THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

June 26, 1989

Dear Jim,

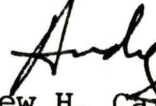

Thank you for your letter of June 20, 1989, inviting me to serve on the University of South Carolina's National Advisory Council. Please know that I would be honored to be included in this distinguished group.

Again, we appreciate you making the University available as a meeting ground for any potential summit meeting between President Bush and Prime Minister Thatcher. I will be sure to share your generous offer with the appropriate Administration officials.

If I can be of further assistance, please let me know.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Andrew H. Card, Jr.
Assistant to the President and Deputy to the Chief of Staff

Thank you! I look forward to helping the real Carolina.

Dear Andy:

Thank you for meeting with me at the White House yesterday. We at the University of South Carolina greatly appreciate your help in our efforts to host a summit between President Bush and Prime Minister Thatcher. This meeting would provide an extraordinary forum for communication between our two great nations. With the world climate presenting ever greater opportunities for the advancement of freedom around the globe, and with the impending unity of the European Economic Community in 1992, such a meeting could be of profound international significance. The University of South Carolina, as a major research university quickly establishing its prowess in the international arena, would be honored to host such an invaluable meeting. We would of course welcome individual appearances by President Bush or Prime Minister Thatcher, and we deeply appreciate your discussing these important plans with them.

At this time I also have the pleasure of inviting you to serve on the University's National Advisory Council. Since its inception in 1979, this group has been a superb resource in providing advice on how The USC can better realize its potential as a progressive institution of higher education. Enclosed is a copy of the Council roster so that you can familiarize yourself with the current membership. With your leadership and experience, you would be a great addition to this roster. It would be an honor to have you as a member of the Carolina family in this capacity, and I hope that you will accept our invitation.

Mr. Andrew H. Card, Jr.

Dear Andy:

It was a great pleasure for me to meet you, however briefly, during the President's visit to the University. Thank you for taking the time yourself to be part of these momentous (for us) commencement exercises and the events attendant to them. I look forward to any opportunity to work with you again and perhaps to see you in Washington or on campus.

Again, thank you for your enormous support in making this event possible. I only regret that a handshake and brief greeting during the ceremonies is the totality of our personal communication to date.

Sincerely,

Dear Andy:

Please be advised that the next meeting of the President's National Advisory Council will take place on Thursday, February 8, 1990. We will begin at approximately 2:00 p.m. and conclude with dinner that evening. The dinner will be held in conjunction with the conference the University is hosting: "Nuclear Deterrence Beyond Containment: Moral Dilemmas Revisited," featuring Cardinal Bernardin, the next day. Please hold this date on your calendar. More information will be forthcoming.

By the way, Andy, Carol Benfield in my office will be handling the particulars of your involvement in the President's National Advisory Council. If you have any specific questions, please contact her at (803) 777-3235. Of course, if there is anything I can help you with, please let me know.

We look forward to having you with us on February 8th for what promises to be an enjoyable and productive occasion. We are very glad to have you with us, and we hope you can make this your first of many visits with us as a member of the PNAC.

Sincerely,

James B. Holderman

Dear Mr. Card:

In my letter last month, I was able to provide early information about our October 11-13 Conference, "U.S.-European Trade: How the 1992 Reforms Affect American Business." Now that all the details have been finalized, I am writing to invite you or another key person from your firm to sign up to attend.

Response to the Conference so far has been very enthusiastic. Since the Conference will accommodate only 100 executives, I encourage you to register soon. Early registrants include executives from across the United States.

The enclosed announcement includes highlights of the Conference and instructions for registration. Please note in particular the information on the interactive panel sessions. During these, you will be able to ask the speakers and panelists questions of special interest to you.

The combination of a high-powered program featuring outstanding experts from both sides of the Atlantic, timely and important topics, the opportunity to interact with other executives from major firms, and the beauty of South Carolina in the fall makes the Conference a "must attend" event.

Thank you for your interest and consideration. I hope to see you on Kiawah Island.

Sincerely,
