MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: CHASE UNTERMEYER

SUBJECT: UN DAY CHAIRMAN

The United Nations Association (UNA), of which Brent Scowcroft is a principal, has invited you to select the 1989 UN Day chairman. Traditionally, this person has been a major corporation CEO. A list of potential selectees, compiled by UNA, is attached.

UNA has also invited you to address its annual dinner on June 3 in New York. (You spoke at the 1981 dinner.) The UN Day chairman would be announced at this time.

If you would like to make the selection, please let me (or Brent) know who he/she is, and we'll take it from there.

You might take a strong look at one of the following:

The President
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Ave., N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

Anne and I very much appreciated being included in your dinner for UN Secretary General Perez de Cuellar last week. It was a splendid occasion and timed perfectly to signal your intention to use the UN constructively and to do your part to repair the damage in US-UN relations. I think that you will find the Secretary General to be a ready partner in this enterprise, and my colleagues and I in the United Nations Association are prepared to help in any way that would be useful to your efforts.

This is UNA's Silver Anniversary Year and, to mark this milestone, we would be enormously honored if you would speak at our annual dinner in New York on Saturday, June 3rd. You may recall having spoken at the dinner eight years ago, in your first months as Vice President, as well as participating during your years at the UN. We expect to have at least 1,000 guests from the corporate community, the UN diplomatic corps (all 159 Permanent Representatives are invited), the press and the foreign policy community. At the event, your choice for UN Day Chairman is officially installed, kicking off the 1989 UN Day Program.

It seems to me that this would be an ideal occasion -- the right audience and the right time -- to lay out the major themes of your Administration's approach to the UN, as well as what you will expect from the world body and from the other member states. While you may plan to address the General Assembly in September, that speech is usually devoted to a more general overview of the world situation and you may not want to wait that long to enunciate your views of the UN.

I have a second request, again one with which you are familiar. We would greatly appreciate your appointing a 1989 UN Day Chairman as soon as possible. Ed Luck, UNA's President, has sent a list of suggested CEOs to Brent Scowcroft, and hopefully you will have some recommendations before you shortly. As you may recall, you were very

TO: WWF-USA - Office of the President

FROM: Staffan de Mistura - Director General WWF Italy

URGENT ATTENTION: Kathryn S. Fuller - President

I would appreciate if you could kindly transmit the following text to William Reilly, Administrator US-EPA

Dear Bill,

as a follow up to a special meeting between ourselves and Prime Minister De Mita, we had yesterday a meeting with Ambassador Vattani, diplomatic advisor to the Prime Minister of Italy. (We are working together on different options of environmentally oriented development aid).

Ambassador Vattani informed us that Prime Minister De Mita has just written to President Bush to suggest the inclusion of "environment" in the agenda of his forthcoming visit to Italy on 26-27 May (environment will also be high upon the agenda of Paris Summit).

Ambassador Vattani felt very strongly that your presence on the occasion of such discussion would be needed and could contribute to show the common concern for urgent environment issues. The Prime Minister's Office would therefore like to send you a formal invitation to come to Italy together with the President. We were delighted and indicated your very good knowledge of Italian culture and language.

Could you please let us know as soon as possible if, as we hope, such invitation would meet an affirmative reply on your side? Call me at home even at night (06/6873907) or in the office (06/859100-857232-85/634).

Warm regards

SUBJECT: OIL SPILL GLOBAL PLAN

I. SUMMARY

I believe it is important for us to have a Global Plan to show your Administration's involvement and dedication to the cleanup in Alaska, to the prevention of a future accident, and to prepare for any incidents in the future.

Attached is a Global Plan and Media Strategy we have prepared to coordinate legislative, regulatory, and response activities relating to the Alaska oil spill. I would like to see you personally involved in the announcement of many of the efforts. Please let me know whatever items you would like to be involved in personally and we will modify the initiative and timetable accordingly.

The plan currently envisions steady activity from now until the middle of July. As more initiatives mature, they will be integrated into the schedule.

GLOBAL APPROACH TO THE OIL SPILL

Upon the announcement of new legislative or regulatory initiatives, exposure would be generated in accordance with the Public Relations plan outline. Some initiatives would be White House, some OST, some Coast Guard, and some industry.

SHORT TERM INITIATIVES:

MAY

- 9 (DONE) Arrange meeting for Larry Rawl at the White House with the Chief of Staff.
 - a. Develop additional items that should be done by EXXON in their effort that the President can announce (May 8).
- 11 (DONE) Introduce Oilspill Liability and Compensation legislation.
 - a. To include request for U. S. ratification of the 1984 Protocols to the Liability and Fund Conventions.
- 15 Transmission of 30-day report from Secretary Skinner and Administrator Reilly to the President.
- 19 Lunch at Old Ebbitt Grill with Senator Stevens, Larry King . . . MENU consists of Alaskan Halibut caught from the Prince William Sound.
- 20 Editorial on the status of the cleanup immediately upon return from Valdez.
 - a. This tragedy should never have happened.
 - b. Prior oil spills - Amoco Cadiz.
 - c. Need for oilspill contingency legislation.
 - d. Need for focused coordinated R&D effort.
- 23 Announce plans to conduct a conference of environmentalists, shippers, and oil industry representatives to discuss what has been learned from the oil spill. (Coast Guard lead)
- 25 Arrange a consortium of oil companies to create and fund an institute for study and treatment of oil residue impacts on marine wildlife -- outside of the scrubbing centers to EXXON doesn't have a parochial interest.
 - a. Letter to interested oil companies (draft by May 17).

LONG TERM INITIATIVE ANNOUNCEMENTS (primarily legislative and regulatory efforts):

MAY

- 26 Department to inventory the oilspill cleanup equipment in the U.S. and in the world. Coast Guard will assess the rest of the world's capability and any advances in technology in this field.
- 29 Department to lead the development of an overall National Research and Development Plan for oil and hazardous substance spill prevention and response.
 - a. Plan will suggest the coordination of all relevant R & D activities for federal departments/agencies.
 - b. As a first step, begin evaluation of existing world-wide state-of-the-art in oil and hazardous substances pollution response equipment. Enter this information in a computer database such as the SKIM system

JUNE

- 3 Review the need for additional authorities under the Clean Water Act, and possibly the Port and Tanker Safety Act. Initial evaluations by a working group relate to:
 - a. "Directing" a spiller to clean-up (not now required)
 - b. Give the President or SECDOT the authority to declare a spill to be of "National Significance"
 - c. Establishing a disaster management "super-response" mechanism when a spill is declared to be of "National Significance"
 - d. Increasing civil and criminal penalty authority
 - e. Providing for a national Research and Development program
 - f. Heightening facility/port pollution response readinessBroader areas of concern may be identified as the Working Group progresses.
- 8 Coast Guard to develop legislative proposals on Merchant Vessel Personnel. (Proposals are presently in clearance)
 - a. Providing periodic renewal of all Staff Officer certificates and seamen's documents (now issued for life).
 - b. Providing authority to deny issuance or withhold renewal of all licenses, certificates and seamen's documents based on acceptable character and habits of life including alcohol abuse.
 - c. Provide access to the National Driver Register and NCIC data.
 - d. Provide authority to extend jurisdiction to suspend or revoke licenses, certificates and seamen's documents to misconduct ashore related to alcohol abuse.
 - e. Establishing statutory authority and provide procedures for the next senior licensed officer to temporarily relieve the Master of command of a vessel for incapacity resulting from intoxication as the result of the use of dangerous drugs or alcohol.

- 12 Publish Supplemental Notice of Proposed Rule making (SNPRM) on Pilotage.
 - a. CGD 84-060, Licensing of Pilots; Manning of Vessels - Pilots. Supplemental Rule Making will give all parties an opportunity for additional comment in light of EXXON VALDEZ grounding. Rule as it now stands would exclude vessels from federal pilotage requirements when entering or departing Prince William Sound and proceeding directly to or from Valdez or to a designated anchorage area. The Supplemental Notice will add certain operational requirements, i.e., visibility in excess of 2 nm, an additional mate on watch (total of 2), periodic reporting to the VTS.
 - b. This rule was in final clearance when the casualty occurred.

- 19 Promulgate concise DWI policy.
 - a. Develop formal policy statement to Regional examination Centers (REC's) that DWI offenses must be reported by applicants and subsequently investigated by CG. This information has been passed electronically to field units.
 - b. Develop new Original License/Renewal Application Form detailing on its face a requirement to report all DWI offenses. Form requires OMB approval.

- 26 Review National, Regional and Local Contingency Plans.
 - a. As a first step, Coast Guard District Commanders will be required by ALDIST to begin an immediate risk assessment of all of their deep draft ports.
 - b. This assessment will require development of such information as: high density traffic areas, restricted navigation areas, and hazards to navigation. It is expected in the end to guide future contingency plans by updating risk assumptions on which these plans are based.
 - c. A study group has been formed to review and revise Coast Guard contingency planning criteria.
 - d. The President has directed separately, a six month review of contingency planning.

- 30 National Strike Force (NSF)
 - a. The law requires the National Contingency Plan (NCP) to include establishment of a strike force consisting of personnel trained and prepared to carry out the requirements of the plan.
 - b. The Coast Guard NSF is one of the special forces available to assist the OSC (CG or EPA) whenever needed. They also are available to assist state or local government and foreign governments on request.

- c. The Strike Teams (Atlantic and Pacific) that comprise the NSF should be positioned and able to provide immediate communications support; oil and hazardous substance removal expertise; ship's damage control; and support to monitor removal operations, document costs and coordinate logistics. The NSF once included a Dive Team.
- d. It is essential to convene a study group to review the standing and availability of the teams, their equipment, personnel resources and training in light of experience gained. This is especially vital in the context of amendments that may be proposed to the FWPCA and the NCP.

JULY

- 7 Seek ratification of the International Convention on Standards of Training, Certification and Watchkeeping.
 - a. Review past Senate action and consider again recommending ratification of the International Convention for Standards of Training, Certification and Watchkeeping (STCW).
 - b. Recently published domestic regulations (46 CFR Part 10) place the provisions of STCW in effect for U. S. seafarers. Ratification will put in place comparable standards for foreign crews.
- 12 Oil Spill Public Affairs Revitalization
 - a. Take steps to revitalize the Public Information Assist Team (PIAT). The PIAT is a team of public affairs specialists knowledgeable in many facets of pollution response (e.g. equipment, clean-up methods, roles of agencies, laws). The team was established originally as a stand-alone, well equipped, mobile force available to lend proactive support to the On Scene Coordinator during pollution incidents.
 - b. Prepare a documentary on CG/National response to the EXXON VALDEZ incident. As a first step, ensure that adequate file footage is taken and available.
- 17 Review existing VTS regulations in 33 CFR.
 - a. Initiate a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) to establish all VTSS as mandatory systems vice voluntary.
 - b. Recommend changes to regulations regarding the extent of VTS control over vessel movements as necessary.
 - c. Recommend changes to regulations regarding Traffic Separation Scheme compliance as it relates to VTS authority as necessary.
- 17 Study means by which the Government could recover the costs of operating vessel traffic services from the Maritime industry.

MEDIA STRATEGY FOR GLOBAL PLAN

I. PURPOSE:

Disseminate the administration's full effort and commitment to rid Prince William Sound and its beaches of the oil spilled by the Exxon Valdez.

Describe the unified effort of more than a dozen federal agencies working together under the guidance of Transportation Secretary Sam Skinner at the direction of President Bush.

Highlight the on-site leadership of the Coast Guard in clean up operations and the long-term objectives of the Environmental Protection Agency.

II. MESSAGE OBJECTIVE:

COMMITMENT, EFFECTIVENESS & COORDINATION

III. MESSAGE PITFALLS:

Taking a more pro-active approach now, leaves us vulnerable to the following perceptions:

1. Initial indecisiveness immediately after the spill.
2. Diminishing Exxon's role in the clean up thereby weakening our legal argument and potentially decreasing Exxon's liability to those impacted by the spill.

IV. OPERATIONAL MEDIA PLAN:

A. TELEVISION

1. Solicit live and/or taped one-on-one interviews for principals involved in the clean up coordination. These shows include the Sunday public affairs line-up ie. Face the Nation, Meet the Press, McLaughlin's One-on-One, etc. The principals selected include:

- a) Secretary Skinner
- b) Admiral Yost
- c) William Reilly

2. Reach out to regional and Washington news bureaus as well as major market local television stations.

- a) Potomac, Group W, and Conus satellite operations can get us coverage in virtually all of the top 100 markets. Proper marketing of the principals will ensure that our message will be available to more than half the country.

3. Travel to major market cities for media blitz activities, including interviews on local television stations.

4. Produce a video presentation to be sent to environmental/wildlife groups around the country.
 - a) This is a long-term project designed to reach the groups who are most antagonistic toward us on this issue.
 1. The video would be a summary of the federal government's role in the clean up. It can also be updated to further illustrate our long-term commitment to restoring Prince William Sound.

B. RADIO

1. Solicit major network & syndicated radio interviews for principals:
 - a) Larry King Show
 - b) Michael Jackson
 - c) National Public Radio
 - d) Hal Bruno's Radio Show
2. Solicit interviews with network radio reporters and major radio news stations.
3. Travel to major markets for media blitz which include interviews with radio stations.
4. Weekly radio actuality updates from the Coast Guard about the progress of the clean up. This message will be full of statistics about the number of people hired, the amount of gallons removed, the number of wildlife saved, and similar information.

C. PRINT

1. Op-ed pieces distributed to major daily newspapers around the country.
2. Hold oil spill roundtables with small groups of reporters.
3. Invite a handfull of selected reporters to travel to Valdez with members of the coordinating team.
4. Travel to major markets and conduct editorial boards which focus on the oil spill.

D. POLITICALLY

1. Call for an international conference on oil spill contingency plans. This effort would be similar to an environmental summit dealing specifically with oil spills. The message is: oil tanker transportation is an international business which requires international coordination and cooperation in the clean up of oil spills.

2. Convene a domestic summit of oil companies, tanker operations, and port officials to discuss the lessons of Valdez. A working amendment to the National Response Plan can be the result of this summit.

3. Run an article in First Monday, the Republican National Committee's quarterly publication, about the administration's efforts to clean up the spill.

4. Get local and federal republican officials to discuss the administration's position and action on this issue in Congress and media interviews.

V. CONCLUSION

It is imperative that the clean up operation be effective in order for the media plan to produce its desired results. The plan can be implemented quickly upon approval of all or part of the above. Travel may be necessary for implementing some of the recommendations.

In the end the media will judge our effectiveness on two major criteria - money and manpower - if we can not produce a convincing amount of either, then a high profile public affairs campaign will fall flat on its face.

The specifics on ideas and individual proposals contained in the sections above will be provided upon request.

- . International Response Capability
 - a. Review contingency planning as devised in certain foreign countries (e.g. North Sea "fire house" approach and port plans in FRG).
 - b. Develop multinational response plan through the international Maritime Organization (IMO), Marine Environmental Protection Committee.
1. Update the 1973 Analysis of Port Needs Study.
 - a. Determine a prioritized list of those U. S. ports most in need of vessel traffic service.
 - b. Use risk analysis rather than accident analysis methods in the study.
 2. Conduct operational and technical reviews of existing Vessel Traffic Services to determine if near term changes are necessary.
 - a. Determine if any procedural changes could be made to improve service to the mariner and enhance port safety.
 - b. Evaluate installed equipment to determine if there are weaknesses or design faults and take corrective action.
 3. Conduct an in-depth technical and operational review of equipment and procedures to determine if long term changes should be made.
 - a. Examine state of the art surveillance, communications, and data processing equipment to evaluate its potential for enhancing VTS operations.
 - b. Evaluate differential LORAN-C and GPS retransmission as passive surveillance techniques and the carriage requirements these systems impose upon VTS users.
 - c. Study the relative merits of surveillance solutions to tracking vessels in Vessel Movement Reporting System areas.
 - d. Install state of the art enhancements as equipment replacements at all VTSs by 1995.

PRESIDENT

May 11, 1989

Dear Mr President

I pray you will find this suggestion to your hearty liking.

In the fall, either late September or October, we will mark the 25th anniversary of the American Film Institute, which celebrates the unique and indigenous American art form, the movie.

I remember it so well, for it was President Johnson who signed into law the bill giving birth to the National Endowment for the Arts, which included in its provisions the creation of an American Film Institute.

It is the intention of the film industry to stage a dinner in Washington at that time to which we would invite not only Senators and Congressmen who care about the arts, and the American movie in particular, but also artists and artisans in film, music, literature and dance to join with us in this celebration of our heritage.

The dinner will fall short of the mark if the President of the United States is not there for it was a President who caused the AFI to be born, and with it a visible reminder of the worth by which this nation measures the movie. We would also invite all living ex-Presidents to be with us for they, like you, carry on the ascending curve of America's interest in the American movie, which as you know, is supreme in the world, as well as one of our most valuable trade assets.

Would you, Mr. President, and Mrs. Bush, consent to lending your presence and your joy for films to this once-in-a-generation evening, where you and your living predecessors would gather to salute the American movie?

I would be pleased to work with your scheduling staff to make sure that the date that is set, and it would only be set to coincide with your schedule, is suitable to you.

I hope so very much you will say "Yes." It is an important event in the life of art in America, and it can be rightfully and valuably celebrated only with your presence.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to be "John", written in a cursive style.

Dear George,

Your letter about the Bonefish and Tarpon has made me very restless. I want to be there but, unfortunately, it doesn't look like I am going to make it this spring.

I still have in mind calling you to get you up here for that fly casting lesson. I will mention to Bob Mosbacher the August meeting in Las Vegas.

Also, I think it would be useful for Secretary Lujan to sit down with you, Ray Scott and Clare Conley. Maybe I could buy the beer.

Mr. George Bush
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear George,

- You should really be fishing here now, tons of fish, both Bonefish and Tarpon. Even Fonzi could catch them.

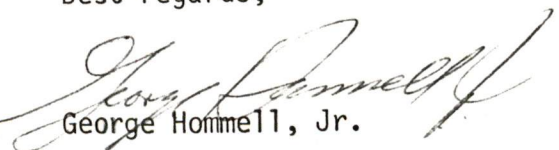

Ray Scott and Clare Conley both called the other day and offered their help or advice in matters pertaining to the fishing, environment, etc. and suggested I should also which I naturally do anyway. They thought the three of us might meet with you, not necessarily in Washington as we are all free to go anywhere to discuss this with you and also meet with Secretary Lujan and possibly be of some help to him.

Naturally all this would be on a volunteer basis and I think it could be helpful as between the three of us we either belong to or know the principals of most of the major fishing and hunting organizations in the country.

Our goal would be for you to continue to have the support of most of the sixty million fishermen in the country. I realize, as they do, that with so many things to do that it may be a while before you do have time to meet with us and I do understand.

Last year you sent a fine telegram to AFTMA, American Fishing Tackle Manufacturers Association, wishing them luck for the coming year. That was in Las Vegas in August. The show this year is July 26, 27, and 28 and it would be a real plus if you could have Secretary Mosbacher drop by for an hour or so and again I realize this may not be possible. If so I can arrange his meeting there. I was in Washington Monday and had a short meeting with Bob Simon one of your speech writers. A great guy.

I thought you might be interested in the enclosed article. It's great when someone, especially in the press says something good about someone. Whenever you want the fly-fishing lesson I can make it any time. I will bring the equipment. If you can make the fishing later than May that would be fine also. The fishing will be good until mid July or if you change your mind and want to come earlier let me know.

Don't let the media stampede you, George

By BOB BLANDFORD
FREE PRESS Columnist

The media are at it again. In their search for something to criticize they came up with a new one. They're saying President George Bush isn't moving fast enough on important issues. Don't let 'em stampede you, George. Take your time.

John Tower nomination

Media critics point to the John Tower nomination for Secretary of Defense as a time-consuming process. They forgot it was the Senate who dawdled for three weeks debating whether Tower was a one or two martini drinker.

They said you should have withdrawn the nomination. As usual, they were dead wrong. Washington correspondents don't understand presidential leadership.

By standing fast you showed the Congress, the American people, and world leaders you are a strong hombre. You don't "cut and run" from a bare-knuckle fight. The American people admire a scrapper. This may be the best three weeks of your first year in office.

However, after the Tower rejection, you didn't cry and weep. You bounced back with a quick naming of Rep. Richard Cheney (R-Wyo.) as your nominee for Secretary of Defense.

Did the press compliment you on your fast action? Heck, no. With Washington correspondents it's a one-way street. They find fault, but never praise.

Gorbachev and the Soviets

Mikhail Gorbachev says he will cut his troop strength by 500,000. That's nice,

People Politics & Stuff...

Gorby. It's about time.

It's taken the Soviets 40 years to realize the U.S. and NATO countries had no desire for European conquests. That threat came solely from the huge Russian armies poised along the borders.

Now, pseudo foreign affairs "experts" in this country are demanding a quick response from President Bush. Take your time, George. It's taken the Soviets almost a half century to make overtures to the peace loving nations. You can certainly take as long as you wish in replying.

One move you might take - and it would bring cheers from the taxpayers - is telling Japan and others to start "paying up" for their own protection.

The United States spends billions of dollars in the Philippines and other Pacific bases largely for the protection of Japan. It's about time our yen to protect them should be balanced by more yen from them!

What does the public think?
Evidently, the American people are satisfied with your job performance. Your ratings have increased every month. In January, according to the Gallup Poll, your rating was 51 percent. It increased to 55 percent in February, and jumped to 62 percent in March.

In the eyes of the people who count - the American public - you're doing just great.

The next time a Washington correspondent, who has never won an election, criticizes you for moving too slowly, tell him, "Mr. Reporter let's see how fast you can move. If you aren't out of here in 10 seconds, there will be a Texas boot on your posterior."

Show 'em a "kinder gentler America" still packs a strong kick.

SHORT SHOTS:

AN OBSERVATION - After attending two of the three public hearings on solid-waste disposal, we've come to a conclusion.

All three hearings began with Peter Robinson of Hazen-Sawyer outlining his company's plan. This study cost $600,000. It called for more incinerators and landfills. At the final hearing at the Key Colony Beach City Hall, Robinson took up 45 minutes rehashing their ideas.

Citizens - at no cost - presented their ideas. None spoke for more than a few minutes. Some professionals, namely Howard Burr of the Agripost company, presented alternate plans - for free. Their ideas were innovative and called for no incinerators or additional landfills.

The conclusion is this. The Monroe County commission got more good advice for free, than it got from P Sawyer for $600,000.

BUDWEISER TAKE NOTE - Pat Sheldon, of fly fishing fame, is never at a loss for quick observations. Recently, he came up with a motto for Budweiser beer. Here 'tis:

"Be Beer-weiser Bud, Buy Budweiser Beer."

It's a heck of a lot more clever than some of the stuff Budweiser has been using. When the beer people pay Pat $50,000 for the slogan, he promises to buy a round at the Cabana Outdoor Bar - maybe even two.

SO TRUE - Cooperation is doing with a smile what you have to do anyway.

URGENT ATTENTION: Kathryn S. Fuller - President

I would appreciate if you could kindly transmit the following text to William Reilly, Administrator US.EPA

Dear Bill ,

as a follow up to a special meeting between ourselves and Prime Minister De Mita, we had yesterday a meeting with Ambassador Vattani, diplomatic advisor to the Prime Minister of Italy. (we are working together on different options of environmentally oriented development aid).

Ambassador Vattani informed us that Prime Minister De Mita has just written to President Bush to suggest the inclusion of "environment" in the agenda of his forthcoming visit to Italy on 26-27 May (environment will also be high upon the agenda of Paris summit).

Ambassador Vattani felt very strongly that your presence on the occasion of such discussion would be needed and could contribute to show the common concern for urgent environment issues. The Prime Minister's Office would therefore like to send you a formal invitation to come to Italy together with the President. We were delighted and indicated your very good knowledge of Italian culture and language.

Could you please let us know as soon as possible if, as we hope, such invitation would meet an affirmative reply on your side? Call me at home even at night (06/6873907) or in the office (06/859100-857232-85/634).

Warm regards

FROM: SAMUEL K. SKINNER
SECRETARY OF TRANSPORTATION

SUBJECT: OIL SPILL GLOBAL PLAN

I. SUMMARY

I believe it is important for us to have a Global Plan to show your Administration's involvement and dedication to the cleanup in Alaska, to the prevention of a future accident, and to prepare for any incidents in the future.

Attached is a Global Plan and Media Strategy we have prepared to coordinate legislative, regulatory, and response activities relating to the Alaska oil spill. I would like to see you personally involved in the announcement of many of the efforts. Please let me know whatever items you would like to be involved in personally and we will modify the initiative and timetable accordingly.

The plan currently envisions steady activity from now until the middle of July. As more initiatives mature, they will be integrated into the schedule.

GLOBAL APPROACH TO THE OIL SPILL

Upon the announcement of new legislative or regulatory initiatives, exposure would be generated in accordance with the Public Relations plan outline. Some initiatives would be White House, some OST, some Coast Guard, and some industry.

SHORT TERM INITIATIVES:

MAY

- 9 (DONE) Arrange meeting for Larry Rawl at the White House with the Chief of Staff.
 - a. Develop additional items that should be done by EXXON in their effort that the President can announce (May 8).
- 11 (DONE) Introduce Oilspill Liability and Compensation legislation.
 - a. To include request for U. S. ratification of the 1984 Protocols to the Liability and Fund Conventions.
- 15 Transmission of 30-day report from Secretary Skinner and Administrator Reilly to the President.
- 19 Lunch at Old Ebbit Grill with Senator Stevens, Larry King . . MENU consists of Alaskan Halibut caught from the Prince William Sound.
- 20 Editorial on the status of the cleanup immediately upon return from Valdez.
 - a. This tragedy should never have happened.
 - b. Prior oil spills - Amoco Cadiz.
 - c. Need for oilspill contingency legislation.
 - d. Need for focused coordinated R&D effort.
- 23 Announce plans to conduct a conference of environmentalists, shippers, and oil industry representatives to discuss what has been learned from the oil spill. (Coast Guard lead)
- 25 Arrange a consortium of oil companies to create and fund an institute for study and treatment of oil residue impacts on marine wildlife -- outside of the scrubbing centers to EXXON doesn't have a parochial interest.
 - a. Letter to interested oil companies (draft by May 17).

LONG TERM INITIATIVE ANNOUNCEMENTS (primarily legislative and regulatory efforts):

MAY

- 26 Department to inventory the oilspill cleanup equipment in the U.S. and in the world. Coast Guard will assess the rest of the world's capability and any advances in technology in this field.
- 29 Department to lead the development of an overall National Research and Development Plan for oil and hazardous substance spill prevention and response.
 - a. Plan will suggest the coordination of all relevant R & D activities for federal departments/agencies.
 - b. As a first step, begin evaluation of existing world-wide state-of-the-art in oil and hazardous substances pollution response equipment. Enter this information in a computer database such as the SKIM system

JUNE

- 3 Review the need for additional authorities under the Clean Water Act, and possibly the Port and Tanker Safety Act. Initial evaluations by a working group relate to:
 - a. "Directing" a spiller to clean-up (not now required)
 - b. Give the President or SECDOT the authority to declare a spill to be of "National Significance"
 - c. Establishing a disaster management "super-response" mechanism when a spill is declared to be of "National Significance"
 - d. Increasing civil and criminal penalty authority
 - e. Providing for a national Research and Development program
 - f. Heightening facility/port pollution response readinessBroader areas of concern may be identified as the Working Group progresses.
- 8 Coast Guard to develop legislative proposals on Merchant Vessel Personnel. (Proposals are presently in clearance)
 - a. Providing periodic renewal of all Staff Officer certificates and seamen's documents (now issued for life).
 - b. Providing authority to deny issuance or withhold renewal of all licenses, certificates and seamen's documents based on acceptable character and habits of life including alcohol abuse.
 - c. Provide access to the National Driver Register and NCIC data.
 - d. Provide authority to extend jurisdiction to suspend or revoke licenses, certificates and seamen's documents to misconduct ashore related to alcohol abuse.
 - e. Establishing statutory authority and provide procedures for the next senior licensed officer to temporarily relieve the Master of command of a vessel for incapacity resulting from intoxication as the result of the use of dangerous drugs or alcohol.

- 12 Publish Supplemental Notice of Proposed Rule making (SNPRM) on Pilotage.
 - a. CGD 84-060, Licensing of Pilots; Manning of Vessels - Pilots. Supplemental Rule Making will give all parties an opportunity for additional comment in light of EXXON VALDEZ grounding. Rule as it now stands would exclude vessels from federal pilotage requirements when entering or departing Prince William Sound and proceeding directly to or from Valdez or to a designated anchorage area. The Supplemental Notice will add certain operational requirements, i.e., visibility in excess of 2 nm, an additional mate on watch (total of 2), periodic reporting to the VTS.
 - b. This rule was in final clearance when the casualty occurred.
- 19 Promulgate concise DWI policy.
 - a. Develop formal policy statement to Regional examination Centers (REC's) that DWI offenses must be reported by applicants and subsequently investigated by CG. This information has been passed electronically to field units.
 - b. Develop new Original License/Renewal Application Form detailing on its face a requirement to report all DWI offenses. Form requires OMB approval.
- 26 Review National, Regional and Local Contingency Plans.
 - a. As a first step, Coast Guard District Commanders will be required by ALDIST to begin an immediate risk assessment of all of their deep draft ports.
 - b. This assessment will require development of such information as: high density traffic areas, restricted navigation areas, and hazards to navigation. It is expected in the end to guide future contingency plans by updating risk assumptions on which these plans are based.
 - c. A study group has been formed to review and revise Coast Guard contingency planning criteria.
 - d. The President has directed separately, a six month review of contingency planning.
- 30 National Strike Force (NSF)
 - a. The law requires the National Contingency Plan (NCP) to include establishment of a strike force consisting of personnel trained and prepared to carry out the requirements of the plan.
 - b. The Coast Guard NSF is one of the special forces available to assist the OSC (CG or EPA) whenever needed. They also are available to assist state or local government and foreign governments on request.

- c. The Strike Teams (Atlantic and Pacific) that comprise the NSF should be positioned and able to provide immediate communications support; oil and hazardous substance removal expertise; ship's damage control; and support to monitor removal operations, document costs and coordinate logistics. The NSF once included a Dive Team.
- d. It is essential to convene a study group to review the standing and availability of the teams, their equipment, personnel resources and training in light of experience gained. This is especially vital in the context of amendments that may be proposed to the FWPCA and the NCP.

JULY

- 7 Seek ratification of the International Convention on Standards of Training, Certification and Watchkeeping.
 - a. Review past Senate action and consider again recommending ratification of the International Convention for Standards of Training, Certification and Watchkeeping (STCW).
 - b. Recently published domestic regulations (46 CFR Part 10) place the provisions of STCW in effect for U. S. seafarers. Ratification will put in place comparable standards for foreign crews.

- 12 Oil Spill Public Affairs Revitalization
 - a. Take steps to revitalize the Public Information Assist Team (PIAT). The PIAT is a team of public affairs specialists knowledgeable in many facets of pollution response (e.g. equipment, clean-up methods, roles of agencies, laws). The team was established originally as a stand-alone, well equipped, mobile force available to lend proactive support to the On Scene Coordinator during pollution incidents.
 - b. Prepare a documentary on CG/National response to the EXXON VALDEZ incident. As a first step, ensure that adequate file footage is taken and available.

- 17 Review existing VTS regulations in 33 CFR.
 - a. Initiate a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) to establish all VTSs as mandatory systems vice voluntary.
 - b. Recommend changes to regulations regarding the extent of VTS control over vessel movements as necessary.
 - c. Recommend changes to regulations regarding Traffic Separation Scheme compliance as it relates to VTS authority as necessary.

- 17 Study means by which the Government could recover the costs of operating vessel traffic services from the Maritime industry.

MEDIA STRATEGY FOR GLOBAL PLAN

I. PURPOSE:

Disseminate the administration's full effort and commitment to rid Prince William Sound and its beaches of the oil spilled by the Exxon Valdez.

Describe the unified effort of more than a dozen federal agencies working together under the guidance of Transportation Secretary Sam Skinner at the direction of President Bush.

Highlight the on-site leadership of the Coast Guard in clean up operations and the long-term objectives of the Environmental Protection Agency.

II. MESSAGE OBJECTIVE:

COMMITMENT, EFFECTIVENESS & COORDINATION

III. MESSAGE PITFALLS:

Taking a more pro-active approach now, leaves us vulnerable to the following perceptions:

1. Initial indecisiveness immediately after the spill.
2. Diminishing Exxon's role in the clean up thereby weakening our legal argument and potentially decreasing Exxon's liability to those impacted by the spill.

IV. OPERATIONAL MEDIA PLAN:

A. TELEVISION

1. Solicit live and/or taped one-on-one interviews for principals involved in the clean up coordination. These shows include the Sunday public affairs line-up ie. Face the Nation, Meet the Press, McLaughlin's One-on-One, etc. The principals selected include:

- a) Secretary Skinner
- b) Admiral Yost
- c) William Reilly

2. Reach out to regional and Washington news bureaus as well as major market local television stations.

- a) Potomac, Group W, and Conus satellite operations can get us coverage in virtually all of the top 100 markets. Proper marketing of the principals will ensure that our message will be available to more than half the country.

3. Travel to major market cities for media blitz activities, including interviews on local television stations.

4. Produce a video presentation to be sent to environmental/wildlife groups around the country.
 - a) This is a long-term project designed to reach the groups who are most antagonistic toward us on this issue.

1. The video would be a summary of the federal government's role in the clean up. It can also be updated to further illustrate our long-term commitment to restoring Prince William Sound.

B. RADIO

1. Solicit major network & syndicated radio interviews for principals:
 - a) Larry King Show
 - b) Michael Jackson
 - c) National Public Radio
 - d) Hal Bruno's Radio Show
2. Solicit interviews with network radio reporters and major radio news stations.
3. Travel to major markets for media blitz which include interviews with radio stations.
4. Weekly radio actuality updates from the Coast Guard about the progress of the clean up. This message will be full of statistics about the number of people hired, the amount of gallons removed, the number of wildlife saved, and similar information.

C. PRINT

1. Op-ed pieces distributed to major daily newspapers around the country.
2. Hold oil spill roundtables with small groups of reporters.
3. Invite a handfull of selected reporters to travel to Valdez with members of the coordinating team.
4. Travel to major markets and conduct editorial boards which focus on the oil spill.

D. POLITICALLY

1. Call for an international conference on oil spill contingency plans. This effort would be similar to an environmental summit dealing specifically with oil spills. The message is: oil tanker transportation is an international business which requires international coordination and cooperation in the clean up of oil spills.

2. Convene a domestic summit of oil companies, tanker operations, and port officials to discuss the lessons of Valdez. A working amendment to the National Response Plan can be the result of this summit.

3. Run an article in First Monday, the Republican National Committee's quarterly publication, about the administration's efforts to clean up the spill.

4. Get local and federal republican officials to discuss the administration's position and action on this issue in Congress and media interviews.

V. CONCLUSION

It is imperative that the clean up operation be effective in order for the media plan to produce its desired results. The plan can be implemented quickly upon approval of all or part of the above. Travel may be necessary for implementing some of the recommendations.

In the end the media will judge our effectiveness on two major criteria - money and manpower - if we can not produce a convincing amount of either, then a high profile public affairs campaign will fall flat on its face.

The specifics on ideas and individual proposals contained in the sections above will be provided upon request.

- . International Response Capability
 - a. Review contingency planning as devised in certain foreign countries (e.g. North Sea "fire house" approach and port plans in FRG).
 - b. Develop multinational response plan through the international Maritime Organization (IMO), Marine Environmental Protection Committee.
1. Update the 1973 Analysis of Port Needs Study.
 - a. Determine a prioritized list of those U. S. ports most in need of vessel traffic service.
 - b. Use risk analysis rather than accident analysis methods in the study.
 2. Conduct operational and technical reviews of existing Vessel Traffic Services to determine if near term changes are necessary.
 - a. Determine if any procedural changes could be made to improve service to the mariner and enhance port safety.
 - b. Evaluate installed equipment to determine if there are weaknesses or design faults and take corrective action.
 3. Conduct an in-depth technical and operational review of equipment and procedures to determine if long term changes should be made.
 - a. Examine state of the art surveillance, communications, and data processing equipment to evaluate its potential for enhancing VTS operations.
 - b. Evaluate differential LORAN-C and GPS retransmission as passive surveillance techniques and the carriage requirements these systems impose upon VTS users.
 - c. Study the relative merits of surveillance solutions to tracking vessels in Vessel Movement Reporting System areas.
 - d. Install state of the art enhancements as equipment replacements at all VTSs by 1995.

Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear John,

I just want to thank you so much for your speech to the Dow Jones Board on Tuesday. I tried to schedule the most interesting and contributory public officials in Washington and your speech certainly convinced the group that we had succeeded. The subsequent comments were nothing but flattering.

I know how incredibly busy you are these days so I doubly appreciate your kindness. Hope to see you soon.

Governor John Sununu:
Chief of Staff
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, DC 20050

Dear Governor:

In response to requests from Ed Rogers regarding a possible Presidential visit with the Olympic Committee in Rome, Italy, on Friday, May 26th. You will remember our trip to the White House with the President on February 16th when the President so warmly and enthusiastically endorsed Atlanta's effort to win the 1996 Summer Olympic Games. The determining vote will take place in Japan in September 1990. There will be 90 members voting. Three of these members are in close proximity to Rome and we hope that you and the President could meet briefly with them while in Rome. The purpose would be similar to the meeting in the White House in which the President wholeheartedly endorsed Atlanta's, (or this country's) bid for these summer games. I would fly to Rome mid-week and be responsible for setting up the meeting with these three gentlemen. As I understand the trip, the only possible time would be before, or following, the U.S. Ambassador's Staff Meeting at the embassy. I would propose a meeting in which the President greets these three members and asks for their help for Atlanta, as well as, a picture taking session with them. Other than these three it would only be myself in attendance. If this is agreeable, I will respond to your request, or, that of the Advance Staff's request, upon arrival in Rome as to exactly how to handle the meetings. The invitations to the three IOC members could come from our Atlanta Committee, or better, from the President. I will fax you shortly the names of these members and background information of each.

Governor, I certainly appreciate you and your staff's willingness to help in these endeavors. I hope that this trip can be achieved at the least possible trouble to you and your staff. Thank you for your invitation.

Sincerely,

Louis L. Kitchin

REPAIRS TO OLDER PLANES ORDERED;
MOVE WILL AFFECT 2,200 AIRCRAFT

The FAA ordered the first of a series of repairs to the nation's aging airliners Thursday that will eventually involve 2,200 airplanes and cost the airline industry hundreds of millions of dollars....

Federal officials said that when the repair program is completed, which will probably take several years, the increasingly worrisome problem of structural failures among older jetliners will have been resolved.

The repairs are not expected to affect air travel.

LEAHY THREATENS ACTION IF STANDARDS LESSENE

The chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee said Thursday that an Agriculture Department proposal to streamline meat inspections should be "sent back totally to the drawing board" and predicted that Congress would overturn a lessening of the federal standards.

"If producers of food have learned anything from the Alar and other scares the last two months, (it is that) this is not the time to do anything to give the suggestion of less safety in food," Leahy said....

Department officials said they won't decide whether to proceed with the proposed revisions in packing house inspection standards until they review public comments, which have been coming in since the proposal was made in December.

MAJORITY LEADER MITCHELL BLASTS BUSH
ON ENVIRONMENT, POOR, USSR

Sen. Mitchell, the majority leader, harshly criticized President Bush Thursday on an array of issues, saying he was a "complete failure" on the environment, had shown a "disdain for the working poor" and was fumbling in his relations with the Soviets....

"When it comes to Central America, the President says he will talk and he will compromise. When it comes to gun control, the President says he will talk and he will compromise. But when it comes to helping poor people, the President says no," said Mitchell.

Speaking about...the Alaskan oil spill cleanup, Mitchell said, "...as far as I can see, the only two people in America who think Exxon was doing its job properly were the chairman of Exxon and the President..."

On arms control, Mitchell said Bush had been "short-sighted" and "lacked imagination and innovation."

BOREN SAYS IRAN PROBE THREAT COST GREGG CIA POST

Sen. Boren, chairman of the Select Committee on Intelligence, said Thursday that Donald Gregg, President Bush's nominee to be ambassador to South Korea, earlier was considered for a high position at the CIA but the White House dropped the idea after Boren and other committee members threatened to investigate Gregg's role in the Iran-contra affair....

Boren said some other Intelligence Committee members were polled and Gregg...was not appointed to an agency job....

A White House spokesman Thursday said there would be no comment on Boren's assertion.

Majority Leader Mitchell blasts Bush on environment, poor, USSR

By Michael Kranish

Boston Globe

WASHINGTON — Sen. George Mitchell of Maine, the majority leader, harshly criticized President Bush Thursday on an array of issues, saying he was a "complete failure" on the environment, had shown a "disdain for the working poor" and was fumbling in his relations with the Soviets.

Mitchell's comments marked a departure from the mostly conciliatory statements he has made in the past about his fellow Maine resident.

At the same time, Mitchell defended his six-month record as the Democratic leader and said the Senate was not being harmed by the controversy surrounding House Speaker Jim Wright of Texas.

Mitchell sounded especially bitter about Bush's insistence that he will veto legislation approved this week that would increase the current $3.55 minimum wage to $4.55 an hour. Bush has promised to veto any bill with an increase beyond $4.25.

Mitchell, speaking with four reporters in his ornate office overlooking the Mall, charged that the only reason Bush had refused to negotiate on the minimum-wage issue was that he wanted to pick an issue on which he could prove his toughness in dealing with Congress.

"The president has been shopping around for something to prove how tough he is," Mitchell said. "And here is a group of Americans that don't have much political clout ... so I guess he feels he can look tough and not worry about the political equation because there are just poor people involved."

"When it comes to Central America, the president says he will talk and he will compromise. When it comes to gun control, the president says he will talk and he will compromise. But when it comes to helping poor people, the president says no."

"I think that is very unfair, and it shows a disdain for the working poor. It is particularly outrageous when viewed in conjunction with the president's aggressive promotion of a tax cut for the wealthiest people."

While Mitchell said the minimum wage issue was Bush's biggest blunder, he said the president had made "other serious mistakes."

On the environment, Mitchell said Bush had, "in other than his words, been a complete failure."

Speaking about Bush's decision not to order a federal takeover of the Alaskan oil spill cleanup, Mitchell said the law allowed Bush to take charge if he believed Exxon was "not doing its job properly ... and as far as I can see, the only two people in America who think Exxon was doing its job properly were the chairman of Exxon and the president of the United States. ... That directly contradicts his often-stated concern for the environment."

On arms control, Mitchell said Bush had been "short-sighted" and "lacked imagination and innovation." Referring to Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev's wooing of Western European public opinion by offering arms-control proposals, Mitchell said, "Gorbachev is taking the initiative, he is taking the battle for public opinion forward, and the president is reacting, and reacting defensively, negatively and now is reduced to calling Gorbachev names."

Asked why he was making such tough comments about Bush, Mitchell told the four reporters the public might not realize the enormity of the disputes facing Congress. He said he wanted to get his message across "through interviews like this." He also said there were areas on which he had applauded Bush, particularly his actions on contra aid and the budget.

Mitchell concluded that relations between Democrats and Bush "are somewhere in between ... a honeymoon and all-out war."

The Secretary of Energy
Washington, DC 20585

May 19, 1989

The President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

Thank you for offering Cabinet Members the opportunity to communicate directly with you from time to time when we deem it important. The issue I raise in this letter involves a convergence of events which will seriously compromise my ability to build a coherent, integrated, and balanced national energy strategy as you have tasked me to do. Effecting a proper balance between the variety of legitimate environmental concerns and those associated with a similar variety of sensible energy sources needed to run the economy is at the heart of my dilemma.

In this connection, several separate issues affecting the environment have been given intense scrutiny recently within Cabinet Councils (i.e. chlorofluorocarbons; acid rain, toxics, non-attainment; global warming). All, however, have been well outside of any integrated national energy framework. Since the impact of these issues have a direct impact on energy use and, consequently, the productivity of the economy, I believe all our decisions need to be placed within some broader context of fiscally responsible, politically sensitive, scientifically based, and technically executable policies.

Specifically, I suggest you consider taking the following approach to bring order to a currently confused process:

- a. Announce that the President's new Science and Technology Advisor will have responsibility for coordinating activities of all government agencies on global climate issues (EPA, DOE, State, NOAA, NASA) including the global climate workshop in the Fall. OSTP already has the fiscal coordinating role but the new Science and Technology Advisor should also be given the policy coordination controls as well.

- b. In concert with the Fall workshop to be hosted by the United States on global climate issues, task me formally as Secretary of Energy to prepare a process and timetable for developing a national energy strategy, one important component of which will be to address energy-related domestic as well as global environmental issues. This will allow the work being done on global climate issues to be put together in concert with the great wealth of material we will need for our energy strategy. A framework for the strategy can be ready by the Fall workshop and a first working draft of the strategy itself can be ready by the announced global climate conference one year later.

The approach I intend here is similar to that I used successfully in building a national AIDS strategy-- that is, I would allow industry group concerns, along with views of consumers, and environmentalists to be heard as part of a consensus-building hearing process which I would like to announce and commence this summer to help develop the longer range energy strategy as outlined above.

From the volume of letters and phone calls we are receiving, many industry groups are growing increasingly concerned that environmental issues are being addressed in seeming isolation of other equally important considerations so that only a de facto, unbalanced national energy strategy could be expected to emerge. They and I believe this isolation could have a serious negative impact on the United States economy over the next decade if energy production were not made coequal with environmental concerns in the deliberation process.

Aside from the longer term issues outlined above, I recognize that in the near term, we must help you find the best possible set of options for your Clean Air Proposal. In this regard, I would only ask that you demand to see the best possible analysis of how the final package will be measured across the nation from standpoints of cost, technical efficacy, industrial acceptability, fairness to consumer or rate payor, political viability...as well as environment.

With warm regards.

Sincerely,

James D. Watkins

Dear Mr. President:

We applaud the strong stance you took at the policemen's memorial against the proliferation of illegal drugs and the violent criminal element.

Your proposals for an expanded death penalty, tougher laws for gun-related violations, more prisons and personnel, and proper exceptions to the exclusionary rule are truly responsive to the expressed wishes of the American people. We look forward to working with your Administration in enacting such reforms.

However, we urge that any gun-related proposals (other ~~the~~ enhanced penalties) be sent to Capitol Hill in a package separate from your crime-related proposals. It is our firm belief that many in our party will be unable to support the legislation if your anti-crime reforms are interwoven with gun or magazine restrictions.

Again, we commend your initiative to take violent criminals off the streets and keep them off. Rest assured that we stand ready to assist you in achieving true reform that will restore America's freedom from fear.

Sincerely,

L. E. Craig

FROM:

LEE ATWATER

I had a busy week which I'll highlight the items that may be of some interest to you.

PAC leaders from the business community came by to discuss your position on campaign finance reform. I stated your position on this issue and told them how strongly you felt. They seemed to disagree but understood your conviction.

Ten Republican Governors were in town for an NGA Executive Committee meeting. Nancy Sununu came up with a good idea to hold a fundraiser for the RGA which raised $40,000. In my remarks, I thanked them for their role in the Presidential race. I also stressed the importance of reapportionment and reiterated our financial commitment to them.

I spoke to members of the International Democratic Union who informed me of your early support for this organization. They also told me they would like Vice President Quayle to be their chairman. I would like your input as to how I should advise the Vice President on this matter.

Met with House Members with an interest in running for U.S. Senate. They include Claudine Schneider, Tom Tauke, Bill Schuette, Hank Brown, Lynn Martin, Robert Smith, Ron Marlenee and Doug Bereuter. It was agreed we would meet on a regular basis to facilitate coordination between the Hill, the Administration and the GOP Committees.

Jeanie Austin and I attended a fundraiser for Congressman Grant which was hosted by the Vice President and raised over $60,000. The Democrats have already targeted his Florida district for '90.

Ali Kahn, President of Champ Cookies from D.C. came by to ask for RNC assistance to aid his project of recruiting black youths to bake and sell his cookies as a way to learn entrepreneur skills. Josh Smith and I will be visiting the project next week.

Fred Lennon, a long-time GOP fundraiser from the Great Lakes area, and Tom Van Meter, a Bush/Quayle Ohio coordinator came by to discuss ways to raise funds specifically earmarked for the reapportionment effort.

Edgar Heiskell, West Virginia Chairman and Jim Nungesser, Louisiana Chairman stopped by. I later addressed the Louisiana major donors who were in town for their day in D.C.

Eight prospective candidates for the Virginia House of Delegates participated in our first candidate recruitment day. John Sununu, as well as Secretaries Sullivan, Cavazos, Lujan and Administrator Reilly were among Administration officials who took time to participate in the program. Six of the eight decided to run.

Volunteers from the Hispanic Inaugural Gala held a reception which I stopped by to thank them on your behalf. They presented me with a check for $50,000 of unused funds from the event which will be used for Hispanic outreach.

The RNC Hispanic advisors met to coordinate their outreach strategy. I heard from each of the various leaders and was encouraged by their enthusiasm.

Next week, I will be traveling to Minnesota, Iowa, Maine and Vermont to raise money for the State Parties.

I'll keep you advised.

President George Bush
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President:

We applaud the strong stance you took at the policemen's memorial against the proliferation of illegal drugs and the violent criminal element.

Your proposals for an expanded death penalty, tougher laws for gun-related violations, more prisons and personnel, and proper exceptions to the exclusionary rule are truly responsive to the expressed wishes of the American people. We look forward to working with your Administration in enacting such reforms.

However, we urge that any gun-related proposals (other than enhanced penalties) be sent to Capitol Hill in a package separate from your crime-related proposals. It is our firm belief that many in our party will be unable to support the legislation if your anti-crime reforms are interwoven with gun or magazine restrictions.

Again, we commend your initiative to take violent criminals off the streets and keep them off. Rest assured that we stand ready to assist you in achieving true reform that will restore America's freedom from fear.

Sincerely,

[Handwritten signatures: Larry Craig, Mike Anderson, Vern Riffe, Cass Ballenger, J. J. Pickens, Chuck Dwyer, Eric Emerson, and Bob McCall]

DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20410

THE SECRETARY

May 22, 1989

TO: Governor John Sununu

FM: Jack Kemp

Enclosed is a copy of the letter which was sent to President Bush as we discussed this morning.

Our idea would be to re-name the West Point Stadium "Michie-Blaik" Stadium or leave the stadium as is and name the football field "Coach Blaik Field."

Whatever is done it is important that Coach Blaik's name be added to the official name over the stadium.

Thanks for your assistance.

A large, stylized handwritten signature in dark ink is positioned below the text "Thanks for your assistance." The signature appears to be "J.K." or similar, with a large loop and a trailing flourish.

Dear Mr. President:

Memorial services were held last weekend at West Point for our dear friend, Coach Earl "Red" Blaik of Army. I just received a phone call from his son, Bill, and there is a move to rename the stadium at West Point "Coach 'Red' Blaik Field." Knowing as I do the relationship that you and Barbara have long had with Earl Blaik, I hope that you could persuade the Superintendent of the Academy and/or the Secretary of the Army to rename the football field after this good friend and great American football coach.

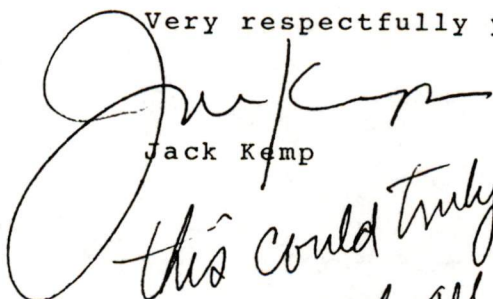

Coach Blaik died at age 92; he coached at West Point for 18 years and was assistant coach many years before that; was a great friend of General MacArthur; and was Marvin Pierce's roommate/teammate at Miami of Ohio.

It truly would be fitting to rename the field at West Point after Coach Blaik--not only because of his contribution to West Point football, but his even greater contribution to competitive athletics for young people in our whole country.

Our mutual friend, George Champion, President Emeritus of Chase Manhattan and a great civic leader and humanitarian, talked with Coach Blaik almost every week--right up until the end. He, of course, along with all of the former great Army football teams and players, are highly enthusiastic about efforts being made on behalf of "Coach 'Red' Blaik Field" at West Point.

I'm looking forward to discussing this with you in person at your earliest convenience.

Very respectfully yours,

Jack Kemp

*this could truly be a significant event because of all the support throughout the Army, the need of football & the awesome nature of the Bush family -
Regards JK*

Dear Mr President,

I write as Co-Chairman with Senator John Tower of an Appeal Campaign for the American Air Museum in Great Britain; I believe, Sir, that you might be interested in the project about which the Senator would be able to enlarge should you wish.

The new museum is to be built at Duxford, near Cambridge, once a World War Two United States 8th Air Force Fighter Base and now still an active air station but also a thriving and highly popular outstation of this Museum, the United Kingdom national museum of conflict in the 20th century. We plan a dramatic new building in which to locate and display our collection of US military aircraft, a collection (which includes a Grumman TBM Avenger) we believe to be the most comprehensive in Europe at the present time.

The American Air Museum in Britain will stand as a memorial to the sacrifice and endeavour of United States airmen in World War Two as a continuing reminder to post war generations of their historic and vital contribution to the ultimate Allied victory flying, with their Royal Air Force and Allied colleagues, from this country. We see it as becoming a living symbol of that special relationship which has developed between the two countries throughout so much of this century.

Today Duxford attracts almost half a million visitors a year including 8th Air Force veterans, current US Servicemen and their families and countless individual American citizens.

To achieve our objective we are launching appeals in both countries. Cost will be £10 million and we aim to raise $10 million of this in the US over five years. I fear I may presume Sir, but if you were able to endorse the principle behind our concept in some way this would be an incalculable boost to the campaign.

Lastly Sir, subject to your agreement, we would much like to finish our Grumman Avenger (currently on overhaul) in the colours and markings, including the First Lady's christian name, of the Avenger flown by yourself on operations in the Pacific theatre in World War Two.

Yours sincerely, Sir,

Dear John,

Thank you for your letter of May 18 outlining President Bush's principles on child care legislation. Your reassurance that the President will not support or sign any bill that discriminates against the mother at home taking care of her own children is most welcome. Please extend to him my thanks and enthusiastic support for his position.

You should know that several bills other than ABC (S.5) and H.R.3 (Hawkins) are floating around in Congress, some of them sponsored by Republicans, which violate the second Bush principle. These bills discriminate against two-parent families in which one parent stays home to care for the children. Some do so through offering double-dipper tax incentives to businesses to provide on-site daycare or daycare expenses without offering an equal benefit to families who do not use daycare. Others expand block grants to the states for various daycare programs, some in the public schools, without a similar benefit to families with fulltime mothers. Still others would expand the discriminatory child and dependent care credit, whereas the President's goal is ultimately to phase it out and replace it with a universal, non-discriminatory child tax credit.

Attempts will be made by the advocates of these faulty proposals to achieve a so-called "compromise" with the Bush approach. Such a bill would be a hybrid but would not be a compromise, since there can be no compromise with discrimination against fulltime mothers. I hope you will be vigilant in rejecting any bill that discriminates against families with a parent in the home. We have the moral high ground on this issue, and we must stand firm in supporting only those measures that live up to the Bush principles that parents are the best determiners of their children's care, that federal policy should not discriminate against families with a mother in the home, that federal policies should not act to decrease choices in child care, and that federal assistance should be targeted to those most in need.

The litmus paper test on all child care legislation is: are all benefits equally available to mothers who stay home to care for their own children? Once again, thank you for your concern for America's children.

Faithfully,

MEMORANDUM TO JOHN SUNUNU
THROUGH ANDY CARD Andy
THROUGH DEB ANDERSON Deb

FROM: MARY MCCLURE Mary

RE: PRESIDENTIAL SUPPORT FOR STATE AND LOCAL OFFICIALS' EFFORTS TO RESTORE MEANING TO THE TENTH AMENDMENT: STRATEGIES FOR AMENDING ARTICLE V

On May 22 the Council of State Governments and the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations held the second of four hearings on the issue "Restoring Balance in the Federal System."

The first two hearings, in Orlando on April 21 and in New York City on May 22, have been excellent. A Colorado Springs session on June 9 and a fourth meeting in Cincinnati are expected to be equally productive.

As the meetings progress, sentiment grows for the "ultimate solution"; namely, amending the Constitution. Two alternatives are under discussion, one being to add language to the Tenth Amendment to read "whether the power is reserved to the states or to the people is a matter that shall be decided by the courts."

However, there is greater support for changing Article V to allow states to initiate a constitutional amendment without triggering a constitutional convention, an approach with which you are thoroughly familiar.

Following the New York hearing, a strategy session was held including as participants ACIR Chairman Bob Hawkins; NY State Senator John Marchi; Ohio Senate President Stan Aronoff; ND Senator and ACIR member David Nething; CSG Intergovernmental Affairs Chairman and NH Rep. Joanne O'Rourke; ACIR's John Kincaid; CSG's Norm Beckman and Alan Sokolow; NY State Senate DC Rep Rich Bartholomew; and Mary McClure, Special Assistant - IGA.

It was acknowledged that a major stumbling block in the process is arousing public attention and interest in the issue. Presidential help is needed.

Specifically, I am forwarding two requests:

1) A letter from the President to be read into the record at the June 9 Colorado Springs hearing.
The letter could be as noncommittal as a simple best wishes, thanks for the work you're doing (as in attached draft) to as supportive as an endorsement of efforts to amend the Constitution. Substantive statements of support for the concepts of federalism might be made by expressing opposition to additional federal excise taxes on gasoline, removing tax exemptions on locally-issued bonds, value-added tax.

2) Meeting with the President.

How to structure a meeting was a subject of much discussion, with options ranging from a small gathering of invitees in January or February of 1990, to a full-scale White House Conference in 1991. Regardless of format, the meeting or meetings should be timed to take advantage of Congress' sensitivity to the reapportionment issue so that states will have as much clout as possible.

During the May 22 hearings, State Sen. Paul White (D-MA) pointed out that in four instances in our history the Constitution has been amended in response to the Supreme Court: the 11th, 13th, 16th, and 18th Amendments. Changing the Constitution now in response to Garcia v. San Antonio and South Carolina v. Baker would not be precedent-setting. Nor would be the use of Article V in calling for a Constitutional Convention--support for the 17th began with pressure from the states under Article V.

It is important to note emerging interest on the part of state legislatures in the Tenth Amendment issue. Resolutions similar to that passed by Connecticut (attached) have been passed or introduced in sixteen states (list attached.)

In order to accomplish the Ultimate Objective of amending Article V, consensus is developing that a three-pronged approach should be taken: education of the public; dialogue with Congress (with the political aspects of reapportionment not to be ignored); and a dual effort to amend coming from both Congress and the states.

The President's support and assistance is crucial.
