MR. PRESIDENT:

Patty passed on your question regarding how the Max Peterson matter (attached) was handled.

At the time of the signing ceremony for the Wetlands Bill, Legislative Affairs insisted that both Peterson and Jay Hair be excluded from the event because they had vocally opposed Jim Cason, your nominee for Assistant Secretary of Agriculture who was forced to withdraw after an adverse Senate committee vote.

Both Peterson and Hair were angered because they had worked for passage of the wetlands measure. Kathy Jeavons of Public Liaison called Peterson to explain that the decision was not personal on your part. However, she told him that the WH was upset with the role he'd played in defeating one of the President's key nominees, and we felt that point needed to be made. Peterson responded that he'd consider it "water under the bridge", but said he intended to write the President to complain. Hence, his letter.

Given the above, I do not feel it needs a reply. However, if you feel a personal note is necessary, point gained with Peterson may then become lost.

Thank you.

Dear Mr. President:

On December 13 when you signed S. 804, the North American Wetlands Conservation Act, we appreciate the fact that you recognized the high degree of cooperation from the state fish and game agencies that contributed significantly to the passage of the Act. The basic framework for the Act was worked out with the Congressional delegation and the International Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies, which represents all 50 states and the provinces of Canada. We were thrilled that you and Secretary Lujan lent your strong support to the bipartisan effort which led to the passage of the Act.

I am confident that you did not know that someone representing you specifically deleted from the invitation list all representatives of state fish and game agencies. I am told this was done because of our opposition to a nominee for an Assistant Secretary position.

Mr. President, I simply cannot believe that such action would either be approved or condoned by you. The International Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies and its member states have been consistent supporters of your leadership in natural resources. We have been pleased by your personal enjoyment of fish and wildlife resources. We sent you fishing licenses from all 50 states in honor of your status as "First Fisherman" -- the first person in history to be so honored.

I cannot really envision what message your representative was trying to send to the states. Obviously it was counterproductive and inappropriate. Such action does not build the type of cooperation that will be necessary between federal, state and private interests if we are to meet the challenge of restoring the important North American waterfowl populations you spoke about so eloquently at the Ducks Unlimited luncheon in June. I know from the opportunities I have had to be with you on fishing trips that you personally enjoy the outdoors and have a commitment to wise stewardship of our natural resources.

This incident is past history. As a fellow aviator, you understand the old axiom, "You cannot use the runway that is behind you." In that spirit, we want to look ahead and will do our best to see that the North American Wetlands Conservation Act is promptly and effectively implemented. That task is too important to let other events interfere.

We extend to you and to your family best wishes for a Happy Holiday Season and a New Year filled with health and happiness.

Your contribution in response to the Foundation's annual appeal is greatly appreciated. ||

The Episcopal Church Foundation will hold its Board of Directors meeting and related events in Washington, D.C. on Thursday, May 3 and Friday, May 4, 1990.

The last time the Board of Directors met in Washington, several years ago, we had the great pleasure of visiting you and Barbara at the Vice President residence.

We would be tremendously pleased if arrangements could be made for an invitation to visit with you and the First Lady at The White House on May 3 or May 4. Our group is about 45 persons.

With best wishes.

Dear Mr. Brown:

The President asked that I respond on his behalf and thank you for your letter inviting him and Mrs. Bush to meet with you and the other board members of The Episcopal Church Foundation.

We are most appreciative of your request and regret that we will be unable to add this meeting to the calendar. Unfortunately, with so many demands on the President's and First Lady's time, we often must miss some special opportunities, as is the case this time.

We appreciate your flexibility in accommodating their busy schedules. Unfortunately, as the Spring calendar has become firm, there is not an opportunity to greet your board during their Washington conference.

I know that the President would want me to thank you for your letter and for your interest in including them in your plans.

President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

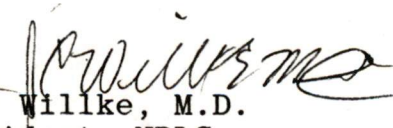

On Saturday afternoon, April 28th, we will be holding a major Rally at the Washington Monument for the pro-life cause. Unlike January 22nd, when there were over 200 such rallies around the United States, this one will be one of a kind. In warm weather, on a weekend, we will attempt to bring into Washington the largest number of people that have ever assembled in the history of the city.

Henry Hyde is the Honorary Chairman and will speak first. John Cardinal O'Connor will introduce Mother Teresa, Dr. and Mrs. James Dobson will speak, and I will be privileged to close. In between there will be several dozen major national figures from the fields of politics, of government, entertainment, athletics, religion, etc.

~~We do understand the problems with security revolving around every time you appear publically. We would, therefore, be very honored to have you speak to this huge gathering by phone that day. We will be trying to hold the official program to the hours of 2:00 to 4:00 p.m., and would be pleased to accommodate you at any time during those hours.~~

With hopes that you'll be in town that day, and/or in any case can communicate to us by phone, I await your answer.

Sincerely for Life,

OFFICE OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL POLICY
EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
Washington, D.C. 20500

March 27, 1990

MEMORANDUM FOR JOHN H. SUNUNU

FROM: WILLIAM J. BENNETT William J. Bennett

SUBJECT: Request for a Presidential Mission to Europe to Advance our International Narcotics Strategy

The Department of State and the National Security Council recommend I lead a Presidential Mission to Europe. Since my office has not yet been involved in preparing for a Presidential Mission, I am sending this proposal to you for consideration.

The purpose of the trip is to involve our allies more actively in efforts to counter the flow of illicit drugs, particularly cocaine. This mission aims to engage chiefs of states and/or heads of government and other decision makers in Paris, Bonn, Rome, Madrid and London and will have the following objectives:

- o To follow-up on the Cartagena Drug Summit and the President's commitment to find additional assistance for the Andeans.
- o To explain our international and domestic counter-narcotics strategy and our programs in the Andean countries.
- o To focus our common efforts on the current struggle in Colombia against the traffickers and determine more effective ways to bolster President Barco's efforts.
- o To chart a path for broader multilateral efforts against the flow of illicit drugs into our countries.
- o To develop with the Europeans the concept of a developed country "consultative mechanism" on narcotics that would provide a much-needed multinational structure for cooperative actions against both the international supply of and demand for illicit drugs. This mechanism is a major foreign initiative in the President's National Drug Control Strategy.

This mission comes at a critical time. It follows the World Ministerial Drugs Summit, which takes place in London April 9-11. It follows the President's meetings with the leaders of Colombia, Peru, and Bolivia at Cartagena and the United Nations Special Session on Drugs. It occurs at a time when the European nations have begun the difficult process of creating an integrated, continent-wide strategy to counter a threat now considered among the most serious they have faced.

Designating this trip as a Presidential Mission is important to the credibility of our efforts to develop an international consensus against the trafficking and use of drugs. To the extent that other nations, particularly the developed countries of Western Europe, view us as serious and willing to provide world leadership in the war on drugs, they will note the degree of importance assigned to this visit. The designation matches both our rhetoric and expectations of our European allies.

Honorable George Bush
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

It may be helpful for you to meet with the House delegation which visited Lithuania after the Lithuanian elections. They have firsthand knowledge of the Lithuanian political leadership.

It would provide a press opportunity for them to communicate through the White House press corps the importance of peaceful change in that region.

This might be a low-risk positive opportunity, and I urge you to spend a few minutes with the four members. The congressional delegation that visited Lithuania is Chris Cox, John Miller, Richard Durbin, and Bill Sarpalius.

Sincerely,

Newt Gingrich

To: The Editors of the NEW YORK TIMES
From: Jimmy Carter
Date: March 28, 1990

I request that this be published with the same prominence as given to the editorials:

Since returning recently from an extensive trip through the Middle East, I have been disturbed by highly biased attacks on both me and President George Bush in editorials by Abe Rosenthal and William Safire.

Mr. Rosenthal insinuated (or stated) that I was a liar by commenting publicly on human rights abuses by the Israeli governing authorities in the West Bank and Gaza while not simultaneously making similar public criticisms of Syria. Mr. Safire wrote that President Bush, Secretary of State Baker, and their top associates are anti-Israel, have shut their eyes to Arab terrorism, are acting to prevent Jewish emigration from the Soviet Union, attempt to cut aid to Israel, want to impose a PLO state in the occupied territories, support a divided Jerusalem, and are contributing to a possible pogrom or "death process" for Jews being retained in the Soviet Union.

In my travels I invariably address known human rights abuse in every country, almost always directly with the nation's leader. I did this forcefully in both Egypt and Syria before arriving in Israel. The particular problem which aroused my comments in Jerusalem, both to top government leaders and to the press, was a recent Israeli policy of deporting to Jordan the cannot prove birth or residence in the area since it was occupied by Israeli military forces in 1967. There were 251 documented cases of this type. I gave the names of those about whom I knew personally to Prime Minister Shamir, and later discussed this issue with Shmuel Goren, who is in charge of civilian administration in the occupied territories. No one denied the accuracy of these reports. Mr. Goren informed me that they were changing this policy. At my urging, he stated further that the mothers and children already deported would be permitted to return home and rejoin their husbands and fathers. Within two hours I announced this positive decision at a press conference in the Tel Aviv airport. What would you have me do differently? What would your editors' policy be if an Arab leader was taking Jewish mothers and children away from their homes and husbands and forceably deporting them to a foreign country? Palestinians are human also, and their rights must be defended.

I am not authorized to speak for President Bush, but I was given a thorough briefing on his policies before my trip and later met with him, the Secretary of State, and the National Security Adviser after my return to give them a personal report. None of Mr. Safire's accusations are true. The President's budget proposal continues the allocation of approximately $10 million daily in aid to Israel, and he certainly does not support Arab terrorism, imposing a PLO state on the West Bank and Jerusalem, or obstructing Jewish emigration from the Soviet Union. Additionally, Safire stated that President Bush is the only president who threatened to cut aid to Israel and affirms a statement by Yasir Arafat that this is the first administration that speaks of the end of the Israeli occupation. As a matter of historical record, President Richard Nixon used full economic persuasion to halt the Israeli military advance toward Cairo in 1973. Also, I notified Prime Minister Menachim Begin in 1978 that unless the ongoing Israeli invasion of Lebanon was stopped I would notify the U.S. Congress that American weapons were being used for offensive purposes, which would have terminated all military assistance from our country. The invasion stopped, and the forces were soon withdrawn. Furthermore, I worked assiduously to bring about an end of the Israeli occupation of the West Bank and Gaza. In fact, this requirement is written into the Camp David accords, both in an affirmation of compliance with U.N. Resolution 242 and the words "the Israeli military government and its civilian administration will be withdrawn as soon as a self-governing authority has been freely elected by the inhabitants of those areas..." It is well known that this agreement was signed by Prime Minister Begin and later ratified by the Israeli Knesset.

I know for a fact that President Bush and Secretary Baker are fully committed to bring a just peace to the Middle East and to help in guaranteeing the security of Israel. Also, no one can deny my friendship and support for a peaceful and secure Israel or the persistent and successful effort I made to seek the freedom of Soviet Jews. The Israeli-Egyptian peace treaty and the 51,000 "refuseniks" who gained their freedom in 1979 alone are at least partial proof of the preceding statement. I did not seek these goals to gain the approval of N.Y. TIMES editors, but out of deep conviction that I was defending the interests of my country and upholding its basic principles. At the same time, it is incumbent on you and other Americans to realize that U.S. leaders must be objective and fair as we work for peace and the enhancement of human rights even if, on occasion, such actions might displease a friendly nation like Israel or its impassioned supporters in this country.

The Honorable George Bush
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President

We may not agree on every public policy question, but you are right on broccoli.

I almost fired a young lady on my staff in 1976 because she ordered broccoli for a lunch I sponsored with Senators after I had expressly told her not to. My opposition to this evil vegetable is long standing and well documented. However, until you took your courageous stand, my views were often ridiculed. Now, with you on my side, let them laugh.

Sincerely,

Paul M. Weyrich

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN

Dear Mr. President:

This is an emergency, out of time interval. communication...
FLASH... The California Raisins have been done in by the cereal killer. I'm sure that is good news to you on the heels of the broccoli brouhaha. (b)(6)

Just talked with [REDACTED] and he tells me he talked to Kaufman about the FEMA job. Sure hope he gets it. He'd love to serve you and certainly no one was more loyal or worked harder for you for ten years than he did.

Understand that you have been invited to the Christa McAuliffe Planetarium dedication. Hope that you can make it (and that also invite me). That committee was my idea when I was the Majority Leader and the suggestion that we build the memorial as a planetarium was also my baby.

Stay well. STOP SNEEZING. and take care of yourself.

Warmly.

MEMORANDUM FOR: David Bates
The White House

FROM: John Garghan
Chief of Staff

SUBJECT: Toledo Express Airport
Air Cargo Hub Proposal

Burlington Air Express, an air cargo company, is proposing to relocate its air cargo hub from Fort Wayne, Indiana, to the Toledo Express Airport in Toledo, Ohio. For business reasons, they want to make this move as soon as possible.

In order for Burlington to do so, the FAA must approve or assess many aspects of the operations, as is the normal case, and must issue operating certificates to the owners of the aircraft.

The actions require environmental evaluation under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) of 1969. FAA has determined that an EIS is required because the nighttime operations involved with all cargo service would have a significant noise impact on the area around the airport. Some 2200 people would be exposed for the first time to noise levels above those considered compatible with residential land use.

The FAA issued a Draft EIS in December 1989. Extensive comments have been received and the FAA is currently completing its evaluation of all comments and preparing a final EIS, which is expected to be completed in April.

EPA has indicated some concerns over the Burlington proposal relating primarily to the noise impacts. FAA is working with EPA to resolve their concerns. Upon completion of the EIS, there will be a 30-day comment period before FAA can make a final decision. If EPA's concerns are not resolved, they will have 25 days within the 30 day period to refer its disagreement to the Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) for resolution. EPA has already notified CEQ that this project may be a candidate for referral.

The reaction within the Toledo community to the Burlington proposal has been favorable because of the anticipated beneficial impact on the local economy. However, some local citizens have mounted opposition based on environmental impacts and have threatened litigation.

The Department of the Interior (DOI) comments on the Draft EIS also express concern about noise impacts on parks in the airport vicinity. DOI has taken the position that Department of Transportation's parkland protection statute applies because of severity of noise impacts.

At the Congressional level, DOT/FAA has received a letter from Congressman Gilmore of Ohio and a telephone call from Senator Glenn's office, expressing support for this proposal. It has also received letters from Congresswoman Jill Long of Indiana and the Mayor of Fort Wayne, Indiana, opposing Burlington's relocation.

FROM: DOUG WEAD DW
SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT FOR PUBLIC LIAISON

REQUEST: For a photo op with Hollywood celebrities who helped out during the campaign.

PURPOSE: To continue cordial relations with Hollywood celebrities who have flown to Washington for a White House briefing.

To personally recognize those celebrities who devoted time and money to the President's campaign.

BACKGROUND: On April 18th, Public Liaison will host a briefing in Room 450 on children's issues for Childhelp USA, one of the largest private child abuse prevention centers in the country. Based in Los Angeles, Childhelp works with Hollywood celebrities to focus attention on child abuse and assist abused children. Several celebrities who are personally involved with Childhelp will fly in for the briefing and Childhelp dinner.

Sara O'Meara and Yvonne Fedderson, the Chairman and President respectively of Childhelp USA, were instrumental in having celebrities come out publically on behalf of the President. All of the celebrities attending the briefing came out in support of the President. Especially active were Cheryl Ladd, who personally made several appearances for the President, and Efram Zimbalist, Jr., was one of the earliest Hollywood supporters of the President.

Last year, Ladd, Zimbalist and other celebrities were in Washington for an event but were dissapointed that a scheduling conflict did not allow them to come in for a

MEMORANDUM FOR: David Bates

FROM: John G. Gaglian
Chief of Staff

SUBJECT: Toledo Express Airport
Air Cargo Hub Proposal

from Thursday's book....
per Andy, done.

4/16/90

Burlington Air Express, an air cargo company, is proposing to relocate its air cargo hub from Fort Wayne, Indiana, to the Toledo Express Airport in Toledo, Ohio. For business reasons, they want to make this move as soon as possible.

In order for Burlington to do so, the FAA must approve or assess many aspects of the operations, as is the normal case, and must issue operating certificates to the owners of the aircraft.

The actions require environmental evaluation under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) of 1969. FAA has determined that an EIS is required because the nighttime operations involved with all cargo service would have a significant noise impact on the area around the airport. Some 2200 people would be exposed for the first time to noise levels above those considered compatible with residential land use.

The FAA issued a Draft EIS in December 1989. Extensive comments have been received and the FAA is currently completing its evaluation of all comments and preparing a final EIS, which is expected to be completed in April.

EPA has indicated some concerns over the Burlington proposal relating primarily to the noise impacts. FAA is working with EPA to resolve their concerns. Upon completion of the EIS, there will be a 30-day comment period before FAA can make a final decision. If EPA's concerns are not resolved, they will have 25 days within the 30 day period to refer its disagreement to the Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) for resolution. EPA has already notified CEQ that this project may be a candidate for referral.

The reaction within the Toledo community to the Burlington proposal has been favorable because of the anticipated beneficial impact on the local economy. However, some local citizens have mounted opposition based on environmental impacts and have threatened litigation.

The Department of the Interior (DOI) comments on the Draft EIS also express concern about noise impacts on parks in the airport vicinity. DOI has taken the position that Department of Transportation's parkland protection statute applies because of severity of noise impacts.

At the Congressional level, DOT/FAA has received a letter from Congressman Gilmore of Ohio and a telephone call from Senator Glenn's office, expressing support for this proposal. It has also received letters from Congresswoman Jill Long of Indiana and the Mayor of Fort Wayne, Indiana, opposing Burlington's relocation.

Dear Mr. Hagin:

I am writing to request an opportunity to meet with President Bush for 30 minutes at a mutually convenient time during the next two weeks, if possible. The specific topics of an official nature which I would like to discuss with the President are Eastern Europe and a global environment fund.

My assistant, Linda McLaughlin (tel. 477-2103), will be happy to work with your staff to establish the specific timing for such a meeting.

Your consideration of this request is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR GOVERNOR SUNUNU ✓
BRENT SCOWCROFT

FROM: DAVID Q. BATES

SUBJECT: Cabinet Participation at the Houston Economic Summit

Last year several Cabinet officers expressed an interest in attending the Paris Economic Summit. With the exception of Administrator Reilly, who participated in Summit-related discussions, in 1989 our official Cabinet-level representation was limited to Secretaries Baker and Brady.

Already Secretaries Yeutter and Mosbacher, Ambassador Hills, and Administrator Reilly have expressed interest in attending the Houston Summit. Secretary Skinner has informed the Summit staff that he may be in Houston on Transportation Department business. I have two questions:

1. Is it possible at this time to rule out participation by Cabinet members other than Baker and Brady?
2. If not, is it possible at this time to decide who should attend?

If we can rule out Cabinet members other than Baker and Brady -- or if we can settle on an expanded invitation list early -- it would be helpful soon to send a memo to the rest of the Cabinet. We could then give them early guidance on how to see that their views are included in pre-Summit deliberations and perhaps foreclose some uncertainty about Summit attendance.
