President Bush
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. President:

I voted for you and encouraged others to do so. I am a woman the age of you and Mrs. Bush. Surely we have lived long enough to know that the "gentleness" in our nation has long since disappeared for one reason: we have forsaken God and His ways as a nation.

All of us who represent traditional family and Christian values are deeply disappointed that you prefer the homosexuals to us. We are extremely sorry that you permitted Doug Wead to be fired because he stood for what is an abomination to God - homosexuality. I assure you they did not and will not vote for you - and there are, thank God, far more of us than of them.

We are also deeply disappointed in your stance in the N & A matter. How absolutely absurd that the taxpayers of this country should be picking up the tab for any kind of art at a time when our nation is going down the tube financially. But to stand still and allow the most horrendous, blasphemous things perverted minds can conjure up to be called "art" and to be forced on the decent, moral citizens of this country by taking our hard earned tax dollars to pay for it is totally unthinkable! Art in any form is an individual matter and can be created and sustained by those who are interested and can afford it. It has nothing to do with the national scheme of things.

Although I'm sure you personally will never see this letter, I will say anyway — Thank you for listening, Mr. President. I'm so sorry you have let us down and ignore who and what we are. But I pray for you anyway.

Sincerely
(Mrs) A B Blair

Dear President Bush,

I feel compelled to write you regarding an action that you have taken, that coupled with several other actions recently have disappointed me thoroughly. I supported you from the early primaries because you promised to continue in the direction that President Reagan had taken us.

Since your election, you have made several moves to the left of the Reagan position such as your views on taxation, your invitation to homosexual leaders to signing of bills which affected them, etc. I accepted those divergencies, you are not President Reagan. Your latest move, that of removing Doug Wead from your staff is the last straw, the one that broke the camel's back. Like the early colonists of our Great Nation, I feel unrepresented. As a strong advocate of traditional values, I feel deserted by you.

I have been a registered republican since 1943. I have long since lost representation in the Legislative Branch, and in the Judicial Branch, but now I repeat; I feel unrepresented in the Executive Branch.

Please, Mr. Bush, in the name of our Lord Jesus, please reconsider your action and return Mr. Wead to his advisory Position. Thank you.

yours very respectfully,

Joseph S. Kingley

PRESIDENT GEORGE BUSH
THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON DC 20500

8-5-90

DEAR PRESIDENT BUSH:

THERE ARE SEVERAL ISSUES I WISH TO VOICE MY OPINION ON. I TRUST EACH WILL BE LOOKED AT AND LOGGED ACCORDINGLY.

1. I WISH TO STATE THAT I AM PRO-LIFE AND TRUST YOU WILL CONTINUE YOUR STAND ON THIS ISSUE TO PROMOTE LIFE AND SUPPORT STIFFER LAWS AGAINST LIBERAL ABORTION.
2. PLEASE PRAY AND THINK ABOUT THE CONDITION OF OUR COUNTRY. COMMUNISM STILL PREVAILS IN RUSSIA REGARDLESS OF THE WALL BEING TORN DOWN. PLEASE DON'T PUT AMERICA IN THE POSITION OF FALLING UNDER TYRANNY BECAUSE OF SUPPORTING RUSSIA AND LOANING THEM BILLIONS OF DOLLARS AND LEAVING AMERICA IN DEVASTATION. REMEMBER THE SAYING "RUSSIA WILL WIN US OVER WITH A SURFACE KINDNESS AND THEN DESTROY US WHEN WE LEAST EXPECT IT." PLEASE THINK TWICE - REMEMBER OUR CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN AND WHAT THEY WILL HAVE TO ENDURE DUE TO OUR IGNORANCE. BE CAREFUL ABOUT THE WORLD MONEY MARKET AND ALL COUNTRIES GOING TO ONE CURRENCY - IT COULD END FREEDOM.
3. I UNDERSTAND THERE IS SOME TYPE LEGAL ACTION BEING TAKEN MAKING IT MANDATORY THAT THE THEORY OF EVOLUTION BE TAUGHT IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS AS FACT. THE BIBLE TELLS ME WE ARE CREATED IN THE IMAGE OF GOD - SURELY WE WOULD NOT STAND BY AND ALLOW GOD'S IMAGE TO BE REDUCED TO A CHIMP. I AM AGAINST OUR CHILDREN BEING FORCED TO BELIEVE IN THE THEORY AND NOT ALLOWED TO HAVE THEIR OWN BELIEFS.
4. THERE IS SOME TYPE ACTION BEING DISCUSSED THAT CHILD CARE GO UNDER THE UMBRELLA OF A GOVERNMENTAL DEPARTMENT AND STRICT GUIDELINES BE DICTATED REGARDING RELIGION. NO MATTER WHO KEEPS CHILDREN IN THEIR HOME /EVEN TO THE POINT OF A GRAND-MOTHER KEEPING HER GRANDCHILDREN/ THERE CAN BE NO PICTURES OR PLAQUES/NO BIBLES OR BOOKS THAT RELATE TO GOD WHATSOEVER. I AM AGAINST THIS TYPE GOVERNMENTAL RULE TAKING OVER AND NOT ALLOWING ANY RELIGIOUS VALUES TO BE INSTILLED INTO OUR YOUNG PEOPLE.
- ✓ 5. PRESIDENT BUSH, I UNDERSTAND DOUG WEAD WAS DISMISSED BECAUSE HE MADE THE STATEMENT IT WAS A MISTAKE FOR HOMOSEXUALS TO BE INVITED TO WASHINGTON. I DISAGREE WITH THE ACTION YOU TOOK BECAUSE MR. WEAD WAS DEFENDING YOU AND STANDING UP FOR TRADITIONAL CHRISTIAN VALUES THAT ARE DEAR TO MANY OF US. I HEARD YOUR PHONE LINES WERE BOMBARDED WITH HOMOSEXUALS/ LESBIANS CONGRATULATING AND THANKING YOU FOR GETTING RID OF THIS MAN WHO WAS A THORN IN THEIR SIDE. THAT SHOULD RATTLE YOU TREMENDOUSLY TO KNOW THE GAYS ARE SO HAPPY WITH YOUR DECISION AND ACTION. IT RATTLES ME TO KNOW THIS MAN WHO HAS BEEN A GREAT AID TO YOU IN YOUR OFFICE WAS DISMISSED BECAUSE OF HIS STAND AGAINST GAYS AND FOR SUPPORTING THE TRADITIONAL HOME VALUES. I HOPE YOU WILL TAKE A CLOSER LOOK AT THIS AND REALIZE THE MAJORITY OF THOSE WHO PUT YOU IN OFFICE ARE THE VERY SAME TYPE FOLKS WHO VALUE THE TRADITIONAL HOME AND CHRISTIAN STANDARDS.

THANK YOU FOR ALLOWING ME TO VOICE THESE COMMENTS. MY PRAYERS ARE WITH YOU AS YOU LEAD OUR COUNTRY. I PRAY YOU WILL ALLOW GOD TO LEAD YOU. GOD IS OUR ONLY SOURCE OF STRENGTH AND VICTORY.

SINCERELY.

Dear Mr President:

I know you are very busy with the problem in the Persian Gulf.

I commend you for the action you have taken, and I pray for you. I trust that it will not turn into a shooting war.

I urge you to stand firm, because I believe you will.

I don't want to burden you with any more problems, but there is one thing that disturbs me, it is the removal of Mr Weed from your staff. My reason is that, he represents the views, of many millions of people who felt you represented them.

I urge you to reconsider this very important person. You need him in the days ahead.

I believe you were advised the wrong way.

I believe the greatness of our nation is its moral fiber.

again will you review ~~and~~ weeds

I have trusted your judgment and wisdom to this point.

Dear President Bush,

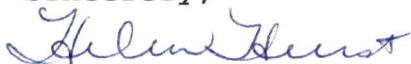

I am writing to express my objections and disappointment over your decision to fire Doug Wead. You were elected and sent to the White House by the votes of conservative Americans who believed your statements that you are pro-family and supportive of the conservative viewpoint; however, this is just one more slap in the face of the electorate who placed you where you are. We are becoming very concerned with your actual position on the views that we hold most dear to us. It seems that your words and your actions are not agreeing, and you know that actions speak louder than words.

I object strongly to the influence that the small minority of homosexuals are having in your decisions. These people represent only approximately three percent of the population of this country. They did not vote for you to put you in the presidency in the first place, and they will not be there to vote for you for another term, so I am at a loss to understand why you are catering to their demands.

I am also very concerned about the positions you have taken on place persons in key positions who are in favor of abortion on demand and the position that you are taking on funding the National Endowment to the Arts with no restrictions on use of the money. I find the kinds of things that they are supporting to be very objectionable, and I do not want my hard-earned tax dollars spent on this type of filth. Most of the great art works of the years have been funded by private corporations, private persons or even churches. If they want to produce this type of work, it is their right and I think they should have to go out looking for people to pay for it who don't object to their money being used in that way. But leave my tax dollars alone. There are too many other vital programs that are being cut because of lack of funds, and we object to the handout to persons who are attempting to destroy the American family and the values of our family unit and our Christian faith.

Please reconsider your termination of Mr. Wead. I think you have made a grave mistake, and your future actions will indicate whether the conservative Americans will be able to continue to support you in the future.

Sincerely,

Helen Hurst

Dear Mr. President:

I have been pleased at the many ways in which you have been friendly toward Christians, Morality and traditional American values.

Lately, however there seems to have been ^{a deviation,} to which I beg leave to write a negative comment. The firing of Doug Wead caps the climax. Homosexuality and the horrible slaughter of babies, if tolerated by our President spells certain Political Suicide for you if you decide to run again.

Funding of stinking "art" and the use of more money in behalf of "Aids" than is spent in behalf of civilized diseases is uncalled for! Self-induced "Aids" requires for a cure (from spreading) ~~is~~ a simple turn toward Morality! The same "turn" would end the infant Holocaust.

Mr. President,

As a concerned Christian, it is very hard to understand how a dedicated man like Doug Weed can be dismissed from his position, because of his stance on homosexuality.

I call for the immediate dismissal of Bobbie Green Kilberg. This person was instrumental in Doug Weed losing his job. The Constitution supports Doug's religious belief. It protects his right to take a stand against Pro Choice or the sin of homosexuality.

It is time a wrong is made right.

There are 70 million Christian Americans.

Make a decision to reinstate Doug Weed, and the Lord will bless you and your family.

Mr President, have the fortitude to please God and not Man.

WORKING VACATION

President would do better to stay on the job

A decade ago, an American president found himself held hostage by the capture of a group of Americans. The picture of Jimmy Carter fretting out each day, obsessed with the Iranian hostage crisis, was a major contributing factor to his defeat by Ronald Reagan in 1980. George Bush, confronted with a far larger and potentially more deadly hostage crisis, has determined not to repeat Mr. Carter's mistake.

The president's desire not to allow Iraqi strong man Saddam Hussein to feel he is leading America around by the nose is understandable and laudable. However, Mr. Bush may be overdoing it.

It is not necessary for the president to lock himself in the White House situation room; modern communications make it possible for him to keep in constant contact with anyone he needs to. But press conferences on golf greens about the fate of hundreds of Americans being held by the Iraqis and thousands of troops risking their lives on the other side of the world is jarring at best, inappropriate at worse.

No one doubts the president is deeply concerned about Americans who have become pawns in an international power faceoff. No one doubts that America's best and brightest are weighing contingencies to provide their best advice on how to handle a situation that is close to no win. And to date Mr. Bush has shown a commendable ability to exercise good and measured judgment. But confronting a crisis in an environment that borders on the frivolous is disconcerting to the loved ones of the quasi-hostages, and to the loved ones of the troops the president has ordered to the brink of battle.

Mr. Bush's attempt to effect an air of energized normality is a valid part of strategy. But it is also important to look and act the role of commanding officer. President Bush need not allow himself to become consumed by the Iraqi situation, as deadly as it is. There are certainly plenty of other matters to spend time on. But he should return to Washington, D.C., and if he needs some athletics to relieve the tension, the White House tennis courts would be a far better setting than snapping at reporters to bug off from the Kennebunkport golf greens.

Dear Mr. President:

We had been pleased with your leadership as president until some of your decisions lately have troubled us greatly.

The last one concerns the firing of Doug Weed which we believe was a grave mistake. We hope you will reconsider that one. We were aghast and outraged that the homosexual group was recognized as a political organization, much less be invited to the White House giving them recognition nationwide.

We deeply regret your change from "no new taxes" to consideration of raising them and your support of the N.E.A. We urgently request you reconsider these positions also. When Congress spends 45 million dollars for study of toe nail clippings as Paul Harvey reported, it is high time long overdue to put a stop to such utter waste.

We will continue to pray for you and others in government.

Dear Mr. President: George Bush

This is to inform you that I am protesting the firing of your advisor Mr. Donald Weed. President of Trinity Broadcasting Network Mr. Paul Crouch took one evening to tell the listeners all about it. Our Pastor Tommy Barnett - Phoenix First Assembly of God - Phoenix - AZ. told the congregation about you firing Don Weed. Mr. President, I thought you were a man of God Almighty - Great Jehovah - but taking sides of the homosexuals and the lesbians issues are shocking to me. Very sad to see how "Aids" are still increasing due to these "Queers" - strange, odd people.

Also I am protesting the National Endowment for the Arts. The anti-Christian and pornographic cut shows. The United States of America money should be used in better places and also please tell all your 6000 appointees the same message -- as well as to all Senators and Congressmen. This is the way I feel as well as many other citizens of United States of America.

I am praying to God Almighty that the scales on your eyes will drop off and you will start seeing lights. Start to see properly!!

God bless you and your family. I pray that you will become a very strong God-fearing President. Please put your trust in the Lord Jesus Christ. God watches over his children so stay on our Great GOD side. Pray daily, read the word "The Bible". Go to Church!! Our God is a Big God - He is alive and well and can solve any problem. Yes even "Aids" Tell your dear friends "the Queers".
Very truly yours

Dear President Bush:

My name is Jeff Russom. I'm an evangelical Christian. I voted for you in 1988. One of the main reasons I voted for you was because you said as President you would stand up for traditional family values. But, it has come to my attention that you are not keeping your word. I've recently learned that you fired your special assistant, Doug Wead (who has very close ties with the evangelical Christian community), over a letter Wead wrote criticizing colleagues for inviting homosexual activists to the signing of the Hate Crimes Bill in April. I want to know what legitimate reason can you give me for firing Doug Wead. If I do not receive a satisfactory answer I will not vote for you come November, 1992.

Sincerely,

Jeff Russom

P.S. If the above was not bad enough, it has also come to my attention that you once again invited homosexual activists to the White House for the July 26th signing of the Americans With Disabilities Act. If I wanted a President who catered to homosexuals (sodomites) I would have voted for Michael Dukakis.

Dear President:

I was saddened to hear today that you fired your Special Assistant for Public Liaison, Doug Weed. As far as I could tell he was a spokesman for those of us who adhere to traditional family values. Hopefully, you would like to maintain a balanced view on the people you represent. I don't know how you can do this if you fire the people that stand firm to their convictions under fire.

I'm assuming that Mr. Weed became too great a liability because he tried to keep the conservative community of voters too well informed of White House movements. On two occasions I know you endorsed and recognized the rights of homosexuals to be a distinctive group. I do not see the choice to live an abnormal, destructive lifestyle as a means to seek Presidential acknowledgement. Leave aside the obvious lifestyle which promotes a fatal disease, AIDS, but physiologically, the sexual habits of homosexuals obviously are promoting the use of orifices meant only for the release of human waste. Sorry if I'm too graphic, but that comes from being a nurse.

Please do not be deceived by the anger and organized devotion of the homosexual groups. They should be helped to understand why they perceive normal sexual relations as so repulsive, not given your stamp of approval by sending official invitations to "Gay Rights Coalitions".

Thank you for taking the time to read this and register my heartfelt views.

Sincerely,
Sharon Chawla

Dear President Bush,

I was deeply disappointed to hear that Doug Weed was fired from his position. Mr. Weed has been a good representative of the traditional Judeo-Christian values of Americans like me. They are the values that made our country strong. Now, we are seeing:

- tax-supported, anti-Christian bigotry in the guise of "art."
- Sanctioning of homosexual lifestyles, granting special "civil rights" based on a behavior
- Killing unborn children & welcoming those who promote abortion into the Republican party

Please remember the concerns of conservative voters & reconsider this decision. We need more principled men like Doug Weed in the White House.

We were very upset and disappointed to hear about your decision to fire Mr. Weed.

Mr. Weed was one of the few people helping to keep you informed about what many million people (voters) were thinking in the Christian community by speaking to our Christian leaders.

August 6, 1990

The President
The White House
Washington, DC

Dear President Bush,

We wish to add our protest to the many others who were shocked at the dismissal of Doug Wead. The secular media has been strangely silent about his termination, but from what we have learned from Christian television and radio, it appears that he was fired for adhering to his religious convictions. While evangelical Christians abhor "hate crimes" as much as any other citizen, we know there are already laws on the books that cover the maltreatment and abuse of any citizen, whatever his race, religion, or sexual preference. There are also laws that prohibit vandalism and desecration of property.

It seems to many of us that this law is prejudicial in that it elevates crimes committed against certain groups over and above those perpetrated against "ordinary" citizens. It is preposterous to assume that a crime of violence against a homosexual, a Jew, or a member of any other minority group is more heinous or more worthy of strict punishment than that of sexual molestation of a child, the brutal beating of an elderly person, or the rape and assault of a woman. Brutal crime is an everyday occurrence, and its victims come from every segment of society. Justice is served no better with the passing of this law, and it seems to be more of a political move than anything else, thus the ceremony at its signing.

By objecting to the invitation of leaders of the homosexual community, Doug Wead tried to prevent a flood of criticism from the Christian community he represents. Mr. Wead would have been neglecting his duty as liason were he to remain silent. As we understand it, there are persons in the White House who would prefer no representation for Christians at all, and who pressed for his dismissal. Christians do not hate homosexuals or any other group the lifestyles of whom they cannot in conscience approve. Many evangelical ministries reach out to AIDS victims, drug addicts, unwed mothers, the homeless, and many others who fall between the gaps in our government programs.

Your inclination, over the objections of many members of Congress, to fund the NEA with absolutely no restrictions is surprising to the evangelicals who voted for you in 1988. It is difficult to understand why you support this in the face of threats of new taxes, the huge budget deficit, the rising national debt, and cutbacks in social services as well as military spending. The arts flourished before subsidies began in the 1960's, and those of merit still will should the NEA cease to exist. It is only 1990, but two years is not too long for us to remember the president who deserted us.

Respectfully,

President Bush,

It disturbs me to have to write you over the issues that have recently arisen in your administration. The issues which deeply concern me are the dismissal of Mr. Doug Wead, homosexuals in the White House and potential tax increases. Mr. Wead was a strong family advocate standing for many of the issues I support.

By inviting homosexuals to the White House this amounts to administrative ~~support~~ endorsement of their lifestyle. I do not condemn these people just their lifestyle. I do not feel any of my tax dollars should go to support such behavior.

Dear President Bush:

Christian and family values seem to have been eroded further by your administration in the dismissal of Mr. Doug Weed. Leadership needs to say what God says about homosexuality. Hate isn't the answer, but love is - love them, but hate the sin of their lifestyle. Government does not need to sanction them!

Also of concern to me is our lack of courage to balance the budget. We do not need more taxes, but the ability to make hard decisions to cut waste out of government. Even lessen government control over the people that could help the economy, but not like bail out of S & L or failed banks that really protects the greedy irresponsible persons.

Please do not forget to befriend Israel. I am praying for you and America.

DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

JUST A NOTE TO QUESTION THE FIRING OF MR. DOUG WEAD. HOW LUDICROUS THAT A CHRISTIAN MAN IS FIRED FOR PROTESTING THE FACT THAT HOMO-SEXUALS ARE BROUGHT INTO THE WHITE HOUSE IN REGARDS TO A BILL THAT WILL PROTECT THEIR RIGHTS AS "HANDICAPPED PEOPLE."

THIS IS ABSURD! WHY IS IT THAT THE GAY LOBBY SEEMS TO BE CONTROLLING WASHINGTON THESE DAYS? THIS COUNTRY WAS FOUNDED ON CONSERVATIVE, CHRISTIAN VALUES AND NOW WASHINGTON IS BRINGING THIS COUNTRY DOWN. THE BIBLE SAYS "RIGHTEOUSNESS EXALTS A NATION BUT SIN IS A DISGRACE TO ANY PEOPLE." WHAT A SAD COMMENTARY TO OUR HEAVENLY FATHER WHO MADE THIS COUNTRY SO GREAT.

I VOTED FOR YOU MR. PRESIDENT BECAUSE I THOUGHT YOU WERE A CONSERVATIVE CHRISTIAN. ONLY TIME WILL TELL IF I CAN DO IT AGAIN. I DO HOPE MR. WEAD WILL BE REINSTATED!

Wead-2 Dear Mr. President:

I wanted to write and let you know how I feel about the firing of Doug Wead who was in the office of Special Assistant to the President for Public Liaison. I was so discouraged today when hearing the report. It's my understanding that he was simply doing his job and a good one at that. He was trying to cover up for you the mistake of inviting homosexual activist representatives to White House ceremonies.

Mr. President Bush I strongly disagree with this. When I voted for you it was because I felt you were on the side of those who advocate traditional family values. Now I'm really wondering about what kind of person you really are and what kind of agenda for our country do you seek to promote.

I'm part of the conservative base of about 50 million that helped get you elected. The 1 million gays who voted for Dukakis are not going to get you reelected. Why pray tell, do they have so much clout with you?

I urge you strongly to please reconsider the unfortunate decision of firing Doug Wead, a man who has served you well in the past.

Sincerely yours,

Maureen Hess

Dear Mr. President;

I'm writing in response to the firing of Navy Weed.

I believe it's time we as Christians stand up for those of us that have been dealt unfairly with.

Realizing that you may not be responsible, or was even aware of the situation, but also assuming that you are concerned about the matter, and are about, taking steps to rectify, if need be.

My husband and I have supported you with prayers, and other means, as we feel you are God's man of the hour. And we will continue to do so, even if we don't agree with every decision that's made.

But, we, as Christians, won't support in any other way except prayer, if Christian Ethics suffer.

The will stand and make our voice of disapproval heard, which is the format of this letter concerning Mr. Will.

The love you in the Lord, Sir, and believe that you will make the right decision, (that being the Lord's will).

Dear President Bush,
I could not constrain my feelings of anger and frustration at the firing of the very able Mr. Doug Weed, Special Assistant to you. I believe that this is a slap in the face to all the Evangelical Christians that took the time to promote your bid for the office that you now hold. He was trying to do his job when he wrote the letter to the Christian leaders explaining your signing of the law where the Homosexual group was invited to watch. You are now on the bottom of the list for people that I will vote to hold the office of President. I will vote for the Donkey of the Democratic Party if they put him up for President in the next Election. Since you used the Evangelical Christians to get your self elected and have now bent over backward to show your support for the "gay"???? community. This approximately 3% of the population did not support you for the office of President and probably won't do so in the next election, so now where will you turn for support? Not Me.... I will not vote for you nor will I ask anyone else to do so. Being from a large family of eleven children I can say you have lost about eleven votes right there.

It really galls me to see any Politician that runs for office on the guises of one issue and then changes to another issue in the middle of the road when some loud mouth minority group gets route and hollers. How Stupid to think that they can then switch back when the heat has died down.

Sir for you I have only contempt and discuss.

Sorry for You

Dear Mr. President;

I am very upset over the firing of Mr. Doug Wead. How can you allow such a loyal man, full of integrity, be so unjustly mistreated? Surely the White House needs a Public Liaison with his qualities and competence. The conservative viewpoint must have a voice. You are strongly urged to reinstate Mr. Wead and offer him a Public apology.

Further, I fail to understand why individuals who proudly favor the practice of sodomy are invited to a White House function.

In my opinion, those persons who suggested including homosexuals in the signing of the 'Hate Bill' legislation are the ones who should be fired!

Most sincerely,

Dear President Bush,

I just learned that you have dismissed Doug Weed for the continued advice he has given against entertaining homosexuals in the White House.

Homosexuality is a lifestyle that is chosen. God gave man a free will and has himself stated (I Corinthians 6:9-10): Do you not know that the unrighteous will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived; neither the immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor homosexuals, nor thieves, nor greedy, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor robbers will inherit the kingdom of God.

Are you not a God-fearing man who desires to use his position and authority to further God's kingdom? Do you not believe it is He who placed you where you are? One person can make a difference. We who believe in the soon-coming of Christ admire you for the strong stand you have taken against abortion. Please, please do not water down and compromise yourself. Much prayer is going up on your behalf.

We are to hate the sin but love the sinner and try to show him the road to righteousness. Most homosexuals are not so much seeking a sexual relationship as they are seeking loving approval. Many of them have had an unhappy childhood lacking a proper role model. What a tragic generation is now "growing up", our "throw-away" kids, some of them coming from upper income, professional parents who have lost sight of the true value of right relationship.

May God give you His vision for yourself and our nation for without His progressive vision we perish.

The homosexual community has become very vocal and demanding. I have several friends and relatives who are homosexuals. I love them. I care about their eternal salvation. I pray for them. I pray for wisdom in what I say to them for they are ever ready to alienate themselves from anyone who does not agree with their stand. I do my best to judge them not but to make it understood that I love them but hate their sin, their lifestyle.

We must help them to recognize that homosexuality is not a proper choice. Planned Parenthood is corrupting our youth with their teaching and their encouragement of a promiscuous lifestyle.

It is time to teach our children the right way to live. Please, Mr. President, put a guard on your mouth that you will say only those things that are proper. There are times to take a strong stand and "clean house".

I urge you to be our light in these dark times, reflecting the light of our Lord Jesus. For He is the only way out of all our problems. He could eliminate our national debt in short order if all our elected officials would seek his face and then obey His budget.

The Lord bless and keep you and make His face to shine upon you.

Sincerely yours,

Carol A. Burger

RE: MR. DOUG WEED

Dear Mr. President,

I listened to you while you campaigned for the honorable position of President of the United States of America. Because the views you shared were close to what I believe, I voted for you to hold the office of President.

I trusted you. Now I am deeply hurt and wonder if I have been betrayed.

Over the past few months, I have been witnessing events that have me worried. You have changed your mind on "no new taxes". You invited people who practice and believe in sexual deviance to The White House for the signing of the Hate Crimes Bill and you included them along with the signing of the bill for those who are disabled. I don't believe in hate crimes and I support equal opportunity for those who are disabled, but homosexuals do not fit in either of these categories. These events registered poor messages to many people who voted for you.

Now, Mr. Doug Weed has been fired. As I understand it, Mr. Weed was performing the functions of his position by advising you on some of the recent actions mentioned above. Evidently, you have chosen to eliminate someone who represents the views of many in this country. I stongly encourage you to reconsider and put Mr. Weed back in his position at The White House. A replacement will not mend the wrong that has been done to this man or the people he represents, including you.

I hope to hear very soon that Mr. Weed has been reinstated. If not, I will remember this as we approach the next Presidential Election. Thank you.

Dear President Bush,

My letter has two purposes. One is to assure you of our prayers on your behalf for Gods wisdom in your decisions relating to the conflict in the Middle East. We travel to Jordan and Israel on a yearly basis and love the land and it's people.

Secondly, I am concerned about the conditions upon which it seems that Doug Wead has been "forced out" of his important job at the White House. I feel that Mr. Wead's conservative influence especially as it relates to the religious community is a real asset to your administration. I do not approve of his having to leave just because he was willing to voice his opinions regarding homosexuals attending some important bill signing. I am sure that Mr. Wead's feelings are close in nature to your own. Let's get him back on the job. As far as insuring that your interests, Mr. Bush, are being served I feel that the wrong man is seeking other employment.

Thank you for your consideration. We are proud to have our "Maine" man in the White House.

Dear Mr. President

As an American Voter, I am shocked at the firing of Doug Wead. When you invited the Homo-sexuals group to ~~watch~~ watch the signing of the Hate-Crime Bill and the Disability Bill, I trust you did not think those of us who strongly believe in the traditional American Family would roll over and play dead. ✓

Mr. President, if you will check the record, you will find the voters who elected you into office were not from the Homo-sexual groups, but it was the Evangelicals who gave you the winning votes.

I trust you will not be persuaded by the militant Homo-sexual groups who are seeking to become a protected class of people and this same group defies the moral belief this Country was founded upon.

Mr. President, I would appreciate an answer to why you would become anti-traditional family and fire a very capable person as Doug Wead.

Mr. President:

I know you feel the "weight of the world" upon your shoulders and I am praying for you. I am praying that you will be as David in I Samuel 18: 14-15. "And David (George Bush) behaved himself wisely in all his ways; and the Lord was with him".

Mr. President, please consider the scriptures when making decisions. Our country will not change with more drug studies and programs for every cause. It will change when hearts change and hearts change when we turn to God. Our country was founded on the Bible. Can you not call this country back to God. Can you not call sin for what it is - sin.

I understand you fired Mr. Weed. If it was because of his stand against sin then I beg you to re-consider and be like David and the Lord will be with you. Don't be lured by the "soft south wind."

Respectfully

PUTTING YOUR WEIGHT DOWN

He did not waver at the promise of God through unbelief, but was strengthened in faith. — Romans 4:20

If we are trusting the Lord for our eternal destiny, it makes sense that we would take Him at His word for our lives today. Just as Abraham did not waver in his faith, we also can believe God's promises.

I like the story about old Uncle Oscar and his first airplane ride. His friends asked him, "Did you enjoy the flight?" "Well," Uncle Oscar replied, "it wasn't as bad as I thought it might be. But I'll tell you this, I never did put all my weight down!"

That sounds a little like some of us. As Christians, we know that our sins have been forgiven, and we rejoice in the assurance of going to heaven, but we fall short of entrusting other areas of our lives to the Lord. We never put all our weight down.

As a result, we are beset by doubts, fears, and uncertainties. We don't "enjoy the trip" to heaven as much as we could. We have complete confidence in the Lord for eternity, but we don't dare trust Him for the here and now.

If we are giving in to a burden of worry and fear, we're like Uncle Oscar. Instead, let's be like Abraham, who "did not waver at the promise of God through unbelief."

Yes, the Lord is trustworthy. That's why we can put all our weight down. — R.W.D.

LURE OF THE SOUTH WIND

When the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, . . . they sailed. — Acts 27:13

In Acts 27 we read that Paul, a prisoner headed for Rome, warned the centurion of disaster if they set sail. The man, however, listened to contrary advice and gave orders for the ship to leave port.

When a gentle south breeze got them off to a favorable start, it looked as if Paul had been wrong. But soon the sky darkened. The breeze turned into a howling wind. Waves battered the ship with merciless fury. Several days later the vessel ran aground and was broken into pieces by the storm. Paul had been right!

J. C. Macauley used this story to show what happens to a young person who is lured by the soft south wind of pleasant circumstances that may temporarily accompany wicked conduct. He described five stages of decline in Acts 27. A youth leaves (v.13) the moorings of home and church, is caught (v.15) in a whirl of excitement, is driven (v.17) by the winds of passion, is lightened (v.18) of his or her former virtues, and finally is broken by the storm (v.41).

Recently I saw several pictures of highly successful artists and actors. These men were doing well financially. They were well-liked by their peers. Everything seemed to be fine, but they were living immorally. And they all contracted AIDS. Today they are dead.

Don't be lured by the "soft south wind." — H.V.L.

That cools a fevered brow,
May bring delight for just a while —
But not beyond the NOW! — D.J.D.*

Dear President Bush:

When Houston hosted the Economic Summit in July, I was a part of the choir which sang in the "Thank You" program given for all the people who worked to make the meeting a success. I thrilled to be on the platform and get a real close "eye-witness" view of you and your wife. Thank you for choosing Houston for the conference.

On another topic, I am greatly distressed that your administration is endorsing the homosexual lifestyle by inviting representatives of this disgusting, abhorrent group to White House ceremonies. The homosexual/lesbian sexual relations spread AIDS. All homosexual activity is condemned specifically in both the Old and New Testament. It is an act against women and against the family and thus against the community. Please keep your stated commitment to uphold the family and protect its sanctity.

I must also encourage you to retain Doug Wead as a liaison with conservative and religious groups. No one should be removed from their jobs for telling you the truth. I support his position that inviting gay activists to participate in White House ceremonies as an identifiable group was as outrageous affront to your conservatives supporters (which includes me).

Dear Mr. President,

I for one am very shocked at the firing of Pastor Doug Wead. He was doing a good job and represented my views as he did those of many other Christians.

I am wondering, too, why you would sit down with the homosexual group for the signing of any Bill. (No other president has ever done this.) Perhaps, we too (we Christians) need an ACT-LIP group to bully our way into power. That seems to be the way to go today.

As for the NEA it is anti-Christian, an affront to all Christians. How on earth, claiming to be pro-family, could you support it?

I voted for you, but you are not representing me.

As an evangelical Christian I am appalled to learn of Mr. R. Douglas Wead's firing. It seems to me that you are following a course sure to alienate the coalition of voters who elected you and Pres. Reagan three times.

President Bush, the ^{press} might have us believe that the American citizenry is liberal, pro-abortion, pro-homosexual, and the like; but come election day in 1992 you are risking having conservatives skip you on the ballot should you continue in your present direction. Loyalty is not just a virtue, but the cornerstone of political strength. Now I understand you reaching out to the middle/moderates. It is when you associate with the left and exclude the right that will be your unmaking.

Two reasons your associations with homosexuals (1 million voters) is damaging to your evangelical base (50 million voters). First, homosexuals are the vanguard of bigoted actions against us and the Catholics. Second, because homosexuals are on the vanguard of pro-abortion and all things anti-family. The choice is yours.

Dear President Bush,

We have become ever more increasingly concerned in regards to your stance on traditional family values. We are happy that our President has had more prayer sessions in the Whitehouse than any other president. At the same time, we are disappointed that you've weakened your stance against abortion by stating there is enough room in the Republican party for pro-life and ~~pro-abortion advocates. This is not leadership but compromise.~~ You've also acknowledged homosexuals as a respectable class of people by inviting them, based on their perverted sexual desires, into the Whitehouse. When your public liaison, Doug Wead would not compromise his principles and accept, on the basis of a deviant behavior, homosexuals as a minority to be legitimized, Andrew Card gave Mr. Wead his notice of dismissal. If in the future adulterers or necrophiliacs organize and there are objections, will you have these objectors dismissed as bigots also?

Please reconsider this anti-family policy and begin by reinstating Doug Wead.

Dear President Bush,

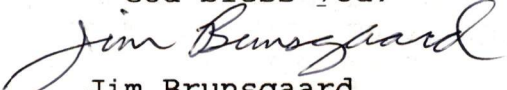

I recently heard about the firing of Doug Weid as your special liaison to the evangelical christian community. I don't know if it was upon you're orders or one of your staffers. I also heard that he was let go because of his criticism of your administration's recent support of the homosexuals and militant feminists. I was really appalled to hear homosexual activists were invited to official White House functions for the first time in our history. This is a disturbing precedent that I don't wish to see continue. By inviting the homosexuals to official White House functions you're administration is advocating their preverted lifestyle as normal and acceptable. Again, I do not know whether their invitation was you're doing or was done by one of your staff. When I voted for you as president I thought you stood for christian values, as well, as pro-family and pro-life values. The homosexuals which only represent 3% of our population should not be supported especially because their lifestyle is the primary reason AIDS has become so widespread in our society. I would like you to write me and tell me if this policy was a mistake or if it is going to continue during your term in office. I would also like to say that a man should not be fired for speaking out on what he believes especially when he is doing it to protect you from unwise policy. I have heard that Mr. Weid is one of your biggest supporters and even wrote a book in your behalf.

I would like to thank you for your recent address at the Pro-life rally in D.C., though I would have liked to see you there in person. I would also ask you to call for a amendment to end the tragedy of abortion. Another thing that concerns me is you're recent reversal on taxes. I don't think we need new taxes. Taxes have already doubled in the last ten years. As taxpayers we already work half the year to pay the taxes. What we need is a congress that will not waste our money and one willing to balance the budget. We do not need to support programs like the NEA and the farm subsidies program. I have already written my congressmen and told them of my disapproval regarding this issue. I would like to hear from you regarding my letter. My address is:

Dr. Mr. President:

I know you have a lot of pressing business before you regarding events in the mid-East but some recent events here in the U.S. have troubled me more than those of Saddam Hussein.

The events I am referring to deal with the inviting of the homosexual community into your Rose Garden for the signing of certain bills passed by Congress. This gives the homos great prestige and in essence puts a stamp of approval on their behavior. They are putting the whole nation at risk with their behavior and draining manpower and available money from our research facilities for the cure of something that is preventable by changing life style.

I was ashamed of my President when he invited them into the Rose Garden and I was disgusted with my President when he fired Doug Wead for commenting on it. If you are going for their votes I think that is a waste of time - they will continue to vote for the most liberal candidate on the ticket.

The Christian community gets trampled at every turn of the Government, even though more than half the country claims to be Christian. The homosexuals get top billing on everything and they are somewhere around 3% of the population (even though they claim it is higher).

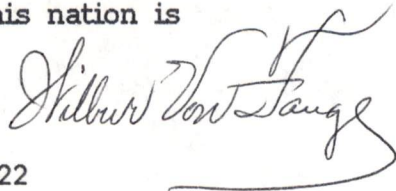

The public schools are becoming a forum for teaching against the family and family principles with lectures and demonstrations of how to have "alternate life-styles, safe sex, etc." And we wonder why the SAT and other scores are so poor. Many even wonder why hundreds of teenagers are committing suicide. God has been replaced by humanism and that won't work!! You claim to be a family man and you want to be our "Education President" as you put it during your election campaign, but unless the moral issue is addressed it will all be a total failure. From the time that God was kicked out of the schools until now, there has been a terrible decline in everything involving our children.

I suggest that you read in the Bible the Book of Romans, chapter 1, verses 18 through 32. It gives a complete picture of the strange sex that this nation is approving through its leaders and the end will be the loss of our nation. And it appears to be close at hand. Every great nation of the past failed when they got into sexual misconduct. Do you want history to be repeated??

I have a great burden on my heart for the way this nation is degenerating.

Dear Mr. President

Please be advised that we are very upset by the firing of W. Weed, because he was against the homosexuals that you had invited to the White House. You took a strong stand against homosexuality in your campaign, but guess that is by the wayside. But I want to register a strong complaint.

Also wish to know the reason you would possibly fund the NEA, when things like a picture of Christ with wine on it, or a show where the woman spreads her legs, inserts a machine a doctor uses to open the vagina & lets men & women look up inside. Does our taxpayer dollar really need to go for this filth.

How far can this go. We are loosing our country, not from the enemy from some foreign shore, but from within the filth, the drugs, the humanist approach in our schools, you,
Mr. President, can do something about it. I don't have the power but you do.

We will all have to stand

IT DOES'NT REQUIRE A DEGREE

Dear Mr. President,

In all respect, the firing of Doug Wead was wrong. He represented the morals, values and integrity of many loyal American voters.

You were my choice for President because of your stand on current issues. One of which was morality and decency. I strongly disagree with your decision to favor the homo sexual community over this man. This man had the same views as I and many others that helped put you into office

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing to voice my strong disapproval of the firing of Doug Wead! Our Country was founded as a Godly Nation, therefore we need strong Christian leaders who will seek God in the Leadership of our Country.

I ask that you reconsider your actions against Mr. Wead. I also pray that you would select as many pro-life leaders as possible to take leadership roles in our country. It's not always the peoples vote, but God's vote that counts. This Country will be held accountable for all the murdered babies on judgement Day!
Lets turn this Country back around to be the Godly nation it was founded to be. My prayers will be with you in the many decisions you must make for our nation.

Dear Mr. President:

Thank you for sending the Marines to Liberia, and sending the 82nd Airborne to derail Saddam Hussein's further advance into Saudi Arabia. This Middle East crisis, however, pales in significance to the past couple of weeks in our own nation's capitol.

In Genesis 13, verse 12, we see that Lot chose to "pitch his tent toward Sodom." You Sir, by allowing sodomites to be present at the signing of the "Handicap Bill," as well as the "Hate Bill" will hold the historical record as being the first President to cater to such a group in so openly friendly and blatant a manner. This is a slap in the face to 98% of your constituency. The dismissal of Mr. Douglas Wead is looked upon with great dismay by a majority of voters in this country. Was it not this very man, Douglas Wead, who rallied the Christian vote behind you in the last election? What will you do for Christian votes in the next election if Mr. Wead is not reinstated?

I ask you, Sir, to rehire Douglas Wead and give him a raise. I further ask you to dismiss those liberals who encouraged his dismissal.

The reason God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah was because the occupants were reprobates as described in Romans 1, verse 21 through the end of the chapter. The key verse is verse 28, "And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient;".

The choice you must make is clear. Believe me, Sir, the great majority of the voters in this country are behind the righteousness displayed by Doug Wead and his stand for traditional family values.

Dear President George Bush,

WEAD-2
I voted for you because I thought you loved the Lord enough to uphold traditional Christian values without compromising.

I realize that being president is very difficult with the pressures from various groups and one must be diplomatic with the people and issues but when it comes to our moral values such openmindedness such as honoring homosexuality in the White House will contribute to the downfall of this God blessed nation based on God's Holy principles.

If we keep accepting perversion and overlooking wickedness our nation is in for a terrible fall. True Christians should take a loving stand against these issues. We must love the sinner but hate the sin, not condone it.

We must set an example for the young. Your actions have a great impact on the youth. You are influencing many future generations.

I was so sorry to hear about the firing of a Godly man like, Doug Weed.

I am also very disappointed and very much opposed to your support of the National Endowment of the Arts which has displayed tasteless, abominable, perverse, offensive artwork such as blasphemous works of Christ, erotic homosexuality etc.

The private sector promoting this trash should pay for these displays. As a taxpayer I am very upset that my money supports such work. There is escalating evil contributing to our degenerating, corrupt society and I cringe to think that my tax dollars fund this.

I plead with you, Mr. President. Please don't tolerate evil and compromise the moral values so dear to our founding fathers or our nation is in for big trouble.

God will uphold you, protect you and bless you and our nation if you stand up for righteousness. Proverbs 14:34- "Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people."

May God be with you and Mrs. Bush in a very special way daily. You're in my prayers.

Dear Mr. President,

I have recently become aware of the fact that one of your White House aides was dismissed from his job primarily because of his objection to the presence of homosexual activists groups being invited to the White House for bill signing ceremonies. This is of grave concern to me. As a traditional mother and parent of three little boys and as an advocate of traditional values I can not understand the presiding attitude of tolerance with this special interest group. I also can not understand why a member of your staff would be dismissed because they objected to the presence of these individuals. Must we cater to their every whim and forget from whence we have come? I am sure you are aware that the homosexual agenda is much larger than mere equal rights and I am sure you must be aware of the agenda they are committed to, to get their view across. Merely that they were at the signing ceremony is hard to handle, but to dismiss a staff member because of his objection seems a subtle betrayal to our traditional values. Please don't allow this to happen. My children deserve to be able to grow up a in an America like I did.

I would urge you to replace this person with another individual of equal conviction and status. Please do not bend to the liberal side of this moral issue, for my children's sake.

We are very upset that you invited representatives from homosexual organizations to attend the outdoor ceremony on the White House lawn at which the Americans With Disabilities Act was signed on July 26, and before that, the signing of the Hate Crimes Bill.

But even worse than that, we are upset about the firing of White House staffer Doug Wead over a letter that he wrote criticizing colleagues for inviting homosexual activists to this important ceremony.

THIS COUNTRY WAS "ORIGINALLY" FOUNDED UNDER ONE GOD, BUT SINCE THEN OTHER RELIGIONS, INCLUDING SATANISM, HAVE TRIED TO TEAR DOWN OUR MORALS, STARTING EVEN AT THE EARLY AGES OF 5 AND 6.

TEACHERS HAVE SAID RECENTLY THAT TEN YEARS AGO THE PROBLEMS THEY HAD WITH KIDS WERE RUNNING IN THE HALLS, CHEWING GUM AND TALKING IN CLASS - NOW ITS MURDER, RAPE, DRUGS AND LORD KNOWS WHAT ELSE!!!

WE NEED MEN & WOMEN WHO HAVE HIGH MORALS AND INTEGRITY, LIKE DOUG WEAD, IN OUR GOVERNMENT. ITS PEOPLE LIKE HIM WHO HAVE HELPED KEEP OUR COUNTRY STRONG IN FAITH... IN OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST!

MY YOUNGEST BROTHER IS A HOMOSEXUAL. I HATE THE SICKNESS THAT HAS LED HIM TO THIS, BUT I LOVE HIM AND ALL OTHERS AFFECTED BY IT AND PRAY THEY WILL COME TO KNOW JESUS CHRIST, WHO DIED FOR OUR SINS.

PLEASE ~~HELP~~ REINSTATE DOUG WEAD TO HIS POSITION!

Weightier matters now press for your attention, BUT on Saturday, August 4, 1990, our Newspaper reported that White House staffer Doug Wead had been fired. We regret that this was done by you. We feel this is a step in the wrong direction for our Country.

Do you invite people to your special meetings who kill or commit violent crimes or do you invite people who tell lies about our Government or about our elected representatives - do you invite these people to attend meetings where you are signing important Bills? NO!!

I object to the homosexual group attending the signing of any Bill or anything else at MY White House.

I need not quote the Bible to you - you are aware of It's teaching. That is where I get my information and believe it to be factual and true.

Dear President Bush,

I wish to ask you to reconsider the firing of Doug Wead, special assistant for public liaison. As a Christian, I stand against inviting lesbian and gay leaders to The White House for any reason. That represents you saying that you approve of their sexual misconducts. The Bible is very explicit about how God is against homosexuals, and that people are not to engage in that type of sexual conduct. Christians must stand up and say to homosexuals that they are wrong in what they do. That means you cannot recognize them in anyway. That would encourage them in their anti-God, anti-Christian, and anti-family behavior. Doug Wead was right to advise you not to invite lesbian and gay groups.

Thank you for standing against homosexuals,

We are extremely disappointed about the firing of Doug Wead. He was just doing his job telling you how the more than 50 million Born Again Believers in Gods' Word would feel at your honoring homosexuals, a sin largely responsible for the epidemic of AIDS. God calls it abomination. God destroyed Sodom because of it.

Stand up and do what you know is right. I know you are a strong and good president and you will see that the right thing is done. you could reinstate him.

Dear Sir,

With all respect for your office, for the difficulties you face from heading up our nation, and for your previously stated values I'd like to remind you that Christians and Jews of high moral values elected you to your position.

And they will be the ones which will re-elect you.

Douglas Wead

You have done yourself a disservice by terminating Douglas Wead. We feel we have lost a voice in the White House.

As a decent, moral person I am dismayed at the "coming out of the closet" of the homosexuals and lesbians. The liberal press has championed their cause until we hardly hear or see otherwise. A perverted lifestyle has been so glorified and lifted up so that our children are being brainwashed that these people "cannot help" their orientation or preference. You and I know that a nation which embraces such values is on a self-destructing course.

These lies tear at the very fabric of America. No longer will we have families consisting of father-mother-child. Please do all you can to keep our Judeo-Christian values alive.

Anti-discrimination protection for those with AIDS

Then the protection of anti-discrimination laws for those with AIDS. I am outraged. These people are sick, not discriminated against. They should be at home, not out in society spreading their fatal disease. It's going to be too bad to look back and say we should have taken more precautions against this terrible disease. History will point to your leadership, Mr. Bush.

Since there is no absolute certainty about every way this disease is spread we must see that doctors, dentists, nurses, teachers, etc. do not have this disease when they are practicing their profession.

I am a third grade teacher. I am appalled to think that parents want their dying youngsters to have an "education" at the risk of their child's saliva, blood, perspiration, etc. contaminating the other children. Parents who are really concerned are then branded as discriminating.

For all the unjust discrimination that blacks and handicapped people have endured I am surprised that they don't complain about the AIDS people getting special treatment from employers, etc.

What can be done about AIDS

AIDS has been mainly spread by disgustingly dirty sexual practices. And it is spread by the illegal and terribly self-centered pleasure seekers who use needles and drugs. To tout condoms as a preventative is to give not even half the truth.

People who are identified as having AIDS in the early stages should be working in hospices for the AIDS sufferers. It would give them an outlet for their talents and energies. They'd be able to show compassion and it would ease their fears knowing that they'd also receive help from others when the disease takes its toll on them.

The costs should be on a voluntary contribution basis. Let us then see who in society will donate money.

My prayer to God

As a Christian I pray for the unfortunates who have these diseases and lifestyles. God loves them, but hates the sin. If they will not repent of their sins they will be eternally separated from God and the saved in Heaven.

I pray that a treatment and a cure will be found for AIDS -- and for every other disease that make people suffer. I pray that the Christians and Jews will take a personal stand for righteousness. I pray that any who profit from pornography will be convicted in their hearts and repent of their sin against women and children.

I also pray for you that you will be a God-fearing, courageous man of principle who will lead our nation to righteousness. I pray for your health and well-being, for Barbara and your family. I pray that you will have wisdom beyond your means. I pray that you will stand firm among the nations of the world and not be taken in by liars and evil men.

I am disturbed over the firing of Doug Wead. As a christian yourself, I expect you to be too. And who might be the next evangelical targeted for disposal?

Evangelicals need a strong voice in government. Our nation desperately needs to return to moral values. I am praying for this decision to be reversed.

I would also like to voice my opinion on funding of the National Endowment for the Arts. The Mapplethorpe Exhibit has pretty much given the fund a bad name and if ever there was a good place to cut government spending, this would be it. There is more at stake here than keeping the 'Arts' alive. The overall budget of our country carries more weight than the various organizations supported by this fund. We need a balanced budget. Lets get started.

Dear Mr. President:

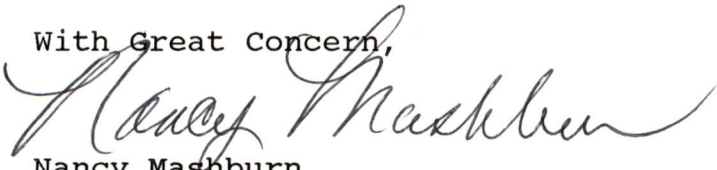

I am very disturbed to hear of the firing of Doug Wead apparently over his refusal to defer to the homosexual community. You were elected by people who shared your stated values and who expected that you would uphold those values. I strongly urge you to reconsider this decision which is a disturbance to millions of evangelical Christians.

This decision, along with your recommendation that the National Endowment for the Arts be allowed to fund artists without having any restraints imposed on them is a great disappointment.

This country was founded on Christian values and it is disturbing, to say the least, to have our President openly courting homosexuals by inviting them to the White House and turning his back on the blasphemy that certain artists have committed against Jesus Christ or their mockery of moral values with pornographic "art." We pray that your stance on abortion will not waver.

We are seeing a President who was not going to raise taxes ("read my lips") now calling for such a raise rather than standing firm on budget cuts in areas that fund pet projects. I realize the cry that goes up when Welfare project cuts are mentioned but we do volunteer work in the Tulsa Housing Projects and have seen firsthand the devastation caused by Welfare programs that eliminate self esteem. We lend money to countries that openly mock us or don't even need the money (i.e. Luxembourg for military expenses - more than Israel?). I certainly hope that money for Russia is not in your plans.

Dear President Bush:

I am an evangelical Christian who voted for Ronald Reagan in 1980 and 1984 and for you in 1988. I did so because of your conservative position on family values, right to life, government spending, defense and taxes. There are several things which have taken place recently, which have given me great concern.

I want to protest the firing of Mr. Douglas Reed, which, I understand, was done largely because Mr. Reed has not gone along with inviting homosexual groups to the White House. He has been a long-standing and loyal friend of yours for a long time, and he stands for the very things for which I and many other conservative, evangelical Christians voted for you.

Furthermore, I want to object strenuously to official invitations to organized homosexual groups to the White House. Individual homosexuals and lesbians are American citizens, and they have their individual rights. But as organized groups seeking special privileges and government funding, they are moral perverts and merit no special consideration of any kind. I would respectfully remind you that homosexuals and lesbians are a numerical minority, but a very vociferous and vocal minority. They become even more vocal because the liberal news media are pro-homosexual, and they propagandize for them tremendously. But they will never vote for you, no matter how much you cultivate good relations with them. I am one of some 50,000,000 evangelical Christians who deplore the life-style and the destructive effects of that perverted life-style; and we are watching what your administration does with such issues.

At the same time, I would like to voice my objections to government funding going to the National Endowment for the Arts, especially in view of this organization's using my tax monies to subsidize artists and so-called "works of art" which glorify pornography, child abuse, homo-erotic acts, and live programs of vile sexual activity. Individual artists have the freedom to produce all the garbage they want, but I do not want my tax money paying for it. Also, funding such organizations is not a legitimate function of government, especially in these days of humongous budget deficits. Let those who want to back the arts and view fine (or otherwise) works of art, pay for this out of their own pocket. I am certainly willing to pay for any art work I want to see or hear.

Thank you for your kind attention.

Yours truly,
Rev. George G. Parker, Th.D.

I strongly oppose the firing of Doug Wead from the liaison position he held.

A. Card
Dear Mr. President, our country needs more men like Doug Wead near you to help you feel the true pulse of the Christian community which has 50 million people who helped put you into office because we believed in you. It seems strange to listen to the highly vocal complaints of a 1 or 2 million minority of homosexuals rather than the 50 million of the Christians who are treated as 2nd class citizens.

Our Congress seems to be departing far away from the Judeo-Christian principles upon which this great country of ours was founded. I, along with many others, am deeply hurt, saddened by their obvious hostility toward our families & God-given principles, & I am outraged at the ridiculous projects Congress wastes our hard earned tax dollars on.

Their callous disregard of the Budget deficit as they gave themselves that shameful raise. Frankly, I'm tired of their 2-standard system. They should go by the same laws the ordinary citizen does. We need a line-by-line veto for the President so the public can be protected from its own Congress.

Shameful!

Congressmen should have a limit of two terms in office & they should do a better job!

I realize, Mr. President, you can't do this alone but I, along with thousands of others

Bush link to right is fired

By Frank J. Murray
and George Archibald
THE WASHINGTON TIMES

President Bush's key link to the religious right and other conservative constituencies was fired from his White House job after he declined on several occasions to support White House overtures to homosexual groups.

R. Douglas Wead, special assistant to the president for public liaison, lost his job after the latest of several conflicts with Hobbie Greene Kilberg, a deputy assistant to the president for public liaison.

Communications Director David Demarest said Mr. Wead would leave his $55,000 job by "what he called mutual agreement."

"It's preposterous to think Doug's departure has anything to do with news accounts about gay rights activities at a White House event," Mr. Demarest said, but he declined to elaborate. He said he assumed the job would be filled.

Mr. Wead's dismissal was praised by the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force. "If this is true, we commend President Bush for standing by his principles of inclusion," said task force spokesman Robert Bray.

Mr. Wead's voice often was raised on moral issues in meetings of mid-level White House staff, said several officials.

After the Supreme Court's abortion decision last year in the Webster case, diluting the effect of Roe vs. Wade, Miss Kilberg argued internally that Mr. Bush should not comment on the decision. But White House Chief of Staff John Sununu is said to have spoken forcefully in behalf of Mr. Wead's arguments to the contrary, and he subsequently delivered the Bush administration response to the decision.

It was Mr. Sununu's deputy, Andrew Card, who informed Mr. Wead that he had been fired.

Mr. Wead conceded yesterday that he was leaving unwillingly, but he would not discuss his firing directly.

"I've given my whole life to George Bush and I don't want to [talk about it]," he said, his voice trailing off. "I have good relationships with everybody here, and I want to keep that."

Asked if he would stay at home for a time with his wife, Myrlam, and their 10 day-old son, Joshua, Mr. Wead said, "I've got no choice."

The president made no comment on Mr. Wead's departure, which was not announced by the White House. On Dec. 11, Mr. Bush praised him at a ceremony to raise public awareness on drunken and drugged driving.

Several administration sources who requested anonymity said the last straw in a series of disagreements between Mr. Wead and Miss Kilberg was a letter from Mr. Wead to groups that complained about the White House's inviting representatives of homosexual groups to a July 26 signing of the bill extending civil rights protection to the disabled, including people with AIDS.

The letter, written on White House stationery, reportedly blamed the issuance of the invitations on clerical error. A senior official said yesterday it was not an error.

Mr. Wead, a liaison official to religious, anti-abortion, law enforcement, conservative movement and drug groups, also publicly criticized unnamed White House officials in April for inviting homosexual leaders to the president's signing of a so-called "hate crimes" bill.

Representatives of male homosexual and lesbian organizations also visited before Mr. Bush's major speech on AIDS policy.

Mr. Wead was quoted May 18 by Baptist Press, a news service of the Southern Baptist Convention, as saying: "The concern was not just these homosexual leaders being invited to the White House, but some of these are anti-religious bigots." The decision "very poorly served the president."

At the time, Mr. Wead, who like Miss Kilberg reports directly to Mr. Demarest, was negotiating a White House request for Mr. Bush to address the Southern Baptist Convention June 12-14 in New Orleans.

Mr. Bush did not address the convention because of the hostile reaction of Baptist leaders to his hosting homosexual leaders.

Yesterday, Richard Land, executive director of the SBC's Christian Life Commission, told Mr. Bush in a letter that the "active courting of the homosexual lobby by your administration goes far beyond any argument of being 'president of all the people' ... [and] grievously damaged your administration's standing among many of my constituents."

Robert R. Dugan Jr., director of the 15-million-member National Association of Evangelicals, also criticized the White House invitation. "Many evangelicals believe you are sacrificing your claim to be a 'traditional values president,'" Mr. Land told Mr. Bush in a letter yesterday.

Mr. Wead's firing stirred renewed criticism from conservative organizations for whom Mr. Wead opened doors in the Bush White House.

"Doug has served the president well and was one of the people at the White House who understands the coalition that elected President Bush," said Gary Bauer of the Family Research Council, who was domestic policy adviser to President Reagan.

"The world is upside down. If anybody should be leaving the White House staff, it should be the individuals who have embarrassed the president by inviting homosexual rights activists who have opposed Bush in 1988 and will oppose him again in 1992," Mr. Bauer said.

Robert Grant, head of the American Coalition for Traditional Values, which claims to have registered 2 million mostly pro-Bush Christian voters for the 1988 presidential election, said: "Someone in the White House has decided to alienate that conservative traditional values base [estimated at 50 million] in the hope of cultivating the homosexual base that represents less than 1 million. It's crazy."

Mr. Demarest said Mr. Wead had previously talked about taking a job elsewhere in government, a decision the White House tried to encourage.

"As the months went by, we mutually decided that now was probably as good a time as any for Doug to move back into the private sector and look toward the campaign sometime down the road," Mr. Demarest said last night.

Mr. Wead headed a White House prayer group that included about 40 presidential aides. That group recently hosted a congressional prayer group, the president and Cabinet members in the White House.

One White House staff member spoke with regret of Mr. Wead's imminent departure, saying, "He is a little controversial, but I think he's useful."

Mr. Wead said the terms of his departure will allow him to work in the 1992 presidential campaign. "I've had such a fantastic journey in here with George Bush the last few years," he said.

Mr. Wead, 44, is a native of Springfield, Mo. He graduated from Central Bible College in Springfield and received honorary doctorates from Oral Roberts University and Southwest Missouri Bible College. He has written 26 books on religious, business and motivational topics. He also operates an Amway distributorship.

Squeeze players in the White House

When representatives of homosexual groups were invited by staff members to the signing of the Hate Crimes Bill at the White House in April.

After assuring the letter-writers that Mr. Bush "is a man who lives as well as speaks about family values," Mr. Wead inserted his own opinion about the wisdom of asking homosexuals to the signing ceremony. "Quite frankly, the President's staff did not serve him well by inviting some of the groups which attended the Hate Crimes Bill signing ceremony."

"In no way does the President endorse the lifestyle of all groups which attend such events. I can assure you that he is especially offended by the attacks against Cardinal O'Connor and other manifestations of religious intolerance that some of the homosexual groups have espoused."

"Thank you for caring enough to write about this issue. Hopefully, it will not happen again."

According to sources who know about the tension in the liaison office, Mr. Wead has been a target of the liberals "from day one." They are said to resent his close relationship with the evangelical Christian community that Mr. Wead helped to organize behind Mr. Bush for the 1988 campaign.

But it did happen again. During the outdoor ceremony on the White House lawn at which the Americans With Disabilities Act was signed on July 26, at least five representatives of homosexual organizations attended.

The Washington Blade, a homosexual newspaper, was given White House press credentials and the Blade sent a photographer to cover the event. A spokesman for the Blade says that "gays were instrumental" in the passage of the act, which also protects people with AIDS under the anti-discrimination provisions of the measure.

In an earlier event Playboy magazine publisher Christie Hefner was among a group of magazine executives who met with the president on July 17. According to a White House source, her invitation to the meeting was approved by Chief of Staff John Sununu and David Demarest, assistant to the president for communications.

Kristen Taylor, the White House director of media relations, tells me she sent an invitation to the Magazine Publishers Association but that the MPA made up the list. She said it "wasn't appropriate" to single out one publication and bar its representative from attending. She confirms that the list was approved by Mr. Demarest. She does not know if

Mr. Sununu saw the list, and his office did not return a call.

Why does all of this matter? Because not all lists are sacrosanct. One frustrated administration official, who asked not to be named, told me that some conservative activists like Howard Phillips and Richard Viguerie in effect are "barred" from the White House, while some liberal critics who oppose most of the president's policies are invited. But not all liberal critics. According to The Washington Post, the American Civil Liberties Union had its invitation to the Americans With Disabilities Act signing ceremony pulled. Mr. Bush frequently lambasted the ACLU during the 1988 campaign.

Given their lifestyles and political philosophy, it is highly unlikely that access to the White House is going to turn practitioners of the Playboy or homosexual lifestyle into supporters of Mr. Bush or the "traditional values" the Republican platform supports.

What, then, can be the reason why a man like Doug Wead has been pressured to leave his job while those whose philosophies more closely represent the Democratic Party platform remain?

As far as ensuring the interests of Mr. Bush are concerned, the wrong person is being told to seek employment elsewhere.

White House colleagues have forced Doug Wead out of his job as a special assistant to President Bush because they are upset about a letter that Mr. Wead, a public liaison officer, wrote criticizing fellow staff members for inviting homosexual activists to an important bill-signing ceremony.

The episode is merely a chapter in a reportedly long battle between conservative Mr. Wead and liberal colleagues on the White House staff.

According to sources who know about the tension in the liaison office, Mr. Wead has been a target of attacks "from day one." They are to resent his close relationship with the evangelical Christian community that Mr. Wead helped to organize behind Mr. Bush for the 1988 campaign. Mr. Wead's 1988 book, "The Bush: Man of Integrity," written to convince conservative evangelicals that Mr. Bush is of them. (It apparently worked in Bush's evangelical base was off his strongest constituencies.) The letter, which also defended the president, went to about a dozen people who had written to complain

President George Bush
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, D.C. 20500

Mr. President:

I tried to get through the White House comment line concerning some issues I felt were important enough to voice my opinion on: the reasons and dismissal of religious liaison Doug Wead and your actions in the Middle East. Taking into account the current situations in the world I can understand why I was not able to get through.

I was appalled when I learned of the firing of Doug Wead. I don't believe that you had a true say in this matter but that there are members inside your staff that are taking out their differences on Doug by overstepping their authority and releasing him. I believe that it is those people that have been giving you bad advice concerning certain bills, the same bills that Doug voiced opposition to.

One of the reasons I voted for you was because of your qualifications and mostly due to your conservative convictions, those conveyed in the book "George Bush: Man Of Integrity!" Over the last few months I have seen you seem to go back on some of those promises to the people. When you signed into law the Hates Crimes Bill and the Americans With Disabilities Act as well as repealing your stand on taxes. I was forced to defend you to those who would be affected by the repercussions of those actions, some of the same people we need to convince to vote for you and the Republican party.

In that book you are quoted as saying under Homosexuals---Minority Status, "No one group should have special privileges granted by government." In signing those two bills gave self-created rights and privileges to members of "minorities." These are some of the same people that were invited to the White House for the signing of those bills. The only thing that could be worst than those two bills would be if you allow yourself to be pressured again into signing the Civil Rights Act Of 1990.

I wish time and space would allow me to go into more details but I have seen the alarm of many preachers, congregations, and individuals concerning them taking a stand on the sins of homosexuality, abortion, premarital sex, AIDS, etc. Even before these new laws there have been religious leaders and Godly men and women who have been going to jail for taking a stand for God and morality, things you have said you believed in and would support. I have had those same people question me about still supporting you after signing those bills.

Again, I believe that you have been getting bad counsel from some members of your staff or did not completely anticipate the long terms effects these new laws could create, or the people who could twist bad laws like that to advance their own liberal agenda.

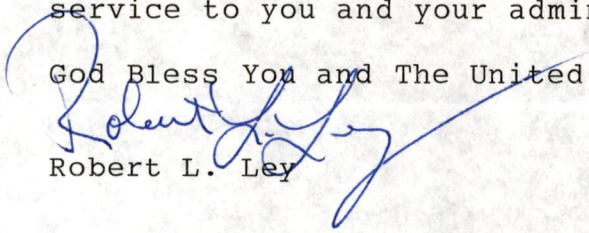

In the process of losing Doug Wead you have lost a friend, a vital member of your council and someone who was able to keep you in touch with your evangelical supporters. I would strongly suggest that you bring him back to his present position or elevate him to another post of vital importance to this nation. I believe that his knowledge and wisdom is essential to you and your continued successful administration!

On the subject of the situation in the Middle East I am in total support of your current and future actions. We have the finest men and women to defend US and our interests anywhere in the world and they look to you and your brilliant military staff for guidance and leadership. You do whatever you have to do secure our interests, protect their lives, and bring about a settlement in that region.

Hold fast to your convictions and don't let your adversaries make you compromise or change!

My prayers and support are with you! Let me know if I can be of service to you and your administration.

God Bless You and The United States!
