Montgomery County Republican Central Committee

October 27, 1989

Headquarters: 770-2211
Chairman: 770-2213

The Honorable John Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor Sununu,

As Chairman of the Republican Party for Montgomery County, Maryland, let me extend an invitation to you to be our guest of honor for our Finance Council fundraiser. We are hoping to accommodate your schedule as much as possible and, therefore extend this invitation for a dinner function between November 27th and December 9th - the choice is yours. It will be held in Montgomery County at a site approximately 30 - 45 minutes from your office.

The Montgomery County Finance Council is a group established by the County Central Committee to raise a war chest to finance our candidates for 1990.

Your schedule is packed, I'm sure, however, it is our belief that your presence on behalf of our efforts for our candidates would be invaluable.

I am enclosing a Fact Sheet on Montgomery County and a collage of recent headlines indicating our strong points.

It has been nearly twenty years since a Republican has been elected to our County Council. In the past three years registration has gone from 2.1 - 1 to nearly 1.5 - 1, all signs point to Republican victories in 1990. Your presence at this event will be one of the sparks needed to lead the Party to victory.

During my participation at the Teachers Inaugural experience, I had the opportunity to be present when you addressed the teachers from around the nation. Your inspirational style of speaking is just what the Montgomery County Republican Party needs to kick-off our campaign year.

Sincerely,

Richard C. LaSota

The Honorable John Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

I would like to take this opportunity to highly recommend Mr. John Harmer for an appointment to the Board of the Legal Services Corporation (LSC).

As I am sure you are aware, John is a loyal and active Republican having previously served in the California State Senate and as Lt. Governor of California. For many years now, John has had a distinguished career as an International lawyer. With his involvement in the legal community and his other outstanding accomplishments, he is well prepared for a position with LSC.

I would very much appreciate it if you would give John's qualifications every possible consideration and that you would be able to support his nomination. I also feel strongly that it is important that this appointment to the LSC be made before the end of

Beverly LaHaye
President

October 20, 1989

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

The members of Concerned Women for America (CWA) are deeply troubled by the direction of the electoral process in Nicaragua. Although we are encouraged by the possibility of democratic reform in that nation, we see mounting evidence of Sandinista control of voter registration. CWA, as you may know, has been providing humanitarian aid as well as educating Nicaraguan refugees in Costa Rica for several years. We have access to current information on a regular basis related to us by refugees who have recently arrived from Nicaragua.

Besides the fact that registering to vote is complicated for many Nicaraguans because they can neither read nor write, many fear retaliation if they do register. Representative David Dreier upon return from Nicaragua reported seeing direct intimidation of voters. Another member of congress witnessed a uniformed officer harassing a young woman who had come to register. Accounts from Costa Rica indicate that the Gaspar Garcia Liviana Battalion of the Sandinista army is intimidating civilians in the Chontales region, telling them that if they support UNO (the coalition opposition party led by candidate Violeta Chamorro), they will be "annihilated" or thrown out of the country.

A human rights organization recently revealed that the Supreme Electoral Council, dominated by the Sandinista party, is sending teams accompanied by Tomas Borge's special police force into rural areas. After screening the population to determine voter preference, Sandinista supporters are permitted to register locally. UNO supporters are sent to a registration center as far as ten miles away.

The Sandinistas, knowing that a high voter registration will kill their chance of victory, have complicated the procedure to keep registration low. Their strategy has been to compact the entire registration process into the first four Sundays of October, during which they claim to be able to register between 1.7 and 1.9 million people. Those not officially registered by October 22 will not be allowed to vote. The evidence is clear that they are undermining the February elections with their inept voter registration process, designed by an entrenched political party bent on staying in power.

"Protecting the rights of the family through prayer and action"

Another disturbing trend has been Sandinista media control. Their recent party convention brought viewers twelve hours of uninterrupted propaganda. The UNO party is given twenty minutes each week, and even that has often been censored.

Concerned Women for America urges you to encourage President Bush to communicate immediately with the leaders of Central America. If they unite in pressuring the Supreme Electoral Council to extend the registration deadline to a reasonable time, that would help to insure fairness and justice for the Nicaraguan people in the upcoming election. If action is not taken now the chance for democracy will die on the fourth Sunday in October.

Sincerely,

Beverly LaHaye

Dr. John Sununn, Chief of Staff

Washington, DC 20500

Dear John:

It's been many years since we were students in Jack Reynold's Experimental Engineering Lab investigating magnetohydrodynamics. You've proceeded on to an illustrious career, while my days have been occupied with engineering problems. Through a twist of fate, I now find myself back in the academic world doing a Ph.D. Thesis entitled "The Damping Properties of Composites."

There is a research effort at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee which is focused on the particulate type of metal matrix composites which we believe has potential use in space structures and military applications. We are attempting to locate an agency to provide funds for this research. Perhaps you could offer suggestions in this matter.

If composite materials can be developed successfully, it is hoped that industry in Milwaukee could be re-invigorated by manufacturing composites. As the casting process is employed in making particulate composites, foundries would gain business. Machine shops would also see a simulation in their business because of the needed machining of parts produced from composite materials.

I would appreciate your advice in this matter.

Very truly yours,

NATIONAL SOCIETY OF PROFESSIONAL ENGINEERS

October 20, 1989

Honorable John H. Sununu, P.E.
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

I want to take this opportunity to call to your attention the candidacy of an outstanding fellow professional engineer. NSPE is lending its highest level of endorsement to Paul J. Theuer, P.E., for the position of Under Secretary of Commerce for Technology. A copy of Mr. Theuer's resume is enclosed.

Paul Theuer has had a very distinguished career as a professional engineer. His experience, in addition to a broad based engineering background, includes experience in planning, policy development in engineering & construction management, research technology transfer and related technology management, as well as new business management/development.

We feel this background makes Mr. Theuer extremely well suited to perform the duties of Under Secretary for Technology, a position which should be filled by a professional engineer. NSPE is pleased to add its strong support to Mr. Theuer's candidacy, and hope that you will do likewise.

Sincerely,

Dear Dr. Sununu:

It was a great honor to meet you at the annual meeting of our Academy last week and even to have the privilege of escorting you to the auditorium.

I was tremendously thrilled by your remarks which were extremely apropos and resonated very well with our audience. As you may recall, when I wrote you earlier this year after your appearance at the Republican Senatorial Trust, I have been engaged for quite a number of years in the effort to bring engineers into the policy arena as well as into the area of economics. You are the most outstanding example of the political importance of engineers in the future, as our society becomes more and more technologically oriented, including the means to alleviate the problems of pollution and maintain a sustainable growth rate.

As to economists, as I mentioned to you, I am co-Director of the Program on Technology and Economic Growth at Stanford University, as well as co-Director of the Program on Technology and Economic Policy at the Kennedy School. At a recent conference that we held at Stanford, a number of very important research papers were presented and we were most gratified to find that the cover and the lead article in The Economist of September 23rd, as well as a full page article on one of our important papers, gave us prominent attention.

I sincerely thank you for your willingness to spend so much time with us at the Academy and for your inspiring remarks.

With best regards,

Very sincerely,

Ralph Landau

The Honorable John Sununu
Executive Office of the President
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Washington, DC 20500

Dear John:

I called your office Friday for two reasons. First, to stress the importance of capital gains to the success of the Bush Administration. I know it may not seem like a big deal but capital gains is deceptively serious. I've enclosed two papers for you on the topic (as if you need more paper.)

The second purpose is to recommend Russell Redenbaugh for the unfilled spot on the Federal Reserve Board of Governors.

Besides his enormously intelligent perspective on life for someone of his entrepreneurial and financial successes, he is totally blind and somewhat deformed as a result of a physics experiment gone awry as a youth. He is also Jake Garn's nephew. He is truly fantastic. He's a Bush loyalist, a solid Republican and savvy financially. He greatly admires both Manny Johnson and Wayne Angell at the Fed.

His tragic accident occurred late enough in his youth that he was able to develop very normal interpersonal skills. In fact, he's really a neat guy and there's no sense of awkwardness being with him.

Please just take a quick look at his resume which is attached. It's amazing.

Warmest regards,

Arthur B. Laffer

Dear Governor:

We are writing to urge the appointment of John G. Arlington to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The term of Commissioner Paul H. Lamboley expires in December of this year and the President will soon be faced with the challenge of appointing a member of the opposition party to the Commission.

In our opinion, no finer candidate can be found than John Arlington. Since 1987, John has served as the Chief Counsel and Staff Director of the House Subcommittee on Transportation and Hazardous Materials. Prior to 1987, he served as counsel to ICC Commissioner Malcolm M.B. Sterrett and as the Special Assistant to the Vice President and General Counsel of the United States Railway Association.

John has an exceptional background in rail transportation issues, particularly in the areas of ratemaking, mergers, abandonments, and licensing. As members of the Energy and Commerce Committee and the Subcommittee on Transportation and Hazardous Materials, we have worked with John on a wide range of rail issues and have come to respect the breadth of his knowledge and commitment to the future of the rail industry. While ever loyal to his "client", the Chairman of the Subcommittee, we have found John to be pragmatic in the pursuit of the majority's legislative goals and above all else, honest and forthright in his dealings with the minority. Our experience has been that John Arlington is a Democrat we can work with.

We understand that John also enjoys the support of many within the rail industry. We believe he has both the technical expertise and political savvy to serve with distinction on the Interstate Commerce Commission. He has our unqualified support.

Once again, we would urge President Bush to appoint John G. Arlington to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Mr. Sununu: John

I have been requested by Anne Roberts, a good friend and supporter, to contact you directly on her behalf regarding a letter of request sent to you recently to be a speaker in West Palm Beach, Florida.

Anne wrote to you in her capacity as Coordinator and Program Chairman for the November 18th Palm Beach County PAC fundraising dinner at the Palm Hotel. They would like you to be the banquet speaker.

I must tell you it is an exciting time now in Palm Beach County! The GOP has strengthened its membership considerably and we have a number of "switch-overs." The purpose of this particular dinner fundraiser is to raise funds to support our candidates financially in the 1990 races. In fact, there have been several fundraisers held already--we believe in an early start!

I will be the master of ceremonies for the evening, John; I hope that your schedule will allow you to visit South Florida at this time!

If if you have questions or concerns, please feel free to call me.

Sincerely,

Tom

Dear John:

Your letter of October 3 about the role played by the U.S. Chamber in support of the President's capital gains rate reduction initiative is greatly appreciated.

You can be assured that this organization will continue to work with you and others in the Administration to achieve a capital gains rate reduction on the Senate side.

My staff informs me that they find working with the White House staff very satisfactory. The President and you have brought together an excellent group of professionals, and we look forward to working with the White House on many other important issues of mutual concern.

PERSONAL & CONFIDENTIAL

October 6, 1989

Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear John:

For the past year I have been working closely with Massachusetts Shipbuilders Corporation, a worker owned company, which is endeavoring to reactivate the Fore River shipyard in Quincy, MA. Under their plan, all the employees will participate in the ESOP on an equal basis.

We have served as their accounting advisors and have worked closely with them in preparing a fair, considered analysis and financial presentation. I have worked directly with Peter Gwyn, its President, and have a great regard for his competence and his character. Peter has 28 years experience in operating shipyards and is highly thought of in both the industry and the community.

The project is just about off the ground. The staff is assembled and specific projects have been identified. These include the building of over 10 hulls at approximately $20,000,000 each for a European group and a floating hotel for an established Boston based financial group. The new company will also be well positioned to build tunnel tube sections for the third Boston harbor tunnel with a value of approximately $40,000,000. The management team built the 32 tunnel tube sections for the Fort McHenry Tunnel in Baltimore. Within 18 months, the yard would have 1,000 direct employees.

In January 1989, the Company began a series of conversations with the Economic Development Administration (EDA) regional loan people in Philadelphia. Encouraged by these discussions, Drexel Burnham Lambert, the Company's financial advisors, following EDA format, filed preliminary application on May 15, 1989 for an 80% loan guarantee [$10,000,000], part of the $17,500,00 total financing. The EDA has had the request under consideration but has been dragging its feet. One by one, their concerns have been addressed and the issues answered. Now, however, EDA is having difficulty accepting issues which the regional office reviewed and supported. They have strung us out by taking months to consider elements which they promised would be addressed in days. Now they have adopted an artificial standard to which we are unable to respond. A turndown at this point would cause the termination of the project.

Kennedy & Lehan, P.C.

FAX (617) 472-0528

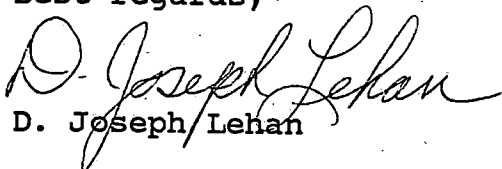

John, you know me. You know I am not prone to exaggeration but rather to understatement. I will tell you, however, that the EDA's position is plain and simply wrong. It flies in the face of reality and the purpose the Administration was created.

I feel very strongly about this one. It is a workers ESOP. It has excellent management. The facilities are unique. There is a substantial segment of the market which is not currently being served by other yards. In addition, the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations has told us that the Navy is very concern about the state of the Nation's shipbuilding defense mobilization base. It will put over 1,000 people to work in the manufacturing area where we need it. And lets face it, for those of us who believe the government should foster the creation of industry and jobs in the private sector, this is a classic opportunity to put our principles into action. Conversely, lack of positive action will only serve to reinforce the cynic's beliefs.

I would appreciate anything you could do to assist this project to receive a fair and informed review. If it receives one, I have no question as to the outcome.

I have to be out of the office for the next two weeks. If your office has any specific questions regarding the project, please call Peter Gwyn directly at his office (617) 773-1485 or home (617) 740-1223.

Best regards,

D. Joseph Lehan

Dear Governor Sununu:

I would like to join the other members of the Greater Houston Partnership in seconding Houston's bid to host the 1990 World Economic Summit. Zapata is an international company with operations on virtually every continent. Houston has been our world headquarters since the firm was founded because of the support services it offers and the expertise of its citizens in working with the global community.

Transportation, security and communications are more than adequate for an event like the Economic Summit and the city has considerable experience hosting presidential level visits. Other pluses include Rice University, the Johnson Space Center, Texas Medical Center and the George R. Brown Convention Center. And, of course, this is President Bush's hometown.

I urge you to look closely at all Houston has to offer. I believe you will agree with us that it is the best location for the 1990 World Economic Summit.

Sincerely,

The Honorable John Sununu
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear Governor Sununu:

As you know, my vote in support of the capital gains reduction demonstrates that I share the concerns of the American public and the President about the Federal tax burden. I am also concerned, however, about the delay in hearing from the Administration on pending oil spill legislation which will be on the House floor this week.

The Administration's original position on the oil spill legislation and treaties is a balanced approach to address the difficult issues posed by the threat of pollution. However, the Miller-Studds package of amendments likely to be offered to this legislation would create a fundamentally unacceptable bill. It would radically increase the liability of small businesses that own and operate barges and tankers while at the same time impose substantial tax increases on the oil industry.

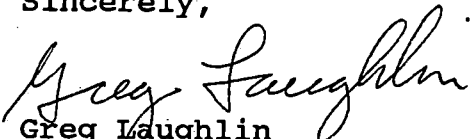

The original proposal of the Administration called for a modest 1.3 cents per barrel tax for the purpose of having funds available to meet treaty obligations and supplement the limited liability of the operator. The Miller-Studds package, however, not only would dispense with the treaties and create unlimited negligence-based liability on the part of the operator, it may also be combined with other amendments to increase the tax to five cents a barrel. This disguised new tax is being perceived as an attempt to help balance the budget and discourage oil consumption.

Without Administration leadership on the oil spill legislation, the same small business concerns I represent that stand to benefit from the capital gains cut could be put out of business altogether.

I look forward to hearing from you on this issue.

Sincerely,

Greg Laughlin
Member of Congress

UNITED STATES INSTITUTE OF PEACE

79158

1550 M Street NW, Suite 700
Washington, DC 20005
202 457-1700

October 4, 1989

The Honorable John Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. Sununu:

In January, I wrote you to ask your assistance in identifying outstanding nominees who could be considered for Distinguished Fellow awards from the United States Institute of Peace for the competition for fellowships that would begin this fall. Although you had no nominations to suggest at that time, I would like you to consider making a nomination for our next competition. We are starting the selection process earlier this time, and the nominations would be due November 15, 1989 for fellowships that would begin in the fall, 1990.

As you may know, the Institute is an independent, nonpartisan government institution created and wholly funded by Congress to strengthen the nation's capacity to promote the peaceful resolution of international conflict. We fulfill our Congressional mandate by expanding knowledge about the nature of international peace; disseminating this knowledge to individuals involved in peacemaking; and promoting public education programs.

One of the five programs of the Institute is the Jennings Randolph Program for International Peace. Under this program, the Institute awards three types of fellowships, one of which is Distinguished Fellow. Recipients of Distinguished Fellow awards are eminent scholars, statesmen, and other professionals with national or international stature by virtue of widely recognized accomplishments in international peace and conflict management or other relevant fields. The purpose of these awards is to challenge highly accomplished people to draw on their extensive learning and experience to produce unique, potentially influential contributions to a better understanding of international peace and conflict issues. I have enclosed a list of Distinguished Fellows and other fellowship recipients the Institute has selected since the Program was launched in 1987.

To be considered for possible selection, Distinguished Fellow candidates must first be nominated on the Institute's form by someone well acquainted with the nominee's career and achievements. The Institute expects to appoint two or three Distinguished Fellows for 1990-91.

I would greatly appreciate your reviewing the enclosed program description and then using the enclosed Distinguished Fellow Nomination form to suggest a person you know, or know of, who might qualify for one of the Distinguished Fellow awards. Please note I am asking you for nominations in your personal capacity, not on behalf of any organization or institution. By contacting you and other prominent individuals for nominee suggestions, we hope to identify the best possible pool of Distinguished Fellow candidates for consideration.

Your nomination does not mean automatic acceptance of the candidate but rather that the Institute will place this person into the pool for consideration. If you would like to nominate more than one candidate, feel free to duplicate the enclosed nomination form. Please note that we would need to receive your nomination form by November 15, 1989.

Thank you very much for your help.

With best regards,

Sincerely,

Samuel W. Lewis
President

Dear Governor Lunenburg,

Please accept my sincere Thanks for your encouragement and assistance in arranging the President's visit to the Catholic Lawyers' Guild Luncheon here in Boston, Saturday last.

Your presence at the Cathedral, together with your wife, was deeply appreciated both because in your person you represented the President's interest and support, and because I knew that your participation came at the cost of so many other demands which are constantly made on your time.

Continuing, as you have, your moments in his regard for discussion, I am ever mindful of your kind interest and ready engagement of whatever I can bring of the perspective of the Church to those many questions of common concern about which we have spoken. I very much enjoy and count on our exchanges in that regard.

Wishing God's blessing on you and Nancy and on your children, I am, with warm personal regards,

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Rm and Cardinal Law

PHILIP LADER

September 29, 1989

The Honorable John Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, DC

Dear Governor Sununu:

Last year, as you will recall, I invited you and your family to join, as our guests, a distinguished, diverse group that ushered in the New Year on Hilton Head Island. Now in its ninth year, the occasion--a private party, not a conference or a promotion--is unlike any other gathering we attend, and it is enriched by new participants each year. We hope that, this year, your family can join us, December 29th through January 1st.

What is this "Renaissance Weekend"?

- * Over meals, golf and tennis, or beach walks, 150 families make and renew acquaintance, exchange thoughts about current issues, and relax "off-the-record." More than 50 percent of the participants return each year, much like an "extended family reunion."
- * For example, some vignettes from last year's gathering: a U.S. Supreme Court Justice listening attentively to a breakfast discussion about "SuperKids"; America's favorite humorist helping us laugh at ourselves; President Kennedy's closest adviser taking everyone on in tennis, regardless of age, gender, time of day, or politics; a popular Governor, in jeans and T-shirt, sitting on the floor at a crowded luncheon; the president of a major Wall Street investment firm, a Fortune 500 CEO, and the woman who led the year's most celebrated proxy fight debating shareholder rights; four Pulitzer Prize-winners speaking their minds.

Past year's programs and the background of this tradition are detailed in the enclosed materials. We shall be happy to provide your family's lodging, meals, golf, tennis, and bikes. Transportation and any other expenses will be your responsibility.

Please consider this occasion with your family and return the enclosed green registration form if you can join us or would like to be invited next year. The resort will confirm your reservation by Thanksgiving, and I shall send you the specific program in mid-December. If you have any questions, please feel free to phone my wife, Linda, or me (office: 803-671-4811; home: 803-671-3741).

I hope to see you for our 1989 New Year's Renaissance Weekend!

Sincerely,

Philip Lader

*As Susan Porter Ross, Phil's
Jury Pruders, or Phil's
Hollings could tell you,
I think you'll find this very private gathering both stimulating and enjoyable for your family.*

*We'd love to have you
join us -*

Mr. John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House

Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Mr. Sununu:

It is the practice of the National Board of Advisors of the American Jewish Congress representing the top leadership of this organization to come to Washington periodically to consult with members of the Administration and the Congress on currently critical issues. We have found these consultations to be invaluable in helping us formulate positions and policies that are reasonable, relevant and well-informed.

Our next meeting will be held the evening of November 12 and the day of November 13. We look forward at that time to an opportunity to discuss with Administration leaders their ideas and proposals on a number of domestic and foreign affairs issues.

In this connection I am writing now to invite you to meet with our Board of Advisors to present your view of the Administration's priorities and to help us anticipate the matters on which the Administration hopes to press forward during the next six months.

We will be glad to schedule the meeting at a time and place that suits your convenience. We are prepared to arrange our program to meet your schedule. We appreciate, of course, the demands of your calendar and we would not expect to take more than one-half hour of your time. We know that even so brief a period would be of enormous help in insuring that our organizational positions are made more knowledgeable and informed.

Thank you for considering our invitation. We would, of course, be glad to answer any questions you may have. Meanwhile, our Associate Executive Director, Phil Baum, will try to reach you by phone to see whether you can join us. We earnestly hope that you can.

Sincerely,

SAVE THE BAY

September 26, 1989

The Hon. John Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, DC 20016

Dear Chief of Staff Sununu,

During the summer of 1989, Save The Bay launched two major initiatives for the future protection and prosperity of Narragansett Bay. One was the result of extensive study and research; the other a rapid response to a near catastrophe. Both initiatives underline the vital need to preserve this region's greatest natural and economic resource. As President of Save The Bay, I want to make sure you know about these important programs to reclaim Mount Hope Bay and to prevent oil spills from recurring in Narragansett Bay.

HOPE FOR MOUNT HOPE BAY

At the beginning of 1989, Save The Bay made the reclamation of Mount Hope Bay one of its top priorities. Since 1947, the Bay has been closed to shellfishing. In its just-released report, "Hope for Mount Hope Bay", Save The Bay's researchers note two important findings. First, ninety-five percent of the pollution in Mount Hope Bay is caused by Fall River's raw sewage overflow drains (CSOs). Second, as encouraging as the first is discouraging, the area of Mount Hope Bay from Bristol to Portsmouth could conceivably be opened up for shellfishing in dry weather by August 3, 1990.

The organization's call for action has been lauded by the Providence Journal as well as Rhode Island's Director of Environmental Management, Robert Bendick, but now even stronger action is needed by Governors DiPrete and Dukakis. While Fall River has been moved to the top of the priority funding list by Massachusetts' regulators who have met with Save The Bay, a lot of work needs to be done to ensure that this objective is realized.

NO MORE OIL SPILLS

Though Narragansett Bay was extremely lucky to have escaped devastating harm from the June 23 WORLD PRODIGY oil spill, the emphasis now is to prevent this nightmare from recurring. Save The Bay's oil spill response was lauded by a recent Brown University survey (enclosed) in which the public ranked the effectiveness of Save The Bay and the U.S. Coast Guard "one-two." The same entities are working closely to prevent future spills. While there has been much talk of double-hulled tankers and pilots boarding ships further out at sea, the real task is to eliminate the one factor common to the four major U.S. spills this year: human error.

A special report conducted by the U.S. Coast Guard in the aftermath of the massive EXXON VALDEZ spill calls for the implementation of a state-of-the art satellite tracking system to monitor the movement of all vessels along America's coasts. This system would warn both Coast Guard officials and ship captains in time to avert disaster. Further, because it is far less expensive and even more effective than radar, this system can be more widely utilized. The radar systems used currently are only in place in America's busiest ports, which puts much of this country's coastline at risk.

At a special post-spill Congressional hearing in Newport, Save The Bay asked the state's delegation to support the Coast Guard's plan and ensure that it is adequately funded. If this satellite tracking system is indeed the answer, Save The Bay would like to see it utilized to make Narragansett Bay one of the safest harbors in the country.

Save The Bay's Board of Directors, staff, and volunteers need your continuing help to make certain that the resources of Mount Hope Bay are reclaimed and that the Bay is properly defended from all sources of pollution. Please contact Trudy Coxe, Executive Director, or me, if you would like additional information, a copy of "Hope for Mount Hope Bay", or if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Christopher H. Little

Governor John H. Sununu

Dear Governor Sununu:

I'm sorry that I missed speaking to you at the recent fund raiser for the Afghan Children's Clinic on the evening of September 11 at the Madison. You probably were forced to leave before my presentation of behalf of Chevalier Harry Schultz of Monte Carlo. He along with the AMA were the prime movers behind the "Kids Clinic".

As a New Hampshirite I was quite pleased to see you there. You might be pleased to know that I have been given credit in print for starting the series of events which led to the founding of this clinic.

Originally I raised money for the Freedom League (Charles Moser and Paul Weyrich) for the treatment of wounded Afghans in New Hampshire which Gordon Humphrey helped bring our way. They mentioned the great work being done by the Rawding Sisters and I recommended a donation of something like $10,000 (I gave the wounded men $10,000 personally) to them.

Then I approached by best friend, Chevalier Harry Schultz, with the idea of him sponsoring a clinic and helping to raise money via the subscribers to his newsletter which is read in about 65 countries. He donated $25,000 as "seed money" to get the ball rolling. I donated a FAX machine and more money and then Roy Pfautch came aboard with his expertise and contacts. The rest, as they say, is "history" of an on going form.

I thought you might enjoy this story.

With Kind Regards,

Dear Mr. Sununu:

Plans for the 30th annual United States Armed Forces Invitational Chess Championship are now finalized. This event will be held at Andrews Air Force Base from Monday, September 18 through Wednesday, September 27, 1989.

On behalf of the American Chess Foundation and 60,000 members of the United States Chess Federation, I invite President George Bush to present the 1989 U.S. Armed Forces Chess Championship Trophy at the awards banquet, Wednesday, September 27, 1989 at 6:00 P.M.

The handsome wood chess set pieces that complement the enclosed board can be presented to President Bush in commemoration of National Chess Week, scheduled October 1-7, 1989.

Also enclosed is a copy of this year's signed proclamation, returned from a White House public relations representative. The presidential endorsement of National Chess Week began under President Carter and continued through the Reagan years. President Bush is encouraged to sign an enlarged version of this document before the media present to cover the Armed Forces Championship.

Also enclosed is the July issue of the Federation's monthly publication, Chess Life, highlighting World Chess Champion Gary Kasparov's involvement in the "Chess Against Drugs" campaign. This campaign has attracted the attention of Senator Robert Dole and others on Capitol Hill as well as the media.

Media coverage of this proposed presidential visit offers strong, positive images of the United States Armed Forces, the continuing war on drugs, personal achievement, intellectual development and

The Forum is being called to demonstrate to policy-level decision makers that innovative learning programs being developed by entrepreneurial educators throughout the country can have a significant impact on the crisis in American education. A growing number of leaders in business, government, and education believe that these programs have the potential to greatly enhance workforce productivity and U.S. competitiveness in the coming decade.

The Forum will show that proven methods exist to improve education and workforce productivity in the 1990's and offer implementation strategies to leaders who are ready to act on that message. The Forum will also highlight how the convergence of video, computing, and telecommunications technology enables leaders in all segments of society to empower the labor force with the necessary skills and abilities to succeed in today's dynamic work environment and information-based economy. We believe that leaders who understand how to implement the new technologies and effectively manage change throughout their organizations will strongly position themselves within the global economy.

Because of your commitment to increasing the use of technology in education in New Hampshire and your personal interest in interactive media, we would very much like you to open the Leadership Forum by providing the keynote address. Your address will be on Wednesday, November 29 at 8:45-9:25 a.m. at the new Ramada Renaissance in Techworld Plaza, in Washington D.C..

While the precise subject matter is yours to decide, of course, may we suggest that the following points would interest this audience:

1. The role of business, education and government in securing America's future in the world economy.
2. How new technology can help set new standards of educational excellence.
3. Challenge technology vendors to work with educators to address educational problems.

The Forum will be directed to an audience of 500 leading decision-makers in business, government, and education--those whose presence can influence other leaders and whose action can affect policy decisions in support of the increased use of interactive media in education and training.

September 21, 1989
page 2.

In addition, the Leadership Forum will feature a wide range of "success stories" from business, education and government in the Model Learning Programs Gallery which will be brought to Washington D.C. from all across the country.

To extend the message of the Leadership Forum, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce is considering several ways that they can lend support, including the publication of a Compendium of Model Learning Programs to be distributed nationally to Chamber companies and the educational institutions they support. John Clendenin, President of the U.S. Chamber, President of the National Alliance of Business, and CEO of Bell South will be speaking at the Forum. In addition, we are in conversations with U.S. Chamber of Commerce about sponsoring a series of business/education teleconferences around the country in early spring, based on the proceeding and model programs on view during the Leadership Forum.

The Forum is scheduled to coincide with the preview opening of TECH 2000, the first public interactive multi-media showcase of information and communications technology. TECH 2000 is being established by IVIA member companies (list attached) to demonstrate how new visual information technologies will impact how we live and work--at home, in school, at work and in our cultural pursuits.

Taken together, we believe the Leadership Forum, the Model Program Gallery, the co-sponsorship of major organizations and the opening of TECH 2000 will inspire the kind of public media attention which this topic deserves.

Please let me know if we can provide more information at this time, and if it is possible for you to join us for this event. In scanning the list of possible invitees, you are the person whose accomplishments and public stature most closely fit the interests of this conference--so we hope you will join us to encourage the more widespread use of these valuable tools for improving our schools, our workforce and our economy.

Sincerely,

Marianne M. Larned
Leadership Forum Coordinator

Dear Governor:

I would like to take this opportunity to add my voice to those of the National Mental Health Leadership Forum which has respectfully requested that the President publicly sign the Presidential Proclamations for the Mental Awareness Week and the Decade of the Brain resolutions in a White House ceremony during the observance of Mental Illness Awareness Week, October 1-7, 1989.

As a co-sponsor of both resolutions, I am committed to improving the care and treatment of the mentally ill in Louisiana. I am convinced that the best way to do that is to take advantage of the quickening pace of discovery in the emerging neurosciences, and that is what these two resolutions are all about. If the President and Mrs. Bush would be willing to devote a few minutes of their time to a public display of support for these ongoing scientific achievements, it would pay rich dividends for all of us.

Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Sincerely,

ROBERT L. LIVINGSTON

Governor John Sununu

Washington, D.C.

Dear Governor Sununu:

I had a further conversation today with Vladimir P. Nazarov, first secretary of the Soviet Mission to the UN. I asked for any guidance he could give as to whether Foreign Minister Shevardnadze would bring a proposal, or announcement of unilateral action, on a nuclear weapons materials production halt. He responded that he "might guess there will be some activity on fissionable materials production but on a scale I cannot predict." As to the tritium question, he said "Tritium is a possibility, but I can't say for sure."

I hope this information, as well as that which I transmitted in my letter of September 6, is useful. I, as well as the scientists and negotiators with whom the Institute has collaborated on the production halt issue, remain ready to assist you, if needed.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATIVE UNIT NO. 29

JOHN W. DAY EDUCATIONAL CENTER

September 14, 1989

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, D.C. 20000

Dear Mr. Sununu,

In the past year, as Superintendent of School Administrative Unit 29, I have followed with great interest the leadership role the federal government is taking in educational technology. This month an article in Electronic Learning, "Scattered Federal Initiatives Add Up to Big Spending," discussed the future of educational technology in our country. Many of the federal government's concerns strongly reflect our own in New Hampshire School Administrative Unit 29 in Keene, New Hampshire.

Over the years, our School Administrative Unit has developed educational technology programs that are some of the best in the country. As you know, this was largely due to the Governor's Initiative for Excellence in Education that funded two programs: Computers for Teachers and Technology in the Classroom. This latter program funded the Videodisc Grant, a generic grant that allowed us to develop and install a Television Origination and Broadband Distribution System at Keene Junior High School, and the first Distance Learning System on-line in the State of New Hampshire presently, linking Keene Junior High, Chesterfield, and Marlborough Schools (Westmoreland School will go on-line pending funding).

We would like an opportunity to meet with you to present our Distance Learning Program in detail, and discuss mutual concerns regarding the need for regulations, programs, and funding in this area.

Sincerely,

Charles Larracey

September 13, 1989

House of Representatives

H. MARTIN LANCASTER
NORTH CAROLINA
THIRD DISTRICT

The Honorable John Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Governor:

Since shrimping is an important, but struggling industry in my congressional district, I was pleased to learn from Congressman Billy Tauzin of the President's personal commitment to him last week to develop through you an alternative to the Turtle Excluder Devices (TEDs) for protecting sea turtles without killing the shrimping industry.

Let me assure you that while TEDs will significantly reduce the yield of shrimp in southern waters, they will eliminate completely the shrimping industry in North Carolina. U.S. Fisheries officials recently terminated a study of the use of TEDs in North Carolina waters because the TEDs became so clogged with algae that not only did they not catch any shrimp, but they could not complete the tows called for in the test program. Their conclusion was "...that a technical option may not exist at present to effectively produce shrimp in heavy concentrations of brown algae with TED equipped trawls." Since all of North Carolina's waters have the types of algae in abundance which will clog TED-equipped trawls, TEDs will simply eliminate shrimping as a commercial endeavor in North Carolina.

We urge that you give serious consideration to time limits instead of TEDs, but caution you that time limits themselves will not work if the same procedure is used in the future as was in August. When only one tow per 90 minute time period can be made, we are as bad off with time limits as we are with TEDs, because of the significant fouling of the trawl by algae. You will notice in the study which I have included that only one of the five tows was for the full 90 minutes. The others varied from 10 to 35 minutes, with the tows shortened because of the fouling of the nets, even without TEDs, by the algae. In North Carolina, you never have to worry about a significant number of tows in excess of 90 minutes because of the algae problem. The shrimpers need to be able to tow for up to 90 minutes at one time, but not be restricted to a particular 90 minute time frame as was done in August. Our shrimpers will usually tow for 15 to 20 minutes, pull the nets and remove the algae blockage, and then immediately begin another tow. This way they may get several short tows in a 90 minute time frame, but with the rules used this summer, they could only get one. This is as economically devastating as the use of TEDs, because of the algae.

Thank you for looking carefully at this problem and for building enough flexibility into your solution to take care of the unique problems of North Carolina shrimpers.

Sincerely,

Dr. John H. Sununu
White House Office

Dear Dr. Sununu,

I was introduced to you at the 1985 Dartmouth graduation by President McLaughlin and sat at your table during luncheon. (My son was the first member of the Legge family to graduate from the college bearing our family name; named after William Legge, 2nd. Earl of Dartmouth.)

I am going to Moscow for ten weeks this fall to teach English in school #44. (AFS Intercultural Programs, Caryle Cammisa, 212 979 4242). Among matters I propose to discuss with upper-level students is the American form of government. I shall talk about the Congress, the Supreme Court, and the Executive. I shall illustrate these matters with slides that I am now photographing.

I am taking the liberty of writing to you to ask whether it would be possible for me to take a slide-photograph of the President (and/or Mrs. Bush) and perhaps take with me a short message from the Chief Executive to the Soviet students and teachers of Moscow School #44?

I feel deeply that such a gesture from Washington to Moscow would make a profound impact on the young people of Moscow and the USSR at this time of political and social change.

Yours sincerely

Dear John:

Former Senator J. William Fulbright attended Pembroke College, Oxford University, on a Rhodes Scholarship and he chaired the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for 15 years.

Years later, I attended Pembroke College as a Rhodes Scholar and chaired the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for a much smaller period of time. Due to the similarity of these particular biographical facts, I have come into contact with Senator Fulbright, frequently, and have often been asked to take part in celebrations commemorating the Fulbright Scholarship program. The enclosed letter is one of several suggestions over the years that Senator Fulbright might be honored with a presidential medal.

I believe that this is a good idea for a number of reasons although the time and occasion should fit the priorities of President Bush's educational program objectives. I simply wanted to commend the idea of a presidential medal for Senator Fulbright in order that you would have this idea and option available if it seems appropriate and suitable.

Thank you again for helping to arrange the wonderful luncheon experience on Tuesday which made it possible for me to brief the President and you on current developments in Latin America.

Sincerely,

Richard G. Lugar

Dear Mr. Sununu:

I read with interest "Greening the White House" in the New York Times Magazine of 13 August 1989. This article indicates that President Bush is willing to take a leadership position in the difficult and expensive task of cleaning our air despite strong views in opposition to this approach from some of his own advisors.

The article also notes your personal views on air pollution and your role in these discussions. I recall our conversations during your visit in July 1984 to the Hubbard Brook Experimental Forest, the New Hampshire site at which our research first identified acid rain in North America. Your interest and concern were evident then and I am pleased to see you in a position to shape national policy on this important topic.

I enclose a reprint of the 1972 publication reporting our discovery, along with a 1985 report ("Is There Scientific Consensus on Acid Rain?") which resulted from a meeting I convened here at the Institute of Ecosystem Studies in 1984, and finally an article from the most recent issue of Ambio where I make predictions about acid rain in New Hampshire in the year 2000 based on potential reductions in emissions of SO₂. This time span illustrates the tortuous path between scientific knowledge and responsive legislation.

Please let me know if I can be of help by reviewing scientific data as the President's proposal is reviewed in Congress.

Sincerely,

Gene E. Likens

NUCLEAR CONTROL

September 6, 1989

Governor John Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear Governor Sununu:

I am writing to let you know that the Nuclear Control Institute has received an additional communication from a Soviet diplomat indicating interest of his government in considering a complete mutual halt in production of nuclear weapons materials.

I received a letter from Vladimir P. Nazarov, first secretary of the Soviet Mission to the United Nations, in late August, prior to the appearance of the New York Times op-ed article I wrote with Milton Hoenig. Mr. Nazarov had contacted me previously with a request for the Institute's Tritium Factor book and I subsequently informed him of my correspondence with General Secretary Gorbachev.

In his letter, Mr. Nazarov wrote: "As far as I can tell, your latest proposal on a halt in operation of all reactors for nuclear weapons materials production---tritium as well as plutonium---is being carefully examined in Moscow. I quite agree with your assessment that now we might have a historic opportunity to achieve a mutual, verifiable halt in the production of the essential ingredients for nuclear weapons." He then requested information on Congressional interest in a production ban and on U.S. military production activities, explaining that "this information might be very useful for assessing 'pros and cons' of your proposal."

Attached is a paper we prepared, "Status of U.S. Production Activities," summarizing non-classified information, in response to the second part of his request. I also sent him some items pertaining to pending legislation, and noted that Congress could not be expected to defer restart of Savannah River or construction of new production capacity in the absence of an agreement with the Soviet Union to shut down all military production reactors.

Strategies for stopping the spread and reversing the growth of nuclear arms.

I hope it will be possible to arrange another meeting, as we had discussed on August 4, to further explore the initiative that Dr. Hoenig and I proposed in our briefing paper at that time. I hope the paper by J. Carson Mark was responsive to your inquiry on the significance of a possible Soviet tritium reserve and has proved useful. We have been in contact with Hans Bethe and Gerard Smith, as well as the other scientists and negotiators who have cooperated with the Institute on the tritium question, and I am confident we could put together a small, representative delegation to discuss what the proposed initiative involves and how it could be achieved.

I will be in touch with Ms. Kennedy in the hope of arranging an appointment.

Thank you again for your interest.

Sincerely,
