Dear Portia,

I saw a copy of your October editorial supporting the President's veto of the Civil Rights Bill. I would like to offer my compliments on both a very well written and well crafted editorial. You presented a very positive piece, which I hope was well received.

I don't have to tell you how committed the President is to civil rights and his strong resolve to see the enactment of the Bill he proposed. His hand is strengthened by positive initiatives such as yours.

Please let us know how we can help in the future.

Thank you again.
