Fruit of the Loom

August 24, 1990

John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. Sununu:

Consideration is being given to a national tax on advertising. In my opinion, any such tax would be ill advised, a conclusion to which several states have already come after initiating advertising tax legislation.

We are current witness to the failure of the Russian economic system, a system characterized by, among other things, the absence of a competitive free enterprise marketplace, one fueled by the single, most powerful selling instrument available to business...advertising. Dis-incentives to advertising, through taxation, are a dis-service to the national economy. Before we attempt to disrupt and weaken a system that has proved its effectiveness - by helping to create the highest standard of living in the world - let's get to the real heart of the problem, namely living beyond our nation's means, spending beyond our nation's resources.

People can't do it...governments can't do it. Let's stop sending American money to our non-friends around the world. We can't buy their love and loyalty. Let's get off the endless spending on "politically" important social programs that create generations of welfare families. Let's hold the running of the government's budget to the same standards of accountability as are successful businesses...our military procurement system is a national disgrace. Most of its senior managers would be dismissed if in the private sector.

No, the answer to our burgeoning budget deficit is not to throttle back one of our main economic engines. When America's spending was under control...when we were able to sell more to others than we bought from them...when our nation wasn't ruled by self-interests...and when swift and sure recognition and retribution would have made the savings and loan debacle impossible...there was never a thought of an advertising tax. It would have been wrong then. It's wrong now.

If we want to continue to provide American consumers with maximum information about new products, and give them their choice among freely-competing brands, an unfettered advertising policy is essential. Please vote to defeat any changes in the treatment of advertising as a recurring business expense.

Very truly yours,

Lester Schwartz
Vice President

August 24, 1990

Mr. John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. Sununu:

I am pleased to invite you to join me on November 15, 1990, when Citizen Exchange Council presents its George F. Kennan Award to Senator Bill Bradley and Dr. Evgeny Primakov.

Senator Bradley, an expert on US-Soviet economic relations, is an important voice in the establishment of United States policies on international trade and lending. Dr. Primakov is a leading advisor to Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev on topics of foreign relations, and regional conflicts including the Middle East. The award recipients will each give a short talk on today's issues.

Senator Bradley and Dr. Primakov are being honored for their outstanding efforts on behalf of broad public dialogue and high level exchanges between the United States and the Soviet Union. The evening benefits Citizen Exchange Council, which was the first nonpartisan American organization to create citizen exchanges with the Soviet Union. In the 1990's, support from individuals and corporations will help CEC build a new US-Soviet relationship based on cooperation in areas of common interest.

As Chairman of the Kennan Award Committee and a firm believer in the value of Citizen Exchange Council's work, I look forward to hearing that you will join me and distinguished members of the diplomatic, corporate, academic, and cultural communities for this significant event.

Sincerely,

Andrew B. Somers
Chairman, CEC Kennan Award Committee

ALAN K. SIMPSON
WYOMING

1-8540

United States Senate
Assistant Republican Leader

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

August 17, 1990

Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear John:

I have a very sincere recommendation for you. I have recently visited with Richard Stone, who is the former U.S. Senator from Florida. He was a very integral part of the "Democrats for Bush" operation during the last campaign in Florida. I am tracing Jim Baker with a copy of this letter because he knows of the tremendous effort and enthusiasm that Dick lent to the campaign. I will also copy Chase Untermeyer.

Dick is "ready to do anything." He has been looking closely at the possibility of what was originally described as the position of "Ambassador for Environmental Affairs." I do not know whether that position has been formed or will be filled, but he is very enthusiastically ready to take on that role or to consider any number of alternative roles for our Administration.

He has also expressed a strong interest in becoming Ambassador to Belgium. Presently we have a fine professional there who was appointed near the end of the Reagan Administration, and it is Dick's understanding that that individual's term will expire in 1991. Dick's father was born in Belgium and Dick is very enthusiastic and excited about the prospect of being considered for that position when it does come open. I do sincerely hope that might come to fruition.

Recently, the possibility of service as Negotiator of the "Framework Convention" was discussed, and it is something that Dick would be particularly interested in doing during the period from now until the Belgium post would become open, a period of about one year. You may wish to give very serious thought to considering Dick for the Framework Convention role first, if that can be done in a way that does not jeopardize his consideration for the ambassadorship.

The important thing is that he is ready to go to work right now. He is a skilled negotiator and a fine former senator. He is skillful in the political arena. He is a former Florida Secretary of State. In the Senate, he served on the Interior, Energy, Agriculture and Foreign Relations Committees. He has been a presidentially appointed special envoy to Central American Affairs -- and much, much more.

Dick Stone is one who should receive every possible consideration, John. I know Dick Stone. I worked with him when he was a member of the United States Senate. He is a splendid man. He would be a great credit to this Administration, and I believe it would certainly be a very "politic" decision to select him for service in the Bush/Quayle Administration. Certainly, he will be very anxious to hear from you.

Let me know if I can furnish any further information regarding this fine former colleague. He carries my most enthusiastic and sincere recommendation.

With best regards,

Most sincerely,

Alan K. Simpson
United States Senator

August 20, 1990

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

I am writing you on behalf of my brother and your friend, Steve Sweeney, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Boston Edison Company.

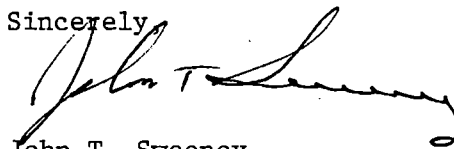

The Arthritis Foundation Massachusetts Chapter will be holding a Lifetime Achievement Award Dinner on November 27, 1990. Steve will be the recipient of the award this year in recognition of his outstanding record of public and private service to the community.

The event is being co-chaired by S. James Coppersmith, Vice President and General Manager of WCVB-TV Channel 5 in Boston, and William F. Connell, Chairman of Connell Limited, Inc. Timothy Johnson, M. D., of ABC News, has agreed to serve as Master of Ceremonies.

Obviously, the main purpose for the dinner is to raise funds to support research in the fight against the crippling disease arthritis. To insure the event is a success, I respectfully request you consider an invitation to be the keynote speaker. I know that you and my brother have mutual interests and concerns regarding this Nation's energy policy. This event could be a forum to present your views as to a National policy, especially, given the current state of affairs in the Mid-East.

I recognize the demands on your time are great but sincerely hope you will give our invitation serious consideration.

Sincerely,

John T. Sweeney

JOHNSON
CONTROLS

Dear Chief of Staff Sununu:

Energy conservation is a very important issue today and will be increasingly important in the months and years ahead. Accordingly, we would appreciate your support of the "Dear Colleague" letter (copy attached), which was sent to Congress August 1st.

Johnson Controls has taken the leadership role in increasing the awareness of the need for energy conservation in the federal government, as well as throughout all sectors of the nation. We believe the Bush Administration should be sensitized to the importance of this issue.

Recently, our company participated in joint hearings held by the Subcommittee on Energy and Power, Committee on Energy and Commerce; and the Subcommittee on Environment, Energy and Natural Resource Committee on Government Operations.

As a result of our participation in the hearings, a letter was sent to the President by the committees' chairmen, requesting an Executive Order that would mandate energy conservation in Federal agencies.

We believe it is doubly important that the Secretary of Energy develop both a federal government and national energy conservation plan.

If you would like a copy of the Johnson Controls testimony, please contact me.

Thank you very much for your consideration in this matter.

Sincerely,

JOHNSON CONTROLS, INC.

August 20, 1990

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

This letter is written to you in your status as a member of the Committee seeking to agree upon a budget.

It is our understanding that the Administration is contemplating proposing that the Postal Service contribute to the reduction of the deficit by approximately $1.7 billion. I would like to express the strong opposition of the Mail Order Association of America ("MOAA") to the adoption of any such proposal. The Mail Order Association of America consists of major mail order companies whose businesses are dependent in whole or in part upon a reliable and reasonably priced Postal Service.

Under the rate changes recently proposed by the Postal Service, MOAA members already face large rate increases to be imposed in the first part of 1991. Under the rates proposed by the Postal Service, annual postage costs of MOAA members would be increased by approximately $150 million. For example, the proposed increases for catalogs, used extensively by our members, range up to 30 percent, on top of the 25 to 30 percent increases imposed in 1988. Adoption of a "tax" on Postal Service users would drive up rates to even higher levels.

Catalogs have proven to be a convenient means for customers to shop without the necessity of traveling to retail stores. Surveys of consumer attitudes by the Postal Service have shown that catalogs are one of the most welcome pieces of mail received in the mailbox. Among other advantages, shopping via catalog saves the gasoline that would otherwise be consumed in traveling to retail stores, which is of particular importance during the current oil crisis.

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Page 2

The MOAA is well aware of the importance of taking measures to reduce the deficit. The measures adopted, however, should be fair and equitable and not be in the form of a "hidden" tax on postal patrons. Adoption of an unfair tax on the Postal Service can only lead to further large rate increases and a further deterioration of this vital service.

Thank you for your consideration of our views.

Sincerely yours,

Edwin F. Stadelman ^{bmz}

Dear Governor Sununu:

I am delighted to hear that you are considering Congressional Quarterly's invitation to give the luncheon address at its special "Election '90" conference. I want to personally thank you for giving this invitation your thoughtful consideration.

CQ's post-election conference is without question the most respected conference of its kind in the nation. Just 36 hours after the polls close, CQ taps its political expertise and brings together nationally recognized political analysts, commentators and officials for a comprehensive and forward-looking analysis of how the election's results will influence policy-making in the next session of Congress. This year's conference will also look ahead to 1992, which could be a rare watershed year in congressional politics.

This would be an ideal setting for your perspective on the President's agenda for the 102nd Congress.

I hope you can join us on November 8. Please do not hesitate to contact me directly at 887-8530 if you have any questions about the conference.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Sununu:

I would like to introduce you to Meridian House International, a non-profit educational and cultural institution, and to invite you to attend the 1990 Meridian House Ball as our guests.

Marking its 30th Anniversary in 1990, Meridian begins a new decade as Washington's international center. Thousands of visitors from all over the globe come to Meridian each year for programming and orientation. As a window on the world for Americans, Meridian offers lectures, seminars and cultural programs about other countries.

This year's Ball will be held on October 12, under the Honorary Patronage of Mrs. Bush. Mrs. Baker is Honorary Sponsor, and Ambassador Joseph Reed is Honorary Chairman. The Ball, which includes dinner at an Embassy and dancing at Meridian House, generates substantial funding for our many international activities.

I have enclosed an invitation to the Ball and hope you will join us on October 12 as guests of the Committee. Please return the reservation card to Ms. Magness, or call her at 939-5568, for further information.

I hope to see you on October 12!

Sincerely,

Ronald E. Sappenfield

My dear Governor:

The Eighth Annual Caribbean American Cultural Heritage Mass at St Patrick's Cathedral N.Y.C, will be celebrated on Sunday September 9 at 6:30 P.M

The occasion provides an opportunity for the large Caribbean American Community to give thanks to the Almighty for the many blessings received in our country of adoption.

This year, His Lordship Bishop Robert Rivas O.P., of St Vincent and the Grenadines will be the chief celebrant and homilist; and we will be recognizing during the celebration Maestro Peter Thomas, the musical director of the choir of the Office of Black Ministry of the Archdiocese of New York..

As is customary, we respectfully request that you be kind enough to use your good offices to secure a message for the occasion, from our beloved President, along the lines of last year's, with the appropriate changes

With anticipatory thanks and sincere good wishes,

Faithfully

Dear Mr. Sununu:

I read with interest and great trepidation that you gentlemen were moving toward a $7.2 billion increase in liquor excise taxes. Doesn't that seem a bit much since the total annual liquor taxes are currently in the range of $5.8 billion?

Those kind of dramatic increases might cause us poor distillers to resort to strange and unusual activities in order to make a living - like making gourmet steak sauce. Hope you enjoy.

Any consideration you could give to moderating the proposed 125% tax increase would be appreciated.

Sincerely,

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff

Dear Mr. Sununu :

Listed below are some of my thoughts on the attempt by the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council to shut down the shrimping industry on the Gulf Coast from May 1st to July 31st.

1. The Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council will meet on September 17, 1990 in New Orleans to consider additional regulations. They are attempting to breath life into the red snapper fishery by severely restricting the shrimp industry.

2. The shrimp industry at the dock has sales of about $400 million in the Gulf. Red snapper commercial sales are $10 million. The recreational catch of red snapper is comparatively small. In spite of this the Council, and possibly the Secretary of Commerce, is considering closing the shrimp season for 90 days during the peak months of May through July. This in the name of producing more red snapper!! Red snapper are not an endangered species like the turtles now being "protected" by shrimpers using TED's. These TED's make shrimpers less efficient. Now the government may be making them less efficient again! With imported shrimp having 75% of our market, this measure will only accelerate the trend.

3. About 60 plus percent of the small red snapper caught in shrimp trawls are caught off Texas. There is already a closure off Texas to let shrimp grow larger. Why not let the closure off Texas which ended in mid-July this year simply be extended until July 31st? Why make the whole Gulf shrimp industry be closed from May 1st to July 31st each year when another approach will protect the red snapper?

4. Can you imagine the negative impact of being without income for 90 days during the peak of the season! Shrimpers have boat mortgage payments, boat insurance payments, etc. pre-set with lenders to match the receipt of money from shrimp sales. How can the debt be repaid? These so-called analysis of the Council completely ignores the factors of disruption to shrimp harvesting businesses. This is very poor science and inexcusable government policy formulation.

5. In addition, this proposed plan completely ignores the impact of the policy on the shore based support industries. There is no attempt to identify the significant impacts on shrimp processing companies, ice making companies, shipyards, etc. It is again poor science and inexcusable policy formulation to ignore obvious negative impacts. Businesses can not maintain employment levels, foster employee loyalty, make mortgage payments, etc. when they are forced to close for 90 days. Why are these very real negative impacts being ignored?
6. This is already a seasonal business that will be forced into operating during a shorter season. This is nothing more than forced regulatory inefficiency. Imported shrimp will gain a larger foothold further worsening the balance of trade.

Mr. Sununu, it is my sincere hope that you will find this information helpful. Thank you for your time. If possible, can you please advise of your opinion on the above.

Sincerely,

John Siracusa

Mount Ida College

Senior College Division

The Office for Institutional Advancement

August 2, 1990

Governor John Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

Mount Ida College is inaugurating The Wadsworth Lecture Series.

"In the late 1980's, Mount Ida received an endowment for the purpose of providing a distinguished lecture series for the entire College community. This annual lecture series will begin in 1990, as distinguished, national and international figures will visit the campus to address students, faculty, administrators, and invited guests from the community."

A Decade of Progress

See enclosure on The Wadsworth Lecture Series and A Decade of Progress.

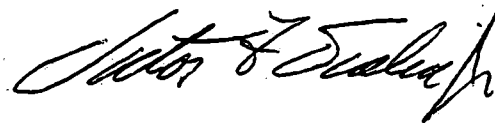

The date and time for the lecture would naturally be built around your schedule. Enclosed is an academic calendar to indicate when the college is in session.

A Decade of Progress summarizes the great strides our college has made. We are one of the fastest growing colleges in the nation. Our President, Dr. Bryan E. Carlson, has not had one deficit in his fourteen years in office. Shall we send him to Washington?

Seriously, we hope that as a New Englander you will give this invitation a high priority. Naturally, it would honor us to have you speak and it would give us the opportunity to honor you with an Honorary Doctoral Degree for the outstanding job you are doing for The President and America.

Thank you for your kind consideration. If you are able to accept, we will work out all the appropriate details of honorarium, date, and time.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. Victor F. Scalise, Jr.
Vice President
Institutional Advancement

*The Honorable
John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20500*

Dear Mr. Sununu,

You are invited to join a select group of your peers, with William F. Buckley Jr. and Caspar W. Weinberger, at a colloquium on competition to be held in September. The colloquium will provide a forum for international business leaders to address current issues regarding competition across all borders in today's rapidly changing political, social and economic climates. Attendance is limited to one hundred chief executives from leading international companies.

I am writing on behalf of Lawrence J. Ellison, President and Chief Executive Officer of Oracle Corporation, who is convening the colloquium. You are respectfully invited to lead the Thursday or Friday panel and to participate in the remainder of the colloquium, if your schedule allows. The colloquium will be held at The Homestead in Hot Springs, Virginia, commencing with dinner on Wednesday the twelfth of September and concluding in the late afternoon on Friday the fourteenth of September.

The colloquium has been structured to provide maximum interaction among the attending executives, during both the morning panels and the afternoon discussion groups. Bill

Buckley will moderate both of the morning panels. Boris N. Yeltsin, Brian Mulroney and Anatole Dobrynin have been invited to serve as panel leaders as well.

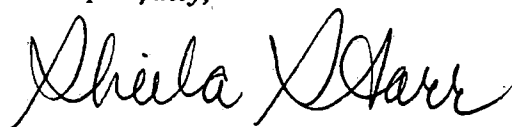

Executives known for having affected significant change in their own companies will lead groups of twenty peers in issues-driven discussion groups on Thursday afternoon. Specific issues that will be addressed include foreign investment, government/industry standards and regulations, trade, decentralization, customer service, quality, education, market catalysts, the environment, and research and development.

Please be assured that the colloquium is not a media event, but is an authentic opportunity for chief executives of national and international companies, both publicly and privately held, to engage in frank discussion. Because of the dynamic and interactive structure planned for the colloquium, we have had acceptances from corporations such as NYNEX, Fletcher Challenge Limited/New Zealand, Continental, Burlington-Northern, Houghton-Mifflin, Union Carbide, British Nuclear Fuels, Techmire Limited/Canada, Sun Petroleum, and Dow Chemical. To remind you, only one hundred chief executive officers will be present.

Mr. Sununu, we realize that the pressures on your time are many, but we earnestly request your presence. You will bring an essential and unique perspective to the subject of competition.

Please accept!

Respectfully,

Dear Governor Sununu:

Please excuse this informal note. I just came back from a business trip from the Far East (Philippines, Japan & Korea), and one of the survivors of the killer quakes from the Philippines asked me to send you a copy of his letter to Mr. Finley's widow.

Enclosed is a copy of said letter as well as a copy of the article that describes his (Dr. Densing's) survival from that unfortunate incident.

c/o Mr. Rawlein Soberano
Washington, D.C.
U.S.A.

Dear Mrs. Finley:

This is just to express my condolence with the family of the late Dick Finley, who died during the killer earthquake on July 16, 1990, at Hotel Nevada, Baguio City, Philippines.

Dick and I became friends just at Nevada Hotel, where we met. We have discussed many things during off meeting sessions - from US Military Bases in the Philippines to alleviating poverty in the third world.

When the earthquake happened, we both went under the table to protect ourselves from the falling concrete slabs. He died right on the first day. I think a very heavy concrete slab fell on him.

I survived the killer quake, and I thank God for my second life. I am sorry for what happened to Dick, but I know God will take him to His kingdom of everlasting happiness, because Dick was a good man.

I wrote this letter after meeting Rawlein Soberano, who is going back to Washington D.C. , requesting him to hand this note to you.

I would like also to thank very much the USAID people in Manila who did their best efforts to save us who were still alive under the rubble of Hotel Nevada. Please express my heartfelt gratitude to the USAID people in Washington DC for their moral support during the hours of our needs.

Thank ^{you} very much.

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Governor Sununu:

On behalf of the Standing Conference of American Middle Eastern Christian and Moslem Religious Leaders, we urgently plead for your immediate assistance for the Lebanese Nationals who are presently suffering the horror of the Civil War in Liberia.

Our latest reports from the Lebanese Ambassador to Liberia indicate that the events are much worse than the reports which we hear on the media. There are thousands of people who have been without food, water and medical assistance. We ask you, in the name of humanity, to simply give them asylum when they arrive at the gates of the American Embassy in Liberia, and to assist in airlifting them to a safe country. We believe that you are the last hope for their safety. Please do not let them down.

The Lebanese government, as you are well aware, cannot do anything to help these people. We hope and pray that you will help in this humanitarian endeavor.

Most sincerely,

Dear Governor Sununu:

There are 2,000 parents of mentally ill persons who have had one of the most memorable experiences of their lives, thanks to you. Your kindness in attending the NAMI Convention in Chicago, especially given the developing issues that you are constantly confronted with, was wonderful. As always, your personableness and wisdom were extraordinary (especially wise, your comments about the New Hampshire Mental Health Director!).

I want to thank you, Ed, Jackie, Bruce, and so many others who made that possible. I can't tell you strongly enough what an impression it made on 2,000 people and how deep an impression it made on me.

Robert B. Stewart

President

August 8, 1990

(202) 785-5116

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

The extent to which the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait will impact world oil prices and U.S. energy security in the long run is still unclear. However, the invasion should remind U.S. policymakers and the public of two facts: (1) the U.S. is dependent on energy supplies from a region of the world that is wildly unpredictable; and (2) a healthy domestic petroleum industry is crucial if we are to insulate ourselves from this instability.

Until the invasion, many Americans had become complacent about our dangerous addiction to foreign oil. But reports of rising gasoline prices and other economic woes in the wake of the Iraqi invasion have served as a wake up call to consumers. The U.S. now imports approximately half the oil it consumes, with almost one in ten of our imported barrels coming from either Iraq or Kuwait. At current rates of consumption imports are expected to rise in the coming years, which will in turn increase the U.S. trade deficit and our vulnerability to arbitrary supply and pricing decisions of foreign producers. Consider the following:

- ▶ Iraq and Kuwait account for almost 9 percent of American crude oil imports. In seizing Kuwait, Iraq's Saddam Hussein has achieved significant leverage to manipulate oil prices.
- ▶ Domestic oil production fell to its lowest level in 25 years in 1989 to 7.6 million barrels per day. To make up for the shortfall the U.S. increased imports, which constituted almost half the $109 billion U.S. trade deficit.
- ▶ The current estimate of undiscovered oil reserves beneath the federal Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) is about 18 billion barrels of oil and 145 trillion cubic feet of natural gas, or approximately one-third of all the recoverable oil and gas remaining to be discovered in the United States.

► The safety record of the OCS industry is excellent. A National Academy of Sciences study shows that OCS development contributes only 1.5 percent of the oil found in the world's oceans, with 8 times that amount coming from natural seeps in the ocean floor and 30 times that amount from city and industrial contaminant run-off.

► Through congressional moratorium and administrative action, including the President's recent decision to delay OCS development in many parts of the country, the U.S. has curtailed exploration for new OCS oil and gas reserves in all federal waters, with the exception of the Gulf of Mexico and certain parts of Alaska.

An unstable energy market threatens the already sluggish American economy with recession. The U.S. has the technology to safely develop its own energy resources, yet federal policymakers continue to lock up the lands and waters where these resources are found.

On behalf of the 350 member companies of the National Ocean Industries Association, I urge you to support the survival of this nation's oil and natural gas industries by clearing the way for increased development of domestic oil and natural gas.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Robert B. Stewart", written in a cursive style.

Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear John:

My esteemed and thoroughly Republican colleague, Patrick O'Donnell, has sent to you my good friend Norm Augustine's invite to be the recipient of the ARCS Foundation's "Person of the Year" award, a most appropriate recognition for the Chief of Staff of our Education President.

The purpose of this note is simply to express the hope that you might find it possible to accept. They'll treat you well.

With all best,

James W. Symington

Dear Gov. Sununu:

I wish to congratulate you and the President for the appointment of the Norm Augustine Committee to review the nation's space program. This has been the a missing link in the chain toward implementation of the President's Space Exploration Initiative.

Enclosed for your information is a copy of my initial contribution to the Augustine Committee. I hope that I can get on your schedule this fall to discuss several of these matters, particularly the role of helium-3 fusion in the broad scheme of future strategies.

Keep up the great work.

Re: The Budget Summit and Medicaid for Children

Dear Mr. Sununu:

As business, insurer, health care provider, and child advocacy organizations, we strongly support expansion of Medicaid assistance to all children living in families with incomes below the federal poverty level. As such, we urge that the final deficit reduction package provide Congress sufficient flexibility to accommodate essential, future changes in Medicaid, including its restructuring and financing. This is important for the following reasons:

- o Access to health care today for millions of low income, uninsured children is absolutely critical to their future development into productive adults able to contribute fully to the well-being of their families and the nation.

- o Because preventive as well as medical care for children is so inexpensive relative to care for adults, expanded Medicaid assistance for uninsured children of low income families has proven to be very cost-effective as well as beneficial to children's health.

- o At the same time, the cost to government of expanded Medicaid coverage for children is both reasonable and predictable over time, which is why it continues to draw strong bipartisan support even in difficult budget times.

Letter to Mr. John H. Sununu
August 2, 1990
Page Two

o Without the ability to continue to adapt Medicaid in response to the crisis of millions of uninsured families, including 12 million children, the federal government risks exacerbating already serious:

--problems of access to care for millions of Americans,

--problems of financial viability for many health care institutions, and

--problems of cost-shifting that contribute to health care inflation. When they are unreimbursed or reimbursed below the costs of providing care, health care providers are forced to shift their uncovered costs to privately insured patients, which drives up employer-paid insurance costs. When that option is not available, providers are limited in their ability to make needed services available.

We strongly support the efforts of many Members of Congress, including Sen. Bentsen in the Budget Summit, to make an investment in children's access to health care part of our national deficit reduction strategy. Improving children's access to health care enjoys broad support not only among the millions of people represented by our organizations and those they serve, but also in national public opinion. In opinion surveys, Americans consistently express strong support for expanded access to health care for children, even as the nation grapples with the federal deficit.

Dear Governor:

It is my pleasure to recommend to you Mr. Robert Bennett for the District 5 position to the Federal Reserve Board.

Appointments to the Federal Reserve Board can be critical appointments for the President. I do believe that Bob Bennett understands the financial picture, both nationally and internationally, sufficiently to make sound judgements regarding our financial policy. His career in the financial services industry is impressive. He does not aspire to be the vice-chairman of the Board which might add some flexibility.

I am hopeful that you will give Mr. Bennett your most serious consideration.

Sincerely,

I wish to thank you for stopping by for our seminar at the conference of the National Alliance of Mentally Ill.

We are especially grateful for your kind words at our meeting and in your keynote address. We do believe that the Wyman Way Cooperative model is the most effective vocational alternative for long-term mentally ill clients and is extremely cost efficient. Last year the Coop had sales in excess of $200,000 from janitorial services, landscaping, construction and light manufacturing. Several of the employees are working full time with no governmental subsidy.

I have enclosed a copy of the photo that was sent with our press release. We appreciate all you have done for the membership.

Dear John:

I am writing to endorse the candidacy of Richard Getzinger for the open seat on the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC). I am most pleased to join my friend, Senator Pete Domenici, in expressing my strong support for Dick's nomination.

Dick Getzinger is uniquely qualified for this position. I have reviewed his record and have met with him personally, and find that his many years of nuclear energy experience and his rock-steady performance fully prepare him for this role. Please review his record personally and see if you don't agree.

As the Ranking Member of the Nuclear Regulation Subcommittee, I am especially sensitive to the activities of the NRC. Just know that I find Dick Getzinger to be a strong candidate for the Commission and I enthusiastically look forward to working with him in that capacity.

With best personal regards,

Most sincerely,

Dear Governor Sununu:

I am writing on behalf of my daughter Christine, who is Confidential Assistant to Assistant Secretary of State John Bolton. She is the youngest of Dolores' and my four children. Our son Michael is at the Department of Commerce, International Trade Administration.

Christine is a graduate of the University of California, Davis, with a major in Political Science. She started in politics as a volunteer in George Deukmejian's 1982 campaign for Governor. She then worked in the Governor's Press Office in Sacramento, the 1986 reelection campaign and the State Department of Commerce. In 1988, she worked in the Bush Campaign while I was California's Victory '88 Finance Chairman. She then returned to the Commerce Department awaiting her present appointment.

Christine is very happy in her work as Assistant to John Bolton. Unfortunately, she took a $10,000 reduction in salary when she took her position. Her first choice was to work at the White House, but there were no openings. Christine is an extremely loyal person. I know that she would not on her own volition say anything to anyone or take any steps to improve her position. I have not told her and do not plan to tell her that I am writing to you.

I would like to see Christine's position in the Bush Administration advance, and believe that if the advancement originated with a contact to her from the White House, it would be easier on her, as she feels very loyal to Mr. Bolton. Once again, I believe the White House would be her first choice.

I believe you would find Christine to be capable, industrious and discreet.

If in the months ahead an opening should develop, I would be most grateful. I have hesitated to bother you with this, but thought that if anyone would understand, you would.

Sincerely,

Governor Sununu -

As a person who has come to know more about services for those with mental illness than she had ever wanted to know I especially want to thank you for being at our NAMI banquet. Especially in a gathering of national participants N.H. Sheries.

I believe our next greatest need is for improving the quality of life for those not in the hospital. We are focussing on this area as an organization - as well as encouraging consumer self help. My special interest is in vocational activity. We are helping the assorted agencies develop more creative approaches -

Sincerely,
Rick Sherman

Dear Sir,

I have been a supporter of President Bush for a long time and helped, in a significant way, to get him votes here in Hawaii. I want the Administration to succeed.

We have read that the President has designated Aurelia E. Brazeal as the new ambassador to the Federated States of Micronesia. It occurred to me that a person with my background and experience in dealing with people of varied ethnic and cultural backgrounds plus my many successful years in business might be of help to her. If so, I would consider leaving private enterprise for government service.

Would you please have one of your aids transmit this letter and attached material to her for subsequent review and reply?

I wish you and the President continued future success and our prayers for your continued good health.

Sincerely,

Dear John:

I am writing to invite you to speak to a group of my constituents on the morning of Monday, October 1, 1990, in the Old Executive Office Building. These constituents are very special to me, as they comprise my "Congressional Club", a group of people who have been my most loyal supporters over the years.

Earlier this year, I had joined with Congressmen Oxley and Gillmor in scheduling a similar briefing session, but was forced to reschedule my own group for this later date in the fall. Knowing that the first week in October promises to be an extremely busy time for all of us, I nonetheless want to invite you to participate, and would be very grateful for your serious consideration.

The briefings are scheduled from approximately 9:30 AM to 12:00 AM on Monday, October 1. I will, of course, accommodate your schedule in arranging the most convenient time for your remarks.

Thank you for your personal interest in and consideration of this request, and I look forward to hearing from you at your convenience.

Sincerely,

E. Clay Shaw, Jr.

Dear Governor Sununu:

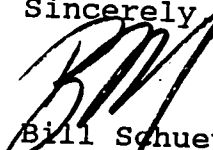

I am extremely concerned with reports that the members of the Budget Summit are considering cuts in Social Security benefits and taxes on these benefits. This is unacceptable.

Any tax increase on Social Security benefits or any reduction in the Social Security base benefit or COLA represents regressive policy. It would be tantamount to unfair confiscation of pension benefits for which recipients have paid.

Please oppose any change to Social Security other than removing the surplus from the budget in order to protect our citizens' hard earned dollars and quit masking the true size of our federal deficit.

I will oppose any effort to tax or reduce Social Security benefits.

Governor John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear Governor Sununu:

Though this letter may be almost ten years late, I have followed the old adage and here it is.

After the stunning victory of Reagan-Bush in 1980 the "citizen" army that Bill Casey had authorized and strongly supported under the management of Max Hugel disappeared as the soldiers were left to fend for themselves. In contrast, Martin Anderson's youth brigade including the gold dust twins Bandow and Hopkins and munchkin Barbara Honegger—last seen as a Jesse Jackson issue's person—went en masse to the Transition Office.

But hope springs eternal and Liddy Dole, who during the campaign was sedated with the title, "Chairman, Citizens Advisory Council," ostensibly a notch above the streetwise Hugel who was merely, "Director, Citizens Operations," went to the White House as chief of Public Liaison. Many of us, mistakenly, assumed she would continue the feeding and caring of those voter groups which had given Reagan an edge over Carter. Though President Reagan and Vice President Bush didn't need much help to win in 1984, the opportunity to organize and expand those networks for future elections was frittered away by Mrs. Dole and her successors.

This is not to say that "Public Liaison" does not have a role and I have not heard any loud complaints about the feminization of the post. Nevertheless, as the potholes and hurdles loom before 1992, it would appear worthwhile to consider returning to a few basics. Namely, that some "citizens" be brought back on board to work with constituencies they know, so with the start of the campaign in mid '92 the lines of communication will be well established. Cheerleading and gathering audiences may look good but it is thin gruel for getting people out to vote.

Max Hugel had it right when he often explained that aside from the primary issues of war and peace, bread and butter, what motivated people to go to the polls is hearing (or reading) a candidate discuss their jobs or vocations in a way which clearly displays knowledge and understanding of their industry or business, the problems, the prospects and a reasonable commitment to try to help improve the situation.

If I may give a suggestion: You could look at one of the old campaign rosters to see the extent of the "citizens" operation in '80 which involved about one-fifth of the staff in the Arlington Headquarters. The scope and depth of that operation has never been fully assessed, but I think if you asked Ed Meese, Ed Gray, Lyn Nofziger or Dick Lyng, they would agree that it was effective and significant.

uly 25, 1990

For example, because of my background in lumber and homebuilding, I was assigned the Forest Industries. Starting with the National Forest Products Association, a federation of associations with which I was familiar, the contacts led to the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, a 850,000 member union which interestingly used to be pro-Republican. Doors were also opened to NAHB, wood preservers, the Wholesale and Retail Lumber Dealers Association, other national associations such as the American Plywood Association and, of course, the big and small lumber and paper companies. The networks which radiate from forest industries are in every state and in several, notably Oregon and Washington, hold the key to winning elections.

One person with only a little secretarial backup can cover a range of activities. I also worked with Maritime Industries and quickly found that there was strong Republican leadership in the shipping and shipbuilding sectors. These management people in turn were able to bring maritime union members on board for Reagan-Bush.

This letter is getting too long so let me conclude by saying I would be willing to help, but not as a volunteer, not in Public Liaison, and not at RNC. I live close by and would be happy to respond to questions or inquiries.

Sincerely,

Thomas W. Schaaf

Dear Sirs,

We are writing to express our opposition to the new policy adopted by the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission regarding the deregulation of a large portion of "low-level" radioactive waste, and request your assistance in overruling this new policy.

We feel this policy is detrimental to our environment, and it creates an additional risk to public health and safety that cannot be justified based on the limited economic benefit it could provide to the commercial nuclear industry.

We are especially concerned with the N.R.C.'s attempt to preempt state and local authority regarding the disposal of deregulated radioactive waste at local landfills and incinerators. It also raises the possibility of certain radioactive materials being recycled into consumer products. As you know, all of the communities in our state are struggling to deal with solid waste, and this new policy will only exacerbate their problem.

Under the new N.R.C. policy a third or more of the nation's "low-level" radioactive waste is eligible for deregulation, but the N.R.C. has not adopted any exposure limits for waste that may be deregulated. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has criticized the new policy for creating potentially high exposure levels, thereby significantly increasing the cancer risk to all our state's residents. Given the December 1989 National Academy of Sciences report of "The Biological Effects of Ionizing Radiation (BIER 5)", which stated that the risk of developing cancer from exposure to low-levels of radiation may be three to five times higher than previously estimated, and the recent disclosure by the federal government of the magnitude of radiation released from the Hanford Washington Nuclear Reservation in the 1940's, which as of this writing, has not been evaluated health and safety effects, the N.R.C. policy appears to be both illogical and premature.

On June 26, 1990 Representative George Miller, Chairman of the House Interior Subcommittee on Energy and the Environment will begin hearings on this important issue. We urge you to attend these hearings and support efforts to overrule this policy.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Sincerely,

Dear Governor Sununu:

As you may recall, last January you received an invitation to address the opening session of the Water Pollution Control Federation's (WPCF) annual conference at the Washington Convention Center on the morning of Monday, October 8, 1990.

Realizing that it is difficult for you to know your scheduling demands so far in advance, we simply wanted to reiterate our invitation. We believe this would be a tremendous opportunity to speak on an environmental topic before an audience of civil and environmental engineers, wastewater treatment plant managers, and others just before the fall elections. We are now expecting over 15,000 participants for this year's conference, making it the largest of its kind in North America.

Should you wish to speak, we feel certain that the opening session would provide you with a platform from which to expound upon the President's environmental policy. Please have your staff contact the Federation's Executive Director, Dr. Quincalee Brown, at our headquarters in Alexandria, Virginia, (703) 684-2400, if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Dear Governor Sununu,

The editor of The Times has asked me to write a 4000 word profile of you for publication in a new Times colour magazine which appears in London every Saturday. He is particularly interested to cover the advice to Mr. Gorbachev on how to run a presidency as well as Cuba and U.S. domestic issues. We would be very grateful if you would give me a short on-the-record interview, if possible in the next few weeks.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Dear John -

Have just read in today's Longview "Daily News" report of Mandela's talks with President Bush. Do not know what "requirements the U.S. legislation" are but in my simplistic view after living in So. Africa since February (where Martin was teaching at the University of Capetown) the sanctions do not help the poor Blacks of So Africa.

Enclosed is part of a letter written to our daughter in N.Y. relating some of my first hand impressions of Soweto shortly after International news reporting incidents to indicate a grave concern abroad re: Welkom which were blown out of proportion! Several days later we passed Welkom & although we did not actually tour the area all appeared quite normal & the roads were passable with transportation operating.

Martin is now at Exeter University in the U.K. where I hope to join up with him in July. Have routed myself through Eastern African countries via Rhodes Rail Route (announced before his death) Capetown to Cairo, which gives one a closer perspective of these Independent African countries.

Please pass on the enclosed Soweto comments to President Bush.

Regards to Nancy.

Sincerely,

Jeane Seaman

Dear Governor Sununu:

I was very pleased to see you and Nancy at the Dedication of the Christa McAuliffe Planetarium. It has been 4-1/2 years since I first met with you relative to a Memorial for Christa, and I was so happy that you were able to be at the Dedication. However, the Planetarium is not the main subject of this letter.

I have heard that the Office of Management and Budget is proposing major changes relative to the pharmaceuticals that may be dispensed to Medicare and Medicaid patients, this being a part of Budget Reconciliation. What I hear and read is very disturbing to me.

As you probably know, prior to coming to the N.H. Legislature, I was for 25 years with G.D. Searle & Co., producers and distributors of Ethical Pharmaceuticals. Inasmuch as Marian and I are both recipients of Medicare and average 75 years of age, I feel I must speak out against OMB's Proposal. As I understand, if passed it will push the practice of medicine for the Medicare and Medicaid patient into the hands of Bureaucrats within a newly created "National Pharmacy & Therapeutic Committee". They then have the power to substitute medication that was prescribed by the primary physician. This not only gives them full permission to replace the Primary Doctor's prescription with another medication but goes way beyond that and allows the Pharmacist to change to a different piece of chemistry providing it is cheaper.

I feel this procedure is an injustice to the elderly and the poor, giving them potentially dangerous medical treatment. This new program not only allows this but holds the Pharmacist harmless from any malpractice and legal action, such as the M.D. has to insure himself against.

This freedom from possible legal action is definitely not given to the Physician when writing prescriptions for his patients.

The OMB proposal allowing therapeutic substitutions I feel subjects Medicare and Medicaid patients to a Second Class System of Health Care and probably in the end will cost more money to administer the program than it does at the present time. This could happen because of more patient visits to the doctor, and will increase hospital admissions to make corrections of dosage and changes of medication because the product dispensed was not that which the physician prescribed originally after making his diagnosis. Furthermore it creates a new Bureaucracy.

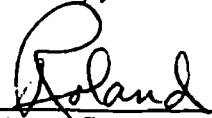

The New Hampshire Medical Society shares my concerns in regard to this proposal because it would allow pharmacists to "practice medicine" without a medical license. Physicians have the education and training to understand pharmacology and the effects on their patients, based on physical examination and personal patient history.

The Medical Society is also very concerned about the liability issue. If a physician prescribes a specific medication but a member of the proposed committee, not necessarily a pharmacist, makes a therapeutic substitution, who is liable when the patient has an adverse reaction? To allow pharmacists, without the necessary educational background, to change medications and then have no liability is unethical.

It is disturbing that the Federal Government would be willing to jeopardize quality patient care in an attempt to reduce prescription costs.

Because the Administration and Congressional members are now deliberating this proposal, I felt I must convey my thoughts to you in regard to the matter.

Sincerely,

Roland Sallada

Dear Ms. Kennedy:

As you know I had written to Dr. Sununu asking him to be our luncheon guest speaker on August 27, 1990. Your response (copy attached) was to repeat the invitation at a later date, closer to the date of the event.

Would you please convey to Dr. Sununu that the International Conference on Environmental Issues and management of Waste in Energy and Minerals Production is scheduled to take place on August 27-29 at Meadowlands Hilton Hotel, Secaucus, NJ, and will be attended by a select group of participants from U.S. Government, Industry, and academia, as well as by a select group of individuals from several foreign countries.

A luncheon is scheduled for August 27, 1990 during which we shall be honored to have Dr. Sununu among us. Considering his leadership in this area Dr. Sununu's address to the conference participants is of extreme importance and value to us.

I am enclosing a copy of our program announcement for your information. As soon as we hear from you, this announcement will be reprinted to include Dr. Sununu's name as the guest speaker.

I look forward hearing from you. Please contact me at (212)-854-2926 (or Professor T.M. Yegulalp, co-chairman of the conference, at 212-854-2984, FAX: 212-854-8362) if we can provide any additional information.

Sincerely yours,

The Honorable John H. Sununu

Dear Governor Sununu:

As Congress and the Administration seek to negotiate a solution to the present federal budget problem, we wanted to share with you the securities industry's perspective on resolving this very complex and critical issue.

First, we believe that any budget solution should promote the crucial economic goal of building the basis for continued long term economic growth. Economic growth will be enhanced by increased savings at the personal, corporate, and governmental levels, which should lead to greater long term investment.

Of course, the greatest "drain" on savings is the federal deficit, and so a serious effort to reduce the deficit would be the first important step toward increasing savings, investment and economic growth.

We concur with policy-makers who believe that deficit reduction proposals which would retard economic growth, weaken international competitiveness, or discourage savings and investment would be counterproductive. We are concerned about three specific tax proposals that have been suggested by various sources. We favor a capital gains differential and new incentives for individual savings, but would strongly oppose any new securities transaction excise tax.

The capital gains component is essential to reducing the cost of capital. Our international competitors recognize the fact in their tax laws and enjoy lower capital costs. Experience has proven that a capital gains exclusion is a powerful and effective stimulant to equity investment. At a time when the reliance on debt is at a disturbing level, such a proposal is badly needed.

The family savings plan also benefits from historical experience which indicates that personal savings incentives can be very effective. Individual Retirement Accounts were extraordinarily effective in boosting savings by millions of Americans, and the majority of the contributions were new savings. Unlike full restoration of IRA deductions, however, the family savings plan offers greater flexibility and avoids potentially large immediate cost. The home ownership component adds flexibility to existing IRA accounts and would assist young Americans seeking to save to purchase their first home.

All of these proposals could be improved or modified, but their enactment in some form would be positive steps toward improving the woefully low U.S. rate of individual savings. We eagerly support that objective.

At the same time, a securities transaction excise tax has re-surfaced as a possible revenue raising measure. A transaction tax would be detrimental to economic growth because of its effects on millions of working Americans' savings, capital formation, U.S. investment and foreign competition.

Investors could be taxed even if the security were sold at a loss and faces both the transfer tax and the income tax on gains. For mutual funds, fund managers would be taxed at the fund level when they buy and sell stocks, and the mutual fund investor might also be taxed when he purchases or sells shares of the mutual funds.

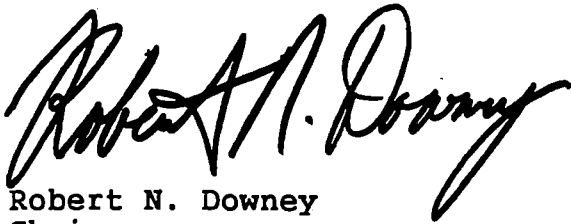

The proposal discriminates against capital formation, reduces the net return to savers and exacerbates the tax bias in favor of consumption. In addition, a transaction tax would cause a decline in trading volume resulting in reduced liquidity and lower securities prices. If the tax is not applied to all securities, it will also bias decisions in favor of untaxed securities. If equity securities are subject to tax, but debt instruments are not, the tax will add to the existing bias in favor of debt.

Due to the internationalization of securities markets and the sensitivity of investors to transaction costs, some transactions will be diverted to foreign markets, reducing any revenues derived from the tax. Internationally, of the nine trading partners who currently have a transaction tax, six are either eliminating the tax or reducing the rate.

We ask you to oppose this type of tax as a new source of government revenue. Few other taxes would be as strongly opposed by our industry, which has witnessed the deterioration of market liquidity and declining volume since the 1987 market crash.

We believe that any budget resolution should encourage savings and investment, and therefore promote long term economic growth. We appreciate your consideration of our views.

Sincerely yours,

Robert N. Downey

Re: Safety of the U.S. Food Supply

Dear Dr. Sununu:

A release received today dated June, 1990, from Harmony Books, a Division of Crown Publishers, calls attention to a book scheduled for publication October, 1990, under the title: "Diet for a Poisoned Planet." The author, David Steinman, "proves that many foods...including milk chocolate, peanut butter, cheese, and ice cream, contain dangerously high levels of toxins and pesticides." This statement is false!

The release continues: "A senior science advisor from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency found Steinman's message to be so important he contributed a foreword to the book." The "advisor" is not named, hence, I cannot check scientific qualifications, but it is most unfortunate if we have a "senior science advisor" in our EPA lend his name to such nonsense, and I suppose he will be identified with the EPA. There is not one single report in the medical-nutritional literature of anyone ever becoming ill as a result of toxins or pesticide residues on foods purchased in any grocery store in our country.

We have by far the safest food supply of any country, and our FDA and USDA help keep it that way. It would be helpful if you and others in the Bush administration would speak out on these issues. I'm aware of only one government official who has done so, and that is Dr. Clayton Yeuter.

While on the subject of food, may I state what a waste of time and money it is for various congressional committees and governmental agencies to press for more extensive food labeling which few consumers will read, understand, or need. There is essentially no evidence that health in this country is impaired by lack of any of the vitamins or any minerals, except possibly iron and calcium, so why waste time and money on elaborate nutrient labeling?

People in our country will be as well nourished as their genetic potential permits if they simply eat a variety of foods from among and within the basic food groups and adjust their caloric intake to caloric output to reach and maintain a reasonable weight.

Sincerely,

Dear Chief Sununu:

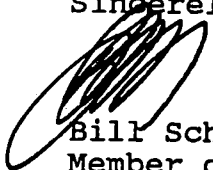

As you are aware, I am opposed to any conclusion to the ongoing summit negotiations which will increase taxes. In light of recent news stories, I feel I would be remiss if I did not point out the adverse consequences a British Thermal Unit (Btu) or carbon energy tax would impose on Michigan.

A tax such as I have seen proposed would add $1 billion dollars a year to the cost of products manufactured in Michigan, which is among the top ten states in overall energy consumption due to its heavy manufacturing economy. This would adversely affect employment in the state -- which has a history of employment problems. This tax is grossly unfair to states like Michigan and only serves to increase the "regional warfare" which has characterized the states in their dealings with the federal government. It is especially inequitable in light of the fact that Michigan has one of the highest populations in the country -- eighth, in fact -- and yet ranks 50th in terms of receipt of federal funds.

As a consequence, Michigan's taxpayers send $1 to Washington and get 70 cents in return. The proposed regressive Btu or carbon energy tax would further increase this vast discrepancy, while at the same time work a real hardship on low income and fixed income elderly who are least able to pay for an increase in their gas or electricity bills. Many of these people are already facing "heat or eat" decisions.

Please join me in opposing not only the implementation of any budget deal containing new taxes, but of a Btu, carbon or other related energy tax. Any of these alternatives would be grossly unfair to the manufacturing states, and Michigan in particular.

Sincerely

Bill Schuette
Member of Congress

EXXON COMPANY, U.S.A.

POST OFFICE BOX 2180 • HOUSTON, TEXAS 77252-2180

W. D. STEVENS
PRESIDENT

July 16, 1990

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff
Executive Office of the President
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. Sununu:

I am writing to you to express my serious concerns with provisions in the Civil Rights Act of 1990 (H.R.4000/S.2104) that may damage or diminish the efforts and progress being made in the United States towards true equality in the workplace.

Exxon is well beyond the numerical basics of equal opportunity and affirmative action. We are entering an era where the ability to attract, retain and motivate employees from diverse cultures is essential to our success. Our company spends substantial managerial effort and financial resources on recruiting, diversity training, female and minority upward mobility and minority education at the secondary level. We are also supporting efforts to significantly enhance utilization of math and science training and other programs designed to promote early development of the technical skills needed in the workforce of the future. We are devoting our energy to these tasks with enthusiasm and high expectations that everyone will win.

In that spirit, it is particularly discouraging to realize the degree to which our focus may have to be changed if the Civil Rights Act of 1990 is enacted in its current form. The bill does not merely change five 1989 Supreme Court decisions; it radically alters almost 25 years of Civil Rights legislation. We conclude that the fundamental shift from conciliation to jury trials with compensatory and punitive damages as well as mandatory lawyers and witnesses fees will lead to huge effort and expense in litigation instead of enhanced opportunity for individuals.

We fear that the Wards Cove decision will be reversed in a manner that can only lead to quotas in virtually every aspect of the employment relationship. A major employer with large applicant flows for many positions who has used the selection criteria industry has historically followed under the business necessity standards of Griggs will now be subject to litigation for which there is no viable defense.

For these and other reasons, I believe the bill is wrong for equal opportunity because it will change our focus from positive actions to defensive action, and wrong because the focus on litigation conflicts with true progress that individuals and companies are achieving and can achieve in the future.

The Honorable John Sununu

July 16, 1990

We continue to be committed to a positive approach to individual equality for all Americans, and fully support the President's Rose Garden comments on May 17th in which he stated that he would not sign a quota bill and did not want a lawyer's bonanza which encourages litigation at the expense of conciliation, mediation or settlement. We certainly hope the President will stand firm in his resolve not to sign a bill like S.2104. We urge you to express our concerns to the President and those who are negotiating a compromise on this crucial legislative initiative.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "John Sununu", is written over a faint, circular official stamp.

Dear Governor,

Thank you for the TV Tapes of the President. I'll proudly use them in my ads
this fall.

Alabam,

Pat
