PERSONAL & CONFIDENTIAL

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

It is indeed regrettable that you and your family have had to endure so much attention of late from the media. My hope is that a little time will put an end to all the speculation and let you have the privacy you deserve.

I shall always be appreciative of the help you gave me in obtaining Veterans Disability Compensation. My life is vastly different because of these benefits, and they would not have been available to me, even though the circumstances warranted them, without your help, as well as that of Cardinal Law. My mother and I share a home with Cardinal Law's mother.

Although I have never had the privilege of meeting you, all the recent news accounts prompted my writing. My father was the late Chief Justice of the Mississippi Supreme Court, and I know how difficult it is to serve the public.

My mother joins me in the views I have expressed in this letter, and I am confident that if my father were alive, he would also.

Respectfully yours,

Thomas C. Ethridge

The Honorable John Sununu
Chief of Staff
Ex. Office of The President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor:

I am writing to request that you call EPA Administrator William Reilly to direct EPA to continue discussions with the wood preserving industry on a regulation effecting it. I hope that these discussions will achieve a more cost effective regulation that meets the President's FY 1992 Budget goals and provide adequate compliance time.

On December 6, 1990, EPA promulgated a final rule for the industry which the President's Budget has identified as the least cost effective regulation in over 20 years. The regulation's cost per premature death averted, according to the Budget, is $5.7 trillion. EPA and the industry are currently discussing implementation issues raised by the final rule including unreasonable compliance deadlines. It will simply be impossible for most wood preserving facilities to meet a June 6, 1991 deadline.

In 1989 and 1990, I was among 150 Members of Congress who strongly urged EPA to regulate the wood preserving industry using an integrated, multi-statute approach. EPA has ignored these Congressional requests and has promulgated a cost-ineffective, RCRA-only regulation that is no more protective of human health and the environment than alternatives proposed by the industry and rejected by EPA. Industry-wide capital expenditures for the EPA regulation could be as high as $5 billion, easily exceeding more than twice the estimated net value of the industry. Most wood preserving companies have insufficient capital to meet the EPA regulation's costs. EPA's final rule will force a significant number of plant closings within the industry.

EPA has been told of the potential economic harm that could result from its actions and has acknowledged that some of the rule's negative effects were not intended. In this vein, EPA should work diligently to address industry's legitimate concerns.

I appreciate your immediate attention to this issue which affects so many of my constituents.

Sincerely,

MIKE ESPY
Member of Congress

Attention: Jackie Kennedy

The Gold Coast Forum, Mr. Sununu...

...is a group of leading business, professional, political, and civic personalities that meets for lunch on a monthly basis to discuss important issues. Patterned after the Detroit Economic Club and the National Press Club, the group is non-partisan and doesn't endorse candidates or take stands on issues. Previous speakers have included Fortune 500 Chairmen and Presidents and national political figures.

We would like to invite you to be our guest speaker on a date convenient to your schedule, at a noon luncheon of the Forum at the Boca Raton Marriott Crocker Center.

Hopefully, we can entice you to spend a weekend in Florida. We can provide you with roundtrip air transportation via American Airlines and ground transportation via the Florida Limousine Association. Of course, the Boca Raton Marriott would be pleased to host you if you'd like to stay for the weekend.

Thank you for your consideration and I look forward to your favorable reply, as soon as possible.

Cordially,

THE COLUMBUS DISPATCH

Governor Sununu:

Following up our conversation on Saturday night.

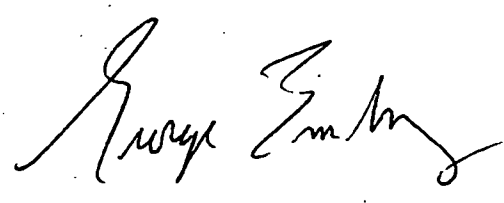

As I urged you to understand, we are not all alike.

Here's my Sunday column.

I would like to take you up on your offer to come over for a talk.

After 25 years on the Washington beat and 40 with The Dispatch covering all levels of government, I do have some perspective.

Regards,

those state stores with the highest operating cost, a halfway measure the legislature rejected two years ago.

The state budget has to balance, and if Democrats can't find $40 million somewhere, the liquor plan could pass of necessity, probably after being folded into the budget bill.

James Bradshaw covers state government for The Dispatch.

The fates can be merciless to a politician. Sooner or later the heady perfume of his profession intoxicates him. Perhaps the scene is the packed gymnasium of an out-of-the-way high school. The band strikes up a patriotic air, the lights burn bright, the crowd roars, and as the pol takes the stage he succumbs. With waves of adulation pouring over him he opens his mouth, and out pops a promise he will rue to the end of his career — which may, as a result, come sooner than he wants.

This sad scenario now haunts Sen. Kent Conrad, Democrat of North Dakota. Conrad is scarcely a household name, but as a symbol of the modern political dilemma he does very well. The

Thank you for considering me for the position of Deputy Assistant to the President for Legislative Affairs. I appreciate the time you took to review my credentials and interview me, and was honored to be considered for this appointment. While I was not selected for this particular job, I hope to have the opportunity to serve the President, you, and our country in the future as part of the Bush Administration.

Thank you again. If I may be of service to you or the Administration at any time, please contact me. Until then, I remain

JOHN ENGLER
GOVERNOR

April 9, 1991

The Honorable John Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

It has come to my attention that a Michigan native, Jim Quello, is up for reappointment to the Federal Communications Commission.

Jim has served on the FCC for 17 years, having originally been appointed by President Nixon and reappointed twice by President Reagan. Prior to his appointment to the Commission, Jim was an integral part of Michigan's broadcast communications industry for nearly 30 years.

The Michigan Association of Broadcasters, which represents hundreds of Michigan radio and TV stations, unanimously endorsed Jim for this re-appointment, and I concur with their judgment.

Like the President, Jim is a decorated WWII veteran who went on to devote much of his life to public service. The people have been ably served during his 17 years on the FCC, and he deserves the opportunity to continue in that post for another term.

I hope that you will recommend Jim to President Bush when this decision comes up for review.

Sincerely,

John Engler
Governor

Dear Governor Sununu:

I am writing to urge continued discussions between EPA and the wood preserving industry on a regulation intended to minimize health risks. I hope that these discussions will achieve a more cost effective regulation that meets the President's FY 1992 budget goals and will also provide adequate compliance time.

On December 6, 1990, EPA promulgated a final rule for the industry which the President's budget has identified as the least cost effective regulation in over 20 years. The regulation's cost per premature death averted, according to this budget, is $5.7 trillion. EPA and the wood preserving industry are currently discussing implementation issues raised by the final rule including reasonable compliance deadlines. It will simply be impossible for most wood preserving facilities to meet a June 6, 1991, deadline.

Industry wide capital expenditures for the EPA regulation could be as high as $5 billion, easily exceeding twice the estimated net value of the industry. Most wood preserving companies have insufficient capital to meet the EPA regulation's costs. EPA's final rule will force a significant number of plant closings within the industry.

EPA has been told of the potential economic harm that could result from its actions and has acknowledged that some of the rule's negative effects were not intended.

I appreciate your attention to the wood preserving industry's concerns. If I, or my staff may, be of any assistance to you, please do not hesitate to let me know.

Sincerely yours,

Ben Erdreich

The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

I am writing to let you know of my concerns about the current discussions at the Environmental Protection Agency regarding regulations for the wood preserving industry. The EPA up to this point, really has not used their good judgment in revising the regulations; the EPA needs to be directed to work with the industry to formulate a practical, workable, and cost effective solution that meets the President's FY 1992 Budget goals and provide adequate compliance time. I call upon your good common sense to direct the EPA to bring some sensibility to this process.

On December 6, 1990, EPA promulgated a final rule for the industry which the President's Budget has identified as the least cost effective regulation in over 20 years. The regulation's cost per premature death averted, according to the Budget, is $5.7 trillion. EPA and the industry are currently discussing implementation issues raised by the final rule including unreasonable compliance deadlines. It will simply be impossible for most wood preserving facilities to meet a June 6, 1991 deadline.

In 1989 and 1990, I was among 150 Members of Congress who strongly urged EPA to regulate the wood preserving industry using an integrated, multi-statute approach. EPA has ignored these Congressional requests and has promulgated a cost-ineffective, RCRA-only regulation that is no more protective of human health and the environment than alternatives proposed by the industry and rejected by EPA.

Industry-wide capital expenditures for the EPA regulation could be as high as $5 billion, easily exceeding more than twice the estimated net value of the industry. Most wood preserving companies have insufficient capital to meet the EPA regulation's costs. EPA's final rule will force a significant number of plant closings within the industry.

EPA has been told of the potential economic harm that could result from its actions and has acknowledged that some of the rule's negative effects were not intended. In this vein, EPA should work diligently to address industry's legitimate concerns.

I appreciate your immediate attention to this issue which affects so many of my constituents.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Kennedy:

I'm writing once again in reference to the invitation to Governor Sununu to participate in the ISM/NSM keynote session here in Lexington on September 23. In your July 25, 1990 letter (copy attached) you indicated that Governor Sununu would give this invitation every consideration, but requested me to repeat the invitation as time grew closer. Time is drawing nearer, and I would like to repeat the invitation.

I realize that Governor Sununu's schedule is highly unpredictable and dependent upon national and international affairs, e.g. we've completed one war since last writing you! While we would be delighted if conditions are such that Governor Sununu could be present for the opening of our conference, everyone certainly would understand if he was unable to make the presentation. If this proved to be the case, I would like to be able to show a video tape containing Governor Sununu's remarks. In this event, we would use a high resolution video projector and project the image on a very large screen in the meeting room. Although this would not replace the presence of Governor Sununu, it would certainly serve as a back-up.

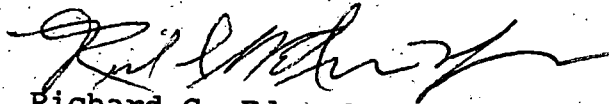

I'm enclosing a video tape that contains the introduction of Governor Sununu, and a script that he could use as a guide for his remarks. Quite obviously, he should feel free to edit or replace completely the script with any other he might choose. If he could have his remarks video taped (we can work with any tape format) and sent to me I can have the opening and introduction placed in front of his remarks and the final tape sent back to you, for your approval, before its to be shown at our conference. I'll look forward to receiving Governor Sununu's video taped comments at his convenience.

Ms. Kennedy, thank you for all your help and consideration. I'm still hoping that the Governor will be able to be with us in September, but I think it is important that we make the proposed contingency plan with the video tape!

Enclosed please find a copy of the letter I sent to Secretary Richard Cheney last week.

The Wurtsmith Air Force Base is a potential candidate for closure, and I wanted you to know of my strong opposition to its closure. As I explain in the letter to Secretary Cheney, Wurtsmith is an invaluable military and economic asset to Michigan and the entire United States.

Any help you can render in keeping Wurtsmith open and fully resourced would be appreciated.

Dear Dr. Sununu:

As chairman of the committee that authored Policy Implications of Greenhouse Warming, I am pleased to invite you to a pre-release dinner and briefing. I hope you will join me on Tuesday evening, April 9, 1991, at the National Academy of Sciences, 2101 Constitution Avenue N.W., Washington, D.C., beginning with a reception at 6:30 p.m. in the Great Hall. Dinner will be served in the Lecture Room at 7:00 p.m. The discussion following dinner will provide an opportunity for Administration officials, Members of Congress, and private sector leaders to discuss aspects of the report with its authors.

This report was written with policymakers in mind. It not only looks at the state of scientific knowledge about greenhouse gases and their effects, but also provides a framework for making decisions about mitigation and adaptation policies. The study was conducted under the auspices of the Committee on Science, Engineering, and Public Policy. It represents the work of over 40 scientists and policy experts who were members of the Academy's Panel on Policy Implications of Greenhouse Warming and its working groups.

At the dinner briefing a number of my committee members will join me in describing the report and discussing our findings with you. I look forward to a candid and lively discussion. The report will be released at a press conference and public briefing the following day.

I hope that you can join me and my colleagues on the evening of April 9. Please respond to Donna Carter, (202) 334-1601.

Yours sincerely,

Daniel J. Evans

Do you think you could help us because I don't know what to do to get the NIMH to test Dr. David Hawkins successful method for preventing tardive dyskinesia. As things stand now only patients of orthomolecular psychiatrists are protected against this cruel side effect which can disfigure you permanently. American Water Works Association | 6666 West Quincy Avenue | Denver, CO 80235 | 303 794-7711

March 12, 1991

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Ave., N.W.
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

You may recall that when you were Governor of New Hampshire you accepted on two occasions an invitation from me to speak to the New England Water Works Association. It is now my privilege, as President of the American Water Works Association (AWWA), to extend a most cordial invitation to you to be the keynote speaker at our 1991 Annual Conference and Exposition to be held in Philadelphia, June 23-27. The keynote address is given during the opening general session on Monday morning, June 24, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

You might want to know that AWWA is the world's oldest and largest association of professionals in the field of public water supply. We have more than 52,000 members, whose employers provide most of the drinking water served in this country. In fact, more than 3,500 municipalities, from the largest to very small communities, are members of AWWA. Our annual conference is the largest event of its kind, attracting about 10,000 participants--about half of whom would be in the opening general session audience we hope you will address.

If your schedule permits you to accept this invitation, Governor, we can get back to you or your staff to work out the details and arrangements. As you make your decision, just be assured that you would find your AWWA audience to be an interested, receptive, and supportive one. There will be people there from every state and several hundred from abroad. We hope you will consider this event as a useful platform to address some of the Administration's issues with key officials and business people.

On Tuesday, April 9, we have a tentative appointment with Ms. Bobbie Kilberg, Deputy Assistant to the President for Public Liaison. If it would be helpful to you, we could also use that occasion to visit briefly with you or one of your staff on arrangements, topics for your talk, etc.

Thank you for your kind attention and consideration.

Sincerely yours,

Frederick H. Elwell

Dear Governor:

I want to express my strong opposition to the proposed Executive Order which would ban smoking in all work space occupied by Federal employees.

The regulations imposed by the General Services Administration more than adequately accommodate smokers and nonsmokers in federal buildings and should not be extended to the point of totally banning smoking in a federal work space. The GSA regulations have been implemented by every agency with minimal complaint. Adoption of the proposed Executive Order will unnecessarily disrupt a program which is working quite well and unduly discriminate against employees and visitors to federal buildings and grounds who choose to smoke.

The mere consideration of such a misguided proposal only serves to promote a truly undesirable precedent. I appeal to your sense of fair policy and strongly urge this order not be implemented.

Sincerely,

BILL EMERSON

Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
White House

Dear Mr. Sununu:

First, I would like to share your joy and pride in the successful conclusion of the outstanding military operations of Desert Storm.

However, the primary reason I am writing is to let you know that the challenge you issued to the National Water Supply Improvement Association has resulted in several of positive actions.

In 1986, as Governor of New Hampshire, you spoke to our Annual Conference in Washington DC and challenged us to "...get the word out" about desalting technology. You stated very eloquently that public and legislators' awareness about the realities of this technology is based largely on misinformation.

As a result, NWSIA, along with its Regional Affiliate in California, prepared and distributed two white papers on the subject of desalting and water recycling.

More recently, we have been working closely with Senator Paul Simon on legislation to promote much-needed research. Ultimate benefits will be extension of our water resources and desalting cost reductions.

Senator Simon's efforts have resulted in S.481, the Water Research Act of 1991 (copy enclosed). This bill is totally consistent with our Association's Mission Statement "to improve and extend the nation's water resources through the development and advancement of desalting, water recycling and water science technologies."

The recent oil spill disaster in the Persian Gulf focussed public attention on the large seawater desalting plants of the Middle East.

four years of drought in California and water shortages in Florida and other regions of this country have shown how local water deficiencies effect the entire nation through increased food prices and the loss of jobs.

The time is right to get our message out about the need for additional research programs to extend water resources. NWSIA is committed to that goal.

We are therefore once again asking your help. Any support you can provide for passage of S.481 will be greatly appreciated.

Yours truly,

Gordon Elser

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

I am extremely concerned about recently-issued proposed IRS regulations which would discourage American telecommunications companies from expanding and effectively competing both domestically and internationally.

As currently drafted, the proposed IRS regulations would sanction the use of non-utility federal tax benefits to reduce utility rates. This prospect is extremely disturbing to me in view of my belief that such a change in federal tax policy would be inconsistent with and damaging to much broader federal policy objectives directed to the deficit, the economy, free trade and open competition, and the advancement of emerging technologies.

Many companies in our industry have both utility and non-utility subsidiaries. The regulations as proposed would have a significant impact on the ability of these companies, including United, to economically justify investing in new non-utility ventures. For example, had these proposed rules existed five years ago, the economic analysis which supported the decision to move forward with the construction of the nation's first 100% fully digital fiber optic telecommunications network by our subsidiary, US Sprint, would have been dramatically altered. Such ventures have, to date, been a significant source of economic growth, new jobs, new leading edge technology, and increasing American access to foreign markets. Sprint today has 20,000 employees.

The current Administration has strongly encouraged the telecommunications industry to invest internationally. Our industry has forged ahead in response, but we simply cannot be expected to effectively compete in the global marketplace if domestic tax policy does not maintain a "level playing field".

This issue is not limited to the international marketplace. As a leader and innovator in electronic technologies, our industry plays a critical role in our domestic economy. In an era where the federal government has made domestic competition within the telecommunications industry a policy concern of tantamount importance, it is difficult to understand how the policy decision implicit in the proposed regulations can be supported. Since companies with both regulated and non-regulated subsidiaries would have to share non-regulated activity tax benefits with their regulated activity ratepayers, they would be effectively precluded from competing with totally non-regulated counterparts in the marketplace.

It is also difficult to understand at this time of significant federal budget deficits why Treasury would willingly sanction a ratemaking procedure which would result in a reduction of federal tax revenues. Through the reduction of regulated telephone rates, total federal telephone excise taxes collected will drop accordingly. Additionally, by lowering the revenues and the resulting taxable net income of regulated utility groups, a reasonably consistent source of federal income tax revenues will be significantly reduced.

Finally, I share the concerns expressed by the National Telecommunications and Information Administration ("NTIA") in its opposition to the proposed regulations. As NTIA points out, the proposed regulations conflict with other significant federal telecommunications policy.

Notwithstanding all of these concerns, I understand that as things now stand these proposed regulations are very likely to be finalized and implemented. Accordingly, I encourage your attention to this critically important matter.

Best regards,

William T. Esrey

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff
Office of the President
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W.
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Mr. Sununu:

Among the purposes of our organization is to advocate the appointment of qualified women to positions of leadership at the local, state and national levels. There are several federal judgeships which are or will be open in all three of the Districts in Tennessee. These include a District Judgeship in each of the Districts and a Bankruptcy Judgeship in the Middle District of Tennessee. There is also a vacancy on the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit which has previously been filled by a judge from Tennessee.

At present, there are no women judges in the federal judiciary in the Middle District of Tennessee, which consists of the Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, four District Judges, two Bankruptcy Judges and two Magistrates. Additionally, the United States Attorney, the Marshal and Public Defender are all males.

The Nashville Women's Political Caucus strongly urges all of those who will participate in the process of filling these judgeships to appoint a woman to any or all of them. Many women are interested in serving as judges and are qualified to do so by their experience, education, and professional skills. Women constitute a substantial portion of the legal profession, yet they are underrepresented in the judiciary.

Please continue the enlightened trend begun by President Reagan's appointment of Justice Sandra Day O'Connor to the Supreme Court; name women to fill as many District and Court of Appeals judgeships as possible; and encourage those who select the Bankruptcy Judges to do so as well.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Edwards
President

Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, DC

Dear Gov. Sununu:

I want to forward to you my strongest recommendation for Mr. David Silverbrand of Scarborough, Maine, who is very much interested in working in President Bush's re-election campaign.

Dave is a longtime friend of mine and a strong supporter and acquaintance of President Bush. He worked tirelessly for me during this past campaign and has been actively involved in restructuring the Maine Republican Party in Cumberland County.

Dave is very well-known and well-liked throughout Maine. He was a popular television newscaster with the CBS affiliate in Portland for many years, and has written two books. He has expressed to me a burning interest in helping with the Presidential campaign in some significant capacity. To say that he greatly admires the President is an understatement.

I enthusiastically offer Dave as a superb choice, and I hope you will give him every consideration. Please feel free to contact me if I can be of any assistance as you consider filling these posts.

Sincerely,

David F. Emery
Former Congressman, Maine

U.S. SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20416

RE: Status Report on SBA Health Insurance Initiative

DATE: February 14, 1991

As you know, affordable health care and health insurance are No. 1 issues on the agendas of most trade associations representing small and medium businesses. In my role as an advocate for small enterprises, I began a process last October to produce policy recommendations on this issue. This memo provides you with an interim report. The policies presented here do not comprise a final or comprehensive health-care initiative, but rather a status report on policies emerging from an evaluation of small business insurance issues.

Background

A major component of the "health care crisis" is the problem of the uninsured. Between 34 million and 36 million Americans lack health care coverage. In the last quarter of 1988, some 63 million Americans went without health coverage for at least one month.

Many of these Americans are "working uninsured". According to the Survey of Income and Program Participation (SIPP) conducted by the U.S. Bureau of the Census in 1984, 8.2 million of the uninsured are private wage-and-salary workers. An additional 1.6 million are small business owners, primarily sole proprietors. Almost half of the working uninsured are employed in firms with fewer than 25 employees; a third work in firms where there are fewer than 10 employees.

The bottom line is that the small business community is a large part of the health insurance problem, and can be a large part of the solution.

Dear Gov. Sununu:

I want to forward to you my strongest recommendation for Mr. Wayne Johnson of Yarmouth, Maine, who is seeking a position within the Dept. of the Treasury.

Wayne is a longtime friend of mine and a strong supporter of President Bush. He has worked tirelessly in past campaigns and is actively involved in restructuring the Maine Republican Party in Cumberland County.

Wayne has a particular interest in banking laws and financial procedures. He is a team player, and would be an excellent addition to the Administration's team.

Wayne is an attorney and has worked for many years as a housing consultant. He also served with the Department of Housing and Urban Development during the Nixon Administration.

I hope you will give him every consideration. Please feel free to contact me if I can be of any assistance as you consider filling these posts.

Sincerely,

David F. Emery
