NOTE TO: Mr. Blake

RE: Lionel Hampton

1. Mr. Bush will introduce
Mr. Hampton.

2. Mr. Hampton will need 9 music stands and 12 chairs.

3. Would like to have the performance taped and would like to have a copy of the tape.

4. Would like an electric piano-- a Baldwin would be great.

5. Will need 3 standing mikes only.

6. Mr. Hampton will call tomorrow for directions for the bus driver and also with the names of the entire troupe.

LIONEL HAMPTON Thank You Correspondence

8 December 1976

Mr. Bush:

I feel I would be remiss if I didn't let you know how much I enjoyed the Lionel Hampton Program.
It was absolutely terrific!
And what a nice thing for you to do for me. It was very obvious I wasn't alone in my feelings.

Again, thanks for sharing the nicest thing that has happened to the CIA in a long time.

Sincerely,
Helen Mason

Dear Mr. Bush,

May I express my deepest and sincerest

thanks for your thoughtful gesture of yesterday. It was a day that I shall never forget. The music was out of this world as indeed was the luncheon. I know that Jennifer had a major part of making the day for everyone there.

I would hope that somehow someone we can again share a musical fest

all I doubt that some of you will ever be topped.

Sincerely,
Bob Bush

Mr. Bush,

I would like to thank you so very much for that wonderful concert yesterday. It was just outstanding and I know I am not alone in my appreciation for the many kind and generous things you have done for the Agency and its employees.

You will be sorely missed by all of us.

Thank you and may I wish you health and happiness in the future.

Dear Mr. Bush,

Friday, Dec 10th

I would like to express my thanks and appreciation to you for your having Lionel Hampton and his orchestra present the concert this past Tuesday. I was the lucky one in our office to have my name drawn to attend.

Mr. Hampton seemed as if he enjoyed giving the concert as much as we enjoyed listening to his music, especially his "God Bless America". This was one of the more, if not the most, enjoyable hours I have spent in the nearly 8 years in the Agency. Thanks again for making it possible.

I wish you good luck and continued success in your career in the future.

Sincerely,

Headquarters

Dear Mr. Bush:

I would like to take this opportunity to convey a very special appreciation for including me in your activities honoring Lionel Hampton and his band. The luncheon invitation was a special surprise and a gesture that will not be forgotten.

I am certain that I echo the sentiments of many other CIA personnel when I mention that yesterday was a memorable day for those of us fortunate enough to hear Mr. Hampton and his group. The concert was magnificent and I sensed the audience was truly caught up in the music's rhythm and excitement. I hope that yesterday's performance will establish a precedent for similar undertakings in the future.

I would also like to convey a sincere appreciation for your interest and support of the Keynotes and Barbara Achilles' untiring efforts to bring music to CIA. Few people realize the amount of work involved in preparing for our concerts.

Again, thank you so much for allowing me to participate in yesterday's experience. It was truly delightful and one I shall always remember.

Most sincerely,

Dear George,

Please accept my great appreciation for dinner last night at the Alibi - it probably did more to establish camaraderie among the NFIB principals than anything I've seen in the past two years. I'm sorry Sam Wilcox had to miss it but delighted with my good fortune of getting to attend.

Whatever the outcome of today's vote, I hope I will have the opportunity in the years ahead to work closely with you, in or out of the government.

Best regards,
Bob

Dear Mr Bush,

A note of thanks for your dinner last night. It was a delight though you felt election was preoccupation & discussion. Don confident we all valued the opportunity to hear your thoughts and insights.

The system was fine, the Club is absolutely unique. But the most important thing was that you cared enough to do it. Many thanks.

Sincerely,

Don

EXCERPTS FROM THE REMARKS OF THE VICE PRESIDENT
AT THE
NATIONAL BROADCAST EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING
JUNE 9, 1976

I am particularly concerned, now that the seemingly endless investigations of our intelligence community have ended, that the Nation get back to a balanced consideration of our enlightened self-interest, and that we regain a perspective and recognize the tough, hard realities of the world we live in, where the performance of this intelligence function is vital to our security as a Nation and our freedom as a people.

We have to face the realities if free societies are to survive. The United States must have the most highly skilled and dedicated intelligence and counter-intelligence organization. This is absolutely indispensable to the Nation's security. Such an intelligence operation is crucial to the effectiveness of our global diplomacy and to a military presence that commands respect throughout the world.

But let us not make the suicidal error of condemning the Nation's intelligence system, instead of correcting the wrongs. To destroy our Nation's intelligence capacity is to disarm this Nation -- unilaterally. And this would be the end of freedom.

Office of the Vice President

REMARKS OF THE VICE PRESIDENT
AT THE
MAYFLOWER HOTEL
WASHINGTON, D. C.

JUNE 9, 1976

For several years now television and radio have surpassed newspapers as the principal source of news for the majority of Americans. You, therefore, possess enormous power to shape the people's conception of the world around them and the issues which affect them. The fairly recent use of editorials by radio and television strengthens that power considerably. I am all for it. It is a healthy development.

We cannot have too much free expression of opinion in a democracy -- provided it is well-thought out, properly labelled as opinion and offered with opportunity for the presentation of dissenting views.

Recently, some have questioned the magnitude of your power. I do not. I believe that the right of free inquiry and expression, freed by the First Amendment, is as vital to democracy as breath is to life. For these reasons, when I was Governor, I supported a Freedom of Information Act in New York with the result that New York has the strongest shield law in the country.

Your enormous power, your function as the Nation's eyes and ears, even its conscience, imposes an awesome obligation on the broadcasting profession to be responsible, to be objective in reporting the news, fair-minded in taking editorial stands, and resistant to the temptation to accentuate the negative for journalistic shock effect.

I am particularly concerned, now that the seemingly endless investigations of our intelligence community have ended, that the Nation get back to a balanced consideration of our enlightened self-interest, and that we regain a perspective and recognize the tough, hard realities of the world we live in, where the performance of this intelligence function is vital to our security as a Nation and our freedom as a people. X

Other nations, especially the Soviet bloc nations, invest large sums of money, personnel and sophisticated technology in collecting information -- within the United States and throughout the World, on our military capabilities, our weapons systems, our defense structure, our American enterprise system and our social divisions. They seek to penetrate our intelligence services, to compromise our law enforcement agencies, and to recruit as their agents United States citizens holding sensitive jobs, in government, industry, labor, and the universities as well as the news media.

Their objectives include subversion and internal dissension, designed to undermine the will and determination of Americans to make and sustain the hard decisions for national strength which are necessary to preserve our freedom. They can and do invade the privacy of U.S. citizens by listening to telephone conversations within the United States and throughout the world.

As the CIA Commission I headed for the President reported, Communist countries "have developed electronic collection of intelligence to an extraordinary degree of technology and sophistication." "Americans have a right to be uneasy if not seriously disturbed at the real possibility that their personal and business activities which they discuss freely over the telephone could be recorded and analyzed by agents of foreign powers," the Commission noted.

The Commission's findings pertain not only to national security and other vital governmental information, therefore, but also electronic intrusion in the business and private lives of American citizens. This is not only possible, but it is being done. Microwave transmissions are wholly susceptible. Information so recorded can be stored and analyzed through computer technology for myriads of usages all deeply disturbing.

This technology, of course, is not limited in its availability to foreign agents or governments. It is obtainable here at home by elements who have little or no respect for the law and American legal protections for individuals.

Obviously, such devices and equipment can involve wholesale invasion of privacy, in the hands of organized crime, of those who seek to steal information from their competitors, or those who seek to get information for purposes of blackmail, highjacking or terrorist activities. The President is deeply concerned about this problem and is taking steps to reduce the vulnerability of our telecommunications system.

But all Americans, whether private individuals, public officials, professionals, businessmen, citizens in all walks of life, should be aware of their vulnerability to the recording of their telephone conversations or transmissions of secret defense plans by teletype, or even the recording of microwave intercommunication of computer data. It is going to be extremely difficult to devise methods to protect the privacy of these communications.

It is tragic to think, as someone has suggested, that we have already reached the stage where the slogan should be: "If you don't want it known, don't use the phone."

Our open society is much easier for certain foreign governments to penetrate -- than it is for us to penetrate their tightly closed systems. Our society must remain an open one, if we are to preserve our traditional freedoms. But when the intelligence activities of other countries flourish in the free environment which we offer, then it is all the more essential that our intelligence activities have the support necessary to protect the national security and freedom of American citizens.

Communist bloc intelligence forces throughout the world currently number well over (500,000). The number of Communist government officials in the United States has tripled since 1960, and is still on the increase. There are nearly 2,000 of these officials now in this country. A large percentage have been identified as members of intelligence or security agencies.

We have to face the realities if free societies are to survive. The United States must have the most highly skilled and dedicated intelligence and counter-intelligence organization. This is absolutely indispensable to the Nation's security. Such an intelligence operation is crucial to the effectiveness of our global diplomacy and to a military presence that commands respect throughout the world.

including intelligence activities

It is essential that the American people and the Congress recognize this fact, and take the steps to provide the Executive Branch of the government with the necessary authority and funds, while making provision for appropriate congressional oversight, and while protecting the secrecy that is absolutely essential to carrying out an effective intelligence operation.

For this Nation to lead the forces of freedom in this world without such an intelligence system, including covert operations, is like sending in a deaf, dumb and blind man as quarterback of a football team. Yet, correctible faults in the system have been misconstrued as a condemnation of the intelligence function itself -- a gross and naive assumption.

I started out these remarks by noting the tremendous power you people in broadcasting possess to shape America's impression of institutions and events. I urge you to carry out your legitimate function in your news coverage, reveal abuses where they occur, and in your editorials, demand reforms where they are needed.

But let us not make the suicidal error of condemning the Nation's intelligence system, instead of correcting the wrongs. To destroy our Nation's intelligence capacity is to disarm this Nation -- unilaterally. And this would be the end of freedom. X

The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Captain Howe:

In accordance with your desires there is enclosed a copy of a recommended schedule for the visit of Vice President Rockefeller to the CIA on 22 June 1976. The original of this schedule, along with a personal note from Mr. Bush, has been sent directly to the Vice President.

I will be the senior officer responsible for the Vice Presidential visit and stand ready to offer any assistance you may require. I have asked Mr. Sidney D. Stenbridge, the Agency's Acting Director of Security, to establish contact with the White House Secret Service Detail so that we may commence to plan the necessary security safeguards for the Vice President. Mr. William N. Hart, our Director of Communications, has established liaison with White House communications personnel. We also stand ready to be of assistance in that area should you so desire.

I may be contacted on telephone number 351-5454 (or IDS Code 143-5454). In my absence I suggest you ask for my Associate, Mr. Michael J. Malanick, who may be contacted on the same number. We are looking forward to the Vice Presidential visit.

SCHEDULE FOR VISIT TO CIA FOR VICE PRESIDENT ROCKEFELLER

1. Vice Presidential party arrives on Agency Compound at 4:15 p.m. Vice President leaves his limousine in front of the Auditorium.
2. The DCI; Admiral Daniel Murphy, the Deputy for the Community; and Mr. Enno (Hank) Knoche, the Agency Deputy Designate, will greet the Vice President, escort him to the stage, and will remain on the stage with him.
3. There will be no press in attendance. The Vice President's speech will not be recorded.
4. The audience will be composed of members of the DCI's immediate office, the Intelligence Community Staff, and the four CIA Directorates.
5. It is hoped the Vice President will speak for approximately 30 minutes and then conduct a question and answer session for an additional 20 to 30 minutes.
6. Arrangements will be made to "pipe" the Vice President's address into the Main Lobby of the Building and as many employees as possible will be invited to also listen to the address there.
7. Upon conclusion of the Auditorium presentation, the Vice President will be escorted by the DCI through the Main Lobby. It is suggested he may choose to say a few words to the employees who are gathered there.
8. The Vice President will be taken to the DCI's Office for an informal get-together with the senior officers of the Intelligence Community Staff and the Agency.
9. The departure of the Vice President is expected to occur at approximately 5:45 p.m.
10. Agency and White House photographers will be present in both the Auditorium and at the informal get-together.

MEMORANDUM FOR

Jack Blake

SUBJECT: Visit to the Agency by the Vice President

Capt. Jon Howe, U.S.N., Rockefeller's Assistant for National Security Affairs called me and asked that we send him a memo outlining the proposed itinerary for the Vice President at CIA.

The Captain suggested that the Vice President speak for 30 minutes and then answer questions from the audience for another 20 to 30 minutes. He would then come to the Director's office for sherry and an informal get together with the morning meeting group. The session in Mr. Bush's office would last about 30 minutes

If you could get this information to the Captain along with anything you need from them it would be great.

The Captain is in Room 298, EOB, The White House, Washington, D. C. 20500

The Honorable Henry A. Kissinger
The Secretary of State
State Department
Washington, D.C. 20520

Dear Henry,

I'm delighted you will be coming out here on June 15th. Here's the plan: 12:30 p.m., Secretary of State arrives at auditorium. The auditorium holds 500 people. It will be filled. Your speech might run 20 to 30 minutes.

You asked for suggestions on the speech. My thoughts would be a brief rundown of foreign policy, touching on the world trouble spots, and then some comments on CIA and how you personally use the work put out by CIA.

On the platform with you will be Admiral Dan Murphy, Deputy for the Community, Hank Knoche, Deputy-designate for the CIA, and Dick Walters, Deputy to the CIA. (As you know, Dick Walters will be retiring and it would be appropriate to say a kind word about him.)

There will be no press in attendance. Your speech can be off the record. The audience will be composed of members of the four CIA Directorates, my own office, and the Intelligence Community Staff.

Following the speech, we will leave the auditorium, walk in the main entrance of CIA, where you will be greeted by many of our CIA employees. We will simply walk through the lobby of the building to the elevator, and proceed to the 7th floor dining room. The luncheon, to which Larry Eagleburger and Hal Saunders are most cordially invited (plus any others you would like to bring with you), will be attended by the Heads and Deputies of the four Directorates, plus other top staff people. It would be appropriate for you to say a few words at the conclusion of the lunch.

I am really looking forward to your visit to CIA Headquarters.

Best regards,

Sincerely,

George Bush
Director

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence
FROM : John F. Blake
Deputy Director for Administration

George:

1. I offer for consideration the following schedule and recommended arrangements for the forthcoming visit of Secretary Kissinger.

2. My understanding is he is due to arrive at 12:30 p.m., speak for some thirty minutes in the Auditorium, and then adjourn to the Executive Dining Room for lunch with Community Staff and Agency officials.

3. I see the Secretary debarking from his limousine in front of the Auditorium. I believe you, Admiral Murphy, General Walters, and Mr. Knoche should greet him upon arrival and escort him to the stage. I believe it appropriate to have only this group of five seated on the stage. Agency Deputy Directors and other "luminaries" can be seated in the front row. Yes

4. You obviously would introduce the Secretary, after which he would make his address. I believe there would be merit to "piping" his address into the lobby of the building so that as many employees who choose to do so may hear it in real time. When the Secretary's remarks are concluded, the party will leave the Auditorium and walk on the outside, weather permitting, so that the party may enter the main entrance of the building. We would have stanchions to keep a clear aisle for the Secretary to walk through, turn left, and ~~to~~ to the Director's elevator. I suspect he would be somewhat rewarded by seeing the employees in the lobby and the predictable applause that would take place. Yes

5. Following lunch, I would suggest a direct departure by the Director's elevator, again using the front entrance as a means of exit. YE

6. For your own information, Secretary Kissinger has been to the building at least once before for a public type of ceremony. That occasion was the 25th birthday anniversary of the Agency during the tenure of Dick Helms as Director. Secretary Kissinger spoke in rather glowing words concerning the Agency, and Mr. Helms, and his speech lasted about 15 minutes. GB remarks 3 minutes max.

7. I understand you propose to drop a note to the Secretary. May I suggest in that note you suggest that the head of his counterpart of your protective security staff directly contact Mr. Robert Gambino, Director of Security, (extension 6777) so that we may early on give attention to the necessary security safeguards. Waldob

8. I also raise the question for your consideration as to whether you wish to make his visit a matter of public knowledge and, accordingly, turn Thuermer's propaganda machine loose.

9. I recommend that the composition of the audience be as follows. On a pro-rated basis we will assign blocks of seats to the four Deputy Directors, the Office of the DCI, and the Intelligence Community Staff. We will ask these six components to so issue the tickets that a representative cross-sampling of the employee population has an opportunity to be present. I will also have arrangements made to video and audio tape the presentation.

EMPLOYEE BULLETIN

No. 519

10 June 1976

SECRETARY OF STATE VISIT

1. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will pay a protocol visit to the Agency on Tuesday, 15 June 1976. He is scheduled to arrive at 12:30 P.M. and will speak in the auditorium for approximately one-half hour. His talk will be followed by lunch with the Director and other senior Agency and State Department officials beginning at 1:00 P.M.
2. Because of the limited seating capacity in the auditorium, arrangements are being made to broadcast Dr. Kissinger's address into the lobby/first floor area of the Headquarters Building.
3. Employees are urged to gather in the lobby for his talk and remain there until he passes through the lobby en route to the Director's office.
4. Some 500 tickets will be distributed among the Directorates, IC Staff and Independent Offices for seating in the auditorium.

Civic Activities and Organization Affiliations:

South Dakota Stock Growers; South Dakota Wheat Producers;
Farmers Union; American Legion; Isaac Walton League

CIA INTERNAL USE ONLY

CIA Interest:

Abdnor was the only Republican candidate to win a major office in the state in 1972. Like his predecessor, James Abourezk, who ran successfully for the Senate, Abdnor is of Lebanese ancestry.

Wrote an item in the Congressional Record in February 1976 entitled "Destroying the CIA" in which he urged that abuses in the intelligence service be corrected but that the capability to protect our national security be preserved. George Cary, Legislative Counsel, wrote to express appreciation for his remarks.

CIA INTERNAL USE ONLY

CIA Interest:

Representative Dickinson has shown a strong interest in constituents employed by the Agency. On two occasions he attended Agency sponsored SOS Club breakfasts (1965, 1966). A conservative, and hawkish on Vietnam, Mr. Dickinson has called for an embargo on free world shipping to North Vietnam. He was on the Philbin Subcommittee which considered H.R. 13705, cost-of-living adjustment - CIA Retirement Act.

Added to Intelligence Subcommittee in 1975.

Usually talks to our people on his trips overseas. On a January 1976 Armed Services delegation to the People's Republic of China, he met with COS Jakarta. The Director debriefed the group upon their return.
