Honorable Shelby Cullom Davis
American Ambassador
Bern, Switzerland

Dear Shelby:

Thank you for your letter of September 9, which I found on my desk when I arrived in Peking on October 21. I appreciate your kind words about my coming here. This is a bold, new challenge, and I am looking forward to it enormously.

I hope Ambassador Roux will get in touch with us during his visit in Peking. Barbara and I would love to have him come by.

With warm regards,

Sincerely,

George Bush

Dear George -

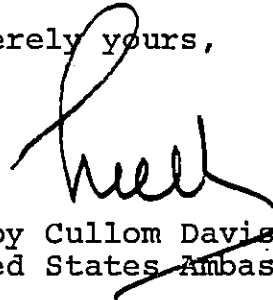

You are, I believe, leaving Washington today to become Chief of the U.S. Liaison Office in Peking, arriving there on October 21. I wish you every success in your mission to the People's Republic of China.

The Swiss Ambassador to China, Albert Natural, is a good friend of ours, and I regard him most highly. He occupied an important position at the Federal Political Department (Foreign Office) for about two and one-half years during our stay here, and he has been in Peking for about the same time. He is a keen observer, with a penetrating mind and is, in addition, a fine fellow. I am sure you will enjoy meeting him. His wife, Manette, is most charming, too.

I am sending Albert a copy of this letter so that he will know of our friendship. I am unfamiliar with the protocol of Peking, but I am sure he would welcome a visit from you.

With every good wish and with warm regards,

Sincerely yours,

Shelby Cullom Davis
United States Ambassador

Dear Emmett:

I am now in Peking and I just wanted you to know that Charlie Bartlett did give us "China Journal". It's here with us now and we have enjoyed it. Many thanks for passing it along through the mighty Bartlett.

I hope we will see you again in the not too distant future. Perhaps we can both sponge off that great Bartlett hospitality some more.

Barbara sends her warmest regards.

Yours very truly,

George Bush

Dear Charley:

Here is the copy of CHINA JOURNAL you asked for inscribed by me in my own inimitable Chinese.

For your edification, the inscription reads as follows:

For Bush Ambassador and wife,
Wishing American Chinese two countries friendship good.

That's the way we Chinese talk!

Looking forward to seeing you the weekend of the 26th.

All the best.

Sincerely,

Dear Tom:

You must have thought I was out of my gourd when you were here with the Kissinger party and I made no reference to the letter you sent me on November 15. The problem is that the letter didn't arrive until much later in December.

In any event, I am very sorry that we didn't get together for the interview. Things were too hectic and Barbara and I were not able to be even minimally hospitable to you in the travelling press. Give us another chance--give us a raincheck.

Give my best to Hal Bruno, John Lindsey, Mel Elfin and all the others. Tell them I miss them--I think I do, anyway.

Needless to say, this continues as a fascinating and challenging assignment and I can tell you without any qualms at all that I love every minute of it. Barbara is in Washington at our home there (966-6876) if you want to chat with her.

Sorry about the mix-up in the letter.

Warm regards,

George Bush

The Honorable George Bush
U.S. Liaison Office
People's Republic of China

Dear Mr. Ambassador:

I will be traveling with Secretary Kissinger's party to the People's Republic of China later this month and would like very much to spend part of my visit putting together a Newsweek story on "Life in the Liaison Office," with particular emphasis on you and your experiences since arriving in Peking. To that end, I would like to be able to interview both you and Mrs. Bush (whom I first met, incidentally, at President Ford's dinner for King Hussein in August) during the trip.

To be honest, however, I have a secondary purpose in mind as well. As a fellow Texan, I am assuming that in a country of 800 million non-football lovers, you are probably the only individual who may be able to produce the score of the Texas A & M-Texas game in reasonably short order.

Both Mel Elfin and Hal Bruno send their regards, and I look forward to seeing you later this month.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. DeFrank

Dear Louis:

Your wonderfully thoughtful letter of October 1 was on my desk here in Peking when Barbara and I arrived yesterday.

This is a bold, new challenge, and Barbara and I are both looking forward to it enormously.

I am so sorry we did not see you and Claude before leaving for China. Please give her our love, and, for heaven's sake, let us know if you ever get out to this part of the world -- anywhere near. We would love to see you.

I am looking forward to calling on Ambassador Manac'h within the next few days. Ambassador Bruce told me he is most knowledgeable.

Again, thanks for that very thoughtful letter. I am glad to be back in the world of diplomacy, but I wish I were working side by side with you again.

With respect and friendship,

Claude and myself learnt with a great pleasure your appointment as the Head of the American Mission in China, and we would like to extend our most heartfelt congratulations for this designation. We are however very sorry at the idea that you are going so far away...

I am sure that thanks to your experience as a politician, to the dynamism and the efficiency you have always shown as the Representative of your country to the United Nations, you will brilliantly carry out this new and hard duty.

I retain a warm and pleasant memory of the time we have been working here together and I would like to express

Dear Dave:

It was great hearing from you again.

On your request, I wish I could be more helpful. All the visas are handled on that end. The first thing you should do is to write the PRC Liaison Office, 2300 Connecticut Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20008.

The problem is that very few "individual" visas are offered, most doctors who have come here have come with exchange groups. With that in mind, you might want to write to Ambassador Charles Yost, National Committee on US-China Relations, Inc., 777 United Nations Plaza, 9B, New York, N.Y. 10017.

I wish I could be a little more optimistic, but so far there is a mammoth backlog of visa requests.

If in the coming months I see a way to be of some help, I would certainly like to do that.

Barbara and I are enjoying our stay in this strange land of contrasts. It is a challenging assignment and we like it a lot. It was good hearing from you again. Needless to say, if you get to Peking Barbara and I would love to see you here.

Warm regards,

George Bush

Mr. George Bush
Ambassador to China
United States State Department
Washington, D.C.

Dear George:

I am writing to you to see if there is a possibility, through your help, of my getting back to Peking as a visiting professor.

I was in Peking in 1946 after the war ended for six months at which time we were disarming the Japanese and helping them to be returned to Japan and at the same time keeping the Communists from taking over many of the British-American interests.

A lot has happened since that time, but I am anxious to get back to mainland China and I realize that it is very difficult to get an entry.

As you know, I and the rest of my family have been strong Republicans and I am fearful in the years to come that a Democratic ambassador to China would be of no help to me.

I am an Associate Professor of Medicine with the Mayo Medical School, and I am a consultant in the Thoracic Department. What I would like to do is, through your help, obtain an invitation to China and give several talks during my stay. I would like to make this a teaching experience as well as a chance to see the changes that have occurred in nearly 30 years.

I had dinner last night with Wheelock Whitney and I asked him what he thought about writing to you. He felt it was an excellent idea and, hence, I am hoping that you can be of some help to me.

Mr. George Bush

Dear George:

Thank you for your letter of December 3. I certainly understand the problem of individual visas.

My longing to get back into Peking and the Peoples Republic of China will have to wait.

I do appreciate your taking the time to write.

I hope our paths will cross sometime in the near future.

Thank you for your letter.

Most sincerely,

David E. Dines, M.D.

Dear Howard:

I received your letter of September 19th and I will certainly look forward to seeing Lord Clydesmuir. Please ask him to give me a call at the U.S. Liaison Office in Peking. I will be in touch with Ambassador Youde over there about his schedule.

We leave around the middle of October and are thrilled about it.

Thanks for your good letter,

Yours very truly,

George Bush

Dear George:

It was a pleasure talking to you today on the phone, and I was pleased that you are looking forward to your assignment in Peking. I hope we can get together, at least for lunch, sometime before you leave. However, with your busy schedule and the way I have been running around, it will probably be a little difficult. I am leaving for Scotland September 27 and probably won't return until you have left for Peking. However, the way the international financial situation is shaping up and since we are involved in the International Energy Bank, it is possible I may see you in Peking within the next year.

The Governor of the Bank of Scotland, the Right Honorable Lord Clydesmuir, K.T., C.B., M.B.E.E., T.D., -L.L.D., -D.S.c. (I am sure you know what all of these letters mean; however, I don't) just finished leading a group from the Scottish Council on a business mission to New York, the West Coast, and Houston. He was accompanied by eight of the top industrialists from Scotland which presented a cross section of industry in the U.K. He has just returned to Scotland and will be planning a similar mission to Peking in November. It is my understanding this will take place from about November 8 through November, 17. He has heard a lot about you, not only from me, but also from James Gammell, a friend of yours, who is on the Board of Directors. It would certainly be a favor to me and to him if the two of you can get together. I will pass on the information you gave me as to how you can be reached in Peking and I am sure any information you would like on his movement can be obtained from the British Embassy over there.

I sure hope you and your family have a nice trip over there and I know you will find the situation interesting and something that you will enjoy doing. We certainly need all the help we can to establish free trade with China.

If I can be of any help to you in any way, please keep in touch.

Best personal regards,

Howard

Dear Bill:

Just a quickie to thank you for that wonderfully generous letter of October 7 which caught up with me here in Peking on October 28. I just can't tell you how much I appreciate those kind, kind words.

In tough, insensitive days, support and kindness count for an awful lot.

I miss politics already, but I am thoroughly fascinated with what I am doing. The pace is different, the phone doesn't ring as much. It's less frantic, but I have a feeling we are dealing with an important part of America's future.

Best of luck to you. Stay in touch. I'd appreciate any assessment of the political situation at home that you'd care to give me from time to time. I'm away, but I don't want to be "out of it."

Gratefully yours,

George Bush

The Honorable George Bush
Department of State
Washington, D. C. 20520

Dear George:

I thought I would wait for all of the smoke to clear for you and give you time to get settled in your new assignment.

I now wish to convey to you my sincerest wishes for a successful tour in the Far East and to express to you my personal gratification for the way in which you handled yourself in probably the most difficult period the Republican Party has ever faced. No man that I have ever met has the class that George Bush does. Your fairness, your intelligence and your conduct have been a model for myself to follow in the years to come. I have told so many people that George Bush is probably the "classiest" guy they could meet - and I mean that sincerely.

You are entitled to whatever the good Lord brings your way and it goes without saying that if you ever need help from me, I would be honored to hear from you.

My very best, George,

Peace,
