Dear Mr. Volterbeek:

6-18-90

On behalf of the Chief of Staff, thank you for your recent letter requesting his support for a transfer of land from Pease Air Force Base for the establishment of the "Great Bay National Wildlife Refuge."

While Governor Sununu is limited in intervening in these matters, he asked that your suggestion be shared with officials at the Department of Defense for consideration.

With the Governor's appreciation and best wishes,

Sincerely,

in sponsoring the Great Bay National Wildlife Refuge on the 1200 acres of land at the phased-out Pease Air Force Base in New Hampshire, very close to the President's lovely "New England White House" in Kennebunkport, Maine.

I am inclined to believe that you, as a concerned conservationist, will look favorably upon this proposal to

SUPPORT A NO COST INTER-AGENCY TRANSFER OF THE DEFENSE TO ESTABLISH THE GREAT BAY NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE.

Your support is critical Sir, since this is prime acreage for all forms of New England Maritime Wildlife, and since the Great Bay was recently designated a "National Wildlife Estuarine Research Reserve". A grant of the land by the DOD would preserve the SIX MILES OF COASTLINE WHICH SUPPORTS A GREAT MANY ENDANGERED SPECIES.

Dear Mr. Long:

Thank you for your recent letter inviting the Chief of Staff and Mrs. Sununu to watch the Fourth of July fireworks display from the terrace of the Evening Star building in Washington.

Your invitation is appreciated, but Governor Sununu and his family will be away from Washington for the Independence Day holiday. Nevertheless, the Governor asked me to convey his special thanks to you for your kindness in thinking of him and his family.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

recently restored Evening Star building has a big terrace with a splendid view of the Washington skyline, including the Washington Monument where most of the fireworks will be displayed. It should be a great evening.

Please feel free to bring your family (that is to say, reasonably adult children and up). Parking will be provided in the building (enter on 11th Street).

We plan to start about 7:00 p.m. with a buffet dinner about 8:00 and the fireworks at 9:00 p.m. Dress is casual.

Please let Laura Lennox (879-6871) know whether you can attend, how many will be in your party and whether you'll need parking.

I hope you can join us.

Dear Mr. Steinwacher:

On behalf of the Chief of Staff, thank you for your recent letter requesting an inquiry be made of the denial of Federal funding for research in your area of expertise.

Unfortunately, Governor Sununu is unable to intervene in the matter you have described. Your interest in writing is appreciated and we hope you understand that the Governor cannot help in all instances.

research indefinitely. Towards the end of my three year fellowship, I began to look for research positions, and I wrote a grant to continue at the Florida lab.

Between 1979 and 1982, Mr. Reagan had received a mandate to reprioritize the federal funding of research. The "pure" research that I do, with no short term payoff, was one of the areas that was deprioritized. My research continuation grant application was not funded. Academic institutions are not very interested in hiring specialties that can not compete for grant money, and the number of jobs for people like me dropped to zero. I looked into alternative service positions for researchers, including the CDC, but they were releasing people, not hiring. After the end of my fellowship in 1982, I continued to work on my research until I ran out of money in 1983. I was forced, at age 31, to move in with my parents and to take a series of jobs in data processing (the field I had left to take the post-doctoral fellowship).

While this was going on, I had been in communication with the Grant Management department of NIAID. One of the specialists there suggested that I apply for a waiver based on my inability to carryout the service payback. In response to my repeated requests for the waiver application form, I was granted a two-year extension of payback. I continued to request a waiver application with no response until mid-1989. A grants management specialist finally sent me the instructions on how to apply for a waiver; I formally applied to have my payback service waived on June 16, 1989. My request for a waiver was denied; the explanation was unsatisfactory to me. Essentially, I was denied a waiver because I didn't find a job. The letter asserted that I could have found one: overlooking the recession, the federal

On behalf of the Chief of Staff, thank you for your recent letter regarding your stepson's interest in entering one of the U.S. military academies.

While the application process is extensive, you may wish to make an initial inquiry of ^{one of} your representatives in Congress. I'm certain they will be able to inform you of everything that will be required.

My question is, what procedure to use to acquire the needed Congressional appointment ?

I would appreciate any information that you or a member of your staff could submit to me so I can continue to guide my son in the right direction.

Dear Mr. Sununu:

We wish to voice our gravest concern over President Bush's declaration that the United States opposes "new settlements in the West Bank or in East Jerusalem." This declaration has only added to the continued confusion of American policy concerning the City of Jerusalem.

As Sen. Moynihan pointed out, "the use of the term 'East Jerusalem' conjures up images of the years after May 1948 when the Jordanian Arab Legion drove the once flourishing Jewish majority out of the Old City at gunpoint."

Jerusalem is and shall remain the State of Israel's capital -- reunited and undivided. To suggest that the unity and security of Jerusalem is a proper subject for negotiations only lends encouragement to those enemies of Israel who seek to drive a wedge between the U.S. and Israel. The United States fosters intransigence by refusing to acknowledge that Israel's capital city is its own and by refusing to even permit our Ambassador to Israel to set foot in parts of that capital city.

American foreign policy and the search for peace in the Middle East would be well served by the President of the United States acknowledging the status of Jerusalem as Israel's undivided eternal capital, acknowledging the right of Jews to live anywhere in Jerusalem, and moving the U.S. Embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem.

We would appreciate your conveying our feelings on this subject to President Bush. Thank you.

Speak at your third annual conference on superconductivity,
October 15-16, in Crystal City, Virginia

Conference
Governor John Sununu
White House Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

I would like to take this opportunity to invite you to speak at our third annual conference on superconductivity to be held October 15-16 at the Stouffer Concourse Hotel in Crystal City, Va. Both of our previous conferences have been successes and we are looking forward to an even more stimulating forum this year.

A major theme is how superconductivity is fitting into our national agenda and how well we are taking advantage of this unique technology. Topics to be addressed will include national industrial competitiveness, international trade policy, federal laboratory technology transfer, etc.

More specifically, this conference will include both the exciting program in high temperature superconductivity and progress in such big science programs as the Superconducting Super Collider, Superconductive Magnetic Energy Storage and magnetic levitation transportation.

One reason we believe you would be excellent for this forum relates to your strong technical background which gives you a special understanding of the issues.

Thank you for considering our invitation. We look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

C. David Chaffee
Conference Chairman

Dear Mr. Sprinkle:

Mr. William Green has been kind enough to forward your invitation for the Chief of Staff to speak at a formal dinner function of AIPT on October 16 in Washington.

Your invitation is appreciated, but the heavy demands of Governor Sununu's schedule at that time make it impossible for him to accept. However, he asked me to thank you for inviting him and you have his very best wishes for a successful 40th Anniversary event.

Sincerely,

Jacqueline A. Kennedy

As indicated by the enclosed, educational exchange organization involved with on-the-job, practical training exchanges. We are the United States affiliate of the International Association for the Exchange of Students for Technical Experience (IAESTE) which was founded in 1948 at Imperial College in London, on the initiative of Mr. James Newby. American participation in the program, out of which our present organization has grown, began in 1950 under the auspices of a student committee at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. We expect to have one or more senior officials from M.I.T. with us on October 16.

Knowing of Mr. Sununu's background in engineering and business, we feel that both the dinner audience and our colleagues in this country and abroad would benefit from hearing his thoughts on the role of international exchange and work experience programs in preparing young Americans, especially students in engineering and the sciences, to meet the challenges and opportunities of the increasingly global economy in which they seek to make their careers. The President's commitment to excellence in education and his support for exchange programs provide an overall framework within which Mr. Sununu's remarks would be especially meaningful.

Honorable John Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

We want to invite you and Mrs. Sununu to attend a special event in the life of our Farm Bureau organization here in New Hampshire.

We are starting our 75th year as a Federation and to help celebrate, Sullivan County Farm Bureau, one of our ten counties, is hosting a field day and barbecue with tours, exhibits, entertainment, some speaking and a whole lot of comraderie. Sullivan County was the first county in New Hampshire to respond to the call of Congress to form a sponsoring group of farmers so that the county could receive the services of a Cooperative Extension Agent. This was in 1913 and Farm Bureau was born.

This is going to be held at the beautiful hilltop farm of Harvey and Edith Bascom in Acworth, N.H. on Saturday, July 21. This farm was recently selected to participate in the Land Conservation Investment Program whereby the state purchases the development rights to the land, thus assuring the farm will remain undeveloped forever.

Many media outlets, including television, have been invited to cover this event and many notables have been invited, including our Washington delegation and our Governor and Council members. This is a pre-primary event in an election year in New Hampshire, so there is absolutely no way to know who will show up. Farm Bureau is strictly non-governmental and non-partisan, so the political aspect will be handled correctly.

It should be a great day for all concerned and we are looking forward to a response.

Sincerely,
Kenneth Marshall

Dear Governor Sununu:

Mr. Gilbert
Robert T.
Sherman, Jr.
I am writing this letter on behalf of Wheelabrator Technologies Inc. to endorse the proposed nomination to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission of Robert T. Sherman, Jr., currently the Senior Vice President - Administration and General Counsel of CRSS Capital Inc. In light of Wheelabrator Technologies' leading role in both the waste-to-energy and independent power industries, Paul Montrone (who is currently on vacation and would otherwise be contacting you personally with respect to this matter) and I strongly believe that the independent power industry should be properly represented on the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. Mr. Sherman has taken a leading role in the development of the independent power industry. Mr. Sherman's knowledge of the legal issues which face the growth of independent power and his experience in dealing with the development, construction and financing of privately owned and operated energy projects offers a critical perspective -- one which needs to be represented at FERC.

Many experts point to the growth of the independent power industry as critical to any federal response to this nation's energy needs in the twenty-first century. The Administration and Congress can acknowledge the role to be played by the independent power industry by appointing one of its more articulate spokesman to the Commission.

Again, Paul Montrone and I would greatly appreciate your support for Mr. Sherman's nomination.

Sincerely,

Rodney C. Gilbert

Dear Mr. Chief of Staff:

Please find enclosed a copy of a letter written to the President of the United States. Although, this letter may be perceived as being written by an unknown person and concerning a country that is little known to America, it addresses familiar issues of fundamental importance to all nations and peoples. These issues are also high on U. S. foreign policy agenda.

In determining the priority of this letter for reaching the President's desk, It is my hope that not the writer and so much the country will constitute the factors of focus. Rather, let the issues being addressed determine its importance. I have every confidence that President Bush will give serious consideration to this matter if it gets to his attention.

Thank you for your kind understanding.

As you can see from his resume, Mr. Sudler has had extensive experience in practicing law in both civil and criminal matters. I truly believe he would make a valuable contribution to our United States Court System.

Please pass these thoughts on to the President or include them in with what other input you receive from citizens.

1. Please get rid of John Frohnmayer as head of the NEA. He is arrogant and unresponsive to the public. Frankly I don't see why we (the taxpayers) should support an NEA; this is not the 1930's when artists were starving. But in any event if we are to have an NEA, the works it supports should reflect the likes of the majority - not the weird choices of the liberal few.
2. Please do something positive for Lithuania. Such as shipments of coal, oil, food etc. We have never recognized the Hitler-Stalin Pact that resulted in their enslavement. Probably all Russia wants is access to a warm water port. Why not suggest that Lithuania offer that in exchange for complete freedom.
3. No more "gay" meetings at the White House. They aren't that big a voting block that they need to be stroked. They Probably wouldn't vote Republican in any case.
4. Please tell the NLRB to institute the Beck Decision. That is as important as anything in the proposed voting rights bill.

Mr. Sununu:

I write because of the encouragement of Pat Buchanan who has with Thomas Solwell been my guides towards common sense political orthodoxy.

What Pat has pointed out in his news letter is that those who have come to the front in your administration are those who are consenting to the unorthodox politics.

There seems to be this lean administratively towards that which is media sense. And for an orthodox the world of the media is absurd.

So I am concerned that those values that I noted for in your man are fastly washing away. And like one locale politician I voted for, the resident seems, through his current acceptances of media sense, to be posturing.

With his "now" view on taxing I really sense a Clapse to the pressure of the "iron triangle". And thus I see no differences now to that, that I opposed in Duke.

I hope and pray that again your own good political sense can reverse this posturing mentality and bring common sense to this political period.

Canada in crisis after 3 leaders renege on pact to give Quebec special status

Associated Press

TORONTO — Three provincial leaders who reneged on an agreement to recognize French-speaking Quebec as a distinct society have thrown the federal government into crisis.

Prime Minister Mulroney was spending the weekend in intense one-on-one conferences with the provincial premiers, hoping to salvage what is known as the Meech Lake agreement before the June 23 deadline.

Overwin its support, Mulroney and 11 of 10 premiers signed a five-point amendment at Meech Lake, near Ottawa, in 1987, and set a three-year deadline for ratification by the provincial legislatures.

But the governments changed in three provinces — Newfoundland, Manitoba and New Brunswick — and the new premiers balked.

Of the five points, the most troublesome for many opponents — and virtually the only one the public remembers — would define

Quebec Premier Robert Bourassa has repeated that while he is willing to consider further discussion later on the concerns of the dissenting provinces, Quebec will accept changes to the agreement signed three years ago.

But have this terrible feeling that we're capable of blowing this, said Alberta Premier Donald Getty, a strong Meech backer, after his meeting with Mulroney.

Interviews with a wide range of Quebec residents indicate many of them feel they are being rejected by English Canada.

By the way, the attitude is sometimes colored by

Dear Mr. Sununu:

Our foreign policy with regard to the Soviet Union does not show we know how to play chess. The Soviets are great chess players - they plan four and five moves ahead.

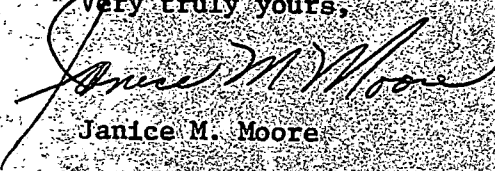

If the USSR is so broke, why are they continuing their arms build up, as well as supplying weapons and aid to Angola, Mozambique, Cuba, Afganistan and other places. The aid may have been cut somewhat this past year, and some troops withdrawn from the Eastern Block Countries, but they are still far ahead of us militarily.

Romania recently had elections, flawed by a variety of circumstances showing the elections to be unfair. Iliescu is Gorbachev's comrade and protege. Most-Favored-Nation status should be withheld from Romania until a free constitution has been adopted guaranteeing freedom of assembly, freedom of speech, private property rights and an end to intimidation and harrassment of anti-communist political activists.

Most-Favored-Nation status should be withheld from the Soviet Union until Lithuania and any of the other states that wish to be independent have been given their independence. The Baltic states should not have been given to Stalin 50 years ago. Why are we not standing up for Lithuania in her hour of need? Looks like Hungary in 1956 and Czechoslovakia in 1968 to me.

Are we witnessing the fall of communism or the isolation of America and the neutralism of Europe that will both fall into the hands of the Soviets? Are we reliving 1938-39 once again?

Dear Sir:

Enclosed is probably the best-read weekly article in the entire Southwest Texas written by Maury Maverick, Jr. (whose father served in the House once) dated June 3, 1990 in the San Antonio Express.

I suppose you will never see this letter. Perhaps some smart assistant will.

Let me try to outline what we in the boondocks are saying:

- a) Congress is far behind the American people. We want peace!
- b) Congress has become incestuous - speaking only to each other.
- c) Congress should come home to listen. Don't speechify. Listen!
- d) People don't give a "tinker's damn" about Lithuania. They see the Big picture.
- e) Nor do they care about the emigration-Israel-linkage to MFN status. They want MFN to Russia if the Beijing Butcher can have such without any concessions. Or is it because President Bush's brother has business dealing with the People's Republic?
- f) Congress was childish and churlish to President Gorbachev in the televised meeting.
- g) Congress (both Houses) is bought and paid for by Aipac - an individual's voice is worthless today unless he has at least $10,000 to give to a campaign.
- h) Three Billion (3,000,000,000.00) a year to Israel is too much. That is $10,000 per person. We need that for our own hungry children.
- i) George Bush is very popular because of his foreign policy. If Gorbachev goes, the President's popularity plummets. Democrats like the foreign policy.
- j) To sum up: People think Lithuania and Israel are holding US as hostage.

Sir: We are tired, tired, tired of the cold war, but perhaps not too tired to throw you fellows out if you do not give us peace.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Sununu:

The Republicans asked me, "What's wrong with America?" in a recent survey. I am glad they are asking the question. How can President Bush's administration solve any problems if he doesn't know precisely what the problems are?

There is one primary problem facing America. It is summarized below:

A. Question - What's wrong with America?

The unconstitutional, usury-assessing, privately owned and controlled debt-money system which renders the national debt mathematically unpayable. Please read The Truth In Money Book for explanation.

B. Optional Section - Please list in order of importance the five issues you consider the most critical.

There is one critical issue; - The nation's total debt continues to grow exponentially. This is because all credit and currency comes into existence as loans created at the stroke of a pen and whirr of a computer in private banks. The money to pay the usury on this debt-money is never created within the system. Loan repayments to the banks reduce M1. More borrowing becomes mandatory. Therefore, it is mathematically impossible ever to pay off our national debt.

The solution is Sovereign-Interest-Free Money.

With every good wish, I am

Dear Governor Sumner

I am an American, betwixt approaching my 70th birthday and I have become more and more disillusioned with the moral morass my nation finds itself in. Flagburning and vile language discs are only examples of the dreadful predicament we are in. Few of these may be fairly laid at the President's door but a clear, ringing call must be made by Mr. Bush to save this nation. On behalf of the Chief of Staff, thank you for your recent letter regarding the difficulties you have experienced in obtaining continued funding for your organization from your local school district.

While Governor Sununu would like to be of assistance, he is unable to intervene in cases with jurisdiction falling within State or local authority. Nevertheless, he asked me to forward your letter to officials at the Department of Education for their review. We hope this may prove helpful.

DEPT OF EDUCATION WITH INCOMING FOR RESPONSE

We had missed the deadline for reapplication which was in December 1989. Our Executive Director, Sandra R. Herman, contacted Ms. Gail Beaumont who indicated that application paperwork should have been received prior to the deadline. No one at the Youth Service or in the School District has any record or remembrance of receiving such a notification.

It seems strange that the reapplication procedure should follow "so close on the heels" of the initial awarding of the Grant. Ms. Beaumont did indicate that a second award date of June 15, 1990 was available but was discouraging about submitting an application as only three awards are to be given. We will, however, reapply as the Grant is crucial to our success in this endeavor.

Whether the appropriate paperwork for grant renewal was ever sent to or received by the Pittsford Schools, will probably never be determined. What is important, however, is the continuation of a highly successful and model program aimed at preventing drug and alcohol addiction rather than just treating the symptoms.

If the Administration is serious about continuing the war on drugs, it is imperative that preventative programs such as the one created by Pittsford Youth Service, Inc. and the Pittsford School District be aggressively funded.

Dear Mr. Sununu:

As President of The Texas Presbyterian Foundation, an agency of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), I am writing to encourage your support of the repeal of the alternative minimum tax on gifts of appreciated property (S. 1577/H.R. 173).

During the last six years, The Texas Presbyterian Foundation has received eighty-six (86) Charitable Remainder Trusts totaling over $5,000,000 for the benefit of Presbyterian ministries of Christian education, child care, health care and care for the elderly in the four state area of Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas.

Please consider supporting S. 1577/H.R. 173 as a means of enabling the non-profit sector to better fulfill its public service role. Let me emphasize:

- (1) Donors find it difficult to determine the tax consequences of gifts of appreciated assets under the alternative minimum tax system.
- (2) Donors are discouraged and confused when they learn that their charitable tax deduction may change due to the alternative minimum tax.
- (3) Church related institutions and agencies are not receiving funds needed to operate because many donors are discouraged by the alternative minimum tax.

As you participate in the budget summit, the Board of Trustees of The Texas Presbyterian Foundation will appreciate your thoughtful attention to repeal of the alternative minimum tax.

Dear Mr. Sununu:

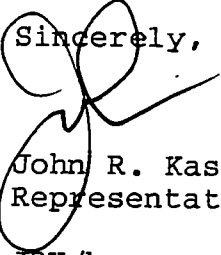

On September 10, I will host some 150 of my constituents at my fifth annual Washington Conference. I would be deeply grateful if you could find time during the day to speak to this group.

Past conferences have been highly successful, giving my constituents the opportunity to meet face to face with leaders from Congress, the administration, the media and the private sector. This non-profit, non-partisan event is open to anyone in my congressional district who wishes to attend, and consistently attracts business, professional and community leaders.

I would be greatly honored if you could find 30 to 45 minutes to appear before my group sometime between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on September 10. Our event will take place in the Cannon Caucus Room in the Cannon House Office Building.

I look forward to your participation. Please feel free to contact me or my aide, Bruce Cuthbertson, at 225-5355 if you should have any questions.

Dear Brother Sununu:

When we briefly met in 1985 following your address at the Phi Sigma Kappa convention in Washington, little could I realize that our paths might once again cross several years later in connection with environmental concerns and issues.

You are to be commended for your approach whereby you discourage automatic presidential blessings for far-reaching environmental program proposals without first reviewing and weighing research-based findings and cost/benefit relationships.

In the west where we are in our fourth year of drought, the members of the Colorado River Water Users Association especially appreciate your common-sense efforts. The association plans to honor you for your stance during its annual convention in Las Vegas in early December and hopes you will be able to join us to receive the commendation.

I understand that CRWUA president Charles Thomson will soon issue you the group's formal invitation to be in attendance to receive the award and also to address the conclave. It's my hope, Brother Sununu, that you'll be able to arrange your busy schedule during the December 5-7 period to share your thoughts with this important group of public water and power agency officials who also face the often unreasonable demands of sometimes overzealous environmentalists.

It would also be good to again greet you as a brother Phi Sig!

Dear Dr. Sununu:

The premier event for our students as we celebrate the Centennial anniversary of the University of Oklahoma is a Leadership Symposia focusing on the issues and ethical considerations for our leaders in the coming century.

The very successful Spring Symposia just completed, focused on Government and the Arts and Humanities and had as keynote speakers our Advisory Chairman, Admiral W.J. Crowe, Jr., and Dr. Vartan Gregorian.

With great anticipation and hope, I am writing on behalf of the Advisory Committee to invite you to open the Symposia on Education, via satellite, from either the White House or the Senate broadcast office at 8:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on Wednesday, October 3. Senator Don J. Nickles would introduce you for a 10 to 15 minute talk, followed by a 10 minute question and answer time. You would be able to see the audience and hear the questions as they are posed. We had a broadcast from the Senate office this spring and had perfect reception.

The Symposia will have 500 participants, of which 225 students will be from the University of Oklahoma and State Regents' accredited Scholarship-Leadership Enrichment Program. Additional participants will be selected university leaders, including students from the College of Education and distinguished faculty, Symposia panelists and discussion leaders. June 11, 1990

The Honorable John Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President of the United States of America
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

In 1992, the United States of America will join with the rest of the Western World in commemorating the 500th anniversary of Christopher Columbus' encounter of the New World. This voyage opened the door for Spanish exploration and settlement of what is now the United States of America. The blending of the Spanish, Mexican and Caribbean cultures were dramatic and their contributions are still visible today in our art, music, architecture, language, law, and culture. For this reason, the National Hispanic Quincentennial Commission (NHQC), a private, non-profit commission based in Washington D.C., views the 1992 Commemoration as a unique opportunity to highlight Hispanic contributions over the past five hundred years.

The first step toward 1992, is the Annual Conference of the NHQC, July 13 & 14, 1990, Omni Shoreham Hotel in Washington D.C. On behalf of the Board of Directors, I invite you to join us at the Annual Conference by attending either the Opening Luncheon, July 13; the Mexican House of Culture Reception, July 13; the Saturday Luncheon, July 14; or the Saturday GALA, July 14. This conference will be the "Debut Project" of the commission and is designed to inform, mobilize, and coordinate the Hispanic-American community for 1992. The conference will also serve as the forum to showcase Hispanic contributions to the New World and to show support of our efforts from Latin American Embassies, Corporate America, Hispanic organizations, Hollywood, Congress, and of course, the White House.

I hope your schedule permits you to join us in July!

Sincerely,

Landfill in Tyngsboro, Massachusetts. Inactive since 1982, this 70 acres, begun in 1955 as a municipal dump, was acquired by Mr. George in 1977. Major landfill development occurred following this acquisition, and in the early 1970s, the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Quality Engineering issued a permit allowing disposal of hazardous waste in addition to refuse. Volatile organic waste, both in drums and in bulk form were disposed in the landfill between 1973 and 1975. In 1979, the Town of Tyngsboro revoked assignment of property, formerly requested by the owner for landfill expansion and ordered the landfill closed. However, landfill operations continued until 1982. At approximately that same time, the DEQE ordered two supply wells for the Cannongate Condominiums located approximately 100 feet to the Southwest of the landfill, closed due to volatile organic contamination.

In 1983 EPA allocated the sum of $750,000. for a temporary water supply to the Cannongate Condominium complex, and for corrective actions at the landfill site. Again, Milford had its solid waste trucked there from July 1980 through February 1983. We had heard nothing concerning the Charles George Landfill, other than newspaper reports, until late fall of 1989 when we received the subpoena for deposition. Since that time, the Town has been heavily involved with a Boston law firm defending its actions and protecting it from further liability or settlement costs relating to this case and third party laws suits arising from the initial suit.

Is important for my image as Mr. Bush defender and journalistic promoter to take a new picture with the President to maintain my message alive and up to date, therefore I'm requesting to you that if time allows it, I get to see the President a few extra minutes.

~~Also I would love to take that opportunity to meet with Mr. Sumnu, and establish an even better bridge of communication with you, I will arrive in Washington D.C. at noon, perhaps you could see me that afternoon, 10:00 AM to 12:00 PM.~~

Dear Mr. Sununu,

There is a great opportunity for the Administration to come out on top of the "Acid Rain" issue, and it can do so through a sponsored competition to find the best and most cost effective approach toward correcting the situation. The process proposed below has been used before and the results should satisfy all factions; political, business, and environmentalist.

What follows is only an outline and does not provide the details necessary to carry out the entire plan; however, the basic idea is presented and with the right people assigned, a definitive plan could be generated.

Acid rain apparently comes from the emissions of smoke stacks on the plants that produce electric power, with the result that wind-blown SO₂ chemicals travel from those stacks to drop onto the land, lakes and streams lying downwind.

There is some equipment available today that will "scrub" out those emissions if added to each stack, but it is prohibitively expensive and will cost the power industry and subsequently their customers a great deal of money.

The essence of this proposal is to challenge major industrial suppliers (like GE, Westinghouse, and others) to come up with the best method, and then given the chance to bid on a contract to equip all of the power plants in the United States with the resulting product.

If one or two of the major companies had such a sizable contract, just the scale of the effort would bring about reduced costs and would bring the winning company(s) a significant amount of revenue.

Mr. Bitzer
General John
Piotrowski
Dear Governor Sununu,

I am writing because of the impending selection of a new director at SDIO.

We believe that a strong, pro SDI American policy has been more instrumental in bringing the Soviet Union to the bargaining table than any other program in its class.

There is also evidence that the promise of SDI has given captive peoples of the world hope for and faith in western values and objectives. SDI has been cited as a reason the Freedom and Democracy movements of Eastern Europe have taken hold and spread so fruitfully.

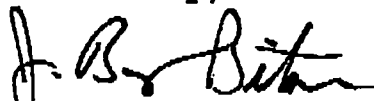

Also, in light of the instability on the horizon and the proliferation of ICBM capability in the third world, SDI stands as a preemptive deterrent when its eventual deployment is perceived to be a reality.

For these reasons we believe General John Piotrowski ^(sic) is the best man to head SDIO.

His experience as Commander of NORAD, the U.S. Space Command, and his belief in the virtues of the SDI program make him the right man for the job.

We are grateful for your past support, and feel proud to have been part of the team that put America where it stands today. We look forward to any opportunity to be of assistance in the future.

Dear Mr. Sununu:

On behalf of the more than 250,000 supporters of the national citizens' lobby, Free the Eagle, I urge you to recommend General John Pitrowski to head the Administration's SDI program.

His intellect, energy, and overall abilities are essential to the successful development of SDI.

We strongly feel that the selection of any candidate of lesser talent and commitment to the program would seriously affect the success of SDI and its support in Congress and throughout the country.

Dear Mr. Sununu,

28 May 1990

I write to you again. This time perhaps in ignorance, and, and yet perhaps I am reasonably correct.

The U.S: Please Mr. Shameer(sp?), stop the dominance over, the robbing and murder of the Palestinians.

Shameer: NO! Not negotiable!

The US: Please President Shameer, let us help lead the area to peace, not war.

Shameer: You can't under stand the situation! No!

But wasn't Begin, and Shameer terrorist murderers of the Stern Gang?

Do the Israeli not talk and talk and talk of a Hitler/Heydrich/Himmler/Eichmann Holocaust in killing helpless Jews? But are not the Israeli now in re the Palestinians they kill and wound exercising a partial Holocaust (Incidentally, I find some middle age and young people who think the German death squads and death camps killed ONLY Jews. Tather I believe, circa 14+ Million were killed; of these the Jews killed I believe were slightly under 6 million. We hear nothing of the other millions. Maybe only the Jews qualify as people, Human beings.

So America can't influence the Israeli??

But we give the Israeli, lead by a terrorist(of yore), and by a kissnet, that lets the Israeli abuse, defy the human rights and kill helpless Palestinians. We give them ca $3 billion per year(for decades), favored nation trade(percentage wise they have killed a great many more than the Chinese). We have written treaties almost solely for their protection and benefit.

Really, Mr. Sununu, if President Bush sent a private message to Shameer more or less as follows: (below) do you not think the Israeli would leave the Gaza Strip, West Bank, and East Jerusalem rather promptly??

Dear Mr. Shameer, for your eyes only AT THIS TIME: If within 48 hrs. you don't start and within 3 weeks complete the removal of ALL Israeli from the 3 areas you and Israel will forfeit all American good will, treaties for your protection in event of war, and all the money we subsidize you with - ca $3 billion at this time.

Now Mr. Shameer, if you don't start promptly on these moves we will

The possibility of US-PLO talks should be immediately ruled out. Such talks would be an insult to not only Jews, but all people who deplore terrorism. The Palestinians attacked Israel even before Israel regained the West Bank (as a result of a war waged against her). The PLO has a long list of atrocities committed against innocent people: The Munich Massacre, the Achille Lauro, yesterday's planned attack on crowded Israeli beaches are just a few examples. Abu Abbas is a member of the PLO executive board. Regardless of what fabrications Arafat may attempt to create, actions are clear. Arafat continues to be dedicated to death and destruction. Dear Mr. Sununu:

I am just very concerned about the situation with the Japanese and I want somebody to explain to me why we have catered to them for forty-five years with millions and millions of taxpayers' dollars. What are we afraid of! It was they who bombed Pearl Harbor and took three years out of my husband's life. I also need an explanation regarding the Japanese trade issue. Why were the trade restrictions lifted? Carla Hill's explanation was not satisfactory.

The Japanese have not only taken over the majority of the steel mills, ruined the car industry with cheap cars, etc., but we now hear about this fairly young man in our church congregation who has gone from a high position in an American company to a Japanese firm as a vice-president. His position is to buy every available oil well in the United States. I am not only upset about his buying the oil wells but about his going with a Japanese company to do this. It is common knowledge here that they will drain his brain for three-to-four years and let him go and hire another one of our greedy eggheads.

We are very concerned for the future of American families (including both yours and mine) and I think our future is at high risk because of the Japanese takeover and the fast growth of the Negro population.

I also know that the majority of the American people would join you in anything that you can do to improve the moral standards of our country.

I still believe the United States of America is the very best country in the world and have faith enough in you that our future may be made more secure.

Dear Mr Sununu,

Why is Congress afraid, yes afraid of Israel? Why do we use a double standard when judging Israel and when judging the Palestinians? Is it the PAC money, or bribe, or is it the American Jewish bloc vote. When Kline was caught training the so American drug people no one got excited. When Israel bombed Lebanon no one cared. When a Palestinian threw a bus over the cliff everyone screamed. When Israel took a hostage no one said Terrorism. When a Jew murdered seven Palestinians in cold blood they said he was demented and gave him three years in jail. If you want to murder anyone do it in Israel, the great democracy. Has Congress said "Break diplomatic relations"? No. Just send Israel more money. When perhaps a Palestinian group tried to retaliate and invade Israel the US said "Stop peace talks." Never

Re: Line Item Veto

Dear Mr. Sununu:

Where is it authoritatively written that the President cannot make line item vetos?

It seems to me that if there is no tested statute that absolutely and clearly prohibits line item vetos, then the President could - and should - initiate this practice. Congress would then be forced to either accept line item vetos or enact specific legislation prohibiting it.

With so many states now permitting line item vetos, Congress would have difficulty legislating against it. And if they did the President could veto such a bill!

We feel that most U.S. Citizens would greatly respect a President who had the courage to begin line item vetos. Surely the voters would understand that the President deserves the same degree of authority as do the Governors of the States in which they live. Most of us have little respect for Congress.

Your comments, please.

Gov. John Sununu

Dear Gov. Sununu:

I am sorry to have to write to express my concern over various policy positions that the White House has been pursuing. These include fighting to have disoriented homosexuality included as a legally protected category of the handicapped, opposing restrictions on the reauthorization of the National Endowment for the Arts, excluding such courageous conservatives as Alan Keyes and Thomas Sowell from a White House meeting with the President because liberals wanted them excluded, apparent willingness to sign a "civil rights" bill that sets abhorrent racial quotas, and other recent actions that have people shaking their heads and wondering if Michael Dukakis actually won the 1988 national election.

Even on the pro-life issue, where the administration has worked with the activists, one had to note that the President was unwilling to speak in person to the recent huge pro-life D.C. rally, whereas on a "liberal" issue, he invited radical homosexual activists right into the White House.

I think the sort of dissatisfaction expressed by such conservative journalists as Paul Gigot and William McGurn strikes a chord throughout the voting majority in this nation. Where the White House could be forging a "new majority" coalition, such as with workers whose jobs are threatened by the greenie "clean air" bill, we instead find the President apparently doing his best to blur all critical distinctions and merely assure continued liberal-secularist-Democratic control of Congress, and thus perhaps help deliver the White House into their hands, too, in '92.

Dear Mr. Sununu:

This morning our hometown newspaper, the Fort Worth Star Telegram, reported that in 1988, our own U.S. Air Force Plant No. 4, released 2.1 million pounds of toxins into our environment.

Where are the regulators? What has happened to our President, who has made a claim to "environmental" leadership, yet sits back when the nations of the world agree to act while he asks for "more study?"

My students want to know why there is so much 'foot-dragging' on the part of our government in the area of environmental concern. They see President Bush's decisions as a mere extension of his predecessor's policies, and wonder why he is afraid to stand up and be tough about the poisons that are killing our world.

You have influence with the President, and he respects your opinion. You, too, have avoided responsibility for major decisions made by the Bush administration to avoid confronting the issues. Even dear old Margaret Thatcher has wised up to the necessity for quick action regarding recommendations made by the United Nations!

I'm ashamed for our government and our President--and for you, Mr. Sununu. You, at least, have an opportunity to yet make some positive impact on Mr. Bush's decisions. The question, of course, is will The President change his thinking long after its too late to act?

Dear Governor Sununu:

IHS-3A
I would like to recommend Dr. Terry A. Ferrar for appointment to the position of a commissioner of the FERC.

Dr. Ferrar's qualifications are superior, and his lengthy electric industry experience qualifies him for this position. I believe, however, that it is his vision that separates him from other candidates.

In his top-level management positions in the electric utility industry and in policy-formulation, Dr. Ferrar has thoughtfully and consistently welcomed the challenges of progress in an industry that traditionally bases its decisions on the way things have been done.

I have been a part of the electric power industry since 1968. As Chairman and CEO of Energy America, I have closely affiliated my independent power company with utilities and major industrial corporations. The industry is now at a point in time where strong, knowledgeable and experienced leadership is needed to negotiate the change from the present to the future.

I am honored to have known and worked with Dr. Ferrar, and I would encourage you to meet him before you make your decision.

Dear Andy:

I wish to add a comment or two to a letter you recently received from George Hajali and Andrew (Andy) Kohlhofer of Methuen. Both men are helping me in my State Senate race and both are instrumental in the rebirth of the Republican Party in the Lawrence-Methuen area of Massachusetts.

First, Andy Kohlhofer is the new chairman of the Methuen Republican Town Committee. Methuen, a conservative Democratic town, went 60-40 for President Bush in 1988. Andy is trying to convert that swing vote to increased Republican Registration.

Second, George Hajali is a leading member of the Lebanese community in Methuen, and an avid supporter of Republican objectives. He is looking for ways to activate his Lebanese friends for our purposes.

We have one additional pressing need -- donors and volunteers for my State Senate race. Both Andy and George are strong supporters of my campaign (Andy is my Methuen coordinator) and are aware of my letter.

I am challenging Sen. Nicholas Costello, as I did in 1988. This time he has a primary -- a conservative Democrat from Methuen. Costello is expected to survive the primary, but will face November short of cash and energy. Should Costello lose, we have an open seat. Either way, we can take this Senate Seat, and we're working very hard to make that happen.

Dear Governor Sununu:

I wish to express my support for the candidacy of Dr. Terry A. Ferrar for the vacant position on the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

I have known Dr. Ferrar for many years and have been impressed by his intelligence and good judgment.

He would bring to the Commission a depth and breath of knowledge of the electric industry and an understanding of the expanded role that market forces can play in that industry. I believe he would make an exceptional contribution to sound policy-making on the issues that FERC must address in the coming years.

I have recently read about some of your attitudes concerning the environment and the greenhouse effect in particular. With all of the problems our nation is faced with concerning the air that we breath, the water we drink and the land on which we live; I don't see how you can denounce the scientific facts you are presented by environmentalists as "hysterical" and accuse them of trying to "destroy the energy industry." How important is the energy industry if we can't even live safe, healthy lives in this country?

hour, nor a boat, nor a personal airplane, nor a house with more than a couple of bedrooms and one bath, nor steak once a week. Most of us went beyond "need" a long time ago, but we haven't gotten past "want."

In this affluent land, we reject the totalitarian doctrine that we shouldn't be allowed to have something unless we can satisfy some bureaucrat that we "need" it. We're able to work for whatever we want—not what government decides we may have: two children, a tiny apartment, enough rice or potatoes to avoid starvation, and sturdy shoes to walk to work.

war, putting us in an impossible defensive position.

Having suckered us into arguing on their terms, they declare "assault rifles have no sporting purpose," and further narrow the boundaries of the argument by declaring that it isn't "sport" unless we're hunting big game or firing at regulation targets in organized traditional recreational games.

It is ludicrous that we who use guns for recreation should allow someone who has never fired one to decide what's sport! I can't recall having ever hunted big game with any of my several semi-auto rifles, but I've had a lot of fun chasing sprinting jackrabbits across far hill-sides with a 30-shot M1 Carbine—with minimal effect upon the indigenous rabbit population.

But the Second Amendment to the U.S. Constitution has nothing to do with "gun" or "sport." The right to keep and bear arms was purposely written into the Constitution to allow you to defend your home, your family, your property, and your nation.

Don't take my word for it, consider what President George Washington said

"Too many of us think we have to justify
'needing' that which we merely want...."

during his address to the second session of the first Congress:

"Firearms stand next in importance to the Constitution itself. They are the American people's liberty teeth and keystone under independence...From the hour the Pilgrims landed, to the present day, events, occurrences, and tendencies prove that to insure peace, security, and happiness, the rifle and pistol are equally indispensable. Every corner of this land knows firearms, and more than 99⁹⁹/₁₀₀ percent of them by their silence indicate they are in safe and sane hands. The very atmosphere of firearms anywhere and everywhere restrains evil interference—they deserve a place of honor with all that's good. When firearms go, all goes—we need them every hour."

Note that President Washington didn't think that guns were important only on the frontier, or only for the organized militia—and incredibly, the tiny percentage of guns that are misused still remains unchanged.

Even "Drug Czar" William Bennett, who pushed for the ban on imported semi-auto military-look guns, admitted to

Dear Mr. Sununu,

I am concerned that the Downy child care bill passed the House. Such bills that discriminate against those of us who choose to live on one income so we can give our children a higher priority are wrong. We should at least receive treatment equal to those who choose to rake in two incomes often times to the detriment of their children.

As a teacher I fully understand the necessity of full parental support. "The home is the child's first (both in chronology and impact) school and the parent his first teacher". If we want to get a hand on our educational problems, we will first have to defeat those problems that are tearing our families apart.

Please encourage the President to remain strong in his stand against these types of bills in general, and this bill in particular. Help him develop legislation that will encourage families to place raising their children at a high priority.

Dear Mr. Sununu:

On behalf of the Yale Political Union, I have the honor of inviting you to keynote a student debate at Yale this fall.

The Political Union, comprised of over 1,700 members, is the largest undergraduate organization at Yale. Founded over a half century ago by McGeorge and William Bundy in conjunction with Dean Acheson, the Union serves as a unique forum which enables students to meet with and debate America's most prominent, interesting and provocative political figures. In 1965, Senator John Kerry (D-MA), then Union President, expanded the program by inviting leaders of national stature to either debate students, prominent Yale faculty or other guests, or to give a keynote address. Since that time, Union guests have included the likes of Ronald Reagan, Jimmy Carter, George Bush, George McGovern, Geraldine Ferraro, Jesse Jackson, and Molly Yard. Recently, a cabinet officer described the Union as "the most prominent campus forum for political ideas in America."

A typical visit to the Union includes dinner at Mory's with the Union executive board, a key-noted debate on the Union floor, and either a press conference or an informal reception with students following the meeting. Although the Union does not offer honoraria as a matter of policy, we will be happy to cover your travel expenses to and from New Haven, as well as provide lodging should you choose to spend the night at Yale.

If you have any questions, I would be happy to answer them. Through August 30, you can best reach me by phone at (201) 654-7760. After that time, I can be reached at (203) 436-2933. I sincerely hope that you will be able to join us this fall.

In addition, you would have the choice of either limiting your address to members of Harvard Law School Republicans or speaking to a larger gathering of the law school community. We are confident that your appearance would be well-attended and would attract a great deal of interest in the Harvard community. Although HLS student organizations are prohibited from giving honoraria to speakers, HLS Republicans can pay for all expenses relating to travel, food and lodging.

During all of my service and working years, I have enjoyed a beer. Beer is the drink of the working man, with family and friends.

Now I hear that your administration and Congress are thinking of increasing federal excise taxes on beer as a possible tax source.

Most of the serious problems facing the world today - pollution, desertification, deforestation, water shortages, the greenhouse effect, ozone depletion, etc. - are a consequence of overpopulation. Dear Chief of Staff Sununu,

We support a strong America, "defence" notwithstanding.
Likewise, we support strengthening our democratic ally in the Middle East, Israel. Urging the U.S. forces to be sent within her borders is a transgression. There was the U.S. during the four major wars in which Israel was attacked by its "neighbors":
Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Lebanon, Iraq - to name but a few.

As you know, Arab states number 21. of P.L.O.
murderer Arafat has designs to rule within Israel,
the U.S. must not help him do so.

As a highly placed official in our American Democracy, you must act without bias.

And, as Santayana once said: He who forgets history is destined to repeat it.

If Jordan and Lebanon expelled Arafat because he brought destruction in his wake, why should America support Arafat's entry in a "governing" role in Israel? Is our aim to weaken an ally?

Sincerely,

Mr. John Sununu
White House Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. Sununu:

The reason I'm writing to you is your nearness to the president. Hopefully, you will be able to get this letter through to him, and, if he's half the person I think he is, I know he'll heed the advise contained herein and get us back on our feet. Also, I am not impugning you personally in this letter, but rather ALL of the administrators and congressmen of the past 6 decades, save a few, who have led us down the Socialist, sugar coated path of irresponsibility to the point we now face. So when I say "you", I mean "ALL OF YOU". With that out of the way let us begin.

One of the toughest and most frustrating things that only a few of us ever experience is to be a bright person of good will in a world dominated by less than bright people of questionable intent. Most of this latter group always manages to know who will be in the Superbowl or which iron to use on the 15th hole, but very few of them can tell you the name of their representative or or the child's teacher or what the administration and congress are doing. It's enough to give a guy hives or ulcers or both.

When I was growing up in the little, quiet town of Cicero, Illinois during the 30's and 40's, everyone seemed to possess some degree of brightness...we called it 'street smarts'. It wasn't necessarily I. Q. It was a learned effect. It was, as Kenny Rogers says, "Knowing when to hold 'em and knowing when to fold 'em". Perhaps, living in the immediate proximity and shadow of 'Al Capone and the boys', rotten as they were, kept the folks on their toes. Some of us were fortunate enough to go to high school. Some went to college... most of the time night school while they worked. And even those who could not go to school learned and survived, BECAUSE THEY WERE INTERESTED IN LEARNING. And they all worked hard and managed to hang onto their money and invest it...believe it or not, without the help of the federal government.

No one, today, could ever accuse anyone in Washington of 'knowing when to hold 'em...' or of having 'street smarts'. The administrations and congresses of the past 6 decades have given us and our children a legacy of 6 decades of bungling and factual, creeping Socialism laced with 'politics as usual'. And an overwhelming part of our population is either too inept or too uncaring to have any feeling for how this has impacted the country's current status. But you know and I know that political mismanagement has left our country bankrupt.

Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Sununu:

I would like to prevail upon you to add my plea to what I would expect to be a tremendous outpouring from the American public to the President: PLEASE VETO CONGRESSIONAL CHANGES TO THE HATCH ACT.

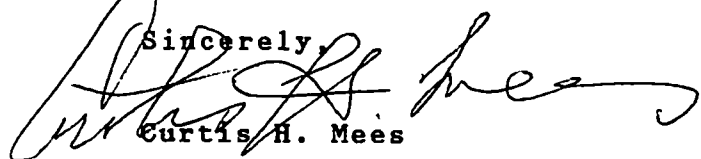

For many years now the Hatch Act has functioned very well in protecting both the general public and civil servants who might be forced to perform political acts against their will. With a 98% re-election rate in the Congress, we need less rather than more political pressure on behalf of candidates. And, despite the claims to the contrary by Big Labor and partisan politicians, it is extremely difficult to comprehend how any "rights" have been infringed upon. After all, this has been a subject understood all too well by those now clammering for a change to give them unnecessary and unfair political advantage.

As a matter of fact, we need more HONEST competition on a fair and equitable basis than now exists. To that end I would like to suggest one change which might bring about a solution which would make it possible for new contenders to meet incumbents on a more even field. FROM THE TIME CONGRESSIONAL RACES OPEN, THE FRANKING PRIVILEGE SHOULD BE EXTENDED ON AN EQUAL BASIS TO ONE AND ALL. (Until after elections.) And to make this effective, it would be necessary to restrict the franking privileges of incumbents for the entire year prior to the opening of new races for seats in Congress. Won't solve all the fund-raising advantages of incumbents, but may help.

You will know best how to handle the franking matter, but meanwhile I urge a Presidential VETO ON HATCH ACT CHANGES.

Many thanks for your always unfailing tact and cooperation.

Sincerely,

Curtis H. Mees

Yet it was the United States that persuaded the world to reach agreement on phasing out production of CFC's!

I know that your responsibilities are reaching what appears to be overwhelming proportions, partially due to Mr. Lee Atwaters illness.

Often we equate expanded responsibilities with something we name as 'pressure'; we imagine a worse possible scenario of what might happen in the future, and act out of that fear, i.e. our modest contribution of $20 million would lead to greater financial demands later. The fear of what might happen in the future obscures and hinders the ability to act on the very real and present danger of

The focus of the conference will be on this theme, a theme which President Bush has spoken of often in recent months.

The conference is not so much a business meeting as a genuine effort at educating Lockheed personnel and personnel from companies associated with Lockheed about key foreign issues as they relate to America's competitive situation in the world. I believe that your involvement would be important in energizing and in inspiring those in attendance with regard to this important challenge.

May 29, 1990

The Honorable John H. Sununu

The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

The American Legislative Exchange Council (ALEC) is holding its seventeenth Annual Meeting in Boston, Massachusetts, July 25-29, 1990, at the Boston Marriott Copley Place. More than 2,000 ALEC members and guests are expected to attend; including key legislative leaders and senior corporate executives. Your participation in our Presidential and Cabinet Briefing on Friday, April 27 was a major highlight of our program, and the ALEC membership has been most laudatory in their comments about your remarks and gracious hospitality.

On behalf of the ALEC Board of Directors and the ALEC membership it is my honor and pleasure to invite you to participate in our annual meeting as a keynote speaker on Friday morning at 8:30 a.m., July 27. Governor Sununu, the ALEC team would be very pleased if you would address the issue of economic development and growth from the perspective of a former Governor whose state, New Hampshire, was in the forefront of economic development, and who now serves as the Chief of Staff to the President of the United States. Following your address, Members of The America-European Community Association Chapter of The European Parliament will present "1992-- The Europeans Are Coming: Implications for the U.S.."

Governor, your participation will significantly enhance the success of our Annual Meeting and ALEC's Action Agenda... "Freedom and Free Enterprise" and most importantly, our state legislators and corporate members will have a better understanding of America's future role in the emerging global economy and why America must retain its competitive edge as Western Europe becomes an integrated economic superpower.

The American Legislative Exchange Council is this country's largest individual membership organization serving state legislators, who have joined together to advance the principles inherent in Jeffersonian Democracy. Today, ALEC is considered to be the most important state-oriented public policy organization on Capitol Hill, and is now a critical action link between state capitals, Congress, and the White House.

Dear Governor Sununu:

On behalf of the Penn in Washington Program, I invite you to share your thoughts and expertise with a group of University of Pennsylvania students who will be spending this summer as interns in Washington, DC. The Penn in Washington Program is designed to acquaint Penn students with the political and cultural life of Washington by providing them with a series of informal discussion sessions with Washington leaders. In the past, these leaders have come from all branches of government, as well as major cultural and communications centers. This year we hope to have the privilege of including you among those participating in our program.

Our sessions consist of informal comments followed by a question and answer period. Each is usually held in the individual's office and is attended by approximately 15 students.

We would be grateful if you would hold one of these sessions this summer in your office, between June 18 and August 3. The precise time, date, location and topic can be set according to your preference and convenience. I am asking Deb Hamilton, our program coordinator, to contact your office to see if a session can be arranged. If you wish to respond before Ms. Hamilton speaks with you, please call Deborah Gould, Assistant Director of the Career Planning and Placement Service, at (215) 898-4827, or write her at the above address.

Should your schedule not permit your participation in this year's program, we would appreciate it if you would be able to suggest an appropriate colleague or staff member who might be willing to speak with our students.

Thank you very much for your consideration.

Dear Mr. Wilkerson:

Thank you for your recent letter to the Chief of Staff requesting his support for your summarized plans for an alternative motor oil and resultant decrease in pollution of the environment.

As you may already be aware, a White House policy restricts the Chief of Staff from endorsing or promoting any private or commercial enterprises. While Governor Sununu appreciates your interest, he hopes that you will understand the need for this policy and that you will pursue the assistance of the government through the pertinent Federal agencies involved.

With the Governor's best wishes, pollution is caused by waste motor oil that has been improperly dumped into public sewers and other means. This source of water pollution even extends into our offshore ocean water. This letter will describe the means to reduce this pollution from 40% down to possibly less than 10%.

It is no longer necessary to consume and dump one billion gallons of petroleum based motor oils into our environment every year. A totally superior, far more economical and much cleaner alternative exists.

This alternative would require the universal usage of a relatively new class of highly technical and perfected synthetic (engineered) motor oils. Absolutely NOT one drop of crude or finished mineral petroleum based material would be needed. There exists a class of approved SAE (Society of Automotive Engineers) motor oils that are distinguished by their 100% polyol ester base stocks. A principal raw material of polyol esters is vegetable oil.

At the risk of seeming to be making a commercial presentation, please read all of the following. The information that follows merely supports what we have stated above.

We have had over 8 years of field experience with a product called SDL-1 which is 100% polyol ester based and which was originally developed by the Stauffer Chemical Company of Westport, Connecticut and which is now produced by Stauffer's successors, the Akzo Chemical Company of Chicago.

Dear Mr. Richerson:

Thank you for your recent letter to the Chief of Staff requesting his support for your recovery system to convert municipal solid waste materials into reuseable products.

As you may already be aware, a White House policy restricts the Chief of Staff from endorsing or promoting any private or commercial enterprises. While Governor Sununu appreciates your interest, he hopes that you will understand the need for this policy and that you will pursue the assistance of the government through the pertinent Federal agencies involved.

Offers a viable alternative to this recovery problem.

1. A "Non burn" continuous, mechanical, centralized municipal solid waste (MSW) separation and recycling plant to supplement or replace household sorting and curbside collection of MSW.
2. Reduce demands on landfills since our facility will recycle 85% of MSW, with only 15% of the residue having to be landfilled. This will reduce the capacity of existing landfills ten (10) times, as opposed to landfilling 75% of the residue after the mandated 25% recycling.
3. Offer an alternative to mass incineration presently performed. After front end separation and recycling, larger communities could still incinerate the remaining volume in a much safer and economical means, eliminating the problem of air emissions (dioxin), or possible hazardous ash residue disposal.

Dear Mr. Smith:

leum is increasingly urgent and has, in fact, now developed far beyond the point that emergency measures should have been considered. Under these circumstances, all proposals should be considered and thoroughly evaluated.

I have communicated my views on the efficacy of oil mining to recover substantial volumes of crude oil from abandoned reservoirs directly to the U.S. Department of Energy and indirectly through Congressional Representatives, requesting a grant in support of a pilot project. The only response from DOE was negative with reasoning that revealed a complete ignorance of reservoir conditions and lack of interest in technology that could develop the 30 to 50-year supply of petroleum needed to establish a transition to a nuclear energy industrial capability of supplying electricity and preserve remaining reserves for automotive and industrial purposes.

Interested potential investors approached have been skeptical of the suggestion that residual oil exists in abandoned fields or they question the feasibility of the production technology. Actually both production feasibility and the existence of commercial amounts of hydrocarbons have been proven by French and

However, I was told that they will not do so because of Article 214B, which interpretation I was informed, is that my sister does not have enough reasons to want to go back to her country of origin. Although my sister has no intention of staying here permanently, under the present circumstances, one must have a death wish to want to go back to Lebanon; at least until the current situation has somewhat improved.

eral legislation barring job discrimina-mandatory insurance and housing for these ments, I am sure you and your advisors sims and magnitude of this virile epidemic.

Would you back federal legislation to require that restaurant owners NOT discriminate against persons with TB, hepatitis, or syphilis? Of course not!
You would thus discriminate against the uninfected population, putting them at great risk.

Despite false propaganda to the contrary, AIDS virus victims are in exactly the same category. The CDC and many other government agencies have been intimidated by the homosexual group, who are the main (67%) carriers of AIDS; common sense has been abandoned, and the CDC has not even undertaken studies to see if the HIV is transmitted in coughing, sneezing, expectorating or in speech. By this subterfuge, AIDS sufferers can allege that there are "no statistics" on this method of transmission!

Homosexual advocates are everywhere, and if by some chance the person on your staff who reads this is so minded, this letter and thousands similar will never reach your desk.

March 23/30 AMA News, p. 18, states that the U. S. military will spend $3 billion treating AIDS patients over the next 10 years. More than 6,200 active duty personnel tested positive for AIDS in 1987--the last year such figures were available.
The report estimated that the military will spend between $157,000 and $208,000 on care per patient over a 10-year period.

A person infected with HIV can infect others from the very first day he or she gets the disease until the day of death. There is no "latent" period. It may take between weeks to 3 years for that person to test positive. After that, it may take months to years for the person to manifest AIDS and be ill. But every single day of that time, that person is capable of spreading the disease. We have now on our hands, due to the fact that AIDS carriers have not been isolated or constrained in any way--we have already on our hands a gigantic portion of the American population that may already be exposed to HIV.

I urge you to look into the sources of your information more carefully. There are many, many M.D.'s who do not agree with CDC policy.

If the United States continues on our present course, our health care system is sure to break down, our insurance carriers will be bankrupt, and the government-- meaning the taxpayers--will be absolutely incapable of solving the problems. Don't be complacent about throwing $3.5 billion at the problem--has unlimited money been successful in finding a cure for cancer? No, the cure for AIDS, like the cure for cancer, will probably be found painfully slowly, piecemeal, and in behavioral modification.

We are being ripped off by the medical profession. I just received a bill for a five minute procedure for $290. This is the first time in my life that I am not going to pay a bill.

I suggest the following solution to a SIMPLE problem:

1. Eliminate mal-practice insurance and the ability to sue a doctor for mal-practice and replace it with a system to remove incompetent doctors from their practice. Get lawyers out of medicine and doctors fees.
2. Since the medical profession is in clear violation of the Sherman Act, have their fees controlled by the procedure and by the hour. Do you know Medicare pays over $2500 for a 15 minute catarac removal operation? Another example, my annual rectal exam which took two to three minutes cost $290.
3. Have the Government pay for any qualified person to receive a medical education. Right now a medical education can only be obtained by the wealthy. Increase the supply of doctors.

You can be sure that most people would now choose socialized medicine with all of its short-comings. If our Republican party ignores this problem, we can be sure that a liberal will grab this issue and win elections.

Everyone in this Country is suing everyone. This can be stopped by the following laws:

1. No contingency fees. If you sue, you pay for a lawyer.

SUBJECT: S.1630 & H.R. 3030

Dear Governor Sununu:

The subject Senate and House of Representative Bills are legislation on acid rain. These bills will result in a tremendous loss of jobs to coal miners, fossil fuel power plant employees and suppliers to these industries unless modification to the legislation is included prior to their passage.

Specifically, a provision should be added to the House Bill whereby the Governor of a state has the right to intervene if the acid rain requirements of Title V of H.R. 3030 causes economic disruption or significant job losses. This provision is not currently included in S.1630. It should also be included in any final legislation that results from a House/Senate conference.

A provision must be included in the House Bill, and, any final legislation from a House/Senate conference to allow an electric utility a choice to obtain a waiver of the 1995, Phase 1, 2.5 pounds of sulfur dioxide per million BTU emission requirements, if the utilities commit by that time to the full 1.2 pounds sulfur dioxide per million BTU level by the year 2000. Both bills mandate switching to low sulfur coal or natural gas in 1995 and do not allow access to clean coal technology expected around 1997 and beyond. Extending this waiver until the year 2000 when such new clean coal technology can be utilized is the most sensible approach.

To The Honorable John Sununu:

This is in reference to the U. S. Senate Bill S-1630, and also the House Bill HR 3030. If these bills become law, they will seriously disrupt the coal industry, thereby causing the loss of more than one million jobs in the Midwest alone. This serious and ill-advised development must be promptly remedied to avoid a chaotic disruption to our country-wide economic situation.

We trust you will lend your voice to remedy the situation which would result from the passage of the above mentioned bills in their present forms.

Governor John Sununu
White House Chief of Staff
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Sir:

As a supplier to various coal companies, we are extremely concerned about Title V of H.R. 3030 and S.1630. Should the full house act favorably to the U. S. Senate's passage of S.1630, the coal industry will be devastated which would devastate the business of Gauley Sales Company.

Gauley Sales Company employs 90 at its various locations. Passage of said legislation, as is, would possibly result in drastic layoffs.

We urge you as a representative of the people to consider the following provisions as additions:

1. The provision in the House bill whereby the Governor of a state has the right to intervene if the "acid rain" requirements of Title V of H.R. 3030 causes economic disruption of significant job losses must be retained in the House/Senate conference. This provision is currently not included in S.1630
2. A provision must be included in the house bill and in any final legislation from a House/Senate conference to allow an electric utility a true freedom of choice and to obtain a waiver of the 1995, Phase I, 2.5 pounds of sulfur dioxide per million BTU emission requirements, If they commit by that time to the full 1.2 pounds sulfur dioxide per million BTU level by the year 2000. As presently drafted both Bills mandate fuel switching to low sulfur coal or natural gas in 1995 and preempt the use of clear coal technology. Targeting fewer power plants in 1995 would also have the same affect. Simply stated, the 1995 sulfur dioxide requirements must be delayed to 2000 so that clear coal technology, which will not be available until 1997 and beyond, can be utilized. This will eliminate the devastating job losses, business failures, and economic disruptions that will occur in 1995 under the presently proposed "acid rain" legislation.

Encl: National Natural Landmark Program (NNLP) Overview
New York Times book review

Dear Mr. Sununu:

*S-6A
Mr. Sununu
the National Natural Landmark Program*

The plethora of bills being generated by the environmental consortium designed to vastly expand acquisition of private lands are a threat to private ownership of the 60% of the land base that is private; the funds to be authorized are guns to the heads of private owners who do not wish to sell. Condemnation as a threat is consistently used to pressure owners into selling and selling at less than market value, and of course condemnation as an action rebukes private rights absolutely. The environmental position is colonial grants, homesteading, and the rest of it were a great mistake. Somehow this nation, the light of the world, barely escaped self destruction due to private ownership, and just in the nick of time the environmental consortium comes to save us from ourselves.

If today the land base, tomorrow ...what?

*DOI with

The various initiatives headed your way have been in process, covertly or openly, since the early 1960's. The iceberg has been long a building and now has been launched into the shipping lanes. The irony is the vast majority of private lands with natural values are conservatively managed by their owners. Condition of the land base is not the issue so much as who shall own or control it; the issue is collective ownership vs. private ownership. And since virtually every preservationist initiative is doomed absent a reduction in population, the outcome of an orgy of acquisition will be merely a transfer of ownership or control to bureaucracies. (I enclose a white paper on the NNLP, a tragic example of bureaucracy run amok, a bureaucracy controlled by liberal, predominately Democratic officials (supposedly under the direction of a Republican political appointee), a bureaucracy hostile to private landowners who are a natural conservative Republican constituency which now has no option but to turn on the administration).

Please, at the very least, take the position that none of the funds the administration is maneuvered into approving may be used for adverse condemnation purposes (nor replace funds so employed). Please take a position against adverse condemnation being used against lands not imperiled by acts of the owners. Please take the position that employing adverse condemnation to take the land of one person wherewith to make of it a toy for another (recreational use) is immoral and unwise. Make no mistake about it, the threat of adverse condemnation is the key.

Subject: Proposal For Financing The Federal Budget Deficit And The Savings And Loan Bailout

Dear Mr. Sununu:

Please accept this letter as an outline of a proposal for the financing of the Federal Deficit and for the financing of the Cost of the Savings and Loan Bailout. My proposal for you to consider, in the event that increased taxes are determined to be needed to finance the above costs, is to implement a "National Gross Receipts Tax" ("NGRT") spread out over a ten year period.

Virtually all other means of "raising taxes"; a national sales tax, consumption taxes, excise taxes,... etc.; place an undue burden on the middle income citizen taxpayer. The Gross Receipts Tax; if applied fairly, without exception and/or exemption; can mitigate the burden of financing (taxing) the U.S. taxpayer by spreading the burden over the entire U.S. economy.

It seems that there is no central reporting entity that monitors Gross Receipts on a national or even on a state by state basis. Mr. Robert White of the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston suggested that the Gross National Product (GNP) index is as close as one can currently come in determining a National Gross Receipts number. Assuming that $300 Billion of additional taxes were needed to retire the Federal Budget Deficit and to finance the S&L Bailout; the annual "National Gross Receipts Tax" ("NGRT") Rate would be 0.6% per dollar of Gross National Product during the ten year financing period, using the 1989 GNP of $5,233.3 Billion as a statistical base. Stated in terms of the average taxpayer; the National Gross Receipts Tax for a family with $50,000 of "Gross Receipts" would be $300 per year; for a business with annual "Gross Receipts" of $1 Million, the NGRT would be $6,000 annually; for the "big business" with "Gross Receipts" of $1 Billion, the NGRT would be $6 Million annually.

As mentioned on the phone, Northeastern University is attempting to obtain $7 million in facilities funding from NASA to help pay for the new Science Center, which will cost over 3 times that amount.

Senator Kerry and his Legislative Director, Tim Barnicle, have met with NASA officials and have been very forceful in supporting Northeastern's request. They specifically emphasized the need for facilities funding rather than research grants at this time and have requested that NASA respond to them quickly. As a member of Northeastern's Board of Trustees, I would like to enlist the support of Governor Sununu in this endeavor.

Also, I would like the opportunity to have Northeastern's newly-elected President, Dr. John Curry, spend a few minutes with Governor Sununu during his June 9th visit to Boston, if possible.

Dear Governor Sununu:

As you may know, I won the Republican nomination for Texas Attorney General by beating three opponents in the March 13 primary. Since then, the public opinion surveys show me within four points of defeating my Democrat opponent, the closest any down-ballot Republican has ever started a general election in Texas.

With the Republicans on the verge of gaining majority party status in Texas, the Attorney General takes on added significance. The Attorney General, as the state's top lawyer, will be responsible for all litigation arising out of the 1991 legislative and Congressional redistricting process. There is no doubt that the liberal Democrats in the Legislature will flagrantly gerrymander the redistricting plan in an attempt to maintain their tenuous advantage. Besides the Attorney General's inherent power in redistricting -- by virtue of his vast discretion in defending and pursuing legal challenges -- the officeholder also sits on the powerful five-member Legislative Redistricting Board.

Many other issues of importance to the Bush White House, the Republican Party and conservative causes in general will come before the Attorney General. The current Attorney General, Jim Mattox, is an activist liberal who is leaving the office scandal-plagued. Mattox has been a constant foe of Governor Clements, and has hampered economic growth in the state through his anti-business policies and his expansionist, activist legal and political shenanigans.

I want to be the Attorney General who returns the office to a legal operation dedicated to providing top-notch legal services to the state. Under my administration, the Attorney General will work in concert with our new Governor and the White House to steer the state down a responsible, conservative path. But Republican victories in Texas don't come easily or cheaply. That is why I am writing you.

... the dedication ceremony of the Astronauts Memorial on December 3
at the John F. Kennedy
Space Center

May 16, 1990

The Honorable John H. Sununu
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House
Washington DC 20500

Dear Governor Sununu:

This December, The Astronauts Memorial Foundation (AMF) and the nation will dedicate the Astronauts Memorial at NASA's John F. Kennedy Space Center, Florida. We have invited President Bush to deliver the keynote address at the official dedication ceremony on December 3, 1990 at 10:00 a.m. at Spaceport USA. On behalf of Grace Corrigan, we are most pleased to extend to you a personal invitation to the dedication ceremony.

Created in the aftermath of the Challenger accident, The AMF has a two-fold goal: to design, construct and perpetually maintain a permanent memorial to the 14 fallen U.S. astronauts; and, to develop and operate an education and scholarship program which will serve as a "living memorial" to those astronauts by helping foster a greater understanding of space and its exploration among our youth.

The AMF Board of Directors, in cooperation with NASA KSC, is planning a world-class dedication event similar to the national dedication of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial held in 1982. Our dedication activities will include a private dinner and memorial tour for the honored astronauts' families, sponsors and dignitaries on Sunday evening; the official dedication ceremony, followed by a private luncheon on Monday; and, a VIP dinner hosted by Canadian-based Olympia & York, the world's largest privately-held development company, on Monday evening.

The dedication activities will conclude on Tuesday, December 4, with a Space Education Symposium, which was inspired by President Bush's recent announcement committing a permanent U.S. presence in space through initiatives such as Space Station Freedom.
