The Honorable Richard Thornburgh
Attorney General
Department of Justice
Washington, D.C. 20530

Dear Dick:

Immediately after the recent Presidential election, I indicated to the Vice President my strong interest in pursuing the crime initiatives he advocated and I pressed during the campaign. I am developing omnibus crime legislation which will include these initiatives.

The centerpiece of this legislation will address the emerging problem of "drug gangs." The exploding cocaine trade is now transforming some of the country's toughest street gangs into drug trafficking organizations. These gangs have become extremely violent and are establishing ties to major international drug suppliers. Also, these "drug gangs" are expanding their operations across state lines.

I believe these "drug gangs" require immediate Federal attention before their expansion becomes too difficult to control. Federal action should include tougher enforcement of firearms laws, creation of an anti-gang unit within the Department of Justice and initiatives to promote both the rehabilitation of gang members and programs to prevent youngsters from developing an interest in becoming involved in a gang.

The legislation also would provide for enhanced enforcement against career criminals--those criminals who are responsible for the vast majority of major crimes committed in America today.

An important aspect of this legislation will be a provision to establish constitutional procedures for the imposition of the death penalty for certain federal offenses, as well as the authorization of the death penalty for terrorists who murder an American abroad, and for prison murders by an inmate serving a life sentence.

In addition, the legislation will urge a review of Federal furlough policies to ensure that the furlough eligibility standards are sufficiently stringent, as well develop a mechanism to encourage states to modify their existing furlough programs to prohibit those inmates sentenced to life without parole from receiving a furlough.

A comprehensive prison initiative also will be part of this legislation. These provisions will call for construction of additional prison facilities; enhanced drug rehabilitation programs in the Federal prison system; expanded prison education and literacy programs and a mechanism to encourage the States to provide prisoners with training in basic literacy and job skills.

I look forward to working with you and Attorney General Thornburgh on this very important and timely legislation which I intend to introduce as soon as the 101st Congress convenes.

My best.

The President

Dear Mr. President:

We want to bring to your personal attention an extremely serious matter concerning the Department of Medicine and Surgery of the Veterans Administration. It is a budget shortfall that, in our view, has adversely affected quality of care of our nation's sick and disabled veterans and has caused dramatic cutbacks in veterans who can be admitted to inpatient and outpatient care. Admissions are being delayed. Clinic appointments that normally would be every week or so have been stretched out for as long as 6 to 8 months. Contract nursing home care has been severely curtailed. Many pharmacy shelves are woefully under stocked. Maintenance and repair money, equipment and supply money and pharmacy money has had to be diverted to pay salaries for nurses, doctors and medical technicians. And there is much more.

The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs disputed these findings for a long period of time. However, he now advocates a substantial supplemental appropriation for Fiscal Year 1989, and a logical follow on for fiscal 1990. We, and the entire membership of the House Veterans' Affairs Committee, have advocated the same thing for a number of months. We hear, however, that the budget submission due to be sent to the Congress in January contains no such supplemental.

All of VA's publics are properly up in arms over this matter. This includes sick and disabled veterans, veterans organizations, medical schools, medical organizations, community leaders, and, last but not least, VA employees at all levels. All of these groups rightly feel that they are witnessing the disintegration of the medical system that has served the nation so well.

As Chairman and Ranking Member of the House Veterans' Affairs Committee, we have made ourselves completely aware of the facts in this matter. We are convinced that the VA must have a sizable supplemental if it is to perform its mission of quality care for its patients. Estimates of the need range from $650 million dollars to $1.1 billion. We believe that VA's 172 hospitals have shortages averaging at least $4 million dollars each.

We urge you in the strongest terms possible to review this situation and act quickly to avert a further deterioration of VA medicine. We are already three months into the fiscal year and each passing day makes the matter worse.

Some OMB officials and the Administrator of VA have previously contended that the VA 1989 and the forthcoming budget for 1990 stem from the economic summit agreement. We simply cannot believe this to be the case. Such would be fiscally irresponsible, a breaking of faith with our nation's veterans, and contrary to obvious Congressional intent. We hope and trust you agree and will act accordingly in a forceful and expeditious way by sending a supplemental budget request to Congress in January and that Vice President Bush upon his inauguration will follow through upon it. By copy of this letter, we are bringing this matter to his personal attention.

Thank you for your thoughtful consideration of this request.

Kindest personal regards.

Sincerely,

As a fellow Arab-American, I am particularly proud to see "one of our own" bestowed with such a great honor. I feel very confident about the prospects of our nation knowing that you will be at the new President's side as he leads our nation into the 1990's. You can certainly count on me to continue to be your very good friend on the other side. I am greatly looking forward to continuing to work closely with you.

Again, congratulations, and if there is any way that I can be of service to you, please do not hesitate to call on me.

With warmest personal regards, I am

Dear Don:

Ed Rogers has given me a copy of your letter to the President-elect. I appreciate your interest in seeing that the appropriate person is named as Secretary of Interior. I am passing your note along to Chase Untermeyer with instructions that he contact you as they review candidates for this position.

On a personal note, Don, I look forward to working with you during the 101st Congress. Over the next few weeks, we will be reaching out to our friends on Capitol Hill for advice on a wide range of issues. I especially hope we can count on your counsel during this crucial formative stage of the Bush administration.

Best wishes to you and your family this holiday season. I hope we can get together after the new year.

Dear John:

I have complete confidence that George Bush will work better with Congress than any Administration in decades. He has the right personality, and he has put together an outstanding team at the White House.

I write to offer you a truly outstanding person who would be a tremendous asset to the White House team. His name is Lewis Hubbard, a man I've known for 16 years who currently works in the Member's Gymnasium of the House. Lewis has worked with, and is a huge fan of, George Bush, and is among the most trustworthy and hard-working people I know.

John, I am sure you are being inundated with resumes from around the country, for everything from janitor on up! But I know a good man when I see one, and I know that Lewis Hubbard is a good man. A position within the House liaison office of the White House or OROB would be ideal for him.

Lewis has spent nearly two decades working with Members of the House. He knows virtually all of us by first name, and most Members of Congress would quickly vouch for his assiduousness and intelligence.

I have enclosed a copy of his resume, and would appreciate anything that could be done. With warm personal regards, I am

Dear Chase:

I am enclosing the resume of a good friend of George Bush's, Lewis Hubbard.

Lew has been assistant director of the gymnasium in the Rayburn Building since 1985. He has worked in the gym as an assistant and as assistant director since 1972. He has played paddleball and tennis with George Bush and the Vice President likes him a lot.

Bill Archer of Texas would also highly recommend Lew. Bill thinks Lew would be an asset in the White House congressional affairs office in some capacity because he knows most all of the Members of Congress through his association with them in the gym for the past 16 years.

I hope you will give Lew consideration for a job in the new Administration.

Dear Henry:

Many thanks for your recent letter on behalf of John Farina. It was good to hear from you. His credentials are impressive, and your strong recommendation only adds to John's stature. We appreciate his desire to serve the President-elect, and I will make sure that he receives serious consideration for the Catholic liaison post at the White House Office of Public Liaison.

Once again, thanks for writing, Henry. We are seeking the best talent available to staff the Bush administration, and we are glad to have the benefit of your advice. I hope that we can continue to count on your wise counsel throughout the Bush administration.

Best wishes to you and your family.

Sincerely,

John H. Sununu

Dear John:

If you are looking to fill the Catholic liaison position in the White House office of public liaison, the name of Dr. John Farina has been brought to my attention by people whose judgment I greatly respect.

If a meeting would be in order, I am certain Dr. Farina, who teaches at St. Paul's College here in Washington, would make himself available to fit your schedule.

Cordially,

Dear John:

Mr. Edward W. Rissing will soon be leaving his post as Director of the State of Indiana Washington Office and is interested in the position of Deputy Special Assistant to the President for Intergovernmental Affairs in charge of Governor's liason. I would like to strongly endorse Mr. Rissing for this appointment.

I have personally observed Mr. Rissing during his eleven years of service to Indiana, assigned by Governors Bowen and Orr to Washington. He has always performed with the utmost in professionalism. He is attentive to detail and has an innovative approach to policy making. He enjoys a solid reputation for fairness and thoroughness with the members of Indiana's Congressional Delegation and their staffs.

Mr. Rissing is a talented and energetic individual who has many more contributions to make to the public service. He would make an excellent addition to the team you are now assembling. I am hopeful that he will be carefully considered for the Governor's liason role in the Bush White House.

Sincerely,

Richard G. Lugar

Dear Congressman Latta,

Thank you for your recommendation of Harold McMasters, which I have sent to personnel, asking that they add it to his file.

As you probably have heard, our offices are flooded with the resumes and recommendations of many thousands of qualified and deserving individuals eager to join the Bush team. We are sorting through the candidates carefully, trying to assemble the best possible combination, and Mr. McMasters will receive our serious consideration.

As always, your input is appreciated. I wish you all the best in 1989.

Sincerely,

Dear Steve:

Many thanks for your letter on behalf of Bruce Loebs. I am glad you took the time to pass his impressive credentials along to me.

We have recently appointed Dave Demerest to be Assistant to the President for Communications. I will forward Dr. Loebs materials on to him for consideration in the speechwriting office. We appreciate his desire to serve the President-elect, and I will make sure he receives serious consideration.

I look forward to working with you during the 101st Congress, Steve. Over the next few weeks, we will be reaching out to our friends on Capitol Hill for advice on a wide range of issues. I especially hope we can count on your counsel during this crucial formative stage of the Bush administration.

Best wishes to you and your family this holiday season. I hope we can get together after the new year.

COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS

WASHINGTON, DC 20510-6025

December 22, 1988

The Vice President of the United States
Old Executive Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20501

Dear Mr. Vice President:

I am writing to you about someone we both know well --
Susan Alvarado.

It has been a real pleasure for me to see Susan come into her own over the past several years. Since she left my office and yours, she has worked in important positions at the National Association of Broadcasters and E. Bruce Harrison Company. Just recently, she was promoted to senior vice president at E. Bruce Harrison.

Susan also serves as a member of the Board of Governors of the U.S. Postal Service. Since her Senate confirmation earlier this year, she has been deeply involved in guiding the operations of one of the world's largest business organizations.

As you well know, Susan has always been bright and hard-working. Her experiences in the private sector have strengthened her character and sharpened her judgment. In my opinion, she embodies the best qualities of the new generation of young professionals here in Washington.

Susan would very much like to work for you in the White House in communications, public liaison, or legislative affairs. She would make a tremendous contribution as a member of your staff, and I hope that you will give her very serious consideration.

With best wishes,

Cordially,

TED STEVENS
