President Bush,

Let me start by saying that I think that you have done a pretty good job as President so far. I like and support the tough, but understanding, stance that you take on many issues from drugs to foreign matters.

It has come to our attention in the christian community down here in Jacksonville, Florida that one of our respected men of God, Doug Weed, has been removed from his post in Public/Religious Affairs because of his stance against homosexuality. He was relieved from his post by his superior Bobbi Kilburg who is an advocate for homosexuality.

I as a christian (and a voter) do not believe in homosexuality as an alternate lifestyle any more than I believe that we should promote pre-marital or extra-marital sex. I do believe in sexual relations within the bonds of marriage. I do not speak out of ignorance as I work closely with many homosexuals (I am a ballroom dance instructor). There are many individuals like Ms. Kilburg who promote such activities as homosexuality. They yell we want our rights but are quick to try and suppress any voice that opposes their point of view. If she, Ms. Kilburg, can in her position speak out and support the rights of the minority homosexual population then we, the heterosexual people (the majority), must also have our views stated by a respected, trusted and capable person like Mr. Weed.

Please check into this matter as it is of much importance to the Christian (and heterosexual) people of America. Our prayers are on you, your family and others in positions of authority in the Government.

Thank you for taking some consideration of this letter from one voter, one person but one of many proud citizens that make up America.

Sincerely,

Harold E. Butler, Jr.

Dear Mr. President,

I am outraged at the recent dismissal of Doug Wead. It is my understanding that this was partly due to his objection to recent bill signing ceremonies that included homosexual representatives. Those ceremonies also dissappointed and outraged me. I feel Doug Wead was right-on!

I have admired you as President for upholding Judeo-Christian principles and standing firm on your convictions. However homosexuality is more than the alternate life style that many people are promoting. Homosexuality is wrong! The Bible has many examples of countries suffering (not just individuals) for these actions. Are you willing to pay the price?

I urge you therefore to fill the "Special Assistant to the President for Public Liaison" position with an evangelical of equal status as Doug Wead. I also urge you to seek God and His word for wisdom and counsel as you run this country.

Thank you,

Dear Mr. President;

I was deeply upset after hearing of your firing of Doug Wead, White House staffer, because of a letter he had written. Mr. Wead has been a strong supporter of the values I hold and that you claim to hold. He wrote that you are "a man who lives as well as speaks about family values," and yet this incident does not show that you practice what you preach. I'm afraid that you have lost a strong supporter (Mr. Wead) and given support to groups that have their own interests, not yours or the countries, at heart.

I would encourage you to stick to the values this country was founded upon and not bow to special interest groups that don't.

Dear Mr. President,

As a Republican who voted for you, I am quite shocked at the recent dismissal of Doug Wead. "Angry" would probably be a more accurate description of my feelings.

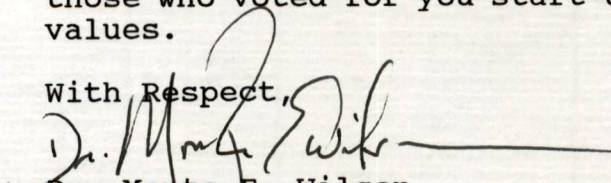

How in the world could you have allowed Kilberg-Demarest to push Mr. Wead out? Doug Wead's letter diverted the heat away from you and onto the staff. Isn't this what a staff is for? Or has it become an elite group which is above criticism?

The Washington Blade is hardly a group of people you can depend on for votes in the next election, yet you have clearly succumbed to their demands. Does this submission announce a new plank in your platform? Have you now decided that you are not pro-family nor supportive of Judeo-Christian ethics?--And even if you have abandoned these values there was nothing in Wead's letter that hurt you more than the way Mssr. Demarest, Kilberg, Sununu have handled his removal.

The fact is that Doug Wead was right. Your staff did not serve you well on the Hate Crimes Act. These liberal groups have fought you every step of the way and will continue to do so. But your staff served you even worse in their handling of Mr. Wead.

Somebody blew it. Somebody needs to be fired, fast; before many of those who voted for you start to think you really have changed your values.

Footprints

One night a man had a dream. He dreamed he was walking along the beach with the Lord. Across the sky flashed scenes from his life. For each scene, he noticed two sets of footprints in the sand: one belonging to him, and the other to the Lord.

When the last scene of his life flashed before him, he looked back at the footprints in the sand. He noticed that many times along the path of his life there was only one set of footprints. He also noticed that it happened at the very lowest and saddest times in his life.

This really bothered him and he questioned the Lord about it. "Lord, you said that once I decided to follow you, you'd walk with me all the way. But I have noticed that during the most troublesome times of my life, there is only one set of footprints. I don't understand why, when I needed you most, you would leave me."

The Lord replied, "My precious, precious child, I love you and I would never leave you. During your times of trial and suffering, when you saw only one set of footprints, it was then that I carried you."

Mr. President, ⁴⁹ ~~Wead~~

It has recently come to my attention that on August 2, 1990 R. Douglas Wead was removed from his position as special assistant for public liaison for performing his duties, in particular bringing the conservative and moral position against homosexuality before you. I am afraid that any replacement of Mr. Wead will either not do his job or will likewise meet with resistance from the Homosexual lobby. It does not serve this country's best interest to have you, our dear President, alienated from me and countless other Americans just to appease a small, disproportionately loud group.

Dear Mr. President:

We are appalled to learn of the firing of Doug Wead. It is unfortunate for the institution of the traditional American family that homosexual and lesbian leaders were invited to the White House when you signed the hate crimes bill.

The fact that these individuals who held such disdain for family values were invited to the signing of this bill is a slap in the ~~face~~ face to the traditional family which our country was built upon. We need protection for the family, not the tearing down and redefinition of the family, which is their agenda.

Our feeling is that the people responsible for inviting the anti-family homosexual and lesbian leaders to the White House are the ones who should be fired.

Dear Mr. President,

I am writing to protest the departure of Doug Wead from the White House. I feel that it is a tragic mistake for Mr. Wead to no longer be serving as the liaison to the President for evangelicals. I was one of the clergymen present at one of the early meetings with evangelical leaders during your campaign in the presidential primaries. After hearing you at those meetings, Mr. President, I decided to support you and vote for you. My decision to support you and vote for you was strongly influenced by the work of Doug Wead. I don't feel that you understand the implications of Mr. Wead's departure from the White House. I urge you to correct this action.

Dear President Bush:

I am dismayed at the ousting of Doug Wead from your staff. As a long time Republican, a conservative, and a person who voted for you in the last election I can not believe what I see coming out of the Administration these days.

First talk of tax increases being open for discussion (I read your lips.), and now cowering to the gay community is about all the I can stand. I hardly believed my eyes when I saw that you invited gay and lesbian citizens to the White House for the signing of the Aid to the Handicapped law. I never have believed the great lie that says that homosexuality is a handicap. It is a decision to be a homosexual not a handicap. It is a decision to expose yourself to the HIV virus, not a handicap if you are infected with it.

Now you have bent to the gay lobby by allowing Doug Wead to be removed from your staff. I am outraged that you would remove a staff member for speaking out for the conservative agenda. I am starting to question your beliefs.

I voted for you twice for Vice President and once for President. I think the string may be broken. At least the Democrats tell me upfront that they are in favor of higher taxes and homosexuality.

I'm writing you concerning the firing of Mr. Loug Weed.

As to my understanding that Mr. Weed was against the inviting of Homosexual party's to the signing of the Hate Crime Bill. And because of the stand that he took, on this and other issues may have contributed to his firing.

If so Mr. President, I feel if that was the reason that we the Christian people of this nation were let down.

Dear Mr. President,

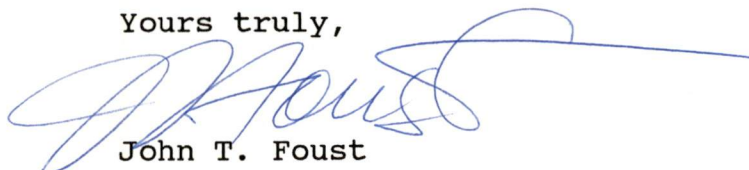

I am writing to express my deepest concern about the removal of Reverend Doug Wead from the White House staff. I gleaned this information from the Washington Post, but know of the great number of lives Doug has touched in a positive manner. I believe you would agree there are few members of your staff who can make such a claim, and that his loss would be a grave disservice.

Heroes are a scarce breed these days, but Doug, as well as yourself, is certainly among them. He is a moral man and a family man, and both a believer and practitioner of an ethical and spiritual value system sorely lacking in many segments of our country. Such men are hard to find, and Doug's departure from your staff would strike a blow at those themes as they relate to your leadership of the American People.

I sincerely hope you will reconsider this action, and not only restore Doug to your staff, but even consider elevating him to a position of increased influence. Doug's leadership is imperative for those programs and initiatives that can steer this great country back to the values of honest work, moral behavior, family, and service to others without oppressive government interference. To retain Doug will send an unmistakable message to the American People that your administration is made up of good folks; to remove him will place that assumption in great doubt.

As one who voted for you in 1988 because of the values you represent, and who has been seriously considering joining the Republican Party as a way to make a definitive stand with my views, I trust you will do the right thing and retain Reverend Wead. If I may be of service in any way to facilitate this decision, please do not hesitate to contact me. God Bless You and the American People, and thank you.

Yours truly,

I am a Christian & I feel betrayed by the president I voted & helped to elect - Myself & Many other Christians who helped to put you where you are, why? Broken promises - refusal to appoint Very well qualified & capable Christian leadership. And now the firing of a Very Capable Man - bowing down to immoral people & organizations.

This does not enhance my desire for seconds. Would you consider "standing tall" for a strong America. I agree with your char stand by why? if we decoy from within!

Dear Governor Sununu,

I am outraged at the recent firing of Mr. Wead. The recent stands (or should I say 'lack' of stands) on moral issues has been frightening. Bush has taken the spineless course of following Ms. Kilberg. Homosexuality can never be looked at as an alternate lifestyle. It is at the heart of our decaying society. We must have leaders that will not bend to "Hollywood's" message. Is there anyone left in Washington that has backbone?

I protest the firing, and request a reconsideration of Mr. Wead, and the subsequent firing of Ms. Kelberg.

Please help us return to values that preserve and not tear down. In 1992 we will support only this kind of man.

Sincerely,

Bill Johnson

RE: THE FIRING OF MR. DOUG WEAD

DEAR GOVERNOR SUNUNU,

I AND MY FAMILY ARE DISCOURAGED BY THE RECENT EVENTS THAT HAVE TAKEN PLACE IN THE WHITE HOUSE. WE THOUGHT THAT MR. GEORGE BUSH WOULD SET A STANDARD OF MORALITY THAT WOULD BE AN EXAMPLE TO THE REST OF THE PEOPLE IN THESE UNITED STATES.....AND TO THE REST OF THE WORLD.

EVEN THOUGH WE BELIEVE THAT MR. BUSH WAS THE "BEST" CANDIDATE TO BE ELECTED, THE EVENTS THAT LED UP TO THE FIRING OF MR. DOUG WEAD IS APPALLING! WHAT IS NEXT? IS MR. BUSH AND THE WHITE HOUSE SO WILLING TO SLAP THE PUNY CHRISTIAN AROUND THAT HE IS WILLING TO PUT HIS NEXT ELECTION HOPES ON THE SUPPORT OF THE SODOMITES RATHER THAN THE PEOPLE IN AMERICA WHO ARE CALLED CHRISTIAN.

BY ADDRESSING THIS COMPLAINT TO YOU, I AM HOPING THAT ENOUGH CONCERNED AMERICANS WILL HAVE CONTACTED YOU AND OTHERS IN THE WHITE HOUSE THAT MR. BUSH WILL REDIRECT HIS POSITION ON MORALITY.

AS CHRISTIANS WE ARE TO LOVE OUR NEIGHBOR....YET AS HUMANS WE HAVE THIS WEAKNESS (IF YOU WANT TO CALL IT THAT) OF WANTING TO SEE OUR COUNTRY AND OUR PEOPLE BE GIVEN "MORAL LEADERSHIP" IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TEACHINGS OF OUR LORD AND SAVIOR - JESUS CHRIST.

IF YOU DO NOT SPEAK OUT AGAINST THIS "INDECENT ACT" OF INVITING SEXUAL DEVIATES TO THE WHITE HOUSE FOR SIGNING OF BILLS, THEN WE HAVE NO OTHER CHOICE BUT TO LOOK TO SOMEONE, SOMEWHERE WHO WILL.

IF THE FUTURE OF THIS ADMINISTRATION IS TO BE LED BY PERSONS WHO HAVE THE SAME MORAL CONVICTIONS AS MISS BOBBIE GREENE KILBERG RATHER THAN MR. DOUG WEAD, THEN YOU WILL SEE A BACKLASH FROM THE REPUBLICANS WHO HAVE SUPPORTED GEORGE BUSH IN THE PAST.....AND IT WILL BECOME A VOTING ISSUE, BECAUSE I DO NOT BELIEVE THAT I AM ALONE IN THIS THINKING.

SHOULD YOU DECIDE TO STAND UP FOR WHAT IS RIGHT....YOU WILL NOT HAVE THE BLESSINGS FROM THE HOMOSEXUALS OR OTHER MORAL DEVIATES, BUT YOU WILL GAIN THE RESPECT THAT SHOULD BE AFFORDED YOU AND THIS BUSH ADMINISTRATION.

SINCERELY,

BEN HARWELL

Dear Governor:

This is no time to fire a man of God. Call him back and fire the lady who sneaked the Gay Lesbian activist leaders into the President's Office for apparent backing of the President.

Saddam's foray is just a dress rehearsal for the coming assault of Syria, Ethiopia, Lybia Turkey and Russia on Israel and Saudi Arabia. Despite the economic crises in the USSR, Gorbachav is pressing full blast ahead toward world domination. With already 63 super-silent double hulled titanium subs each with 200 warheads whose only function is a surprise first strike, he is launching nine more THIS YEAR ; and within the last year has gone from 400 to 1,000 Mobile Missiles.

The U.S. has only 34 single hulled silent subs; and the Soviets are suspected of having a detection system they developed after we got silent subs. We can NOT detect the Soviet silent double hulled subs.

Our needs are:

1. Prayers of repentance for ~~and for~~ killing millions of helpless babies ~~and~~ denial of freedom of religious expression among our nation's school children while substituting Humanistic, New Age and other "There is no right and no wrong moral standard" religions in texts and instructions.
2. Crash development of means to detect silent subs.
3. Increased development and early deployment of Silent Pebbles and other SDI anti-missile systems.

Sincerely,

W. W. Allison

SECULAR SCIENTISTS SPEAK ON EVOLUTION

"The chance that higher life forms might have emerged [through evolutionary processes] is comparable with the chance that a tornado sweeping through a junk-yard might assemble a Boeing 747 from the materials therein."

— "Hoyle on Evolution," 294 Nature 105 (12 Nov. 1981) (Sir Fred Hoyle is professor of astronomy and astrophysics at University College, Cardiff, Wales, Great Britain and a major proponent of the "steady state" theory of the origin of the universe.)

"Evolutionism is a fairytale for grown-ups. This theory has helped nothing in the progress of science. It is useless."

— Louis Bounoure, Le Monde et la Vie (Oct. 1963). (Bounoure is director of the Zoological Museum and director of research at the National Center of Scientific Research in France, and past president of the Biological Society of Strasbourg.)

Evolution involves a process with "the probability that a group of monkeys hitting keys at random could . . . produce Shakespeare's works 15 quadrillion times in succession without error."

—Stanley Angrist, "Perpetual Motion Machines," 218 Scientific American 1 (Jan. 1968), 115-122. ("A host of ingenious proposals have been doomed by the laws of thermodynamics." This article does not mention evolution but it does discuss other failed attempts in the history of science to devise mechanisms that achieve "local decreases of entropy" as evolution claims to do.)

"I have come to the conclusion that Darwinism is not a testable scientific theory, but a metaphysical research programme — a possible framework for testable scientific theories. . . . Darwinism is not a scientific theory but metaphysical."

— Karl Popper, Unended Quest: An Intellectual Autobiography (La Salle, Illinois: Open Court Publishing Company, 1982), 168-172. (Popper is a leading philosopher of science.)

" . . . for over twenty years I had thought I was working on evolution . . . [but] there was not one thing I knew about it . . . so for the last few weeks I've tried putting a simple question to various people and groups of people."

"Question: Can you tell me anything you know about evolution, any one thing that is true? I tried that question on the geology staff at the Field Museum of Natural History and the only answer I got was silence. I tried it on the members of the Evolutionary Morphology Seminar in the University of Chicago, a very prestigious body of evolutionists, and all I got there was silence for a long time and eventually one person said, 'Yes, I do know one thing — it ought not to be taught in high school.'

" . . . during the past few years . . . you have experienced a shift from evolution as knowledge to evolution as faith"

" . . . evolution not only conveys no knowledge but seems somehow to convey anti-knowledge"

— Colin Patterson, typescript of remarks at the American Museum of Natural History, New York City (5 Nov. 1981), 1, 4. (Patterson is author of the book Evolution, an authority on cladistics, and senior paleontologist at the British Museum of Natural History in London, whose journal he edits. In 1980 that Museum opened an exhibit implying that Darwinism is not a testable science.)

" . . . contrary to the popular notion that only creationism relies on the supernatural, evolutionism must as well, since the probabilities of the random formation of life (spontaneous generation) are so tiny as to require a 'miracle' for spontaneous generation to have occurred, making belief in spontaneous generation 'tantamount to a theological argument.' "

— Chandra Wickramasinghe, testimony in the Arkansas Balanced Treatment case, Dec. 1981 - cited in Bill Keith, Scopes II: The Great Debate (Shreveport, La.: Huntington House, 1982), 137. (Wickramasinghe is a mathematician and research partner to British astronomer and astrophysicist Sir Fred Hoyle.

86% of Americans want the science of creation taught in public schools. But, a tiny percentage of highly financed activists have succeeded in censoring it out of school texts and teaching despite their diverse and stubborn faith in the unproven hypothetical concepts of evolution. They resist even discussing the pros and cons of their various conflicting hypotheses and ridicule all who believe in creation despite overwhelming scientific evidence that there are no transitional forms in the fossils. Every major class, order and family is in the earliest ones.

Making Taxpayers Mad

If there's anything that makes a taxpayer angry it is to learn that some multimillionaire with a conspicuously lavish life-style has been getting by without paying his taxes. Now, taxpayers have cause to get even hotter under the collar at word that a good many foreign-owned companies doing business in the United States have been paying little or no U.S. income taxes. In fact, a Congressional investigation of 36 such companies found that more than half of them evaded most or all of their taxes over a ten-year period through 1987.

According to investigators for the Oversight Committee of the House Ways and Means Committee, the companies in question cheated on taxes by inflating the prices they paid for goods, services and technology shipped from their parent companies back home. By thus inflating the cost of doing business here - a violation of U.S. tax law - some of the foreign-owned subsidiaries were able to reduce their taxable income to almost nothing.

"the U.S. government is being short-changed billions of dollars annually." (One Congressional source put the figure at $13 billion a year.) And it seems that a number of American multinational companies also are guilty of shifting income out of the U.S. through similar excessive transfer prices. Under IRS regulations, none of the companies were identified publicly. But the subcommittee did reveal that the 36 foreign-owned firms are in the electronics, automobile and motorcycle industries, areas where Japanese and other foreign nationals hold large shares of the U.S. market. Twenty-five of the companies had their home bases in the so-called Pacific Rim and 11 in Western Europe.

Now that President Bush has been pressured into forsaking his "no new taxes" pledge and uttered the once forbidden words, "tax revenue increases," Congress' big spenders are eagerly drawing up new "wish lists" in anticipation of still more taxpayer dollars to toss around. Conservatives, for their part, are mounting a rear guard battle to hold off higher taxes. They're calling, instead, for long overdue reductions in wasteful government spending. Statistics are reintroduced showing that it is tax cuts that stimulate the economy, produce prosperity and end up increasing government revenues.

Only last November, the General Accounting Office, Congress' watchdog, reported that it had found more than $150 billion in widespread waste, fraud and financial mismanagement in federal programs during the fiscal year. And in February, the Congressional Budget Office itself recommended reforms that would save some $60 billion in the first year alone. But the recommendations were ignored. Instead, the House and Senate last May whipped through a so-called "Dire Emergency Supplemental Appropriations" bill increasing the trillion dollar-plus federal spending budget by an additional $4.3 billion.

The bill was 600 percent higher than what the President had requested and was filled with familiar "pork barrel" projects. "Pork" is the name given to the goodies passed out by members of Congress for their home constituencies. Included were such items as a $750,000 ferryboat for American Samoa, $1.2 million for a Newark, New Jersey, performing arts center, and 37 projects that Housing and Urban Development Secretary Jack Kemp has been trying desperately to eliminate as unneeded.

In 1984, the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control, otherwise known as the Grace Commission, recommended spending cuts and efficiency measures totalling $424 billion over three years. But the very next year, Congress boosted federal spending by nearly $100 billion. Lately, a feisty Washington-based nonpartisan educational organization called Citizens Against Government Waste has been urging taxpayers to join in nationwide "waste revolts." Researchers for the anti-waste group have cited numerous examples of gross "pork-barrel spending." Included is a $107,000 grant for a study of the "copulatory performance and practice" of the Japanese quail; $84,000 to study why people fall in love; $500,000 to build a ten-story replica of the Great Pyramid of Cheops in Bedford, Indiana; $46,000 to study how long it takes to cook breakfast eggs, and $221,000 to send 21 members of Congress and their "officials" to the Paris Air Show. Oh yes, there's also a $2,500 grant to "study the causes of rudeness, lying and cheating on tennis courts."

As a supporter who voted for you in the presidential race I want you to know I am extremely disappointed in the recent firing of Doug Wead from your staff. His words, that your staff did not serve you well, were protective in nature. He took the pressure off of our chief executive by saying the staff used poor judgment in inviting homosexual and lesbian advocates to the White House. For all his diplomacy, he got fired. He served you better than Bobbie Greene Killberg and David Demarist who are staying on.

It will take strong action to build back the confidence of the religious right who were a strong supporter in your last election.

Hi:

Enclosed you will find a letter I have written to the president. I felt that you as a public leader would be interested in the kind of letters that are being written to the president about the firing of Mr. Doug Wead.

I hope you will support me in my efforts to get Mr. Wead back in the White House.

WE all need a man of his high caliber working for us.

Thank you
Mr. Danny Creech

Dear Mr. President:

The word "OUTRAGED" is the best word to describe the way I feel about the firing of Mr. Doug Wead. As you know he is a great man.

I am a Conservative Christen Republican and I voted for you because I know you stand for what I stand for. I and ALL the American public need people like you and Mr. Wead in the White House representing us. This is why I was so in shock when I found out that a small minority like the Homosexuals could have an effect on you.

I have NEVER written ANY letters to anybody about political matters. I may be only one man, but if a few Gays can sway your opinion about Mr. Doug Wead, then I know I have a right to stand for what I believe is RIGHT.

With all that is in me, I ask that you reconsider your decision and bring Mr. Wead back on board. People like myself (the majority) need Doug up there with you.

I know you will make the right decision.

With respect

The Honorable George Bush
President of the United States
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing with a twofold purpose; first to tell you that my husband and I are firmly in agreement with your direction in the Middle East. This is a very important area and we need to be vigilant and diligent in our defense. We are praying for you and for wisdom for you and for your staff.

Secondly, and as important, we are writing to protest the dismissal of Doug Wead from your staff. Mr. Wead has been a very diligent worker both in your interest and the interest of Evangelical Christians and in our country. We fear that this is what has contributed to his dismissal. Mr. President, please do not forget that we Christians played a very large part in your election and we rely on you to keep your campaign promises. It is important, at this time, to keep your sights, not primarily on the world or even on the issues, but on the direction of God.

We Christians are losing our rights rapidly in this country, and we are seemingly in danger of being disenfranchised, so to speak. As fundamental, Bible-believing Christians, we are not against others rights. We are for a country that has high morals and concern for one-another. It seems that other groups do not hold to that belief. We have put our complete faith, as a country, it seems, in the Constitution and the Bill of Rights and are attempting to see just how loosely we can interpret them. We seem to be more concerned now with what is best for small groups, rather than for the good of our country. Morality is going down the drain and in its place we are reaping the harvest of immorality. We have quit putting murderers to death and are harvesting a larger crop of murder. Scripture tells us "Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, the heart of the sons of men is fully set to do evil." (Eccl.8:11) We, however, choose to believe those who tell us that execution is not a deterrent.

All people have rights....equal rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. All we need to do is enforce the old and existing laws that make this possible, not to make new laws to give new rights. Apparently the rights of some supersede the rights of others in our country...something we do not understand. Scripture tells us that "For God's wrath and indignation are revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who in their wickedness repress and hinder the truth and make it inoperative." In our country, we have chosen to please men before God, and Mr. President, our country has lost its blessing. We need to seek again, the blessings of God, regardless what our ungodly politicians and people say. As you well know, recent polls have indicated that the largest majority of people in our country are godly, moral people who desire a positive change in our nation. Mr. President, we hope you will choose to reinstate Mr. Wead to your staff.

Sincerely,

DOUBLETREE

Dear President Bush,

WED List of all, we would like to thank you for your pro-family stance. You ran for President on a traditional value pledge with the backing of the Christian church. We believe the church-attending community helped get you elected.

We therefore strongly protest the departure of Doug Wead from the white house amid pressure from the gay rights advocates. Mr. Wead was one of a few white house personnel who openly supported the pro-family value system that helped make America a great nation.

Sincerely,

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hicks
