manuel Lujan, Clayton Yeutter, Elizabeth Dole, Lou Sullivan, Jack Kemp, Sam Skinner, Dick Darman, and Carla Hills.

We could also send a member of the Bush Family. To date, neither Neil nor Marvin have gone on a trip yet (and Jeb will have gone to Costa Rica and Nicaragua by the time of the Do in Vanuatu).

* OTHER EVENTS COMING UP IN 1990:

- 28 July: Presidential Inauguration in Peru

MEMORANDUM FOR HONORABLE J. BONNIE NEWMAN
Assistant to the President for Management and Administration

FROM: Thomas J. Collamore
Assistant Secretary for Administration

SUBJECT: Request that Secretary Mosbacher's April 8-10
Business Development Mission to Panama be Designated as a Presidential Mission

The President has directed that the United States must make every effort to assist the Government of Panama and the Panamanian people in their efforts to restore the health of Panama's economy. Private sector initiatives, supported by the government's economic reform policies, will be the key to Panama's recovery. To this end, the President has directed the Secretary of Commerce to lead a business development mission to Panama (National Security Directive 34) to rebuild confidence in the business climate and to stimulate trade and investment with Panama. //

The Mission, tentatively scheduled for April 8-10, 1990, will target the sectors that have been highlighted for development and reconstruction by the Panamanian government. These include port renovation, tourism, agribusiness, and free zone expansion. Both the port and free zone facilities are scheduled for privatization and require technical assistance both before and during this transition. In addition, the Mission would offer legal advisory services as the Panamanian government reviews the country's entire business legal framework.

- o The ports, three in operation, suffered during the economic sanctions and require a thorough overhaul in order to reestablish capacity for merchandise and tourism uses.
- o Panama's tourism potential surpasses the rest of the Caribbean Basin and its development will foster economic diversification through the rest of the economy. Tourism development can be effectively tied to other sectors, such as ports and agriculture.
- o Agribusiness development also has been targeted by the Panamanian government as an important sector for economic diversification. Successful expansion in this sector has already been experienced by a number of Central American countries.

- o The Colon Free Zone, the largest in the Western Hemisphere, includes 1,500 firms concentrated in in-bond operations. Strengthened management and expansion of this free zone aimed at light manufacturing would provide an excellent outlet for the abundant labor in this region. The possibility of establishing additional free zones throughout the country will also be explored.

The Mission would include approximately six to ten private sector participants made up of the following categories: port authority administrators (i.e. Houston, New Orleans, New York/New Jersey); CEOs of major U.S. hotel companies (i.e. Marriott, Hyatt, ITT/Sheraton); CEOs of major agribusiness companies (i.e. Castle & Cooke, Standard Fruit); and the Administrator of Puerto Rico's Economic Development Administration (FOMENTO), a major source of project financing and twin plant contacts.

In addition to Secretary Mosbacher, other Commerce officials would include: Wendell Willkie, General Counsel; Wayne Berman, Counselor; Craig Helsing, Chief of Staff; J. Michael Farren, Under Secretary for ITA; Ambassador Rockwell Schnabel, Under Secretary for USTTA; and Michael P. Skarzynski, Assistant Secretary for Trade Development. Senior level officials from the Small Business Administration and the Department of Transportation will also be invited to participate.

I hereby request designation of this trip as a Presidential Mission led by Secretary Mosbacher. I also request assignment of an appropriate Air Force aircraft in support of the Mission on a non-reimbursable basis for travel of the official delegation. Said designation and provision of aircraft would elevate the stature of the mission to properly reflect the President's priorities in Panama and would alleviate problems of security and unpredictable arrival and departure schedules of U.S. commercial carriers.

MEMORANDUM FOR BRENT SCOWCROFT
THE WHITE HOUSE

Subject: Presidential Delegation to Moroccan Throne Day

King Hassan's Private Secretary requested January 19 that the United States send a representative and high-level delegation to the March 3 Throne Day celebrations in Morocco. Though the site of the celebrations has not yet been set, the Private Secretary's request is regarded as an official invitation.

The Department recommends that the President designate the delegation at an early date. Travel, lodging and other preparations for a high-level delegation should begin soon.

Luis Alberto LACALLE Herrera
President-elect (Since November 1989)

As head of the centrist Herrerista faction of the Blanco Party, Luis Lacalle was elected President of Uruguay in the November 26, 1989 presidential and congressional elections. Before his successful run for the presidency, Lacalle served as Senator of the Republic since 1984. As second vice-president of the Senate, he called for the privatization of state-owned companies and supported the "Ley de Caducidad," which gives amnesty to military officials accused of human rights abuses.

Lacalle was born on 5 January 1942. He entered politics as a teenager and, during 1960-63, served as editor of a Blanco Party paper. He was defeated in a bid for a seat in the Chamber of Deputies in 1966, but was elected in 1971 and served until the military seized control of the government in 1973. In 1974 he received a Ph.D. from the University of the Republic in Montevideo. He served on the Blanco Party National Directorate during 1975. Lacalle was a member of a 15-member board elected in 1983 to represent the party in negotiations with the then military-backed government. He has visited the United States several times including short trips to Washington in 1988 and again in early 1989.

Lacalle is proud of his Spanish lineage and the political legacy of his grandfather, Luis Alberto Herrera, who was President of Uruguay for five weeks in 1958. He is married to the former Maria Julia Pou Brito del Pino, the daughter of a prominent neurosurgeon. They have two sons and a daughter. Both Lacalle and his wife are fluent in English and French.

SUBJECT: Presidential Emissary's Visit to Manila

ISSUE FOR DECISION

Arrangements for the sending of a Presidential emissary to Manila for discussions with President Aquino and other senior Philippine officials.

ESSENTIAL FACTORS

As we discussed, we need to set in train arrangements for the emissary the President has directed be sent to Manila. We are aiming at a mid-January date. Unless unexpected problems involving another part of EAP arise, I plan to accompany the emissary. Once the visit is confirmed, we will develop talking points for the emissary's use. We will also need to coordinate closely with DOD, since Secretary Cheney plans to visit the Philippines in February.

Subject: Presidential Mission to Poland

Paul Bateman has been very helpful in providing guidance on the funding for the Presidential Mission to Poland. I understand from Paul that each department is responsible for its own expenses, e.g.: the Department of Agriculture will pay all costs related to Secretary Yeutter (and Mrs. Yeutter if she's going). I am still uncertain, though, as to which agency or department is paying the costs of the private sector participants in the mission. As you will see in the attached cable from the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw we have got to focus on the source of funds. No one seems to know definitively who's paying for the non-U.S. government personnel involved. Your advice and direction in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

SUBJECT: Request for U.S. Official Observer Delegation to Namibia's Constituent Assembly Election
November 7-14, 1989

ISSUE FOR DECISION

Whether to send a memorandum to the White House requesting that a Presidential Delegation be sent to observe the Constituent Assembly election in Namibia.

ESSENTIAL FACTORS

The Constituent Assembly election, to be held November 7-11, will be ~~the~~ one of the most important milestones in the process of transition to independence. Under United Nations supervision, the Namibian people will elect the body which will draft the constitution, declare independence and presumably constitute the first legislature, in the first truly democratic election they have had. The United States is closely identified with Namibian independence, having mediated the agreements which made possible implementation of United Nations Security Council Resolution 435.

We are under considerable pressure from Congress to ensure that the election is free and fair. We think the best way to persuade Congress that we are doing all we can in this regard is to send a Presidential delegation to observe the election. Someone of unquestioned reputation, such as a former President or Secretary of State, should lead the party which would include bipartisan Congressional representation and representatives from human rights and private voluntary organizations and academic experts.

Besides reassuring Congress, the presence of a U.S. observer delegation would make it more difficult for SWAPO, Namibia's largest political party, to disavow the election results, as it has hinted it will if it fails to win the two thirds majority it needs to have a free hand in drafting the constitution. Such an attempt by SWAPO would subvert our efforts to bring about Namibia's independence and jeopardize

DRAFT MEMORANDUM FOR BRENT SCOWCROFT

AND MR. CHASE UNTERMEYER

THE WHITE HOUSE

Subject: U.S. Official Observer Delegation to Namibia's
Constituent Assembly Election November 7-14, 1989

The elections for a Constituent Assembly in Namibia are expected to be held November 7 - 11. Results will be announced a few days later. The United States mediated the agreements that govern both the withdrawal of foreign troops from southwestern Africa and implementation of United Nations Security Council Resolution 435/78, which will grant independence to Namibia, Africa's last colony. South Africa continues to administer Namibia during the transition period, and a climate of suspicion over South Africa's intentions in Namibia still exists. SWAPO, Namibia's largest political party, has hinted it might not recognize the results of the election if it fails to win the two thirds majority it needs to have a free hand in drafting the constitution. Such an action would subvert our efforts to bring about Namibia's independence and jeopardize other agreements in the region (e.g., Cuban troop withdrawal from Angola), which hinge on successful implementation of Resolution 435 on schedule.

It is important to our foreign policy objectives in southern Africa that the election results be viewed as free and fair. Therefore, we propose that the United States send a Presidential Delegation to observe the election. We recommend a group of ten members led by a former U.S. president or Secretary of State with bipartisan representatives from the Congress, academia, and human rights and private voluntary organizations concerned with Africa. The delegation will not require a substantive statement on behalf of the President.

In view of the length of time it will take to conduct the election, it may be difficult for delegates to remain the entire period. This may also affect the availability of members of Congress, a fact which may require intervention with the Congressional leadership. The Department strongly urges that arrangements be made for U.S. military aircraft on a non-reimbursable basis to transport the delegation to and from Namibia.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED PRESIDENTIAL DELEGATION TO THE GAMBIA

As you will see in the attached memorandum, the Department of State is proposing a Presidential delegation to the Gambia for the observance of the Gambia's twenty-fifth anniversary of independence on February 18, 1990.

Kindly advise me as to whether you are inclined to recommend to the President that a delegation be sent.

United States Department of State

Washington, D.C. 20520

MEMORANDUM FOR BRENT SCOWCROFT
THE WHITE HOUSE

Subject: Sending a Member of the President's Family to the 25th Anniversary Celebration of The Gambia's Independence.

Gambian President Dawda Jawara has written President Bush inviting him to send a representative to The Gambia on February 18 to celebrate the 25th anniversary of its independence (TAB 1). Similar invitations have also gone to the United Kingdom, and Embassy Banjul reports that a member of the British royal family is likely to attend, given The Gambia's excellent ties to its former colonial ruler.

The State Department believes sending a member of the President's family would be an excellent way to mark a warm and increasingly productive relationship. The Gambia is the site of one of NASA's prime emergency landing sites for the Space Shuttle, and NASA plans to spend some $7 million over the next three years improving the airport at Yundum to handle a possible Shuttle emergency. The Gambia's excellent human rights record and its leadership role on this issue make it a valuable vehicle for promoting the United States' own human rights views across the continent. The Gambia is also on the cutting edge of economic reform, a fact noted by President Bush when he met with President Jawara May 15, 1989, at the White House.

At that same White House meeting, President Jawara invited the President to visit The Gambia, and the President warned that he had a large family and might indeed send a member of it to Banjul. The Gambians are following up on that suggestion with the current invitation. A delegation composed of a member of the President's family, a member of Congress, and other officials as appropriate would be useful in promoting U.S. interests in The Gambia, and would be highly appreciated by President Jawara and his people.
