Dear Mr. Card:

CAST is a nationally-recognized Massachusetts based not-for-profit educational organization that needs your help in delivering the enclosed letter to President Bush.

Last week when Mr. Bush announced his new national strategy for reinvigorating the country's educational process, he said he wanted to lead the way by becoming computer literate himself.

As the enclosed letter explains, CAST has developed a unique way of teaching people how to use the computer by matching the user's abilities and interests to the computer's capabilities.

We would like to volunteer CAST's customized approach to help the President reach his goal of learning how to use the computer.

I know you are personally interested in Massachusetts organizations and I would appreciate any help you could give us in bringing the enclosed letter to the attention of President Bush.

An ideal way for us to explain how CAST could be of service to the President would be a telephone conversation with one of the President's staff members or one of your staff members.

The President
The White House

Dear Mr. President:

We would like to help you fulfill your commitment to become computer literate -- in a way which would be easy for you and which would also motivate others to do so.

We are a nationally-recognized, not-for-profit organization of educators, psychologists, and computer specialists that brings people and computers together.

Our concern is that countless men, women, and children are prevented from achieving their full potential in modern society because they are afraid, hesitant, or unable to work with computers. The problem cuts across all socioeconomic, racial, ethnic, and educational lines, and it will get worse as computers become even more ubiquitous.

We have developed an educationally sound, universally applicable approach to solving the problem.

A little background:

CAST is frequently cited for our achievements in enriching lives through the power of modern technology. In fact, Mrs. Bush expressed her enthusiastic support for our work in a letter sent to us in February, 1990.

We started by helping physically and learning-disabled children and adults to use computers to help compensate for their problems and to make it possible for them to achieve their full potential. We soon recognized that some of the principles underlying our work for the disabled could be applied to all children and adults.

Why we are different:

Traditional approaches to teaching people to use computers are training programs that attempt to mold the student to conform to how the computer works. Their focus is primarily business.

Our approach matches the user's abilities and interests to the computer's capabilities, and provides special (but very simple) software that helps conform the computer to the user. And, we focus on home and school uses as well as business applications.

Why should you be interested?

CAST's is a very human approach that is independent of cultural, educational, or other biases that can play roles in traditional training. It has universal application.

Our approach is based on sound educational principles and an understanding of how people relate to computers. It is easy and produces immediate results.

We would like to explain more:

We realize that we are not alone in volunteering our services. We do feel that we have something appropriately special to offer, however, and we would be happy to further explain our approach and its advantages.

Page 3

President Bush

We hope that we will have the opportunity to assist you and to demonstrate how any American can become computer literate.

Sincerely,

A NEWSLETTER OF THE JORDAN COMPANIES

FALL 1990

United Way

Congratulations!

In October, we held our annual United Way Rallies in Westbrook, Laconia and Portland and as always, the participation and generosity was overwhelming. In a year where our economy is not very healthy and fuel prices continue to rise, we were skeptical about our chances for a successful campaign.

We apologize for doubting!

Amazing is the best way to describe ourselves when it comes to this good cause. With our contributions and many others, we have ensured that the quality of life in our communities will continue to grow. And I'm sure that many thanks have been felt by all the United Way Agencies and the people who utilize them towards all of us.

Again, we would like to say a special thanks to the company, for allowing us the time for our training, our solicitor training and two days of rallies with refreshments, to our solicitors for caring enough to spend some of their time to help us, and to all of you for your contributions.

United Way - it brings out the best in all of us.

Jordan's Takes 3rd Place In Nationals

On October 27th, Jordan's was represented in this year's NAWGA National Truck Rodeo by Ron Avery and Kim Gammon, both from Jordan's Foods Westbrook. This year's event, held in Dallas, Texas, tested drivers skills in the areas of driving, customer service and rules of the road. For Ron this was his second time competing in the National Straight Truck Challenge (he competed once before in 1987), and for Kim his first time in the tractor trailer competition. Both drivers took first place in their respective classes in Jordan's own company rodeo this past summer. To be eligible to compete these drivers had to have at least one year of accident, incident and violation free driving.

In the Nationals this year Ron Avery took third place in the straight truck challenge and Kim Gammon had a respectable showing. This was out of a field of over 100 participants from around the country. Both drivers agreed it was one of the most difficult courses they have encountered and admit that prior college classes and safety meetings helped in preparing them for the competition.

Now is the time for drivers to start looking forward to next year's rodeo. So keep your record clean, you could be representing Jordan's in 1991.

Congratulations Ron and Kim on your performance in Dallas 1990!

Dear Mr. Card:

President Bush has been invited to participate in the awarding of the third annual Philadelphia Liberty Medal and its accompanying $100,000 cash prize on July 4, 1991 at Independence Hall in Philadelphia. With the recent success of our armed forces in the Persian Gulf and the President's call for a "day of special celebration for our returning troops" on July 4th, we believe this year's medal presentation will be particularly meaningful.

Enclosed is a copy of the invitation sent to the President, the White House response and a brochure describing the Liberty Medal and its significance. While the International Selection Commission has yet to announce the 1991 Medal recipient, we believe Mr. Bush would find a July 4th visit to America's birthplace to be an appropriate way in which to celebrate our freedom and renewed spirit of liberty.

We hope that as you become involved in the decision-making process on the President's calendar you will encourage his attendance at the 1991 Liberty Medal ceremony on July 4th.

Thank you in advance for your assistance and support in this matter.

Dear Mr. President:

Last week you so eloquently called for "every community in this country to make this coming Fourth of July a day of special celebration for our returning troops."

Philadelphia, America's birthplace, will have that special celebration on America's birthday. We fervently hope that you will accept our invitation to salute the men and women of Desert Storm and to reaffirm our nation's commitment to freedom around the world from the spot where our founding fathers forged the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution -- Independence Hall.

July 4th will mark the third presentation of the Philadelphia Liberty Medal, awarded, along with $100,000, to one who "has demonstrated leadership and vision in the pursuit of liberty of conscience or freedom from oppression, ignorance or deprivation." You may remember that Lech Walesa and Jimmy Carter were the medal's first two recipients; the International Selection Commission meets in Philadelphia on April 13th to select the 1991 awardee.

We believe that the recent triumph of liberty and freedom should be honored and that those who made sacrifices for it be acknowledged before the world with our respect and gratitude. Your presence at Independence Hall and the Liberty Bell -- perhaps freedom's strongest international symbols -- and your message on July 4th will do just that in the strongest possible way.

We know that your schedule is likely still under review and that there are many competing demands on your time. There are also other exciting events developing for July 4th here. We assure you that if you are able to join us, no effort will be spared to make the occasion among the most memorable days of your Presidency and a fitting salute to the brave men and women returning home from the Persian Gulf.

Assistant to The President
Deputy to The Chief of Staff

Washington, D.C., 20500

Dear Andrew:

The military war is over. Now, President Bush must focus, with the same energy and degree of resource allocation, on the domestic front. If he is to realize his campaign promise to become "The Education President", there is much work to be done.

You and I first met 12 years ago when I was serving as Assistant Secretary of the Executive Office of Education Affairs with Governor Ed King. Two years ago, you addressed the 1989 MIT class of Alfred Sloan Fellows at The White House. I introduced you.

While at MIT, I was asked to be nominated for the Bush Administration. At that time, he was seeking women, in particular those representing industry. Given the commitment from Digital Equipment Corporation to finance my fellowship, the time was not appropriate for me.

Now, after 10 years of service to the company and 15 years of education/government experience, I am in a better position to provide assistance to the Bush educational agenda. It must be an inspirational vision and have the underpinnings of our technological supremacy.

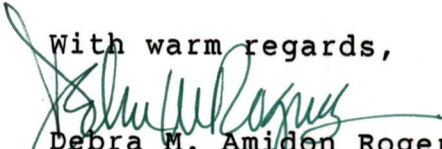

A few weeks ago, I met with the Massachusetts Senator David Locke, Senate Minority Leader. We have known each other for years. In the conversation, we discussed how my skills might be useful to the Bush Administration and/or Governor Weld. He said that he would call you and suggest we arrange some time together. Are you coming to Massachusetts any time soon?

Meanwhile, attached is my resume and some presentations and publications that might be of interest. Currently, I am a senior program manager in the Corporate Management Systems Research Group. My expertise is in technological management and innovation strategy. I believe that this should be the platform for President Bush to realize his vision of transforming education during his term.

Please call me at my office (508-493-2127) and/or feel free to contact me at home (508-881-3355).

Thank you, in advance, for your consideration to my candidacy.

Dear Mr. Card:

You must be extraordinarily busy with the momentous events of our times. Accordingly, I doubt you have the time to reply to my letters. Nonetheless, I write wishing to be at least informative and at most hopeful. Please find enclosed copies of several letters.

I have confidence the letter to President Bush is not presumptuous on my part. You have been superbly helpful and I felt compelled to express my thoughts.

You will note Commissioner Gwendolyn King's letter of February 19th. Mr. Meade, Director of Coverage, Office of Retirement and Survivors Insurance, SSA, has been singularly valuable in providing information I sought over this last year as it concerned the University of Minnesota's Social Security issue.

I will be traveling to Quincy, Massachusetts this week, briefly visiting my family [(617) 479-4374], and on or about Tuesday, March 5th, calling on Dr. Grace Mushrush of the Brockton Veterans Affairs hospital. She replied to my most recent inquiry (copy enclosed). When she accepted me three years ago, the University of Minnesota refused to submit routine papers. Now that I have routed them vis-a-vis the Social Security tax issue Dr. Mushrush says there just isn't a position. I am visiting to see if anything can be done.

After Tuesday I plan on traveling to the Secretary of Veterans Affairs's Office to attempt some change in the Brockton VA situation.

My warmest regards.

Yours truly,

Jim Ross, M.D.

Re: Professionalism of Mr. Andrew H. Card, Jr., Assistant to the President and Deputy to the Chief of Staff

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing to you so that you may know better about the exemplary professionalism of Mr. Andrew H. Card, Jr.

After waiting more than 15 months for the Social Security Administration (SSA) to issue its decision to an allegation I had reported to it about the University of Minnesota's illegal exclusion of its 1,000 medical residents from Social Security coverage for the last 32 years, I contacted Mr. Andrew H. Card, Jr. in April, 1990. In reply to my inquiry, Mr. Card assured me that he would take the necessary actions so that my allegation in this regard would be appropriately reviewed and acted on (copy enclosed).

Within one month after Mr. Card contacted the General Counsel for the Department of Health and Human Services, Mr. Michael Astrue responded with further assurances that the matter Mr. Card brought to his attention would be reviewed and appropriately acted on (copies enclosed).

On August 28, 1990, the Regional Commissioner of the SSA released her decision (copy enclosed) that will surely result in the collection of back taxes (FICA) amounting to more than $20 million and annual FICA taxes of $4.5 million.

This happened, in large part, because of Mr. Card's dedication, unselfishness, and professionalism which characterizes that special esprit de corps of your Administration. I am sure you already know this, but I thought I should bring this specific example to your attention, nonetheless.

I extend my appreciation and gratitude to you in this regard and in general for the exemplary leadership you have shown as our president. With my very best regards,

Very Respectfully,

James L. Ross, M.D.

Dear Dr. Ross:

Thank you for your continued interest in our psychiatry training program; however, we do not anticipate an opening for an advanced resident in the next academic year.

When you were here for interviews three years ago our program was in its formative years. Since then, we have joined the National Residents Matching Program and recruit at the PGY I level. We have been fortunate at being able to fill all of our positions and consequently have had residents who progress through the program to fill our senior positions.

Given our shortage of positions even at the PGY I level, I am not sure how I can be helpful to you. However, if you would like to give me a call when you get to Boston, I would be pleased to talk with you. Dr. Tsuang is scheduled to be away at that time and he has asked me to cover as Acting Chief so I am not sure what my exact schedule will be.

The situation in Minnesota certainly sounds very difficult.

I am always pleased to receive such compliments, and to learn that the Social Security Administration's managers and employees are providing courteous and efficient service to the public.

I am writing to Mr. Meade to share with him your expressions of gratitude and to express my own appreciation for his efforts. I am also sharing your gracious remarks with Mr. Meade's supervisors.

Your letter is deeply appreciated.

Dear Andy,

Enclosed is a copy of a letter from a former colleague of mine at Bank of Boston, Garwood Platt, addressed to Governor Sununu. Gar is skilled at international business development and I hope he gets a good hearing. I personally believe that education and international business opportunities are going to be the dual engines to turn around the ailing New England economy.

Kind regards, and congratulations to everyone on the handling of the Gulf War.

The Honorable John Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

To put this letter in context, in the spring of 1988 at a conference supporting the Free Trade Agreement with Canada at the Wayfarer Inn in Manchester you, Frank O'Connor, and I had a long discussion over coffee prior to your presentation. We also had a similar discussion last June during the reception preceding the annual dinner of the International Business Center of New England.

Currently I am discussing positions with the Treasury Department which are subject to Presidential appointment. Having worked for the Bank of Boston in the International Division, I am professionally qualified for these positions and want to apply my international finance, trade and government related experience toward achieving President Bush's objectives in these areas.

My support of the Bush and Reagan Administrations extends beyond my Canadian FTA activities noted above. During the GATT Uruguay Round I was an advisor to the Treasury, USTR and Commerce negotiators in support of the President's goal of having services included in the GATT framework. I am a part of the Bush team as a member of the Industry Sector Advisory Committee for services, having been successively appointed by Commerce Secretaries Baldrige, Verity and Mossbacher. In addition, I am a lifelong registered Republican.

An indication of your support directly to the Presidential Personnel Office or through Andrew Card would be sincerely appreciated. Mr. Card could also be helpful if you need affirmation of my credentials, as mutual friends have registered my background and interest with him. I presently have recommendations from the late Congressman Silvio Conte and Under Secretary of Commerce, Michael Darby.

I seek a position in the Administration because I believe I can make a genuine contribution and I would be gratified by whatever you can do to assist me.

Very truly yours,

Dear Andy,

Hi! I hope and trust that things are going well for you and your family. I am glad that we have accomplished our objectives in the Gulf War in such a short period of time and with minimum loss of life.

I talked with Linda Casey a week or so ago and mentioned to her that I was interested in coming onboard the White House staff and asked her what would be the best way to communicate my interest to you. She suggested that I write you a note stating what areas I'd be interested in and send along a copy of my resume.

With the campaign nearing, I'd like to work in Intergovernmental Affairs, Political Affairs, or Public Liaison. I am currently a GS-13, but am about one-month shy of the one-year mark for consideration for promotion to GS-14.

I am enthusiastic about the possibility of coming on board the White House staff and making a contribution. I would very much appreciate whatever help you could give me in that regard.

Warm Best Wishes,

Ed

P.S. I've decided not to return to the Kennedy School this Fall. I intend to apply to Business School and/or Law School within two to three years.

Dear Mr. Sununu:

Fred Nelson suggests that the best way to invite Allan Bromley to address the "technology dinner" Fred discussed with you is to forward the invitation to you. This I am pleased to do.

Fred said that he had described the event to you in some detail. My wife Connie and I are delighted that, as of this date, you are free on May 4 and will attend.

We hope that you would join Dr. Bromley in speaking to the guests. We intend the evening to focus on engineering, technology, and their relationship to national competitiveness and security. Your expertise and viewpoints would contribute invaluable to the evening.

The dinner will be a good opportunity for important discourse on issues which concern the future well-being of the United States. And the evening will celebrate Tufts' and the Engineering College's impressive, growing commitment to research and education in Technology.

We will phone your office in the next few days to confirm.

Thank you for your interest and your help.

Sincerely yours,

D. Kenneth Richardson

Dear Dr. Bromley:

I am pleased to invite you to address a significant science and technology event which my wife and I, as alumni of Tufts University, will host on behalf of the University in May.

On the evening of May 4, Tufts will hold a "technology dinner" in New York for selected alumni, parents, and friends of Tufts' technology-related programs. We intend that this dinner be dedicated to issues of education, research, and policy which face emerging technologies in America and the support which educational initiatives, public and private, can lend to our technological competitiveness and national security.

The audience will be members of the Tufts university community whose interests in this subject are predicated on their investments in and ownership of technology driven companies, their management of the same, and their entrepreneurial activities. Representatives of the banking and investment communities will also attend.

I know that the audience will be very interested and acutely receptive to your address. We would be delighted and honored by your involvement and I urge you to accept our invitation. Should this date not be available on your calendar, we do have some flexibility for scheduling.

A representative of the university's office of special events will phone your office in a few days to confirm.

Sincerely yours,

D. Kenneth Richardson

Dear President Bush:

I don't understand why you continue to let Saddam Hussein have the free and untrammelled use of the airwaves. The media report that Saddam has been on Iraqi TV and Radio with all kinds of rallying cries. I urge you to destroy his ability to communicate by radio and TV with his people.

I know that in World War II, those of us fighting in Europe were encouraged and the Germans were discouraged when Hitler's radio broadcasts were taken out.

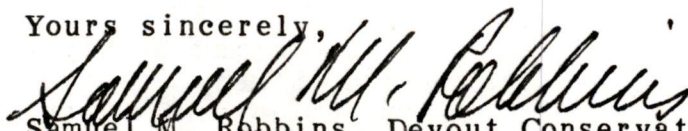

Rising morale of our troops and falling morale of the enemy's is not as vital an ingredient of success as food and water and materiel, but at this stage it would seem that you have enough extra bombs for a few TV and Radio Transmitters.

You are doing a great job. But I beg you to make sure you pulverize the Iraqi ground positions from the air before you send in the infantry. The press reports that we are outnumbered in tanks and ground troops. I wouldn't mind if you dropped small atom bombs on the troop concentrations to equalize the situation. Otherwise our technical superiority may not be enough to counteract their numbers. After all their famous tenacity could count for alot. Don't forget the old slogan said by George Washington, " THE WINNERS WEAR THE LEAST FLASHY UNIFORMS.

I remember well that we utterly destroyed every human being and every building in Aachen and Duren in Germany before we went in.

You need another advisor like a hole in the head. and I imagine you have already considered these things, but I am not sure.

Yours sincerely,

Samuel M. Robbins, Devout Conservative Republican.

Dear Andrew:

I am writing to let you know that I am interested in a position in the Massachusetts Office of Federal/State Relations. I'm sure you are extremely busy right now with the events in the Persian Gulf but if you happen to be talking with the individuals who are setting up the office, I'd appreciate it if you would pass my interest along.

Having interned with the Federal/State Relations Office in 1984, I am very familiar with its objectives and operations. I have extensive experience in issues management, research, press relations, communications and local and federal campaigns. Currently, I am employed as a PR consultant for Dorf & Stanton Communications, Inc., a leading national public relations firm, and I keep a hand in Massachusetts affairs through a political consulting firm that I co-founded four years ago.

For your information, I am enclosing a copy of my resume. Thank you for your time and I look forward to the possibility of meeting you again someday.

Sincerely,

Dear President Bush,

I hope to heck you drop an atom bomb on Bagdahd and be done with them.

What brought on World War II was that we didn't stop Hitler when it was easy, so we had to stop him when it was hard. These extreme Dictators will not stop as long as they think they can get away with anything.

If you allow them to withdraw from Kuwait with their war-making capacity intact, then the whole Middle East will be in turmoil for years. First they will attack Israel, then Saudi Arabia, then they will take on Iran again and they will not stop trying to build a Middle-East Empire until Uncle Sam stops them. This could take years and alot more men and money than it would cost to stop them now.

So just do it.

It's cheap now and expensive later.

Yours very truly,

Samuel M. Robbins, devout conservative Republican

Seasons Greetings:

As an alternative to the Gulf crisis, I suggest that a referendum be promised, to give the people of Kuwait the opportunity to freely express themselves in regard if they want to remain as a free country, or become part of Iraq, as the ninetieth (19th) province of said Country.

This referendum should be implemented and supervised by the United Nations.

It was great to talk with you a couple of weeks ago. I also appreciate your correspondence.

Jamie Parash, Director of Communications of NARI, forwarded a comprehensive packet of information about the organization. There was no reference to NARI's invitation to the President.

Ken Cox and family spent a weekend with us. It was a joy to see him.

Dear Andy:

On the chance that I might catch you in, I called your office yesterday. However, considering the President's schedule, I trust you were extremely busy. You are forcing my writing skills to improve.

The economy here is still bleak. I suspect this winter will be the worst one yet. We are closing down the office and I'll be working out of the house to cut down on overhead. We have several potential customer, but they need to sell their homes first to enable them to build new ones. I do not believe the real estate market is fully adjusted yet. These days we are focusing all of our energy on remodeling where there is still activity and, hopefully, a profit margin. The basic problem, of course, is borrowing capital to retool and open up a showroom.

When I write to you I'm unsure whether I should lay all of this on you, but I've decided there is nothing like a report from the trenches. I read the statistics and predictions like everyone else. However, those guys using the computer models don't know what it is really like out there. There are a lot of unhappy campers who a few years ago reached for the brass ring only to have it knocked out of their hands by government policy or lack thereof. As you know, wrong as it may be, the consumer will blame the President. There would be nothing better than to have the President re-elected, but I think it is going to be a tough campaign.

I read in the paper a few months ago that you may run against Teddy in '94. I hope that you do. I think it's about time that he was replaced by a man of integrity. I will give you support in whatever way I can. If you accept from PACS, the trade association of which I am a member, NARI (National Association of the Remodeling Industry) has just started a PAC. Through my position on the Board of Directors, I'm sure that we can contribute to your campaign. I can also arrange for you to speak at the local chapter meetings in Massachusetts. Please let me know if I can help.

Andrew H. Card
November 5, 1991

Also in regards to NARI, we will be having our National Convention in Boston on February 27, 28 and 29, 1992, at the Convention Center. We expect over 15,000 attendees. The Opening Ceremony is Friday morning and our Presidents Banquet and Awards Ceremony is Saturday evening. It would certainly be an honor to have the President address our Association. It would be a unique opportunity for the President to show his support for the remodeling industry and particularly for small business. Many NARI members are also NFIB members. For security reasons (I have read too many Tom Clacy novels) I have not mentioned this to anyone. I will have a complete information kit about NARI sent to your attention.

On January 8, 9 and 10, 1992, I will be at the NARI headquarters in Arlington, VA, and would certainly enjoy visiting with you. The best times for me are on the anytime during the day or evening on the 8th, and in the evening on the 9th.

And finally, before I close, I am not an ambulance chaser, but, if the President needs any help in rebuilding Walker Point, we would be pleased to have the opportunity to assist.

I hope to see you in January. My best to Kathi.

Sincerely,

Ashley B. Richards
